Dedication

This volume of the History of Washington County is lovingly dedicated to the memory of six outstanding members of the Washington County Historical Society.

Mrs. Jessie Blouke. Jessie, as she was affectionately called by all who knew her, was a charter member of the Society and its secretary until her death on July 18, 1984. Without Jessie's knowledge, interest, hard work and enthusiasm we would have been much longer in getting the History of Washington County published. From the beginning she handled all correspondence concerning the publication and later handled all mail orders and cash sales. This she did while also teaching part time and serving as Librarian of the Washington County Library.

She was a gracious lady, a good friend and an enthusiastic historian and genealogist.

Mrs. Carrie Maud Jordan. Carrie was unable to attend many meetings because of her devotion to her crippled son, her mother and other family members and friends in times of illness and need. She was, however, very interested in the work of the Society, the gathering of historical lore of our county and its early citizens. She was an avid and skilled genealogist. She visited many elderly friends and family, and in her quest for information she left behind a ray of sunshine with her smile and outgoing personality.

Carrie was most interested in preparations for this book. She visited several old cemeteries and talked with many county citizens to acquire information for this volume. Carrie was killed in an automobile accident on November 20, 1984.

Mr. George Clifford Day. Mr. George was another member who, because of illness, was unable to attend very many meetings. His interest and enthusiasm about the history of the county was great, as evidenced by the research that he completed for the History of Washington County. He was most interested in this volume and personally located and visited several old cemeteries and churches to obtain information. Mr. Day died after an extended illness on June 5, 1985.

The Rev. Edmond O. Bradley. Brother Edmond, as he was affectionately called, was a charter member of the Washington County Historical Society, in which he served as chaplain until his death on October 11, 1986. He was very interested in the preservation of the heritage of Washington County.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petcher. On August 1, 1987, Washington County lost one of its most active leaders, Mrs. Paul Petcher. Pat, as she was known to many, moved to Chatom with her husband, Dr. Paul Petcher, and family in 1960. She was always participating in some organiztion or cause for the betterment of the County.

Pat was very much interested in the history of the County and contributed to the first volume, The History of Washington County—First County in Alabama.

A former missionary to Nigeria, and very active in the Southeastern District of the Church of the Brethren, she contributed many hours of research and writing for this volume.

Dr. Petcher is a charter member of the Washington County Museum Board and was active in helping to preserve our county's history.

For Pat's contributions and those of Dr. Petcher, the Washington County Historical Society wishes to express its gratitude.

Mrs. Frank (Vivian Powell) Dyer. Vivian Powell Dyer, 1915–1987, was the daughter of William Edward and Verna Johnston Powell of Carson, Alabama. She was a charter member of the Washington County Historical Society and wrote the History of Pine Grove Methodist Church, of which she was a member. She also helped with the cemetery listings for this volume. Mrs. Dyer was an active member of the Mobile Genealogical Society and the DAR.

Her father served on the Washington County Board of Education, and both her grandfather, D. D. Powell, and grandmother, Sallie Bowling Powell, served for many years in the Postmaster's position at Carson. A great-grandfather, Thomas B. Bowling, was sheriff of Washington County, 1860–1863.

Acknowledgments

The Washington County Historical Society wishes to express their appreciation to the following people: those who collected material on the church histories; families who submitted biographical sketches which include sketches of our early ministers; the staff of Call-News-Dispatch; Lynn Barnett who was Editor of Newsday; Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Clarke for the many hours spent finding old cemeteries and others who contributed to the recording of cemeteries; Mr. Don Young for the church pictures he took for us; Mrs. Elizabeth Wells, Librarian of Samford University of Birmingham, Alabama, for helping me get the data on the Baptist denomination of our state and county; the Rev. A.O. McGill, Baptist Missionary of Washington County Association; Mrs. Paul (Pat) Petcher (deceased) for the data on the Church of Brethren; Mrs. Janice Faith of St. Stephens for the material on the Assembly of God churches; the Methodist History from the many persons of that denomination; to our Society Members for the time each spent in proofreading the incoming material getting it ready for printing; Mrs. Doris Brown, a close friend, who also had a big part in this book preparation (she is my Co-Editor of the Society); and the other persons not named, who may have contributed to Volume II and to Mr. T. B. Peason, President of the Society, for standing by us all with his moral support.

Barbara Waddell, Editor 1980–1988, and Chairman of the book project, and Mr. T.B. Pearson, President 1985–1987, want to thank each one who helped to make Washington County History Volume II a reality and not a dream.

Preface

Let's preserve the History of Our County! That is what we, the Washington County Historical Society, did in Volume I, and now we have continued this pursuit in Volume II. Volume I took in the history of our beloved county, her communities and her people; Volume II covers additional family sketches, the churches, cemeteries and ministers of our county.

Volume II came about when some of the members of the Society found out about a project I was involved in, in which I was attempting to list the cemeteries of the county of genealogical value to researchers, and they said they would help out. To the book on cemetery listings was added church histories, denominational histories, sketches of our early ministers and additional family sketches throughout the county.

Thanks to our publisher, the Rev. Emmett Lucas, Jr., with Southern Historical Press of Easley, South Carolina, and his staff for undertaking the publishing of our book, Washington County History, Volume II.

INDEX

Congress organized the Mississippi Territory in 1798, with Natchez as the capital. It was bounded on the south by the 31st parallel, on the west by the Mississippi River, on the north by a line east from the mouth of the Yazoo River, and on the east by the Chattahoochee River. Introduction

Washington County, the oldest county in Alabama, has a colorful history. Its dynamic role in the development of the western frontier after the Revolutionary War through the Territorial Period is unequaled in American history. After those tumultous years, the county took its place in the new state of Alabama and has continued to serve its citizens well.

For centuries the Gulf Coast of the United States was the scene of international rivalries. The area adjacent to the coastline that is now Washington County was claimed by Spain as part of Florida from 1519 to 1700; governed by France as part of Louisiana from 1700 to 1763; taken from France by England in 1763 and held until the end of the American Revolution when it was regained by Spain.

The Treaty of Paris, which ended the American Revolution in 1783, left the new United States without a foot of coastline on the Gulf of Mexico. Spain claimed as a northern boundary for Spanish West Florida the latitude of 32°28′ which runs a few miles north of Montgomery. The United States claimed its sovereignty extended south to the 31° line, and the State of Georgia claimed title to the area between that line and the southern boundary of the state of Tennessee.[1] In addition, the Southeastern Indians called this same land home. Eventually this much disputed area became Washington County.

Claims to the region began to be clarified in 1795, when, by the Treaty of San Lorenzo, Spain agreed to withdraw to the 31° line. Thus, in 1798, the United States created the Mississippi Territory which included this area. Georgia relinquished all claims to lands in present Alabama and Mississippi in 1802, and Choctaw treaties of 1802 and 1806 removed the Choctaw claims to a limited area.[2]

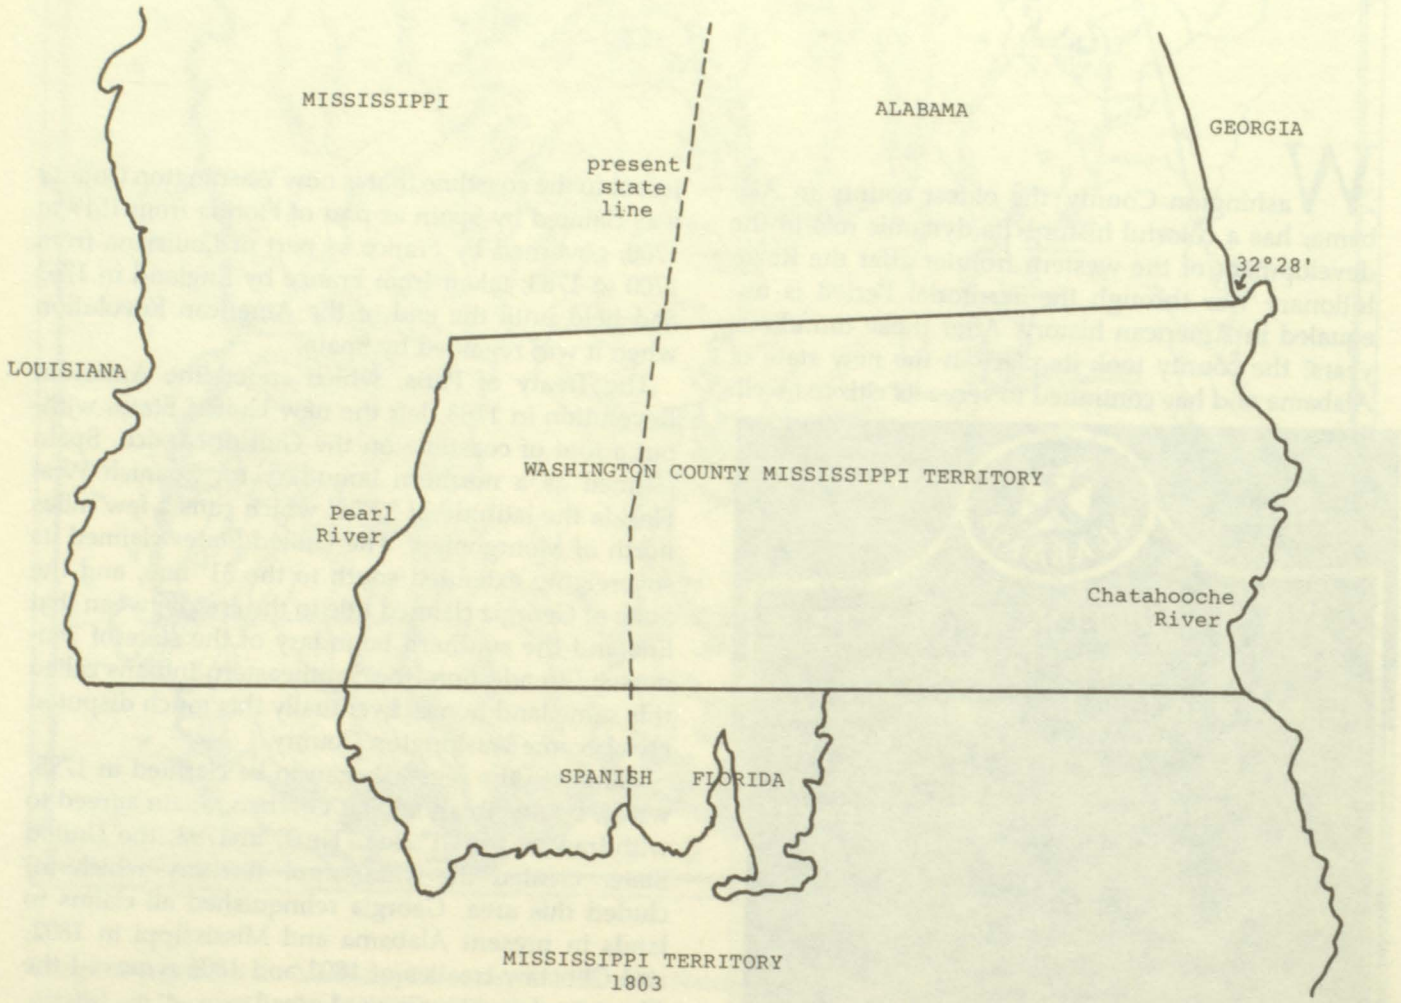

Only two population centers existed in the Mississippi Territory, Natchez on the Mississippi River and the Tombigbee settlements at the forks of the Tombigbee and Alabama rivers. Therefore, the territory was divided into the Natchez District, west of the Pearl River, and the Tombigbee or Mobile District, east of the Pearl River.

Washington County, in the Tombigbee District, was created by proclamation of Governor Winthrop Sargent of the Mississippi Territory on June 4, 1800. The county was named in honor of General George Washington. Its original boundaries extended from the Pearl River eastward to the Chattahoochee River and from latitude 32°28′ on the north to latitude 31° on the south. The county measured 300 miles east to west and 88 miles from north to south. Out of the area between these original boundaries sixteen counties in Mississippi and twenty-nine counties in Alabama have since been formed in whole or in part. Now located in the southwestern part of the state, Washington County is bounded by Choctaw County to the north, the Tombigbee River to the east (across which lie Clarke and Baldwin Counties), by Mobile County to the south, and by the state of Mississippi to the west.

PART I

Biographical Sketches

The Atchison Family

Henry Atchison, born about 1783 in Maryland, came to the area when it was Washington County of the Mississippi Territory.

Barton Atchison, Henry Hill Atchison, Joseph Atchison and James Atchison, who are listed in Washington County in the U.S. Census of 1830, may have been sons of Henry Atchison.

Members of the family have been mainly farmers and land owners in the county.

Two family lines have been documented by Mrs. Mabry Brown Batchlor, Mrs. Grace Atchison Beech and Mrs. Carrie Bell (Kitty) Atchison Anderson.

Mrs. Batchlor and Mrs. Beech are descendants of Henry Hill Atchison (above). His line follows:

I. Henry Hill Atchison, born in 1820, died before 1855. Married, 28 January 1841 in Washington County, Amelia (Millie) Mosley.
   Children:
   1. Elizabeth Atchison.
   2. John Henry Atchison. See II below.
   3. Barton Atchison.

   5. Green David Atchison.

II. John Henry Atchison, born 4 March 1844, died 27 October 1922. Married first, Mary Zelena Caten, second, Elizabeth (Lizzie) Simpson.
   Children by first marriage:
   1. Henry Hill Atchison.
   2. Sarah Bertha Atchison. See III (A) below.

   Children by second marriage:
   1. Uriah Franklin (Frank) Atchison. See III (B) below.
   2. Ida Atchison.
   3. John Braddock Atchison, a twin.
   4. Hattie Lister Atchison, a twin.
   5. Wesley Whild Atchison, a twin.
   6. Edmond Wadsworth Atchison, a twin.
   7. Amelia Eliza Atchison.

III (A). Sarah Bertha Atchison, born 2 October 1870, died 11 March 1957. Married William Isham Brown, born 1 October 1868 in Georgia, died 3 October 1936.
   Children:
   1. John Isham Brown.
   2. Thomas James Brown.
   3. Henry Grady Brown.
   4. Emory Hill Brown.
   5. Jacob Buford Brown.
   6. Lizzie Bell Brown.
   7. Hattie Lois Brown.
   8. Mattie Velma Brown.
   9. Carrie Pearl Brown.

The Atchison family, from the progenitors through the present generation, has contributed much to Washington County and to the communities in which the family members have lived.

Clara Whigham, a black midwife in the Spring Hill Community, was a longtime friend of Frank and Mary Atchison. She delivered their third son, Lomax Hilton Atchison.

Lora Williams Bailey

Lora Williams Bailey was born 28 November 1884 at State Line, Mississippi, and died 18 October 1954, at Wagarville. She married Will Bailey. Their children were:

1. Nola Bailey, married Furr.
2. Willie Bell Bailey, m. King.
3. Jake Bailey.
4. Lena M. Bailey, m. Scoggins.

Lora Bailey and her family lived in several towns before settling in Washington County: State Line, Mississippi; Bogalusa, Louisiana; Brookhaven, Mississippi; Hobson, Alabama, and finally Wagarville.

Will Bailey began working for the McClure Lumber Company. The mill owner, Oscar McClure, built the first drive-in service station, on the Wagarville Road, for Jake Bailey in the early 1920s. When Highway 43 was built, the family built the present store at Wagarville. Lora Bailey operated the store from 1924–25 until her death in 1954.

Lora Bailey's four priorities in life were, in probable order of precedence: God, family, other people, country. Most of her four children, ten grandchildren and twenty-three great-grandchildren have been committed to the same priorities. The family members are active in local churches. Of the ten grandchildren, three are educators with masters or doctoral degrees, three have served in military or government service, two are businessmen in the construction and mechanical fields, two are ministers' wives. Most of the great-grandchildren are actively involved in the fields of education, music, law and medicine.

Lora Bailey is remembered as one who "fed the multitudes." She frequently asked friends to eat at her house and gave food to hungry strangers. Her unselfishness was also demonstrated when, in hard times, she twice burned her credit books listing families who owed the store for food and other goods. She let them start over, erasing their past debts, and establishing new credit. It meant survival for many families.

The Bassett Family

The Bassett Family of Washington County is descended from Thomas Bassett (1737–1782), who came to the area after the Treaty of Paris, 1763, transferred that portion of the French colony of Louisiana, which lay east of the Mississippi River, to Great Britain. The area to the east of the Mississippi then became the British colony of West Florida, with the capital at Pensacola.

Thomas Bassett received a British land grant in 1776 for lands near the Tombigbee River. The British grant was later changed to a Spanish patent, after Spain conquered West Florida in the 1780s, and still later changed to a United States land grant, when the United States acquired the area in the 1790s. Thomas Bassett was killed by Indians in 1782, on Bassett's Creek in Washington County.

The Bassett family of Washington County can be traced back to Thomas Bassett (1617–1659), who left his native England on June 10, 1635, on the ship Truelove, from London to Virginia. He was eighteen years old when he came to Virginia.

No connection has been made, as yet, to Thomas Bassett's line in England. However, it has been stated that all Bassetts can claim descent from Osmond and Thurstine de Basset, who arrived in England in 1066 with William the Conqueror, and took part in the Norman conquest. The Basset family (originally the name was spelled with one "t") were apparently Norman nobility. In England, they became manor lords, justices and one Bishop of London.

The Thomas Bassett who arrived on the Truelove settled in York County, Virginia, in what is now the town of Bassett. His line (in abbreviated form) is as follows:

I. Thomas Bassett I, born in 1617 in England and died in 1659 in Virginia. He married Mary _____, who died in January, 1678, in York County, Virginia.
   Children included:
   1. William Bassett (1643–1724). See II, below.

The Willard Burkepile Family

Willard M. Burkepile and his wife, Eva Louisa, moved to Fruitdale in 1917. They were reared in Ohio and were looking for a better climate. They lived in Kansas and Texas before coming to Fruitdale. Their family consisted of Mary Imo, Fred, Emma Jane and Willard Dan Burkepile.

Willard M. Burkepile was a carpenter and taught his sons the trade. He helped keep the Fruitdale Church of the Brethren in repair. His sons also helped for many years. His older son Fred remained in Fruitdale. He supervised the building of additions to the church, and was a faithful member until his death.

The younger son, Willard Dan Burkepile, went to Wisconsin to live. About 1980, he returned to Fruitdale. He and his wife, Genevieve, are active in the Fruitdale Church of the Brethren programs.

The Silas B. Carpenter Family

Silas B. Carpenter, a widower, moved to Fruitdale in 1894 from Seymour, Indiana. He had a brother-in-law, Luther Bedell, who was living in Fruitdale. Silas walked from Fruitdale to St. Stephens to file a claim for a homestead, which was located about three miles northwest of Fruitdale.

His family consisted of four sons: Emory, Eubert, Elza and Harry Carpenter. Emory was married and came to live in Fruitdale for a while, but moved back to Indiana. The other sons stayed. They lived in a small house until they built a larger one. They made the pickets for a fence which they built and rived the singles for their home and barn.

Silas Carpenter was a carpenter by trade. He and his oldest son, Eubert, were members of the Church of the Brethren. They helped to build the church in Fruitdale by hauling the heavy lumber on wagons drawn by horses over rough trails. They also helped with the construction. They were faithful members of the church.

Major Jackson Walter Faith

Maj. Jackson Walter Faith was born 19 July 1816, and died at his residence near St. Stephens, 22 June 1884.

His obituary by the Rev. A.M. Jones, in the Alabama Christian Advocate, 17 September 1884, reads in part:

> As a citizen he was well known and highly esteemed, and from time to time occupied important official positions. He had read much, and was well posted in the history and in the politics of the country. He lived in a historic region, was personally acquainted with many of the leading men of the State, and especially those who figured in the early days of Alabama. The famous Aaron Burr was arrested in his county. The old town of St. Stephens, now a wilderness, where our first legislature met, when Alabama was a territory, was within a few miles of his home . . . It was interesting to hear him speak of the olden time and the remarkable changes which occurred in his day.

From his youth, Maj. Faith had a great respect for the ministry and regularly attended church. But he never became a member until the summer of 1882, when he was baptised by the Rev. Mr. Jones. According to Mr. Jones, he "became a happy, zealous Christian, but never forgave himself for staying out of the church so long." He was instrumental in the erection of a "neat little church" near his home.

He was survived by his widow and several children, who were all members of the church.

Hiram Melton Faith, Sr.

Hiram Melton Faith, Sr., was born in St. Stephens on 2 August 1876, to Felix Grundy Faith and Flora Moseley Faith. He attended school in St. Stephens.

The first job he held was as a sawer for a timber company in Prestwick, Alabama. He married Annie Shoultz, and they relocated at St. Stephens. He purchased land from Miss Mary Slaughter, on which to build his house. He continued to work at his employment from dawn to dusk and to build his house at night, by the light of a kerosene lamp held by his wife.

"Mr. Hiram," as he was known, operated his own sawmill, a cotton gin, a grist mill, a farm and a syrup mill which used steam to cook the syrup. He also acquired a large amount of land.

He and his wife united with the St. Stephens Baptist Church, where he was a deacon. Both were very active in all areas of church work and always willing to help those in need.

Hirma Melton Faith and Annie Shoultz had eight children:

1. Fannie Mae Faith, married Moseley.
2. Hirma Melton Faith, Jr.
3. Leroy Jefferson (L.J.) Faith.
4. Joseph Etheridge Faith.
5. Flora Lucille Faith, married Alston.
6. Carrie Lee Faith, married Palmer.
7. Nathan Faith.
8. Lyman Edward Faith.

Annie Shoultz Faith died at the age of 38, on 26 July 1926, at their home.

Mr. Faith then married Ruby Holston of Millry, in April of 1927. He and his wife joined the St. Stephens Methodist Church, which was the only active church in St. Stephens at that time. Both were very supportive of all areas of church work. "Mr. Hiram" was also a Mason and a member of the Washington County Cattlemen Association.

Hiram Melton Faith, Sr., died at the age of 82 on 31 August 1958.

The Grimes Families

There were a number of Grimes families, the first of which is thought to have come to Washington County about 1800.

The most famous was Jesse Grimes, who came to Washington County from North Carolina at the close of 1817. He served as Postmaster, Justice of the Peace and County Clerk in Washington County. In 1826, he emigrated to Texas. He was a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence and of the first constitution of the Republic of Texas. His son, Alfred Calvin Grimes, died fighting at the Alamo.

Jesse Grimes was married first to Martha Smith, and, after her death, to Rosanna Ward Britton. He was born in Dublin County, North Carolina, 6 February 1788, and died at his home in Grimes County, Texas, 15 March 1866.

Nathan, George and William Grimes arrived in Washington County around 1817. It is not known whether they were brothers, but documents suggest a close relationship. They served in the War of 1812 with Capt. William Walker's Company of the Georgia Militia. At the end of the war they were discharged at Sparta, Georgia. Nathan Grimes was born in North Carolina, according to U.S. Census records, and it is believed the others were also.

Nathan Grimes married Sarah _____, about 1809 in Georgia. They had at least three children:

1. William H. Grimes, born 1809–10 in Georgia. Married 3 June 1841, Nancy Fail, daughter of William and Elizabeth Fail.

2. Elizabeth L. Grimes, born 1810–11 in Georgia. Married 17 May 1841, Thomas Pope.
3. Moses Grimes, born 20 August 1812 in Georgia, died 2 February 1900 in Washington County. Married 8 June 1843, Elizabeth Fail, sister of Nancy Fail.

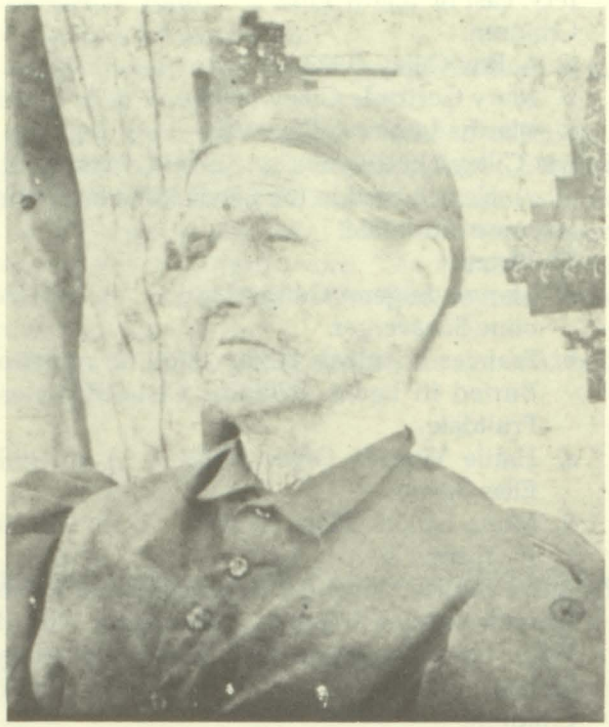

George Grimes married Hannah Joy, 15 March 1810 in Georgia, with Elizabeth B. Williams Grimes (see below) as a witness. He died 25 January 1850 in Washington County. They had at least three children:

1. George Grimes, Jr., born about 1815. Married 3 August 1846, Martha Ann Weaver.
2. William A. Grimes, born about 1829. Married 6 January 1854, T.A. Loper.
3. John Grimes.

William Grimes married Elizabeth B. Williams in Morgan County, Georgia, with Nathan Grimes present as a witness. William died 7 May 1850 in Washington County. He and Elizabeth had at least five children:

1. James Dawson Grimes, born about 1814 in Georgia and died in Texas. He apparently left Washington County after 15 January 1870, when he executed a deed. He was married first to Harriett Procter, 1 February 1842, and second to Elizabeth Gates Stokely, 14 February 1865.
   Children by first marriage:
   a. Thomas Robert Grimes, born 27 December 1842, died 30 June 1862 at Richmond, Virginia, in the Civil War. He never married.
   b. Margaret Alice Grimes, born 6 March 1844. She married first _____, and second, N. H. Condrey, 7 August 1880.
   c. Caroline Williams Grimes, born 30 November 1845. Married 5 October 1865, George W. Hinson.
   d. James Benjamin Grimes, born 28 December 1847. Married 16 August 1871, Martha A.D. Morrison, in Texas.
   e. William Proctor Grimes, born 15 December 1850, died 30 March 1918. Married 18 September 1879, Leatha Caroline Stokely Stanley.
   f. Sarah E. Grimes, born 27 May 1854, died 27 May 1872. Married 19 September 1872, in Burleson, Texas, R.A.B. Loughridge.
   g. John W. Grimes.
   h. Eugene Dawson Grimes, born 18 September 1859, died 10 February 1868.

   Children by second marriage:
   a. Elam Rain Grimes, born 31 May 1866 in Washington County, died 27 March 1957 in Leon County, Texas. Married 1 January 1888, in Leon County, Texas, Mary Angeline Hodges.

Kathrine Stanley Grimes, wife of William Buck Grimes.

   b. Susan Obelia Grimes, born 30 August 1868.
2. William Buck Grimes, born about 1815 in Georgia, died 14 February 1902 in Washington County and is buried behind the Post Office in Bigbee. He had several occupations including grist milling, making turpentine, blacksmithing and farming. He married Catherine Stanley, 2 August 1851, in Washington County, and they had eight children:
   a. James Daniel Grimes, born 8 March 1852, died 20 November 1935. Married 18 December 1877, Beda Ann Amith. The log house in which they lived is still standing in Koenton and now belongs to Mack Reynolds. The house originally stood 200 yards to the south and was moved by James Daniel Grimes, with several teams of mules.
   b. Mary Elizabeth Grimes, born 22 January 1853, died 22 November 1878. She never married. A grave marker next to the grave of William Buck Grimes indicates the grave of Mary Elizabeth Grimes, born 22 January 1873, died 22 November 1888. This is believed to have been the same Mary Elizabeth Grimes, but the dates on the stone are in error, as Census records show her as living in 1860 and 1870.
   c. Joseph William Grimes, born 5 June 1854,

died 25 April 1948. His grave marker is in error, as it indicates he was born three months after his brother James Daniel Grimes. Joseph was married first to Sarah Virginia Johnson, 29 December 1881, and after her death to Amelia Frances Overstreet, 11 January 1900.

d. John Franklin Grimes, born 9 April 1859, died 10 October 1932. Married Julia Arelia Smith, sister of Beda Ann Smith, 31 January 1886.

e. Sarah Veroni Grimes, born 12 November 1861, died 16 January 1933. Married Eli Jackson Koen, 22 October 1883. Sarah and her sister Margaret were married the same day at their parents' home.

f. Thomas Bolton Grimes, born 5 May 1862, died 13 August 1932. Married LuVenia Champion.

g. Margaret Virginia Grimes, born 23 September 1863, died 12 August 1933. Married Cass Yanker Knight, 22 October 1883.

h. Bart Atchinson Grimes, born 5 May 1866, died 4 July 1918. Married Lucy Virginia Champion, sister of LuVenia Champion.

3. Thomas A. Grimes, born 20 May 1827, died 14 November 1902 in Leon County, Texas. According to family tradition he never married, but one census identifies him as a widower. He served the Confederacy in Company C, 34th Alabama Infantry, as a private. Soon after the Civil War he left Washington County for Texas.

4. Sally Grimes, born about 1833. She is thought to have been the Sally Grimes who married William M. Smith, 19 January 1853.

5. John L. Grimes, born 27 June 1835. On 3 February 1863 he enlisted with Company C, 34th Alabama Infantry, and served throughout the war. Married, 25 February 1865, in Washington County, Winifred (Winnie) H. Jones, daughter of Presley F. Jones and Elizabeth Jones. John L. Grimes was a tenant farmer who moved several times. One child was born in Mississippi in 1867, twins in Bosque County, Texas, in 1869. The 1870 U.S. Census lists the family at Cameron in Milam County, Texas. About 1878, the family settled at Clear Creek, near Marquez and Centerville in Leon County, Texas, and remained there. John L. Grimes was a deacon of the Clear Creek Baptist Church. He died 19 July 1893, and Winnie died 16 March 1916. Both are buried in the Clear Creek Cemetery, adjacent to the church.

Children:

a. Henry Horton Grimes, born 25 November 1865 in Alabama. He married Ellen Tabitha Barber and had eight children.
b. Julia A. Grimes, born 2 August 1867 in Mississippi. Married Waymond Joyce Phillips and had eight children.
c. Eli Grimes, a twin, born 19 November 1869 in Freezeout Prairie, Bosque County, Texas. Married Lula Phillips and had nine children.
d. Levi Grimes, a twin, born 19 November 1869 in Freezeout Prairie, Bosque County, Texas. Married Viola Baugh and had nine children.

Robert Lee Jones and His Family

Robert Lee (Bob) Jones was born near Malcolm, 26 March 1867, and died 4 Novembr 1946, at Malcolm. He never knew his father, who died before he was born. William B. Jones was a soldier stationed at the Federal Arsenal (now Searcy Hospital) in Mt. Vernon, around 1852–53. He was from New York State. He married, on 21 May 1853, Mary Louisa Bryan, whose parents lived near the Arsenal.

William B. and Mary Louisa Jones moved to Washington County, near Malcolm, around 1860.

Their children were:

1. William B. Jones, Jr.
2. Milton Pope Jones (later changed name to Johnson).
3. John Jones.
4. Sally Jones.
5. A.C. (Neal) Jones.
6. Robert Lee Jones.

When Robert Lee Jones was five years old, he and his brother, John, were adopted by Milton Pope Johnson and his wife Ann Bates Johnson. His older brother, Milton Pope, had previously been adopted by the couple. Milton Pope Johnson, who had come to Alabama from Tennessee, owned a large plantation at Mt. Vernon, adjacent to the Bryan land. He married Ann Bates on 1 March 1845. They had no children of their own. Johnson sold the plantation at Mt. Vernon and moved to Malcolm around 1859.

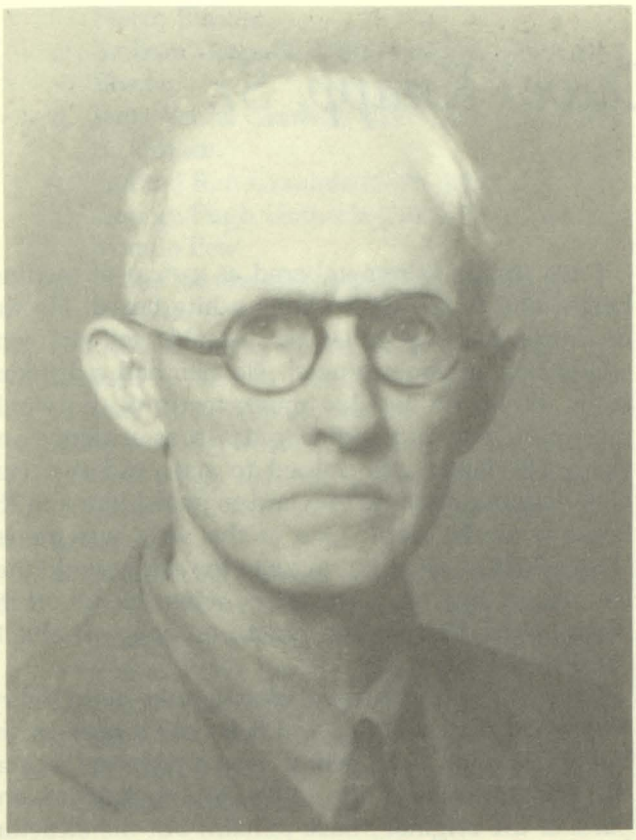

Several years after the death of Ann Bates Johnson, Milton Pope Johnson married Mary Louisa Bryan Jones, on 31 August 1879, in Washington County. He died around 1888 or 1889. He owned a great amount of land in Malcolm and on the Tombigbee River. It was rumored that he buried money on Bilbo Island during the Civil War to conceal it from the Federal soldiers.

Milton Pope Johnson is buried in the old Red Park Cemetery in Malcolm, as are William B. Jones, Sr., and his daughter Sally.

Mary Louisa died around 1920 and is buried in the Malcolm Baptist Cemetery. She lived with her son, Robert Lee Jones, after the death of her second husband. She told stories of hiding silverware in the dirt floor of the smokehouse to prevent Federal soldiers from taking it.

Robert Lee Jones was the first Postmaster at Malcolm and is credited with changing the name of the town from Red Bud, about 1890. He was Postmaster for 38 years.

He was a dealer in livestock, real estate and timber, and operated a large farm, Dixie Farms, which was located on both sides of U.S. Highway 43, at Malcolm, and the place which is today called Cricket Hill. On the farm, he raised most of the food for his family and for the cattle. He owned and operated a molasses mill. He bought and sold hundreds of acres of land in Clarke and Washington counties. Before he sold it to the Mobile River Sawmill Company, he owned all the land between Hal's Lake and the Cut-Off on the east bank of the Tombigbee River.

He traveled the county roads to buy cattle, which he hauled to Mobile, to sell to Haas-Davis and other meat packing companies. He once took a load of cattle down the Tombigbee River on a wooden barge or flat, from Malcolm to Mobile.

Robert Lee Jones married Frances Virginia Gosson, 2 September 1890. She was born 14 June 1868, in Whistler, Alabama, a daughter of Sylvan M. and Daly Gosson. She died 14 March 1921. Their children, now all deceased, were:

1. Lenno Otto Jones, born 10 January 1892, died 2 July 1915.
2. Maude Louise Jones, born 29 January 1894, died 5 December 1971.
3. Robert Lee Jones, Jr., born 1896.
4. Claude Jones, born 6 December 1897, died 6 July 1917.
5. Minnie Lee Jones, born 1900.
6. Hugh Harold Jones, born 23 January 1902, died 17 April 1986.
7. Elizabeth Jones, born 1904.
8. Mary Lou Jones, born 14 June 1906, died 9 April 1955.

Robert Lee Jones married second, Vera Moseley of Leroy. She lives in Leroy.

Their children are:

1. Robert Moseley Jones.
2. Roy Van Jones.

Jones inherited the home of his mother and adoptive father, which was located at the junction of the Fairford Road and U.S. Highway 43 at Malcolm. Around 1905, he built a new house at Dixie Farms and moved his family there. The home was a landmark until it was taken for the right of way for a widening of the highway in the late 1970s.

In addition to helping to found Malcolm, Jones was a member and supporter of the Malcolm Baptist Church.

David Franklin (Dave) Knapp, Sr.

David F. (Dave) Knapp, Sr., was born 8 February 1846. His siblings were Catherine Knapp and George Derris Knapp, both born in 1852, and Caroline Knapp, born in 1856.

Dave Knapp was married on 21 April 1870, to Isabella Keith, a daughter of William Keith (died 1882) and Sarah A. Boyd. She was partly of Indian descent. Her siblings were John N. Keith, Elizabeth Gortinan Keith and William H. Keith.

Dave and Isabella Knapp had nine children:

1. Steadman Knapp, born 21 January 1876, at Millry, died 8 March 1955 at Fairford. He married Fannie Creola Young (widow of Robert B. Anderson), born 2 August 1877 at Nanafalia, Marengo County, died 20 October 1954 at Fairford.
2. Mihon E. Knapp, born 16 April 1880, died 19 November 1892. Buried between his parents at Frankville Baptist Church cemetery.
3. Judson Knapp.
4. David Franklin (Frank) Knapp, Jr., married Lila Dearmond.
5. Isabelle Knapp.
6. Helen Virginia (Mandy) Knapp, married John Jefferson Gartman.
7. Jennie Knapp, married Mann Gartman.
8. Margaret Isabelle (Belle) Knapp, married, at age 17, John William Barron.
9. Stella Eugenia Knapp, married at age 16, George Scott.

Dave and Isabella Knapp also adopted, informally, Louise Caton, who married Lowery.

Dave Knapp is remembered as a man of medium height and build, with a long white beard. He was described as a "peculiar but likeable fellow," who would help anyone in need. He also had a drinking habit. When he had too much to drink, he would dismount, put his saddlebag down as a pillow, and sleep. His horse was trained to stay, and two curs were trained to follow him and to guard him and the horse while he slept. One of the dogs was named "Drive." Only when he spoke to the dogs would they let anyone near him. Therefore, when he fell off the horse, from drinking too much, no one was able to come to his aid.

Dave Knapp came from below Frankville to Millry. He owned land at Millry which is now owned by the Robert (Bobby) Ware family, who purchased it from the Knapp family in the 1930s. The foundation and parts of the original house remain, but the structure has been enlarged and remodeled. He had a grist mill and a water powered sawmill. The grist mill site is mentioned in deeds as the "Tumbling Dam." It is thought that Millry may have been named for the presence of the mills and the railway line which ended at the community.

Isabella Keith Knapp is remembered as a petite woman with a quiet and sweet disposition. She and her husband were complete opposites, but their marriage is remembered as one of "total harmony."

Dave Knapp died 18 September 1928, at the age of 82. His wife, Isabella, died 4 March 1923. Both are buried in the cemetery of Frankville Baptist Church.

The Lambert Family

The Lambert family of Washington and Mobile counties is descended from Andrew Lambert (1766–1846) and his wife Anna Lewis (1768–1845), who came to Alabama from Georgia between 1798 and 1800. They are buried near Mt. Pleasant, Alabama.

Their son James Lambert (1789–ca. 1855–60), and his wife Mary Elizabeth, left Georgia between 1843 and 1847 and settled in the northern portion of Mobile County. When the Mobile & Ohio Rail Road was constructed about 1852, the family gave the right of way across their land, and the vicinity became known as Lambert Station. That area, south-southeast of Citronelle, is still known as Lambert.

Nathan Lambert (1826–after 1870), second son of James and Mary Elizabeth, migrated to Washington County with his wife and oldest child, after 1849. His nephew James Lambert (1850–1915) also settled in Washington County.

The family is of Dutch and German descent and has been traced to a hamlet at the intersection of the Austrian, Swiss and German borders. The family immigrated in the 18th century to Georgia, bringing with them vines to transplant in the new world.

The Lambert Line is as follows:

I. James Lambert (1745–1804).
   Children included:
   1. Andrew Lambert (1766–1846). See II below.

II. Andrew Lambert, born in 1766 in Screven County, Georgia, died in 1846. Married Anna Lewis, born in 1768 in Screven County, Georgia, died in 1845. Both are buried in the Norris Cemetery, near Mt. Pleasant, Alabama. They had seven children, the two youngest of whom were born in Alabama in 1800 and 1804.

Children included:
1. James Lambert (1789–ca. 1855–60). See III below.

III. James Lambert, born in 1789 in Georgia, died between 1855 and 1860 in Mobile County. Married Mary Elizabeth _____, born about 1794 in North Carolina. They left Georgia and settled in northern Mobile County, taking with them the family vines.
Children:
1. William Lambert (1815–after 1860). See (IV (A) below.
2. Nancy Lambert, born in 1822 in Georgia.
3. Elizabeth Lambert, born in 1825 in Georgia.
4. Nathan Lambert (1826–ca. 1855–60). See IV (B) below.
5. Rachel Lambert, born in 1843 in Georgia.
6. Chastity Lambert, born in 1847 in Alabama.

IV (A). William Lambert, born in 1815 in Georgia, died after 1860 in Alabama. Married Nancy Padgett, born in 1830 in Alabama. He was a farmer in Mobile County.
Children included:
1. James Lambert (1850–1915). See V (A1) below.
2. William Franklin Lambert (1855–1917). See V (A2) below.

IV (B). Nathan Lambert, born in 1826 in Georgia, died after 1870. Married Nancy———born in 1829 in Georgia. He and his wife and their eldest child moved from Mobile County to Washington County, after 1849.
Children:
1. Nathan Lambert, Jr. (b. 1849). See V (B1) below.
2. Elizabeth Lambert, born 1854 in Alabama.
3. Louisa Lambert, born 1859 in Alabama.
4. Milton Lambert, born 1860 in Alabama.

V (A1). James Lambert, born 22 August 1850, at Lambert Station, Mobile County, died 12 November 1915. Married Charlotte Sims, born 23 August 1848, at Citronelle or Sims Chapel, died 2 July 1926. She was a granddaughter of James Sims, who built the original Sims Chapel, c. 1850, and donated a large tract of land for a Methodist campground. Both James and Charlotte Sims Lambert are buried in the Leroy Baptist Cemetery.
Children:
1. William Berry Lambert, born 29 October 1875.
2. Lottie Lillian Lambert, born 19 June, 1877.
3. Clara Christine Lambert, born 18 April 1879.
4. Kate Kameron Lambert, born 30 May 1881.
5. Cecilia Claudine Lambert, born 18 October 1887.

V (A2). William Franklin Lambert, born in 1855, died in 1917.
Children included:
1. William Wesley Lambert (1884–1927).
Children:
a. William Franklin Lambert (1906–).
b. Wesley Wells Lambert (1916–1974).
c. Margaret Rosalie Lambert, married Lane.

V (B1). Nathan Lambert, Jr., born December 1849 in Mobile County. Moved to Washington County as a young child. Married 27 March 1873, in Washington County, Eliza A. Patrick, born December 1832 in Alabama.
Children:
1. Willie Lambert, born July 1873 in Alabama.
2. Jim Lambert, born December 1876 in Alabama.
3. Carrie Lambert, born September 1881 in Alabama.
4. Melton Lambert, born January 1884 in Alabama.
5. Oscar Lambert, born January 1887 in Alabama.
6. G. Lambert (male), born July 1888 in Alabama.
7. Ceaslie Lambert (female), born June 1893 in Alabama.

The 1860 Census in Washington County also lists Nathan Lambert, born 1830, his wife Martha, born 1835, and their two children:
1. James Lambert, born 1856.
2. Eleanor Lambert.

The 1880 Census in Washington County lists Daniel Lambert, born 1852, his wife Mary, born 1857, and their two children:

1. Julia Lambert, born 1874.
2. Nances Lambert, born 1876.

The 1900 Census lists, in Washington County, Elijah Lambert, born February 1862, and his wife Barbara Scarbrough Lambert, born March 1868, married 2 January 1884. Listed with them are their five children:

1. Floyd Lambert, born March 1885.
2. Maggie Lambert, born February 1888.
3. Lula Lambert, born February 1891.
4. Frank Lambert, born March 1893.
5. Richard Lambert, born January 1896.
6. Lena Lambert, born May, 1899.

The 1900 census lists, in the same household, Margaret Lambert, born 1845, mother of Elijah Lambert, and Coleman Scarbrough, born January 1881, his brother-in-law.

Martha Ann Juson Warrick was a daughter of the Rev. James Madison Warrick, who came to Alabama from North Carolina in 1800, and his wife, Sara.

The Nathaniel DeHass McClure Family

Nathaniel DeHass McClure of California, Pennsylvania, with his wife, Emeline Oglevee McClure, and their ten children moved from Pennsylvania to Alabama in 1899. Mr. McClure purchased a sawmill at Dyas, a small town in Baldwin County. He operated the mill there until 1902, when he purchased the mill property at Wagar in Washington County, from Mr. H.R. Wagar.

He also purchased several thousand acres of timber land between Wagarville and Chatom. He operated the mill until it burned in 1920, after which he retired and moved his family to Mobile. He purchased a home in Mobile and died there on 29 October 1924. His widow continued to live there until her death on

Nathaniel DeHass McClure and Emeline Oglevee McClure had ten children:

1. Joseph Clarendon McClure, a musician, married Venetia Danner Bacon.
2. Anna Danley McClure, m. David Warren Davis.
3. Ellen Rebecca McClure, m. George Edward Gallagher.
4. Matthew Simpson McClure, m. Ida Morrissette.
5. Sarah Ida McClure, m. Frank Clifford Winter.
6. Eunice Em McClure, m. William Burnett Crane.
7. Nathaniel DeHass McClure, Jr., married Bessie Murphy.
8. Dr. Christopher Columbus McClure, a physician, m. Nelle Maria Dunn.
9. Genevieve McClure, an artist, m. Robert Hamilton Southerland.
10. Edward Oscar McClure, a musician, m. 1921, Bernice B. Daffin. Children:
    a. Emeline Oglevee McClure, m. Howard W. Porter, Jr. (deceased)
    b. Phoebe Elizabeth McClure, m. Raymond F. Pitman.
    c. Ellen Rebecca McClure, m. Chester C. Noble.

In 1921, two of the brothers, Nathaniel DeHass, Jr., and Oscar, rebuilt the sawmill and Wagar continued to be a lively sawmill community.

In 1924, tragedy struck. DeHass was testing a shotgun and a fragment from the gun struck him in the head. Dr. Gaines C. McCrary gave him emergency treatment, when he was placed on a train in Wagar for transport to a hospital in Mobile. However, he died before the train reached Mobile. After his death, Bessie McClure and her four children moved to Mobile, leaving Oscar and his family in Wagar.

Oscar continued to operate the sawmill until all the available timber was cut. When the mill closed, he continued to operate the company commissary and serve as postmaster. During the Great Depression, many citizens, black and white, asked Oscar to rebuild the sawmill so they could have some employment. After much consideration, he built a small mill and operated it until 1936. After the mill closed that year, Oscar moved his family to Jackson in Clarke County, where he purchased a Ford dealership. Many of the remaining families also left Wagar at that time.

In 1953, Oscar and Bernice purchased the Boswell home and farm in Leroy, and moved into the farm home in 1954. He continued to operate the farm and teach music in his home and at Leroy High School. In 1964, he sold the farm and returned to Jackson. He and his wife and their children still live there. He is the last surviving child of Nathaniel DeHass McClure and Emeline Oglevee McClure.

Dr. Gaines Cuthbert McCrary

Gaines Cuthbert McCrary was born on 21 November 1883 at Semmes in western Mobile County. He was a son of James Alpin McCrary and Mary J. Roberts McCrary, early settlers of Semmes, where his father was a prominent farmer and school teacher. The McCrarys had three other sons and two daughters. One of the older sons, Dr. Drury Orestes McCrary, was a physician and was helpful to Gaines in his lifelong desire to become a physician and surgeon.

Gaines McCrary was educated in the public schools at Semmes. He was graduated from the old Mobile Medical College, affiliated with the University of Alabama, on 15 April 1907. He went to Central America one summer with volunteers to help fight a yellow fever epidemic.

Dr. McCrary established his practive in the Sunflower, Toinette and Wagar area of Washington County around late 1908 or early 1909. Poll tax receipts indicated he paid the tax for the first time on 5 November 1910 and for the following years until 1919.

Dr. McCrary boarded for several years with the Harris sisters—the Misses Virginia, Mamie, Nickie and Pearl. The Harris residence was located across Gaines C. McCrary, M.D. Pictured in his office which was located on the second floor above Andrews Hardware Company in Jackson. c. 1939.

Highway 43 from the small burial ground known as the Harris Cemetery. The house was torn down in late 1985 for the four-laning of Highway 43. Dr. McCrary, after a time, rented a two-bedroom bungalow in Toinette.

At Toinette, Dr. McCrary met the young lady who would become his wife some ten years later. Bessie Scott was about 12 or 13 when the young doctor first saw her, swinging by a tree vine from the third floor of the boarding house operated by her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Scott. Dr. McCrary is reported to have said at the time, "If that young girl lives to grow up, I believe I'll marry her!" Her father was Charles C. Scott, the station agent at Toinette, who had been transferred from Alameda in Clarke County. Mr. Scott was killed in March, 1913, when he and an engineer were backing an engine off the tracks onto a trestle, to let a passenger train through. The trestle, which had been weakened by accumulated backwater, collapsed and Mr. Scott was buried in the deep water.

An oldtime resident recalled that Dr. McCrary hired a black man who lived near his house to drive his horse and buggy when he was called out at night or for long distances. He maintained an office in Toinette, where he saw patients, but he also made many house calls. There was no hospital nearer than Mobile, to which the most serious cases were taken by rail. Babies were delivered at home.

In later years, Dr. McCrary moved to Wagar and opened an office while still seeing many patients in the Sunflower area. He was the company doctor for the McClure Pine Company at Wagar as well as for Southern Railway. Mrs. Lillie Smith recalls that Dr. McCrary was practicing in Wagar during the famous influenza epidemic of 1917, which took so many lives. Dr. McCrary persuaded the County Superintendent of Education to quarantine the local school until the epidemic had passed. Mrs. Smith recalls worrying that the epidemic was a threat to her receiving a gold medal for perfect attendance and grades. But she got the gold medal because the school was quarantined.

Mrs. Lizzie Scott had also moved to Wagar and operated a hotel there. Her daughter, Bessie Scott, who had grown up and become a teacher, opened the first consolidated school in Wagarville on 4 January 1918. Mrs. Smith recalls that students from Wagar were transported to school by Dr. McCrary, or if he was out on a call, by Mr. E. Oscar McClure, the mill owner. "Miss Bessie," the teacher, was augmented by a piano teacher who, reportedly, came up from Mobile by train.

Dr. McCrary and Bessie Scott were married in 1919 in Mobile and honeymooned in Atlantic City, New Jersey. They remained a short while in Wagar, then moved to Bayou La Batre in Mobile County, and later to Foley in Baldwin County, where they lived for two years. In 1923, Dr. and Mrs. McCrary moved to Jackson, where he practiced medicine and surgery and continued to see many of his Washington County patients. In the latter part of 1926, Dr. McCrary opened the first hospital between Mobile and Selma, in a rented frame house on West Cedar Street in Jackson. It was known as the South Alabama Infirmary. Miss Pauline Simpkins was Dr. McCrary's nurse during that time.

Dr. McCrary was also company doctor for the Lone Star Cement Company (now called the Ideal) at St. Stephens. He was a member of the Alabama Medical Association, the Southern Medical Association, the Gulf Coast Clinical Society, and the Clarke County Medical Society. He was an honorary lifetime member of the Southern Medical Association. He was a Mason, member of Sante Fe Lodge #226 in Jackson, Abba Temple in Mobile and the Mobile Consistory #2, Scottish Rite. He was a member of the local school board, the Lions Club. He occasionally played golf but loved hunting and fishing.

Dr. Gaines C. McCrary and Bessie Scott had three daughters:

1. Betty McCrary, born at Bayou La Batre, m. Joe

McCorquodale, Jr. Sons:
   a. Joseph Charles (Mac) McCorquodale, of Jackson.
   b. Gaines Cowan McCorquodale, of Jackson.
2. Jean McCrary, born in 1924 in Jackson, m. Rhett G. Payne, Jr. Sons:
   a. William McCrary Payne, of Eufaula.
   b. Rev. Rhett Goode Payne, III, of Marshall, Texas.
3. Dorothy Gaines McCrary, born 6 April 1928, died 4 August 1941 of unknown causes.

Dr. McCrary suffered a cerebral hemmorhage in 1933 and fully recovered. In 1940, he became ill again from the same cause and was unable to continue his practice. He suffered a final attack and died on 22 May 1948 at Mobile Infirmary.

Hayden William McIlwain

Hayden W. McIlwain was born in the Washington County area on 8 September 1844. His parents are believed to have been R.W. and Elizabeth McIlwain.

Hayden McIlwain taught music at various locations around Washington County, and also taught in schools in the county. He was elected a trustee of the Washington County School District No. 24, in 1908.

Hayden McIlwain, Music Teacher.

McIlwain enlisted on 26 March 1862 to serve three years as a private in Company I, 36th Alabama Volunteers, Confederate States Army. He was discharged by surgeon's certificate on 3 May 1863, at camp near Tullahoma, Tennessee.

Hayden McIlwain married Anna E. Davidson (born in 1845) and they were the parents of five known children:

1. Nancy Levisa McIlwain, born 1868, died 1899. Married John Franklin Dykes of Pine River, Minnesota.
2. William Asberry (Azzie) McIlwain, born 31 July 1872, died 17 June 1938. Married Ada Pearlee Williams, daughter of James W. (Jim) Williams and Margaret Armstrong. He was a justice of the peace in Chatom.
3. Archie Belton McIlwain, born 3 March 1875, died 24 June 1957. Married Alice Veronia Coaker, daughter of George Washington Coaker and Josephine Williams.
4. Cora McIlwain, born 1876?, died 18 March 1956. Married Frank M. Baria.
5. Charlie L. McIlwain, born December 1879, died 11 September 1955. Married _____ Hayes, and after her death married her sister, Ola Hayes.

Anna Davidson McIlwain died young and was buried in Springbank cemetery. Hayden McIlwain was a member of the Springbank Baptist Church and served as church clerk there for several years prior to 1889.

He worked for the railroad in Washington County for a period around 1915 and spent the latter part of his life in the area between Tibbie and State Line. He died 23 August 1924 and was buried next to Anna in the Springbank cemetery.

The Miller, Massey and Williams Families

Families who have worked faithfully as members of the Church of the Brethren in Fruitdale include Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Miller and their sons' families—Jake and Carrie Miller and Sam and Alice Miller. The Millers built the first telephone system in Fruitdale. Abie Miller, the son of Jake Miller, became manager of the telephone system when he was young and continued to work with the system until 1985.

The John Massey family came to Fruitdale from Mississippi in 1925. Their home had served as a meeting place for a mission point for several years. Then they moved to Fruitdale to be closer to the church and to their daughter, Mrs. Carrie Miller. Mrs. Miller was called "Aunt Carrie" by many of the community because she was so helpful to many people through her work as switchboard operator.

Carlie Williams, a brother of Mrs. Massey, and his wife were drawn to the Church of the Brethren also. Several of "Mr. Carlie's" family are active in the church. Mr. Carlie drove a school bus to church for several years, which was a relief to those who formerly had walked or driven a wagon to church. One of his granddaughters is director of music at the church.

The Miller Family and Burbank

The Burbank, Alabama Colonization Company was organized in the early 1900s by C. William Soleman, president, and Jacob Staehle, representative, in Chicago, Illinois. Advertising cards, printed in English on one side and German on the other, were distributed to prospective colonists.

Every first and third Tuesday in every month there was a "Home Seekers Excursion" from Chicago to Burbank, which was near the present town of Vinegar Bend in southwestern Washington County.

Burbank was advertised as one of the finest-situated German colonies in Alabama, being 47 miles north of Mobile, and 360 feet above sea level. Burbank was served by the Alabama and Mississippi Railroad, and the Mobile and Ohio Railroad ran three and one-half miles east of the town, providing cheap freight for shipping products to the markets.

The community was advertised as the finest place for growing Satsuma oranges, figs, grapes, Japanese sugar cane, grains and other produce, and for raising hogs at one cent per pound expenses.

However, the land was poor, and many farmers went back north. Others stayed and entered the turpentine business, pigeon raising, and livestock farming.

There was a depot, a post office, a school, and a store along the main street, Center Street. There are now only a few dwelling houses.

The former Burbank Hotel, located one mile east of Burbank, is now the home of Mrs. Myrtle C. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller. The David J. Millers bought the place in the early 1900s. It was known as the Huffstadt Farm.

Henry G. Miller, oldest son of David J. Miller, turned the farm into a livestock farm, once known as Enterprise Farm. The name was changed to Skyway Apiaries when he became a beekeeper. He ran the only grist mill in Burbank and surrounding communities. He was a state-licensed land surveyor, working for Washington County for several years. He also worked in adjacent counties and in Mississippi.

Henry Miller was married to Myrtle Alice Carpenter in 1943. They had four sons, of whom the third, Merlin, is also a land surveyor in Alabama and Mississippi and has worked with the Washington County engineer.

Henry Miller was active in the Epworth United Methodist Church as a Bible class reader and Sunday School superintendent. He was also a journalist, contributing a column, "Gleanings," to the magazine, Bee Culture.

Miller Street in Chatom was named for him.

The Dabney Palmer Family of Leroy

Stephen Palmer was born in Halifax County, Virginia, in 1792 and died in Snow Hill, Wilcox County, Alabama, in 1848. His wife Juliet Hartwell Palmer was born in Virginia and died in Wilcox County in 1850. Stephen and Juliet Palmer moved to Snow Hill in 1830. In later years, when the railroad came through that area, the name of the community was changed to Furman.

Stephen Palmer was a descendant of Martin Palmer, who was born in England in 1625 and served as a major of the colonial militia in New Kent County, Virginia, in 1680.

Stephen Palmer and his wife Juliet Hartwell Palmer were the parents of:

1. Dabney Palmer, born at Snow Hill on 17 August 1835, died at Leroy in Washington County on 26 August 1905.
2. Oscar Comillen Palmer, died at age 10.
3. Juliet Palmer.
4. William Palmer.
5. Kate Palmer.
6. Martha Palmer.
7. Evelina Palmer, b. 22 October 1825, d. 6 December 1869 at Snow Hill. M. John Perry McKee. Children:
   a. Dick McKee, m. Laura _____.
   b. Jeff McKee.
   c. Buck McKee.
   d. Sally McKee.

Dabney Palmer married his first wife, Martha Ann Simpson, in 1857 at Snow Hill. She was born in 1840 in Wilcox County, and died in 1867 at Snow Hill. Dabney Palmer then married Lisetta Merkle.

Children of first marriage:

1. Thomas Waverly Palmer.
2. Dr. Randsom Dabney (Ran) Palmer, m. Margaret Lee.
3. Elbert Stephen Palmer.

Child of second marriage:

1. Juliet Palmer.

In 1897, Dabney Palmer and his wife Lisetta and two sons Randsom (Ran) and Elbert, moved from Wilcox County to Leroy. Dick McKee and his wife Laura and the children, and Jeff McKee and his family came to Washington County with them. The families came by wagon, but Elbert and several black families walked and brought the livestock and farm equipment. Descendants of the black families, who had worked for the family in Wilcox County, still live in the Leroy community. They included the families of John (Fraley) Yelder; Jesse, Thomas and Ike McConico; the Purifoys; and Frank Montgomery.

Dr. Randsom (Ran) Palmer married Margaret Lee. They had several children, the eldest five of whom were born in Wilcox County, the remainder in Leroy:

1. William Palmer.

2. Dabney Palmer.
3. John Palmer.
4. Minnie Lee Palmer.
5. Margaret Palmer.
6. Dr. Lee Palmer.
7. Ransom Palmer.
8. Dr. Martin Palmer.
9. Elizabeth Palmer.
10. Joseph Palmer, m. Frances Pace.

Dr. R.D. (Ran) Palmer was the only physician ever to live and practice in Leroy. He bought land and built a home on what was known as the Ferry Road. His office was in his home, to which patients came. He also made house calls, day or night. He had a large plantation and raised cattle too. In 1923, after the death of his wife Margaret, the home burned. He built a smaller house and lived there until his death. His youngest son Joseph now lives at the "home place."

Joseph Palmer chose teaching as his profession. He taught at Millry, where he met and married Frances Pace. He came home to teach and was the principal of Leroy High School until his retirement in 1976. Joseph and Frances Pace Palmer had five children:

1. Mary Frances Palmer.
2. Joe Pace Palmer.
3. Ann Palmer.
4. Linda Palmer.
5. Hugh Palmer.

Two of Dr. Ran Palmer's sons were physicians: Dr. Martin Palmer and Dr. Lee Palmer. They practiced medicine in Kentucky. Dabney Palmer bought land across the road from the T.C. Bowling home, and built his home there. He had a large farm until his death in 1905. He was chosen a delegate from Washington County to the Alabama Constitutional Convention in 1901. He was the second person to be buried in the Leroy Baptist Cemetery, the first having been Mr. James L. Glover.

When the Palmers and McKees came to Leroy there was no Baptist church in the community. They and other families who had moved into the area built the Leroy Baptist Church, which was dedicated in 1904.

Elbert Palmer and Kate Kameron Lambert were the second couple to be married in the Leroy Baptist Church (the first marriage was that of Judge Frank Turner and Miss Fannie Powell of Carson). Kate was the daughter of James and Charlotte Lambert, who had moved to the community from Jackson in Clarke County. Elbert Palmer was a farmer and one of the earliest mail carriers in the community. The mail came to Carson by train and to Leroy and St. Stephens by horse and buggy.

Elbert and Kate Palmer were the parents of:

1. Clayton Palmer, m. Ethel Davidson. They and their children live in and around Houston, Texas.
   Children:
   a. Stephen Palmer.
   b. James Palmer.
   c. Doris Palmer.
   d. Faye Palmer.
   e. Billy Palmer.
2. Martha Palmer, m. William Blount. Children:
   a. William Eugene (Gene) Blount, m. Betty Smith. They have three children who all live in Leroy:
      (1). Diane Blount.
      (2). Sandra Blount.
      (3). Bill Blount.
   b. Betty Jo Blount, m. Joe Tretler. They live in New York. Children:
      (1). Joey Tretler.
      (2). Cathy Tretler.
   c. Tom Cameron Blount, m. Kay Leaman. They live in St. Louis, Missouri.
      Daughters:
      (1). Leigh Blount.
      (2). Ashley Blount.
      (3). Sarah Blount.

The Pelham Family

The Pelhams of Washington County are descended from the brothers, the Rev. James Allen Pelham and Jeptha V. Pelham.

The Rev. Mr. Pelham was a Methodist minister, merchant and postmaster at St. Stephens (see his biography among the "Ministers").

The Pelhams have been prominent in the life of Washington County since about 1848.

The Rev. James Allen Pelham and Jeptha V. Pelham were sons of William Pelham and Lydia Pelham of Lower Peach Tree in Wilcox County, Alabama.

That William Pelham is believed to have been the same William Pelham who was the brother of Dr. Atkinson Pelham. Dr. Atkinson Pelham (born in 1797), in a letter to Jefferson Davis, wrote that his younger brother William had aided Texas in its struggle for independence from Mexico and later became the surveyor-general of New Mexico. He probably would have been born about 1800.

The ancestry of Dr. Atkinson Pelham and his brother William Pelham has been traced to Peter Pelham, Sr., a talented portrait painter and mezzotint engraver who was born in Chichester, Sussex, England, about 1690. Peter Pelham and his wife, Martha, had three sons born in England: Peter, Jr., Charles and William. In 1726, the family immigrated to Boston, Massachusetts, where Peter Pelham, Sr. became well-known, not only as a portrait painter and engraver, but also as a writing master, dancing master, and teacher of fine needlework.

Following the death of his wife, Peter Pelham, Sr., married the Widow Copley, the mother of the famous portrait painter and engraver, John Singleton Copley, famous for his portrait of Paul Revere. About 1749, a son, Henry Pelham, was born. He also became a famous artist. The household has been called the most artistic in colonial Boston. Peter Pelham, Sr., died in 1751.

Peter Pelham, Jr., was born 9 December 1721 in England and was five years old when his family immigrated to Boston. He studied music for many years and became a famous musician. He spent several years in Charleston, South Carolina, but returned to Boston in 1743 and became the organist of Trinity Church there. He also taught harpsichord and spinet. He married Anne Creese at Trinity Church on 25 June 1746.

In 1749, Peter Pelham, Jr., and his wife left Boston and lived for a few years in Hampton and Suffolk, Virginia. In 1735, he arrived in Williamsburg, Virginia, where he helped install one of the first pipe organs in America, in Bruton Parish Church. He was the organist there for almost 50 years. He was also the state warden of the public gaol there in 1771, and during the Revolution. He was a committee clerk in the House of Burgesses. He and his wife, Anne, were the parents of fourteen children, several of whom died in childhood or early adulthood. Anne died 10 September 1778. Peter moved to Richmond about 1801 and died there in 1805.

Three of the sons of Peter and Anne Creese Pelham served in the Revolution. Peter Pelham, III, was a captain; William was a surgeon and later moved to Indiana; Charles was a major and was a prisoner of war for several months.

Following the war, Charles Pelham lived for a while at Brandon Glebe, about 25 miles from Williamsburg, where he married Louisa Atkinson. In 1790, they moved to Maysville, Kentucky, where he was granted land for his war service. His home became Pelham's Landing, which was on the Ohio River east of Cincinnati, near Maysville. He died there May 29, 1829.

Charles and Louisa Pelham had four sons. Peter Pelham and Charles Pelham served in the War of 1812. Atkinson became a physician in North Carolina for a while and later moved to Alexandria, Virginia, where he and his wife, Martha McGehee, had a large plantation near that of her parents, and where Dr. Atkinson continued to be a physician. They had six sons who served in the Civil War, the most famous being Maj. John Pelham. He attended West Point and was a cannoneer with the cavalry of Gen. J.E.B. Stuart. Because of his bravery he was known as "The Gallant Pelham." He was also known as the "Boy Hero," because he as one of the youngest Confederate officers. He was killed by a stray bullet at Kelly's Ford, Virginia, at the age of 24.

There is a tradition in the families that have descended from Jeptha and James Allen Pelham, in Washington County, that they were related to "The Gallant Pelham."

John Snowden Powell

John Snowden Powell was born 21 October 1895 in Brooklyn, Conecuh County, Alabama, and died 18 January 1972 in Moulton, Alabama. He was buried at Malcolm Baptist Cemetery. Around 1918, John S. Powell moved to Washington County, first living in Calvert and later in Malcolm.

He married Maude Louise Jones, daughter of Robert Lee Jones and Frances Gosson Jones, of Malcolm, in 1927. He resided in Malcolm the remainder of his life. He was an active member of the Malcolm Baptist Church for many years.

During the last 27 years of his life he was the operator and amanager of the Bates Lake Fishing Camp, located on Bates Lake, about one mile from the Tombigbee River.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snowden Powell on their wedding day.

Mr. Powell was an avid hunter and fisherman and spent much time pursuing those sports in and around the Tombigbee River area. In his youth, while he was managing a drug store in Calvert, he met and became lifelong friends with a black man named Frank Watkins, who taught him to catch catfish in the Tombigbee in wooden boxes or traps, using bread and cheese for bait. He also taught him how to knit and make hoop nets. The two men became partners in a commercial fishing venture on the Tombigbee. They sold fish as far away as the Scotch Lumber COmpany in Fulton and had customers at Suggsville in Clarke County. Their venture was not a great success because they never discovered a way to refrigerate their fish for transport to more distant markets.

John Snowden Powell and Maude Louise Jones had two sons:

1. Robert Cary Powell, m. Audrey Jensen of Macon, Mississippi. He lives in Jackson, Alabama.
   Children:
   a. Karen Powell.
   b. Chris Powell.
   c. Robert Powell.
   d. Nancy Powell.
2. Lenno Otto Powell, m. Patsy Kelley of Pensacola, Florida. Children:
   a. Steven Powell.
   b. John Powell.

John Snowden Powell was the oldest son of John Cary Powell and Lillian Snowden. Both his parents were from Brooklyn, Alabama. Lillian Snowden's father, William H. Snowden, was a Confederate hero. He was wounded at Lenoir Station, near Knoxville, Tennessee. Other children of John and Lillian were William H. Powell; Joe Powell; Charles Cary Powell, who lived most of his life at Malcolm; and Walter Theodoshia Powell, who still lives at Calvert and is the only one of the five brothers still living.

John Cary Powell's first wife, Lillian Snowden, died in childbirth in 1908. He then married Minnie Lee Gilmore of Calvert, and they had three daughters: Minnie Lee, Catherine and Lucille, all of whom are still living.

John Cary Powell was a son of Pinckney Putnam Powell and Catherine Theodoshia Cary. Her father, August Dudley Cary, was one of the early settlers of Conecuh County. He first lived in Burnt Corn, then moved to Sparta in 1824. He was clerk of the Circuit Court of Conecuh County for twenty-four years. In 1833, Cary was appointed receiver of the Land Office for Sparta District. He was a native of Virginia and was graduated from the University of Georgia with distinction in 1810.

Pinckney Putnam Powell was a son of John Powell and Elizabeth Ballard. He was born at Packer's Bend in Monroe County, on the west side of the Alabama River. In his youth, he traveled to California. He returned to Alabama, intending to go back to California, but instead married Catherine Cary and moved to Brooklyn.

John Powell owned property at Oven's Bluff on the Tombigbee River in present-day Clarke County in 1813. He and his brother James built a fort at Oven's Bluff, about a mile back from the river, for use during the Creek Indian War.

On June 5, 1816, at McIntosh Bluff, John Powell married Elizabeth Ballard. McIntosh Bluff was the county seat of Baldwin County, Mississippi Territory, at the time. The record of their marriage is in the Baldwin County records at Bay Minette. They had twelve children: Elijah, Pinckney Putnam, Ann, James, Elizabeth, Eliza, Martha, Melaney, Amelia, John, Louisa, and William.

In 1816, John Powell traveled down the Tombigbee River, through the Cut-Off and up the Alabama River to Lower Peach Tree, in present-day Wilcox County, looking for suitable land. He was accompanied by two neighbors, a Mr. McCaskey and Donald Johnston. They took along 20 slaves, nine horses, a barge and a dug-out canoe. Near Lower Peach Tree they were surprised by an Indian attack. McCaskey and Johnston were killed, but John Powell escaped.

Three years later, in 1819, John Powell sold his land at Oven's Bluff to Henry Slade and began purchasing land from the Federal Government at Packer's Bend (present-day Monroe County, on the west bank of the Alabama River. He bought several sections of land. The Powell Cemetery is located on some of that property. Although no marker can be found for John Powell, the cemetery is believed to be his burial place.

Another cemetery, located about one mile south and east of the Powell Cemetery, on the old Slaughter place, contains markers for John's son Elijah, his wife Elizabeth Slaughter and their children.

Although positive proof has not been found, it is considered very probable that John Powell was the son of William Powell of McIntosh Bluff. William Powell was given a Spanish land grant in 1795 at McIntosh Bluff for lands on the west and east sides of the Tombigbee River. In his request for the grant, William Powell stated that he had lived on the property for ten years without a title or deed and therefore desired a grant.

William's land was part of the property now owned by the Olin Corporation. It was at least a half mile upriver from the land which was granted to John McIntosh in 1775 by the British. John Johnston's land was next to William Powell's, just downriver. Johnston was married to William's sister, Joyce Powell. Below Johnston was his son-in-law, Cornelius Raine. It was in Raine's home that Aaron Burr ate breakfast after his capture at McIntosh Bluff in 1807. Raine's property extended to Hell Cat Lake.

William Powell was one of the first settlers of Washington County, having arrived by 1785. He had a son Elijah and a son James, and it is possible that he was also the father of John Powell and of Theophilus and William Powell as well.

John Snowden Powell of Bates Lake at Malcolm never realized that he spent much of his life near the place where his (probable) great-great-grandfather, William Powell, had become one of Alabama's earliest settlers. It is interesting also, that a circle was made by the family migrations, starting with John Powell who left McIntosh Bluff for Oven's Bluff on the Tombigbee, then up the Alabama River to Packer's Bend; then his son Pinckney moved to Brooklyn in Conecuh County; his son John Cary moved to Calvert; and his son John Snowden moved up to Malcolm.

The Reed Family of Choctaw and Washington Counties

James E. Reed and his wife Sarah E. Roberts Reed were early settlers of Choctaw County. They built their home in the Cullomburg area, near the Washington County line. They were farmers and landowners.

Their son William Alfred (Willie) Reed married Minnie E. Simpson, daughter of Simeon B. Simpson and Milinda Miles Simpson. She was a granddaughter of John Powell Simpson and Sarah Worsham Simpson, and the great-granddaughter of Elisha Simpson, a Revolutionary War soldier from North Carolina, who was an early settler of Washington County when it was part of the Mississippi Territory.

Willie Reed and Minnie Simpson had the following children:

1. Sally Reed, married Luther McLemore, son of J.E. McLemore, a merchant in Millry. "Miss Sally" worked as a clerk in the County Probate Judge's office, during the term of Judge John Kimbrough. Afterwards she was clerk of the Millry Post Office for many years. The McLemores had three daughters:
   a. Doris McLemore.
   b. Mary Frances McLemore.
   c. Elizabeth McLemore.
2. Willie Mae Reed, m. first, a Mr. Kimbrough; second, Ernest Swan of Choctaw County. Mr. and Mrs. Swan made their home in Georgetown, South Carolina.
   Child by first marriage:
   a. Eddie Kimbrough.
   Children by second marriage:
   a. Jean Swan.
   b. Ouida Swan.
   c. Reed Swan.
3. Ola R. Reed, m. Mardis Monroe Blount, son of Joseph Deforrest Blount and Joyce Thompson Blount of Washington County. Mr. Blount, nicknamed "Pardner," worked for many years for W.E. Hill Lumber Company. Mr. and Mrs. Blount made the home between Millry and Koenton. They were the parents of:
   a. Mardis Monroe Blount, Jr.
   b. Alfred Deforrest (Fred) Blount.
   c. Mildred Blount.
   d. Carolyn Blount.
   e. Frances Blount.
   f. Rufus Grady Blount.
   g. Patricia Blount.
4. John Freeman Reed, m. Carrie Gertrude Waite, daughter of Lafayette S. Waite and Hattie C. Boswell Waite of Choctaw County. "Mr. John" was logging foreman for W.E. Hill Lumber Company. Their home was between Millry and Cullomburg. They were the parents of:

a. John Freeman Reed.
b. June Reed.
c. Joe Reed.
d. William Alfred (Bill) Reed.
e. Theodore Ernest Reed.
f. Helen Gertrude Reed.
g. Milinda Reed.
h. Minnie Lois Reed.

5. Minnie Lois Reed, m. Jessie L. Jordan, son of Fred Jordan and Lizzie Anderson Jordan of Chatom. Mr. Jordan was part owner, with his brothers Henry and John Jordan, in a mercantile business. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan were the owners of the Gulf Service Station in Chatom for many years. Mrs. Jordan was bookkeeper for the mercantile business and is still active in the Gulf business, now known as Jordan's Mini Mart. The Jordans have always lived in Chatom. They are the parents of:
   a. William Frederick Jordan.
   b. Charles Henry Jordan.
   c. Robert Kimbrough Jordan.
6. Emma Reed, m. Ernest Causey, son of Hartsfield C. Causey and Josephine Tate Causey of Healing Springs. The Causeys lived in the Mehaffy Community, where they owned and operated a general merchandise store. They had no children.

At the death of Willie Alfred Reed, Minnie Simpson Reed married Wesley Reed, brother of Willie. They had the following children:

1. Willard Reed, m. Clayton Lambert, daughter of James S. Lambert and Mary Melvin Lambert of Uriah, Alabama. They moved to Chatom about 1937.
   Children:
   a. Jimmy Reed.
   b. Janet Reed.
2. Marvin Reed, m. Vauncile Williams, daughter of J. Gary Williams and Hattie L. Causey Williams of Vinegar Bend. Marvin attended school in Chatom and began his career as a clerk for Jordan Brothers Mercantile Store, at the age of 18.
   Children:
   a. Jerry Reed.
   b. Sandra Reed.
3. Lois Reed, m. Osborn Brown, son of Henry E. Brown and Jessie Pearilee Loper Brown of Barlow. They live at Barlow, where Osborn ownes and operates an electrical, radio and refrigeration business.
   Children:
   a. Bobbie Jean Brown.
   b. Harlan Brown.
   c. Ronnie Brown.
4. Paul Reed, m. Myrtle Coaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coaker of Fruitdale. Paul was well known as a baseball athlete. He died in 1946. They had no children.

Willard and Marvin Reed became partners in the grocery business in 1939, when they purchased a store from J.G. Mills. Marvin Reed was also in partnership with H.N. Jordan following his service in World War II. In 1952, the Reed brothers built a large new brick building and opened Chatom's first supermarket. The partnership continued until the early 1960s. After Marvin's death in 1964, his son Jerry Reed managed the store for a while, then his sister Minnie Lois became manager until it was sold some years later.

In the early 1960s, Willard and Clayton Reed moved to Millry, where Willard and his son, Jimmy, owned and operated a grocery store. Clayton was a partner with her sister, Mrs. J.W. Lassiter, in a dress shop called Clayton 'n Jean's.

The Reed family, from the progenitors through the present generation, have contributed much to Washington County and to the communities in which they live.

Olive Zenobia Young Gartman Robinson

Olive Zenobia Young was born on 20 February 1895 at Malcolm. She was the youngest of eleven children of Jesse George W. Young (1850–1925) and Sarah G. (Sallie) Cabaniss Young (1852–1925), of Nanafalia, Marengo County (see above). She was married 22 December 1912, to Irving Gartman (b. 4

Olive Zenobia Young with husband Irving Gartman shortly after their marriage.

September 1891, d. 17 June 1934) of Mobile. He was a son of Henry Allen Gartman (b. 23 May 1859, m. 23 October 1886, d. 19 February 1947) and Martha Florence Newburn Gartman (b. 6 January 1868, d. 17 June 1934).

Irving Gartman and Olive Zenobia Young had seven children:

1. Brooks Dearman Gartman, b. 12 December 1914, d. 6 August 1926.
2. Vivian Icyphine Gartman, b. 6 September 1917, m. Walter Vaden Robinson, 5 December 1936.
3. Clyde Burnett Gartman, b. 23 March 1919, d. 4 June 1983. M. first, Inez Wooley; second, Anniece Wooley; third Lucille Sullivan.
4. Julian Wade Gartman, b. 4 March 1921, d. 25 December 1961, M. Una Mae Henderson.
5. Martha Lorene Gartman, b. 24 March 1923, m. James Henderson.
6. Nellie Ruth Gartman, b. 25 February 1925, d. 18 September 1976. M. Billy Freeman.
7. Robert Ervin Gartman, b. 1 April 1932, m. Dora Johnson.

Irving Gartman died 17 June 1934, and Olive was therefore cast into the role of provider for her children, ranging in age from seventeen to two years old. It was in the midst of the "Great Depression" and she worked at an assortment of jobs to keep food on the table. She was a positive thinker who believed in doing, rather than just "talking about it." One of her favorite expressions was, "Don't waste breath!" She cautioned against speaking ill of others. A person of simple tastes and an uncluttered life style, she experienced few creature comforts during most of her life. Her greatest desire was to make certain that everyone was taken care of with food and a warm, dry place to stay. Tramps who roamed the roads during the Depression were not turned away without food.

She was well loved and respected, and was affectionately referred to as "Grandma," by all who knew her, and she cherished the title.

She was instrumental in the formation of her church, the Cedar Creek Church of God, from the first brush arbor through the permanent structures which were built on her land and deeded to the church. A strong believer in God, she unquestioningly accepted the teachings of the Bible as the source of her strength. She had a simple faith based on belief in Divine forgiveness for sin, fairness to her fellow man, and stewardship of what God has given us. She would not tolerate mistreatment of another human being or of an animal. She often expressed the belief that everyone was responsible for leaving the world a better place than one found it.

Olive G. Young Gartman was married in October, 1934, to James Robinson (b. 11 October 1881, d. 9 February 1959) of Quitman, Mississippi.

Her life was painted with the sorrow of death, having lost three sons, a daughter, and two husbands, but her grief was very private and she shouldered it with a quiet and profound dignity. Her knowledge of her own imminent death was accepted in the same manner. Several days before her death, she knew the time was near. She professed no pain and was emphatic that she wanted to remain at home with her loved ones rather than be hospitalized. A few hours before her death she uttered two statements which summed up her philosophy and were the guiding principles of her life. She said, "I'm ready, I'm ready," followed by, "I love you."

She died on 27 December 1983, and was buried next to her husband Irving Gartman and her firstborn son Brooks at Liberty Cemetery in Fairford, near her childhood home.

The Slaughter Family

Eugene Malone Slaughter, Sr., was born 4 February 1864 in St. Stephens, and died there 29 March 1927. He was buried in the family cemetery near his home, which was one mile west of the St. Stephens post office, just off the Chatom road.

His parents were James Lee Slaughter and Mary Eliza Malone Slaughter, who were married in Washington County on 20 May 1861. James Lee Slaughter was born 16 February 1831, and died 18 August 1863, five and a half months before his only son, Eugene Malone Slaughter, was born. He was a dentist in St. Stephens and Mobile. He was a son of Lee and Mary A. Slaughter, plantation owners at Blakeley on the Tensaw River north of Spanish Fort, in Baldwin County. They migrated there in the 1820s, probably from North Carolina. Lee Slaughter was born in the 1780s and died at Blakeley about 1845. Mary A. Slaughter was born in the early 1800s and died in 1855.

Eugene Malone Slaughter's mother, Mary Eliza Malone Slaughter, was born near St. Stephens in 1842 and died 13 November 1915. Following the premature death of her husband, she became an outstanding teacher of music and other subjects in a private school which she established in her home in St. Stephens.

The following is an excerpt from the Mobile Register on 7 July 1885:

> ST. STEPHENS—On Tuesday, June 30, the courthouse of this place was crowded with spectators to witness the examination of the pupils of Mrs. M.E. Slaughter's school. The exercise commenced at 10 o'clock. Throughout the whole program the examination was marked by quick and ready answers from the scholars who showed a remarkable degree of proficiency and acquitted themselves in a manner that was highly creditable, and which must have been a cause of great satisfaction to their deserving teacher.

Mary Eliza Malone Slaughter was a daughter of James Smith Malone and Polly Mary Gordy Malone, who were married in Washington County on 22 October 1835. James Smith Malone was born at Old St. Stephens on 8 November 1810, and died at New St. Stephens on 18 October 1873. He was a farmer and large landowner and served as State Representative from Washington County in 1847–48.

Polly Mary Gordy Malone was born in Georgia on 21 March 1811 and died near St. Stephens on 31 March 1861. She was a daughter of Elijah and Tabitha Melton Gordy, who were married in Old St. Stephens in 1800 and settled in Georgia. Her mother, Tabitha Gordy, returned to St. Stephens as a widow with four small children about 1812 or 1813, and ran a hotel or boarding house. Besides Polly Mary, her other children were Judge Elijah H. Gordy, Mrs. George (Sally) Welsh, and Mrs. Walker (Hannah) Bailey, all of whom were prominent in the early history of Washington County.

Eugene Malone Slaughter and Lena Estelle Pelham were married on 13 December 1898. Lena Estelle was born in St. Stephens on 3 July 1874 and died at her daughter's home in Mobile on 21 October 1940. She was buried in the Slaughter family cemetery near St. Stephens. She was a gracious lady and hostess to the many guests in her home. She was a Sunday School teacher at the St. Stephens Methodist Church and was active in the life of the community. Following her death, a tribute was written by some of the church members, which said in part, "her Christian character will be an inspiration to all who knew her. She was always ready to stand by her pastor, ready to serve her church, and ever ready to live for the glory of God."

Eugene Malone Slaughter was a farmer and had extensive land holdings, including the land known as the "Plantation," near the site of Old St. Stephens, at the horseshoe bend in the Tombigbee River. For several years he was Registrar or Jury Commissioner and was Postmaster at St. Stephens in 1905. He served for many years as Sunday School Superintendent of the St. Stephens Methodist Church. He and Lena Estelle were parents of ten children, two of whom died in infancy. Surviving children were:

1. Eugene Malone Slaughter, Jr., born 10 December 1899. During World War II, he was employed in the shipyards in Mobile and later worked at a chemical plant at McIntosh until his retirement in 1965. He and his wife, Grace, had two sons:
   a. Ronald Slaughter.
   b. Ray Slaughter.
2. Mary Eloise Slaughter, born 2 May 1903. She worked for the Federal government at Brookley Field and later in Texas, until her retirement. Married Oliver Loftin on 22 March 1920.
   Children:
   a. Oliver Loftin, Jr.
   b. Jean Loftin.
   c. Mary Helen Loftin.
   d. Jimmy Loftin.
   e. Eddie Loftin.
3. Annie Lee Slaughter, born 3 November 1904. She was a teacher and office worker, and was Personnel Director at Waterman Ship Company at the time of her retirement. She married Frank W. Malone, 2 March 1935.
   Children:
   a. Ann Taylor Malone, a twin.
   b. Twin, died in infancy.
4. Minnie Louise Slaughter, born 13 January 1907. She was a nurse at the Mobile Infirmary. Married William Christopher Harrington, 23 December 1928.
   Children:
   a. Margarete Harrington.
   b. Billie Louise Harrington.
5. John Drury Slaughter, born 31 January 1909. During World War II, he was a shipbuilder and later worked in housing construction in Mobile. Married Myrtle Marie Miller, 15 October 1938.
   Children:
   a. John Drury Slaughter, Jr.
   b. Evelyn Marie Slaughter.
   c. Mary Ann Slaughter.
   d. Stephanie Lynn Slaughter.
6. Hugh Leland Slaughter, born 19 June 1910, died 26 November 1977. He was engaged in cattle farming and road construction. Married Stella Blount, 25 July 1938.
   Children:
   a. Hugh Leland Slaughter, Jr., a twin, died in infancy.
   b. John Wilson Slaughter, a twin.
   c. Stella Ruth Slaughter.
   d. Joseph Eugene Slaughter.
   e. Rebecca Estelle Slaughter.
   f. Virginia Louise Slaughter.
7. Herbert Eidson Slaughter, born 6 December 1912. He was a locomotive engineer in Haleyville, Alabama. Married Nellie Lee Nation, 29 December 1934.
   Children:
   a. Robert Lewis Slaughter.
   b. Mary Elizabeth Slaughter.
   c. Sue Kathryn Slaughter.
   d. Mildred Jean Slaughter.
8. Sally Evelyn Slaughter, born 29 October 1914. Married Perry Patton Miller in Mobile, 3 July 1940.
   Children:
   a. Sally Evelyn Miller.
   b. Elinor Jean Miller.

All the Slaughter children were born and reared near St. Stephens and attended schools there and in Leroy. At the time of their father's death in 1927, there were still five children at home, the youngest of whom was 12 years old. Under the direction of their mother, they survived the Great Depression on their farm.

All of the grandchildren of Eugene Malone Slaughter and Lena Estelle Slaughter completed high school, fourteen of the twenty-five have college degrees and others have some college education. Their professions include a nurse, several teachers, a veterinarian, a physician, a minister, an FBI agent, and several are employed in business.

The Smith Family of St. Stephens

The progenitor of the Smith line was Thomas (Tom) Smith, whose ancestors had long been established in North Carolina. They were of Scotch-Irish descent.

Thomas Smith and his family moved from North Carolina to Georgia, and after many years there, came to what was then the Mississippi Territory, about 1812. They settled in what was then known as the District of Washington, establishing a homestead a few miles north of Old St. Stephens. Their line is as follows:

I. Thomas Smith married Ann Godbold.
Children:
1. Thomas Godbold Smith. See II, below.
2. Mary Ann (or Sarah Ann), born in Charlotte, N. C.
3. John.

II. Thomas Godbold Smith, born at Charlotte, N.C., in 1801, died in 1861. He became a successful farmer. Married, about 1843, Margaret Collier, daughter of a Col. Collier of Georgia.
Children:
1. Bradock Collier Smith, born in 1845. See III, below.
2. Andrew Smith, died young.
3. Erasmus Collier Smith.
4. Thomas Godbold Smith, Jr.
5. Sinai Smith, married Signey Cope.
6. Anna Smith, died in young womanhood.
7. Roseanna Smith, married Ed McLaughlin and lived in Choctaw County.

James Mitchell Stover

James Mitchell Stover, the eleventh of twelve children, was born to Jacob Price Stover and Elizabeth Emmert Stover on 29 April 1848, at Greencastle, Pennsylvania.

In his twenties, he engaged with his brother Jacob in the nursery business, which led to the planting of an orchard of 5,000 peach trees at Edgemont, Maryland. The success of the orchard led to the planting of more than one million peach trees in western Maryland and southern Pennsylvania.

In 1896, James Mitchell Stover moved to Fruitdale, in Washington County, a promising fruit growing section. At that time he was a widower and he brought with him his five children, ages eleven to nineteen. His third child, Julia May Stover, married Madison Wine in 1900. He and his family were members of the Fruitdale Church of the Brethren, which was founded in 1896.

Mr. Stover lived at Fruitdale until 1900, helping to establish peach orchards in the area. About 1900, the scale, a fungus disease affecting the peach trees, began to run rampant in the orchards and without modern sprays and spraying methods, the trees died and the industry died with them.

In 1900, Mr. Stover moved to Bay Minette, Alabama, where he specialized in pecan and satsuma orange groves. He died in Bay Minette in 1921.

The Sullivan Family

The first Sullivans to come to the area which is now Washington County were Owen Sullivan, Stephen Sullivan, Thomas Sullivan, Sr., Thomas Sullivan, Jr., Mark Sullivan and Cornelius Sullivan. Probably others came later.

Owen Sullivan came to the area between 1790 and 1800 and received a Spanish grant of 400 acres (or arpens, as the Spanish called them). The land was on a creek north of Three Rivers Lake.

Tax records indicate that Owen Sullivan was deceased in 1803 and Col. John Hinson was the administrator of his estate. He had four children, 400 acres of land and eight slaves.

Cornelius Sullivan married Mary Bassett, daughter of Thomas Bassett (1762–1816) and Sarah Bassett (1766–1841). Mary Bassett was born in Washington County (see Bassett family history, above).

The early Sullivans have many descendants in the county and state.

Thomas Tate

Thomas Tate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Tate of Millry, was born on 15 April 1942, in Washington County. He was raised between Millry and Copeland.

Over the past twenty-five years, Thomas Tate has seen two of his childhood dreams come true: to be a singer and a wrestler.

He wanted to sing on stage with big bluegrass stars such as Bill Monroe, Lester Flatt, Jimmy Martin and the Osborne Brothers. He has accomplished that. He wanted to make a record and he has recorded two albums, one bluegrass and one bluegrass gospel. His music career started in 1960, when he formed his first band, the "Turpentine Dippers." The name was suggested by a friend, W.O. Kirkland, Sr., who helped Tate get his music career started.

HIs second dream was to be a professional wrestler. He watched wrestling as a youth and went to all the live matches that he could get to. His favorites were the Fields Brothers, the Welch Brothers and Mario Galento.

Tate was transferred on his job in 1969 to Mobile, where he met a wrestler who had retired after 37 years of wrestling throughout the country. He agreed to train Tate and get him started in wrestling. Tate began wrestling professionally in Louisiana and since then has also wrestled in Alabama and Mississippi. He is still an active wrestler and now owns his wrestling business.

Thomas Tate says that he is very thankful for his parents, who always taught him the right way; to his sister-in-law, who showed him the chords on the guitar; to her son Gregg and his many other friends for helping him in his career; but most of all to God for the talents which He saw fit to give him.

The members of Tate's first band were Evans Moss, Ellis Dearmon, Junior Grimes and Donnie Miller, all of Washington County. Later, the band membership changed, and members were from several counties in Alabama. At the suggestion of a disk jockey friend of Tate's, the band name was changed to "Thomas Tate and the Countian Bluegrass," by which it is still called.

The Tate Family, Beekeepers

James C. Tate and his wife Mary Lee Moss Tate own and operate the Millry Bee Company. The apiary is located less than a mile from the Pine Tree Church. James Tate bought the company in 1965.

They were married in 1951, and built a home in the Pine Tree community the same year. At the time, Mary Lee Tate was employed by the Washco Manufacturing Company. She first worked as a machine operator and later was promoted to supervisor. She attended Livingston University and Patrick Henry Junior College. She is now working on a B.S. degree in elementary education at the University of South Alabama. Mary Tate's first love is art and she has worked with oils, watercolor and pastels.

James and Mary Tate have one son, Gregg Tate, and two grandchildren, Gregg and Brian Tate. Gregg Tate started Gregg and Sons Honey Bee Farm in 1979.

Millry Bee Company and Gregg and Sons Bee Farm operate 3,000 queen nuclei and 1,200 hives. They sell bees by the pound for pollenation and honey. Steven Tate, the son of Levi Tate and Allie Moss Tiner, has been employed by the Millry Bee Company since he was graduated from high school.

The Thompson, Rogers and Blount Families

In 1901 or 1902, two brothers, Walter and Arthur Rogers, and their families, moved from Georgia to Rescueville in Choctaw County, Alabama.

Arthur Rogers was married to Almeda Virginia Thompson. Her brother, Thomas W. Thompson, came to visit them while they lived there. He met Estelle Blount, and the first time he saw her, vowed that he would marry her. They met at the Chalk Hill Baptist Church near Koenton, where she was the organist. She was also a school teacher.

About 1906 or 1907, the Rogers brothers moved to Washington County and purchased the Boswell estate at Bigbee, which is located at the crossroads leading to Chatom, Millry, St. Stephens and Bladon Springs. There were about 1,700 acres of land, two dwelling houses, a large country store and a post office. Only a small portion of the land was cultivated, the remainder was in virgin timber.

The Rogers brothers built a sawmill, grist mill, blacksmith shop, cotton gin, cooper shed for the making of barrels, a turpentine still, a new store and six new dwelling houses. Bigbee was a bustling community for many years.

Thomas W. Thompson worked for the Rogers brothers part time, and had other employment. He purchased fifty acres of land and built a house there before he married Estelle Blount in 1907. The house is located across the highway from the Three Forks Baptist Church in Bigbee.

A mail carrier left from Bigbee daily about 7 a.m. in a buggy, went to Millry and returned about 4 p.m. The route started from Frankville and returned there. About 10:30 a.m., mail came from Carson and returned the same day. Before automobiles were used, one mail carrier would ride a horse or mule to St. Stephens and another rider would relieve him at St. Stephens, bring the mail to Bigbee and on to Frankville. In the 1920s, automobiles replaced the horseback carriers.

In 1920, the Rogers brothers sold their estate to Thomas W. Thompson. He continued the turpentine and timber business until the Great Depression. He closed the store because many customers could not pay their bills, and sold his equipment for scrap iron. He continued to operate the post office until he retired. His son Jack Thompson is now the postmaster. There is no landmark left of the original estate but the Thompsons continue to own most of the land.

Estelle Blount was a daughter of Joseph de Forest Blount and Joyce T. Blount. They were the parents of ten children:

1. Hilton Blount, tax assessor in Chatom for many years.
2. Dr. James Blount of Millry.
3. Joe D. Blount, who did public work.
4. Wilson Blount, a school teacher.
5. Pugh Blount, a farmer.
6. Sam Blount, a salesman.
7. Mardis Blount, a farmer.
8. Estelle Blount, m. Thomas W. Thompson.
9. Grace Blount, never married, lived with her parents.
10. Elizabeth Blount, a school teacher.

Thomas W. Thompson and Estelle Blount had seven children:

1. Myrtle Thompson, a social worker and teacher, married Waite, lives in the Midway community.
2. Hester Thompson, a housewife, deceased.
3. Glenn Thompson, who did public work, deceased.
4. Daphne Thompson, a teacher, deceased.
5. Jimmie Thompson, a plant worker, lives in Bigbee.
6. Lucile Thompson, a stenographer, lives in Georgia.
7. Jack Thompson, postmaster at Bigbee.

The Wheat Family

The first Wheats to come to the area which is now Washington County were Solomon Wheat, Hezekiah Wheat, John Wheat and Thomas Wheat.

Solomon Wheat was, according to one historian, located north of McIntosh Bluff, along with several other families, in 1792.

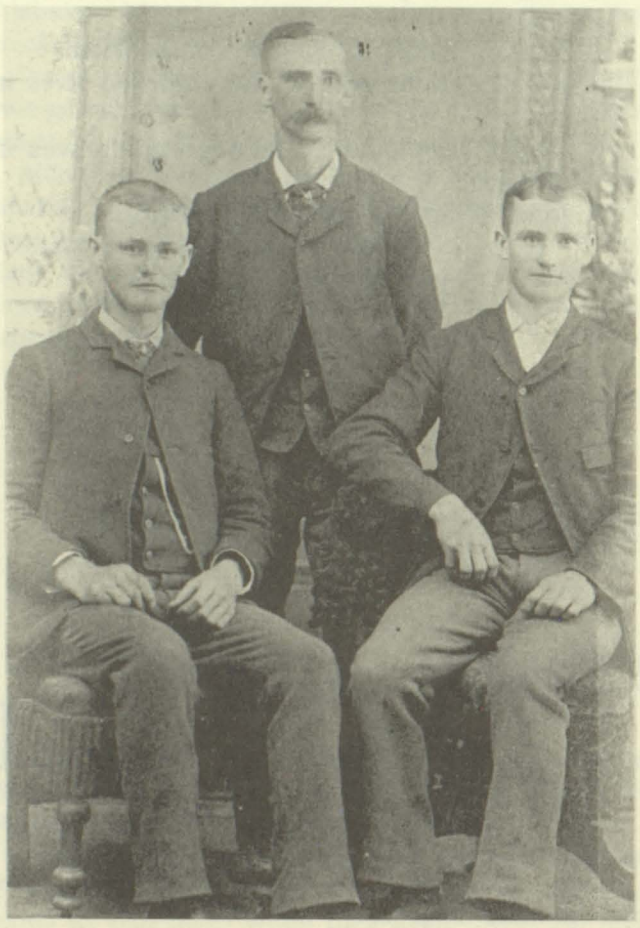

He became a large landowner, according to records at the County Court House in Chatom.

There are many Wheat descendants in Washington County and throughout the United States.

William White and Dennis Cogan Descendants

In the early part of the 19th century, William White, a Scottish nobleman, and his friend Dennis Cogan from Ireland, immigrated to America. After arriving in Baltimore, White fell ill. Cogan visited him until one day he was told that White had died, so Cogan moved on. White, however, recovered and went to Harper's Ferry, Virginia, where he married a Scottish girl. His wife died leaving four sons. White later married and had two daughters. At some point in time, he settled in Harrison, Ohio, and operated a gunshop.

William Edward White, Sr. (1926).

William White's son Alexander (Alex) White located in Battle Ground, Indiana, where he had a harness and saddle shop. In an effort to learn more about saddles, Alex White went to Alabama, having seen an extraordinary saddle from that state. At Wetumpka, Alabama, he learned of a miller named Cogan. He recalled his father's last words to him: "Find Dennis." He drove to the miller's location and was immediately recognized by Dennis Cogan as White's son. Subsequently, Alex married Cogan's eldest daughter, who was a teacher and a widow with one child.

Alexander White and Mary Ann Cogan Carpenter White (1841–1913), had children:

1. Mary White. She never married, and lived in Washington County in the early 1900s.

The Edward Williams Family

Edward Williams was born 9 January 1842 and died 24 December 1916. His wife Maranda Rainwater was born 28 January 1851 and died 5 November 1830.

They had a daughter, Henrietta (Retta) Williams, who was born 18 December 1873 and died 7 February 1939. Their granddaughter, Golda B. Jordan, lives in Vinegar Bend.

Henry Harris Wilson

Henry Harris Wilson was born 15 November 1890, and died on 25 February 1975. He was a son of Levin Jefferson Wilson and Martha Ware Wilson.

On 20 June 1914, he married Antoinette Rawls, daughter of James Benjamin Rawls and Ruth Ray Rawls. She was born on 13 September 1892, and died on 23 April 1977.

Henry Harris Wilson and Antoinette Rawls had three children:

1. Ruth Ray Wilson, married Bedsole.
2. Levin Jefferson Wilson.
3. Harriett Wilson, married Long.

The Wilsons were lifelong residents of St. Stephens. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were active in church and community affairs. They are buried in the Wilson Family Cemetery at St. Stephens.

The John E. Wright Family

John Ervin Wright was born 17 September 1823 in South Carolina, a son of William Wright. He was the oldest of five children.

On 15 November 1857 at Luverne, Pike (now Crenshaw) County, Alabama, he married Louise Catherine (Crissie) Odom, a daughter of Benjamin C. Odom.

John Wright served in the 1st Battalion, Hillard's Legion, Confederate States Army, and was wounded 20 September 1863 at Chickamauga.

John and Crissie Wright first lived in Pike County, where he and his father were farmers. Their first child was born in Pike County. The birthplace of their second child is unknown. Their third through fifth children were born in Baldwin County, where John Wright was a woodchopper. The last two children were born in Washington County, where John Wright was a farmer. The family moved to the Leroy vicinity of Washington County about 1874.

In 1895 John Wright filed a homestead application from the Post Office at Bigbee. In 1901, he was granted 119.65 acres of land in Section 33, Township Eight, North of Range Two West, which is near Bigbee. According to testimony attached to the homestead application (No. 30414, Homestead Certificate No. 18470), he and his family occupied the land about 1 November 1895.

John E. Wright and Louis Catherine (Crissie) Odom had the following issue:

1. John W. Wright, born ca. 1862, married first, Mary Carpenter, second, Pearl Allday, third, Zeldie Hutto.
2. George B. Wright, born ca. 1864, married Kalamazoo (Callie) Rivers.
3. Marion Wiley Wright, born 6 September 1867, married Anna Colula Rivers.
4. Frances (Fannie) Wright, born ca. 1871, married Lonnie Walker.
5. Katherine Abigail (Gilley) Wright, born 12 March 1874, married John Napper.
6. James H. Wright, born ca. 1874, married first, Minnie Newell, second, Dora Williams.
7. Elige E. Wright, born 28 July 1877, married first, Virgie Napper, second, Fannie Mosely.

John E. Wright died 10 March 1902, and Crissie Wright died 20 May 1913. Both are buried in the New Hope United Methodist Church Cemetery, Frankville.

Descendants live in Washington, Baldwin and Mobile counties.

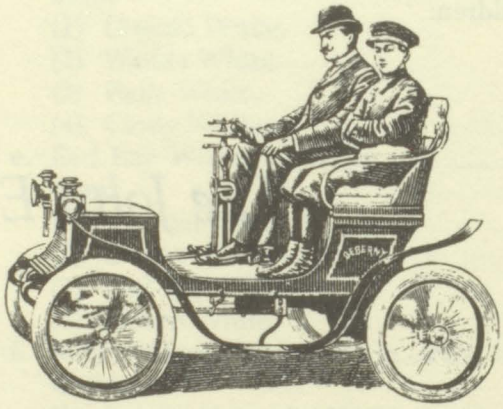

Pearl M. White Clague Yost

A pioneer educator of Washington County schools, Pearl M. White Clague Yost was born in Logansport, Indiana, on 21 March 1893, and died on 4 March 1981. She was educated in the Winamac, Indiana, schools. She came to Alabama with her father, W.E. White, and his family in 1909. She took the teacher examination in Montgomery and received certification. The one-room Little Spring Hill School was her first assignment. She continued to teach in the Fruitdale area and was the principal of the Fruitdale school for one or two years. She attended Manchester College in 1914–16. For one year, she taught in a rural school in Mississippi, traveling in a horse-drawn buggy and staying all week. She also taught at Vinegar Bend.

Pearl M. White married Allen Clague of Fruitdale. Their children are:

1. Dr. Donald Clague of Laverne, California.
2. Dr. Allen M. Clague of Roanoke, Virginia.
3. Nancy Clague, m. Earl Crawford, of Richmond, Virginia.

Mrs. Clague and her family moved to Mobile, where she resumed teaching. She retired after teaching fifty years.

After the death of her husband, she travelled. She married Dale Yost and made her home in Dayton, Indiana. The last part of her life was spent in Roanoke, Virginia.

She was a member of the Fruitdale Church of the Brethren. Her family still owns the original home, which is used as a parsonage by the church.

Jesse George W. Young and Sarah G. Cabaniss Young

Jesse George W. Young was born 13 March 1850, at Nanafalia, Marengo County. He was the sixth of seven children born to Jesse Young (b. 1819) and Absaly Young (b. 1819), both natives of Georgia. George's sisters Sarah Ann Young (b. 1841) and Louisa Young (b. 1842) were also natives of Georgia, while his sister Elizabeth Young (b. 1845) and brothers John J. Young (b. 1846), William M. Young (b. 1848) and Steven Columbus Young (b. 10 January 1853, d. 16 February 1917) were born after the family moved to Nanafalia about 1843.

Sarah G. (Sallie) Cabiness was born 20 April 1852 at Nanafalia. She was the sixth of seven children born to John Cabiness (b. 25 January 1810, m. 8 July 1841, died 15 September 1862) and Mary Eliza Ann Williams Cabiness (b. 1 February 1824, d. 28 June 1856), both natives of South Carolina. Sallie's sister Frances Jane (Fannie) Cabiness (b. 18 March 1842, died 18 September 1924) was also a South Carolina native, while her brothers John Bunyon Cabiness (b. 1848) and Joseph Warren Cabiness (b. ca. 1854) were born after the family moved to Nanafalia about 1844. Three other sisters, Mary Eliza Cabiness (b. 26 September 1846), Martha Ann Elizabeth Cabiness (b. 21 July 1848) and Mary Pritchette Cabiness (b. 14 November 1850) all died in infancy.

When Sallie Cabiness was four years old, her mother slipped off a log while picking berries and drowned in a pond. Six years later, her father, who was a blacksmith, was drafted into the Confederate Army as first sergeant of Company E, 43rd Alabama Infantry Regiment. Five months later he was killed and buried at Lookout Mountain, Tennessee. His eldest daughter Fannie, who was 20 years old at the time, was burdened with the responsibility of raising Sallie and her two brothers.

In the ensuing years, Fannie met and fell in love with John Calloway (Bones) Jones, while Sallie developed a fancy for George Young. Both couples were married in a double ceremony on 21 April 1870, at the Cabiness residence.

George Young and Sallie Cabiness had 11 children:

1. Effie Leona Young, b. 28 February 1873, d. 8 August 1899, m. 13 November 1892, George H. Knapp.
2. Almon George Young, b. 17 March 1875, died 12 December 1906. Married first, Annie Evans; second, Ruthie Gartman, 10 October 1906.
3. Fannie Creola Young, b. 2 August 1877, d. 20 October 1954. Married first, 11 June 1896, Robert B. Anderson; married second, 24 March 1898, Steadman Knapp.
4. Earl Randolph Young, b. 5 March 1879, d. 27 June 1966. Married first, Mandy Moseley, 8 November 1900; second, Ella Sullivan.

8. Walter Sterling Young, b. 2 February 1887, d. 25 January 1963. Married, 29 December 1915, Lillian Evans.
9. Lola Amelia Young, b. 5 June 1889, d. 30 July 1975. Married 15 October 1906, Charley Knapp.
10. Matthew Goodman Pritchett (Pritchett Goodman) Young, b. 24 December 1891. Married first, 13 April 1913, Ida Inez Stokes, second, 10 June 1927, Dawsie Mae White.
11. Olive Zenobia Young, b. 20 February 1895, d. 27 December 1983. Married first, 22 December 1912, Irving Gartman, second, 1934, James Robinson.

The Young family attended church at the Nanafalia Baptist Church. George Young was excluded from the church on 19 September 1868 for "habitual sin," which was defined as "long absence from church." After repenting his sins, his membership in the church was restored in 1875.

In 1885, George Young and his family moved to Red Bud (now Malcolm) in Washington County, along with his brother William and his family. The four youngest children of George and Sallie Young were born at Malcolm. The family attended the Red Bud Baptist Church.

In July 1895, George Young moved the family to Fairford in Washington County, where he built a house on 80 acres of homestead land. He provided for his family by chopping wood for the Seaboard Lumber Company and the Fairford Lumber Company. The wood was used to power the railroad steam engines owned by the two companies.

After a cyclone (tornado) destroyed their house on 19 March 1899, George Young rebuilt it at the same location, using stronger, hand-picked lumber. The house is one of the oldest buildings in Fairford. He also built an adjacent storm pit which the family used on numerous occasions thereafter.

When the eldest daughter, Effie, died from typhoid fever in 1899, her three children—Thelma, Jemison and Emmett Knapp—came to live with George and Sallie Young.

Sallie Young and some of the children regularly walked to Malcolm to attend church because there was no white Baptist church in Fairford. She taught all the children verses from the Bible and often required each of them to read a verse, then pass the Bible to the next child, until they had read a complete chapter, usually the 14th chapter of John.

In the early 1900s, George and Sallie Young, along with four other couples in Fairford, began to host "circuit-riding" church services in their home. Their eldest son, Berkley, persuaded the Rev. William E. Bradley to travel by horse and buggy from his home in Oak Grove, in northwest Mobile County, to conduct monthly services.

During that time, their grandson, the Rev. Emmett L. Knapp, one of the most popular Baptist ministers in the county, learned much about preaching from the Rev. Mr. Bradley. At his birth, Emmett's mother had proclaimed, "This is my little preacher man!"

Sallie Young's family, the Cabinesses, included a number of talented musicians and ministers. This heritage has been passed on to many of her more than 200 descendants, who preach, sing, play and compose music, especially gospel music.

Sallie Young died on 12 July 1922 and George Young died on 29 December 1925. Both are buried in the Liberty Cemetery at Fairford, near the Liberty Baptist Church, which they helped to found.

Pritchett Goodman Young

Pritchett Goodman Young was born on 24 December 1891, at Malcolm. He was the tenth of eleven children born to Jesse George W. Young (b. 13 March 1850, m. 21 April 1870, d. 29 December 1925) and Sarah G. (Sallie) Cabaniss Young (b. 20 April 1852, d. 12 July 1922) of Nanafalia, Marengo County. He was named initially, Matthew Goodman Pritchett Young, after Dr. Matthew Goodman Pritchett, a physician from Nanafalia, who delivered many babies in Marengo and Washington Counties, including several of the Young and Cabaniss children. When he learned to write, however, he decided his name was too long, and shortened it to Pritchett Goodman Young.

When Pritchett Young was four years old, the family moved to Fairford, where his father built a small house on his 80-acre homestead. Four years later, on 18 March 1899, the house was destroyed by a cyclone which struck during the night. Several members of the family were injured, including Pritchett, who was hurled into the brush by the winds, and suffered a broken leg and lacerations.

In the early 1900s, Pritchett Young was an active participant in the "circuit-riding" church services which his parents and four other families held in their homes. He learned to sing and play the guitar, and learned scores of gospel songs, including the newly composed "Hallelujah Side." When he was seventeen, he was baptised in the Bates Creek "fishing grounds" by the Rev. William E. Bradley. He was a charter member of the Liberty Baptist Church in 1910.

The young Pritchett Young courted Ida Stokes of Figdale by tantalizing her with such tunes as "Will You Love Me When I Am Old?" They were married on 13 April 1913.

Ida Inez Stokes was born 16 October 1895, the eldest daughter of Joseph Henry Stokes (b. 1 May 1852, m. 29 April 1893, d. 3 March 1910) and Mary Alice Hoggue Stokes (b. 25 December 1854, d. 9 May 1925). Joseph Henry Stokes was a son of Jesse Stokes (b. 1814) and Margaret Epsey McLeod Stokes (b. 1820, d. 6 September 1880) of Greene County, Mississippi. Mary Alice Hoggue Stokes was a daughter of Cullen C. Hoggue (b. 1810 in North Carolina, m. 11 February 1842) and Catherine Rabia Hoggue (b. 1823 in Alabama) of Providence, Marengo County.

Pritchett Young and Ida Inez Stokes had two daughters:

1. Ida Mae Young, b. 21 January 1914, m. William Cater Stallworth, 13 May 1932.
2. Coralie Alice Young, b. 26 September 1916, m. first, Robert Lee Estle, 29 September 1937; m. second, Willie Gary Pruitt, 15 December 1951.

Pritchett Young provided for his family by assemblying wood barrels at the cooperage in Fairford.

From 1917 to 1920, Pritchett and his family lived in Chickasaw and North Mobile, while he was employed by the Chickasaw Shipbuilding Company and the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company as a rail yard switch car operator. During that time, he helped install the rail line connecting Chickasaw and North Mobile.

In 1920, Pritchett and his family returned to Fairford where he was employed by the Fairford Lumber Company to install and repair rail spurs and trestles leading from the main rail line to timber collection areas owned by the company. In 1923, he was transferred to Service, Alabama, where he performed similar functions for the railroad companies. Shortly thereafter, Pritchett and Ida terminated their marriage and Ida returned to Calvert, where she lived with her mother.

Joseph and Mary Alice Hoggue Stokes.

On 10 June 1927, Pritchett married Dawsie Mae White of Coffeville, Clarke County. Dawsie Mae White was born on 22 April 1907, the third of nine children of Walter Lee White (b. 17 March 1873, d. 9 September 1966) and Alice Evelyn (Sallie) Etheredge White (b. 1 April 1887, d. 19 December 1976).

Pritchett Young and Dawsie Mae White had five children:

1. Margie Lee Young, b. 10 April 1928, m. William Henry Steele, 6 July 1946.
2. Walter Pritchett Young, b. 5 July 1936, m. Judith Ellen Kosky, 15 September 1960.
3. Donald Lavelle Young, b. 11 August 1941.
4. Mary Joyce Young, b. 26 March 1944, m. Richard Wayne Andrews, 28 September 1963.
5. Jewel Evelyn Young, b. 23 February 1947, m. L.J. Andrews, Jr., 16 August 1963.

During the 1930s and '40s, the family lived at several locations near Coffeeville, where Pritchett was employed as a timberman by the Scotch Lumber Company. In 1942, he purchased thirty acres of land near Coffeeville, where he and Dawsie farmed to provide food for the family. During the 1940s, often for extended periods of time, Pritchett Young commuted from Coffeeville to Mobile, where he worked for the Alabama Drydock and Shipbuilding Company.

In 1949, Pritchett moved the family to Mt. Vernon, Mobile County, where he and Dawsie were employed for more than 20 years by the Alabama Mental Health System at Searcy Hospital. Dawsie died on 26 April 1973 and was buried in Liberty Cemetery at Fairford.

Today, at more than 95 years of age, Pritchett lives with his son Donald at Mt. Vernon. He visits friends and family and occasionally attends special functions such as gospel music concerts and homecoming events at Liberty Baptist Church. His first wife, Ida, who is more than 90 years old, lives with her daughter Coralie at Calvert.

Walter Sterling Young and Lillian Amentha Evans Young

Walter Sterling Young was born on 2 February 1887 at Malcolm in Washington County. He was the eighth of eleven children born to Jesse George W. Young (1850–1925) and Sarah G. (Sallie) Cabiness Young (1852–1922), both natives of Nanafalia, Marengo County (see above).

When Walter was eight years old, his parents moved to Fairford. Walter grew up in Fairford and lived there all his life. When he was a youngster, he attended the Malcolm Baptist Church and later, in the early 1900s, he attended monthly services which were held in several Fairford homes. He became a charter member of the Liberty Baptist Church in Fairford when it was organized in 1910.

Walter Young helped his father provide for the family by chopping and hauling firewood which they sold to the Fairford Lumber Company. The firewood was used as fuel for railroad steam engines and as a source of heat for the turpentine distillery and lumber-drying kilns owned by the company. During those years Walter developed a deep appreciation for the woodlands, and throughout his life he valued this natural resource as one of God's great gifts to mankind.

In 1915, Walter Young married Lillian Amentha Evans. She was born on 19 May 1900 at Fairford, the youngest of seven children of George Washington Evans, Sr. (b. 23 April 1857, m. 4 August 1877, d. 20 January 1941) and Elizabeth Caroline Knapp Evans (b. 20 September 1856, d. 20 November 1939). She became a member of Liberty Baptist Church on 21 September 1915. She and Walter were two of Liberty's most faithful members and both served in church offices. Lillian Young's service for many years as a Sunday School teacher was an inspiration to scores of young people.

Walter and Lillian Young had ten children:

1. Eunice Dell Young, b. 2 June 1916, m. John Nelson Sellers, 26 October 1946.
2. Walter Franklin Young, b. 28 June 1918, m. Lillie Mae Crawford.
3. Annie Laura Young, b. 4 October 1920, m. Johnnie Fletcher Tharp, 14 June 1941.
4. Moody Eugene Young, b. 16 August 1923, d. 15 August 1966, m. Nannie Edna Noland, 20 June 1942.
5. Juanita Young, b. 29 Mrch 1926, m. Curtis Melvin Loper, 16 December 1950.
6. John Calloway Young, b. 13 July 1928, m. Mae O'Neal, 6 November 1953.
7. Grady Cleveland Young, b. 17 September 1930, d. 20 April 1976, m. Sylvia Gay Baxter, 8 October 1960.
8. Barbara Ann Young, b. 13 June 1932, m. the Rev. Lawrence Wayne Haselmaier, Jr., 20 November 1952.
9. Lillian Lorine Young, b. 17 October 1934, m. Robert Elmer Slater, 2 June 1957.
10. Anna Maude Young, b. 18 September 1936, m. Joe Leroy Bedwell, 22 July 1951.

Walter Sterling Young (1887–1963).

Prior to 1933, Walter Young provided for his family by managing the production of turpentine at the distillery in Fairford, and working as a woods rider for the Fairford Cotton and Lumber Company. From 1933 to 1941, he was the supervisor of field crews in Alabama and Florida for the Civilian Conservation Corps. He retired in 1959 after serving seventeen years as a forest patrolman in Washington County for the State Forestry Commission. He cherished this position because of his deep concern for forest conservation, and through it made a significant contribution to Washington County.

Walter Young died on 25 January 1963, and Lillian Young died on 8 September 1985. Both are buried in the Liberty Cemetery at Fairford, near the home and church which they loved.

PART II

The Denominational Histories

The Assemblies of God

The Assemblies of God denomination was formed on April 2, 1914 in Hot Springs, Arkansas. Over 300 delegates from twenty states and a number of foreign lands attended this initial meeting. The date from which the Alabama District of the Assemblies of God began to record its history is Dec. 1, 1915. A special conference was convened at Hartford, Alabama to establish local and regional organization for the newly formed cooperative fellowship. The Southeastern District was formed consisting of forty-four churches arranged in eleven groups.

The Rev. Henry E. McCoy from Shubuta, Ms. came to Washington County, Alabama in the fall of 1929. Services were conducted at Yarbo in the old school building. Pentecostal ministers had been preaching in the county before this time, but the Rev. Mr. McCoy was the first known Assemblies of God minister. Yarbo had no officially established Assembly of God until October of 1943.

The Rev. Mr. McCoy also preached at Hobson in the fall of 1929. The Hobson Assembly of God was set in order September 4, 1930, making it the oldest organized Assembly of God in Washington County. Copeland Assembly of God was the next church organized.

The territory in Alabama west of the Alabama River and south of the Tombigbee River was a part of the Mississippi District. During the 1934 District annual session a resolution was adopted that the Alabama District should consist of the entire State of Alabama. This became official at the 1935 General Presbyter sessions during the General Council.

The Rev. Vander Dees of Deer Park, was an early minister who preached at Needham in Choctaw County, Alabama, around 1919 and in the Fruitdale area in the early 1930's. Two other early pioneer ministers of this Pentecostal movement in Washington County were Leroy Beech and Hubert Loper. The Rev. Mr. Beech began preaching in September of 1930 and received papers with the Mississippi District in 1932. He was ordained at Prichard, Alabama on August 1, 1935. He ministered for 55 years until his death. The Rev. Mr. Loper became a Christian on June 5, 1932 as a result of a brush arbor meeting in Yarbo which was conducted by the Rev. Alpheus Broadhead of Needham. The Rev. Mr. Loper received his papers in 1933 and was ordained in the same service in Prichard. The Rev. Mr. Broadhead was the founder and first pastor of Yarbo Assembly of God.

Washington County has the following Assemblies of God churches: Hobson, Copeland, Midway, Millry, Flat Branch, Double Branch, Clearwater, Harwthorn and Hill Springs. With two million members and adherents in the United States and nearly fifteen million worldwide, the Assemblies of God has become the largest Pentecostal church. From old school buildings, brush arbors, abandoned churches and private homes, the Washington County Assemblies of God members now worship in some of the most impressive sanctuaries in the county.

The local church in the Assemblies of God is autonomous. Each church has the right to call its pastor, elect its officers, administer discipline to the members according to the Scriptures and its bylaws, acquire and hold title to property, and transact other business relating to its life as a local unit. Local churches are set in order by, and cooperate with, their respective district councils.

Doctrinal beliefs of the Assemblies of God are as follows: They believe . . . . .The Bible is the inspired and only infallible and authoritative written word of God.

. . . . .There is one God, eternally existent in three persons: God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost.

. . . . .In the deity of our Lord Jesus Christ, in His virgin birth, in His sinless life, in His miracles, in His victorious and atoning death, in His bodily resurrection, in His ascension to the right hand of the Father, in His personal future return to this earth in power and glory to rule a thousand years.

. . . . .In the blessed hope—the rapture of the Church of Christ's coming

. . . . .The only means of being cleansed from sin is through repentance and faith in the precious blood of Christ.

. . . . .Regeneration by the Holy Spirit is absolutely essential for personal salvation.

. . . . .The redemptive work of Christ on the cross provides healing of the human body in answer to believing prayer.

. . . . .The baptism in the Holy Spirit, according to Acts 2:4, is given to believers who ask for it.

. . . . .In the sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit by whose indwelling the Christian is enabled to live a holy life.

. . . . .In the resurrection of both the saved and the lost, the one to everlasting life and the other to everlasting damnation.

The Baptists

After the Mississippi Territory was organized in June of 1800, many people immigrated into the eastern part of the territory (now part of Alabama), bringing with them various religious beliefs.

The first Baptists in what is now Alabama were found in Madison County, north of the Tennessee River. Madison County and the St. Stephens area on the Tombigbee were the earliest parts of the territory to be settled. The Madison County area was in the Flint River Association which was organized at Bradshaw's Meeting House in Lincoln County, Tennessee, on September 26, 1814. Elder John Nicholson, John Canterbury and Zadock Baker were among the first Baptist ministers who served in that wilderness area. Elder Nicholson became pastor of the first Baptist church constituted in Madison County.

Some Baptists lived in the southern part of present-day Alabama, near the Tombigbee River, in Clarke and Washington counties, about 1808. William Cochran, a licensed preacher from Georgia, is thought to have been the first Baptist preacher in Clarke County. A Mr. Gorham was the first one for Washington County. He became ill early in his ministry and died. The Rev. James Courtney followed him and preached in both counties. The first Baptist church in Southern Alabama was Bassett's Creek Church, which was also the second one in the Mississippi Territory. It was organized by the Rev. Mr. Courtney on March 31, 1810, near the present site of Choctaw Corner in Clarke County.

There were few Baptists in the Tombigbee area until after Jackson's purchase of the Indian lands. During 1815–16, immigrants began to pour into the Indian country. After 1820, people came from all over the Union and churches were formed throughout the state.

For many years, houses of worship were few and those resembled Indian wigwams. When the weather allowed, the minister would deliver his message outside under a shade tree with the congregation sitting on the ground around him. Beginning around 1828, better churches began to be constructed.

It was not unusual for one minister to supply three or four churches. The preachers frequently traveled by horseback and would hold services for any interested persons.

The Beckbee Association (later to be known as the Bethelhem Association) was constituted in Southern Alabama in 1816. This was the first association formed on Alabama soil, and was under the leadership of Alexander Travis. The Beckbee Association extended from the Mississippi border to the eastern boundary of Conecuh County and from the southern boundary of Lowndes County to the Gulf.

Baptist churches were being constituted throughout Alabama and the denomination was making rapid progress east of the Alabama River in the southern portion of the state.

In the early 1820s there was much discord between Baptists who held pro-missionary views and those who were against missionary activity. This resulted in a separation of the groups.

In 1823, the idea of organizing a state convention began to be discussed. The Rev. J.H. Ranaldson, of Louisiana, apparently was the initial promoter of the idea and requested that all who were interested in organizing the convention meet at Salem Church near Greensboro in October of 1823. About 20 delegates attended.

The spirit of the first Baptist State Convention of Alabama proved to be essentially missionary. The Rev. Charles Crow was elected president and the Rev. Mr. Ranaldson secretary. A constitution in favor of foreign and domestic missions was adopted. There was also a commitment to help educate young men as preachers.

The State Convention was divided into three districts: northern, middle and southern. Each had missionaries appointed, with the result being an increase in the number of churches throughout the state. Many associations began to be formed.

Antioch Baptist Association

The Antioch Baptist Association was organized on November 2, 1883, with the Isney Baptist Church in Choctaw County, Alabama. T.J. Mason was elected the Moderator, S.M. Tucker, Secretary and Robert Swann, Treasurer.

Brethren T.E. Tucker, Robert Swann and T.S. Johnson, the committee on credentials, reported to the Assembly that thirteen churches and their messengers desired to enter into the organization of a new association. They were: Isney—N.N. Mason, Thomas Bonner, Robert Swann and G.W. Ziterow; Black Creek—T.E. Tucker and T.W. Hall; Union—J.E. Scott and T.S. Johnson; Spring Hill—J.C. James and S.W. Doggett; Corinth—J.W. Collins and T.M. Melton; Escatawpa—T.J. Mason and M. Owens; Spring Bank—T.B. Shoemaker; S.M. Tucker and W.T. Underwood; Center Ridge—D.J. Gibson; Womack Hill—W.R. Gibson and H.C. Mason; Palestine—John Hill and J. Carney; Washington—O. Lynes, David Henson, and D. Hyatt; Red Bud—represented by letter; and St. Stephens—Nathan Bryan, Joseph Gresham, Sr. and Joseph Gresham, Jr.

A Constitution, Articles of Faith and Rules of Decorum were adopted. On a motion by Elder T.E. Tucker, the body entered into a permanent organization. Committees were appointed on Sabbath Schools, State Missions, Home Missions, Foreign Missions, Education, Indigent and Infirm Ministers, Bible and Colportage Work, Finance, Digest of Letters, Preaching, Temperance and Correspondence. The correspondence was to be with the Liberty, Macedonia, South Eastern, Chickasawhay, Bigbee and Bethel Associations.

The second session was to be held at St. Stephens Baptist in Washington County on the Wednesday before the first Sabbath in November, 1884.

Ordained ministers of the associational area were T.E. Tucker and H.C. Mason, both of Silas, W.R. Gibson of Womack Hill, W.T. Powe of Isney and O. Lynes of McIntosh Bluff.

The churches of Choctaw and Washington Counties made up the body of the Association. Churches and pastors for the new Association were, in Choctaw County: Isney—S.O.Y. Ray; Spring Bank—G.W. Knight; Black Creek—T.E. Tucker; Spring Hill—H.C. Mason; Womack Hill—W.R. Gibson; Palestine—H.C. Mason; Corinth—F.A. Freeman; Center Ridge—W.R. Gibson. Churches and pastors in Washington County were: Union—George M. Parker; Washington—O. Lynes; Red Bud—no pastor; St. Stephens—George M. Parker; and Escatawpa—S.O.Y. Ray.

Churches of Washington County and the dates of their membership in the Antioch Baptist Association were: Bethany, Wagar—1906–1909; Bethel, Healing Springs—1885–1902; Chapel Hill No. 2—1903–1910; Chalk Hill, Koenton—1885–1909; Escatawpa—1883–1887; Union (Frankville)—1883–1909; Friendship—1907–1910; Healing Springs—1898–1909; Leroy—1905–1909; New Hope No. 2—1894–1895; Red Bud, Nannaliubba—1883–1888; Rocky Ridge, Loper—1892–1909; St. Stephens—1883–1909; Shady Grove—1888–1909; Spring Bank No. 2—1888–1909; Tauler Creek, Bigbee—1908–1909; Washington, McIntosh Bluff—1883–1886; and Yellow Pine—1893–1894.

Macedonia Baptist Association

The Macedonia Baptist Association was organized in 1880. The minutes of the first five sessions of the Association are missing. The minutes for the years 1885 to 1917 are on microfilm at the Samford University Library, Special Collections Department, in Birmingham.

The sixth annual session (the first for which minutes are available) was held with the Antioch Baptist Church, Washington County, Alabama, on the Saturday before the first Sunday of October, 1885.

An introductory sermon was preached by Elder J.L. Touchstone.

Brethren J.H. Tate and F.L. Moss were appointed reading clerks, and the letters from the churches were read and their delegates enrolled. The churches and their delegates were: Antioch—H.H. Stephens, A.T. Robinson and Isham Sullivan; Macedonia—J.C. Williams, Sr., P.J. Strickland, W. Williams and J.C. Williams, Jr.; Oak Grove—G.R. Byrd, R. Yawn, J.S. Bridges and B.E. Baxter; Red Bank—J.K. Preston, S.C. Givens and J.D. Givens; Shady Grove—represented by letter; and Spring Bank—F.L. Moss.

Officers were appointed: J.C. Williams, Sr., as the Moderator and H.H. Stephens as the Clerk and Treasurer.

There were no ordained ministers, but two men were Licentiates: W.L. Parker of Antioch Church and F.L. Moss of Spring Bank.

The churches and pastors in the Macedonia Baptist Association in 1885 were: Antioch—J.E. Stienwinder; Macedonia—J.L. Touchstone; Red Bank—J.M. Warrick; Oak Grove—J.L. Causey; Shady Grove—Thomas Shinn; and Spring Bank—J.M. Warrick. All the churches were in Washington County.

The next annual session was scheduled to meet with the Oak Grove Church on Saturday before the first Sunday in October, 1886.

The minutes of the Tenth Annual Session of the Association, held with the Center Ridge Church, Wayne County, Mississippi, on October 5 and 6, 1889, indicate that the elected officers were: Elder David Henson, Moderator; Elder J.S. Bridges, Clerk and Treasurer.

On the second day of the Associational Meeting, Sunday afternoon, October 6, 1889, a presbytery was called to order by Elder H.N. Smith and Elder David Henson. By request of Red Bank Church, Brother F.L. Moss was ordained to the minister, and preaching by Elder Moss followed the ordination.

Churches which were members of the Macdeonia Baptist Association included Antioch Baptist, which came into the Association in 1885 and remained until 1917; Bassett's Creek, 1888–1898; Bethel, 1912–1914; Bethany, 1913–1917; Bilboa, 1895–1904; Cedar Creek, 1890–1894; Clearwater, 1902–1904; Escatawpa, 1912–1917; Fairhope, 1900–1917; Liberty, 1892–1917; Macedonia, 1880–1917; Mt. Nebo, 1895–1899; New Hope, 1890–1895; Oak Grove, 1880–1917; Pine Level, 1905–1911; Pleasant Hill, 1904–1909; Red Bank, 1880–1912; Seven Oaks, 1913–1917; Shady Grove, 1880–1888; Shiloh, 1911–1917; Spring Bank, 1883–1895; Tibbie, 1911–1917; and Washington, 1883–1917.

The Macedonia Baptist Association was dissolved in 1918 but has been reorganized as the Missionary Baptist Association.

Washington County Baptist Association

The Washington County Baptist Association was organized with nine churches as members, in 1909.

Preliminary to the organization of the Association, a meeting was held during the last session of the Antioch Association, held with Frankville Baptist Church in Frankville, Washington County. The Washington County Baptist Association Sub-Committee was appointed at that time, consisting of James N. Granade, Chairman, and A.R. Turner, J.B. Cater, T.E. Tucker, W.H. Elmore, J.D. Blount and J.H. Mackey. The Sub-Committee met at the call of the Chairman in the office of Granade & Granade at Chatom, Alabama, on Saturday, August 28, 1909.

The Sub-Committee agreed that the Washington County Baptist Association be organized, consisting of all Missionary Baptist Churches in Washington County and in adjacent counties. The organizational meeting was scheduled to be held at the Rocky Ridge Baptist Church at Loper, Washington County, beginning on Friday before the first Sunday in November, 1909, and continuing for three days. Until further order by the Association, the constitution and by-laws of the Antioch Baptist Association would be used by the Association. Members of the Associational Sub-Committee would recruit new member churches, to send delegates to the organizational meeting.

The organizational meeting opened as scheduled on November 5, 1909, and was called to order by the Rev. T.E. Tucker of Healing Springs. The first annual sermon was preached by the Rev. B.A. Sellers, pastor of the Vinegar Bend Baptist Church.

Dr. W.A. Thompson, A.R. Turner and R.P. Lee, appointed as a committee on credentials, reported that the following churches and delegates had qualified for membership; Leroy—W.H. McKee and C.E. McClinton; Vinegar Bend—Dr. W.A. Thompson, B.A. Sellers and A.R. Turner; Healing Springs—J.R.A. Loper, and the Rev. T.E. Tucker; Berney—R.P. Lee and J.M. Ferguson; St. Stephens—C.J. Coate, R.L. Gordy and M.C. Pelham; Rocky Ridge—H.H. Loper, George Coaker and Lee Strickland; Malcolm—J.B. Cater; and Frankville—W.H. Elmore, G.W. Granade and John Pugh.

James N. Granade, the Rev. B.A. Sellers and J.B. Cater were appointed as a committee to confer with the Macedonia Baptist Association in reference to their uniting with the Washington County Baptist Association.

A motion was adopted to employ a county missionary and $125.00 was subscribed for that purpose.

Churches and their pastors in the new association were: Berney—W.L. Brumbeloe; Frankville—William A. Parker, Sr.; Healing Springs—T.E. Tucker; Leroy—M.V. Vise; Malcolm—S.A. Adams; Rocky Ridge—J.H. Mackey; Spring Bank—W.L. Brumbeloe; St. Stephens—William A. Parker, Sr.; and Vinegar Bend—B.A. Sellers.

Churches and their dates of membership in the Washington County Baptist Association are: Antioch—1919–present; Berney—1909–1919; Bethany—1910–1933; Bethelhem—1921–1957; Center Ridge—

1921–1930; Chalk Hill—1910–1912; Chapel Hill—1911–present; Chatom—1910–present; Clearwater—paid $1.00 to the Association in 1946, but not named in the Associational minutes; Cortelyou—1910–1940; Escatawpa—1911–present; Faith—1971–1979; Fairhope—1921–present; Fourpoints—1936–present; Frankville—1909–present; Friendship—1910–present; Fruitdale—1928–present; Healing Springs—1909–1952; Howard Town—1969–present; Jones Hill—1915–1940; Koenton—1913–1927; Laton Hill—1930–present; Leroy—1909–present; Liberty—1926–present; McIntosh—1952–present; Mount Moriah—1978–present; Millry—1910–present; Malcolm—1909–present; New Haven—1939–1944; New Bethel—1934–1939; North Oak Grove—1913–present; Pine Level—1911–present; Pleasant Hill—1921–present; Reeds Chapel—1982–present; Rivers—1982–present; Rocky Ridge—1909–1925; Rutan—1949–present; South Oak Grove—1919–present; St. Stephens—1909–present; Shady Grove—1911–present; Shiloh—1911–present; Spring Bank—1909–present; Spring Hill—1927–present; Three Forks—1936–present; Tibbie—1919–present; Tauler Creek—1910–1940; Vinegar Bend—1909–1937; Wagar—1922–1923; Wagarville—1947–present; Washington—1919–present; Yarbo—1921–1935; and Yellow Pine—1949–present.

Missionaries for the Washington County Baptist Association have included: J.S. Gallman, 1948–1950; Stanly Durham, 1951–1953; Evon Ingram, 1951–1953; Walter L. Blain, 1954–1959; L.M. Dorr, 1960–1961; W.H. Ponder, 1962–1984; and M.O. McGill, 1985–present.

The Washington County Baptist Associational Minutes are on file in the Association office in Chatom.

The Church of the Brethren

The Church of the Brethren denomination was founded in 1708 in Schwarzenau, Germany, by Alexander Mack, who led seven others in the establishment of the church. Mack and his fellow Brethren held the New Testament as their only rule of faith and practice. They were also influenced by the Pietists, whose experiences during the Thirty Years War, 1618–1648, had led them to advocate peace on earth.

Mack came from the middle class, had been educated at Halle University, and had considerable wealth, which he gave to the needy, persecuted Pietists. The Pietist doctrine was outlawed by the Treaty of Westphalia, which had ended the Thirty Years War, and which recognized only Roman Catholicism, Lutheranism and Calvinism as legal religions, and gave the rulers of the more than 300 German states the authority to determine the religion of their subjects. Under the same law, the Brethren faced official censure.

Many of the Brethren left Germany for Amsterdam and Rotterdam, in the Dutch Netherlands, from whence they took passage to America. Some settled in Germantown, Pennsylvania, near the friendly Quakers of Philadelphia. On Christmas Day of 1723, the Brethren organized a church of 23 members in Germantown, had their first baptism and the first love feast in America.

The Brethren were very mission minded and from Pennsylvania gradually moved westward and southwestward.

The Brethren came to Washington County as a result of the colonization of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad lands. The United States Government, to encourage the development of the South, had granted the railroad company substantial tracts of land along the railroad right of way. In the 1890s the railroad offered the land for sale at low prices. Many land companies were organized to sell the lands and the colonization effort was promoted throughout the country. One of these companies was the Fruitdale Land Company, with which many Brethren were connected as agents and promoters, who recruited their fellow Brethren as colonists.

J.M. Stover, a member of the Brethren from Greencastle, Pennsylvania, was superintendent of the Fruitdale Land Company, which established a colony at Fruitdale, formerly known as Lumberton, in Washington County. Stover came to Alabama because of his interest in growing peaches. The company purchased 3,000 acres in the Fruitdale area and promoted a settlement for the Brethren. The pinelands of the area became an earthly paradise in the spring, when many acres of peach trees were in bloom. Trainloads of fruits and vegetables were shipped to Northern markets. Other developments included a tomato canning plant, a packing house, a general store, a sawmill, a creamery, a bank, a printing company and a newspaper, the Fruitdale Herald, of which James M. Neff was publisher and editor.

Neff, who was a graduate and former professor of Mt. Morris College in Illinois, came to Alabama for his health and in 1895 organized the Brethren School Company with himself as president. The firm was a stock company with thirty-four shareholders, mostly Brethren of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Its function was to provide schools for the Brethren at Fruitdale and at nearby Citronelle, in Mobile County.

Thirty-five lots in Fruitdale were allotted for the building of the Fruitdale Seminary, faculty houses and a church. The Seminary, of which Jacob J. Good was the first principal, was a preparatory school for Citronelle College, which was headed by P.H. Beery. The faculty of both institutions were recruited among the Brethren in the North.

The Fruitdale Church of the Brethren was organized on April 18, 1896. Three of the founders were ministers and one a deacon. By the end of the year there were about 40 Brethren in Fruitdale. Services were held in an old school until the seminary was completed, after which the seminary chapel was used. A church was constructed in 1904. Missions were established at nearby towns in Alabama and Mississippi.

The Brethren community began to disintegrate around the turn of the century, when the great peach orchards were attacked by the San Jose scale, for which there was no known treatment, and the orchards were rendered unproductive. Many of the settlers were ruined financially, sold their farms at heavy sacrifice and left the community. The School Company, also burdened by a mortgage on its non-productive property, had to abandon its schools. The school properties were eventually taken over by the public school system. The Fruitdale Seminary subsequently was torn down and the Citronelle College burned. Some of the teachers, however, remained to work in the public school system.

The Brethren faith remains vibrant in the congregations at Fruitdale and Citronelle, which are still active.

The Methodists

The first Methodist Society was organized by John Wesley in Bristol, England, in 1739. Wesley came to America as a missionary to the Indians, but his stay was brief. Other Methodist ministers followed and the first Methodist Societies in America were organized in New York and Maryland about 1766 by Philip Embury and Robert Strawbridge.

Thomas Coke, the first General Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America, arrived in New York from England in 1784. After his arrival, Coke ordained Francis Asbury, and the two men, as bishops, took charge of the American work.

The settled part of America was divided into sections called "circuits." Preachers, riding on horseback between various meeting places, were called "circuit riders." Their ministries grew rapidly.

In 1844, there was a division in the Church over the issue of abolition of slavery. A resolution was adopted requesting Bishop Andrews, who had become connected to the pro-slavery faction through his marriage, to no longer act as bishop. A plan of friendly separation was adopted whereby the conference in the slave-holding section became the Methodist Episcopal Church South and the other, the Methodist Episcopal Church. The doctrines of both branches have remained nearly the same.

In the summer of 1799, the Rev. Tobias Gibson, a Methodist missionary from South Carolina, visited the Natchez settlements and organized religious societies in and around Washington, Miss. In 1803, Lorenzo Dow, who had been converted at Hope Hull in 1792 and accepted into the conference in 1798, travelled from Georgia across the Creek Nation into the "Bigbee Settlement." He went to Fort St. Stephens, on the Tombigbee River, remained there a few hours, crossed the river on a ferry-boat and continued his journey.

In 1804, Dow returned to the Tombigbee area and preached in the settlement until leaving for Washington, D.C., in 1834. There he died and is buried in Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown.

The first regular missionary was sent in 1808, after Bishop Asbury had asked for volunteers for the Tombigbee country. Matthew P. Sturdivant from the Virginia conference volunteered and was sent.

John W. Kennon and John S. Ford were early Tombigbee Circuit pastors. Other ministers, through the year 1814, were John French, Lewis Hobbs, Thomas Griffin, Richmond Nolly, Drewry Powell and John Shrock.

The only circuit in South Carolina, during the early period, was the Tombigbee, Mississippi District, of the Mississippi Conference. At the close of 1818, the Alabama District of the Mississippi Conference was formed with three circuits, one of which was the Tombigbee.

Records indicate that the first Methodist house of worship was built at the Tombigbee Mission sometime before 1812. The congregation was organized in the home of John McRae in 1809.

The Methodists of Washington County, Alabama, have been associated with the following conferences: South Carolina Conference, 1808–1810; Western Conference, 1811, Tennessee Conference, 1812; Mississippi Conference, 1813–1831; Alabama Conference, 1832–1845; Methodist Episcopal Church South, 1846–1847; and the Mobile Circuit, 1948–present.

The St. Stephens Methodist Church, erected in 1857, is apparently the oldest surviving church in Washington County.

The Church Histories

Antioch Baptist Church

Antioch Baptist Church is located in the northwest corner of Washington County. It was probably established during the 1870s. Most of the church records of the last century were destroyed by a fire in the home of a member. A few minutes of the business meetings have been found and some date back to 1880.

The original building was a log structure lighted by kerosene wall lamps. The near-by school building was heated by a wood burning fireplace, and this was probably the method used by the church.

On September 23, 1895, Lee Sullivan and Darlie Hartley were married in the church. Some early members were Sullivans, Dearmons, Waites, Woods, Hartleys, Copelands and Bradleys.

The church was originally a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association. According to the Associational minutes of October, 1885, the sixth annual meeting, the pastoral supply was the Rev. J.F. Steinwinder of Buckatunna. There were five baptisms that year and a total membership of 86. Delegates to the meeting were H.H. Stephens, P.J. Strickland, A.T. Robinson, and Isham Sullivan. The meeting was held in the Antioch Baptist Church.

In 1919, after several years of controversy over some points of doctrine, the church withdrew from the Macedonia Association and joined the Washington County Baptist Association. According to the minutes of the eleventh annual session of the Washington County Baptist Association in September 1919, the Rev. H.A. Johnson of Aquilla was the pastor, with a membership of 107, and seventeen baptisms. The meeting was held with the Shady Grove Baptist Church.

The writer remembers attending a revival (known then as a protracted meeting) as a little girl in 1898. We rode horseback. I rode behind my Mother, and she held one of the twins in her arms. My father rode beside us holding the other twin, while my oldest brother rode behind him. We only attended the night service. I remember how facinated I was with oil-burning wall lamps. They were bright lights to me.

Antioch Church is considered one of the more progressive churches of Washington County, under the leadership of its pastor, the Rev. Johnny Coaker of Fruitdale.

—Mrs. Minnie Bradley Smith.

Averitt Memorial Baptist Church

Located on Johnny Johnston Road about one and one-half mile off U.S. Highway 43, Averitt Memorial Baptist Church was established in the late 1940s by the Rev. R.M. Averitt, who came to McIntosh to minister among the Indians.

The first church services were held on the back of Brother Averitt's truck. The Indian community was poor but they believed that "God would provide," as he did for other churches. An acre of land was donated by Sister Beanie Snow Wilkerson, and soon church services were being held in the new church.

Brother Averitt retired sometime afterward and was followed as pastor by the Rev. E.R. Isbell and the Rev. I.C. Snow. The Rev. Mr. Pardon and his wife Ann worked with the church for several years, followed by the Rev. Mr. Harris.

By that time, the church had lost many members, some of whom went into the Pentecostal faith. The remaining members were Carrie Rivers, Vanella Weaver and Josephine Rivers and their children. At that point, the Rev. Gerald Cantrell and his wife Alma came to the church. After about a year of his leadership, the church began to grow, with new faces appearing nearly every Sunday. Peter Rivers came from the Reeds Chapel Baptist Church to play the piano and assist the choir.

Brother Cantrell unexpectedly died of a heart attack, but his work was taken up by his son-in-law, the Rev. James Brannon and his wife Debbie, and the church continued to move forward. An organ and a public address system were purchased.

The Rev. Johnny Johnston, an Indian from the community, has been the pastor since 1982.

Recently, the church has installed new bathrooms, carpeting, a new ceiling and lights.

The church has been organized as an Independent Baptist Church, with an attendance of about 60.

One member who has been with the church from the beginning is Sister Vanella Weaver, who has worked diligently as treasurer, Training Union director, Sunday School director and teacher and in all areas of church service. This brief history of the Averitt Memorial Baptist Church is dedicated to her.

—Peter Rivers

Barlow Chapel United Methodist Church

One unique feature of the Barlow Chapel United Methodist Church is that it is the only church which has ever been established in the community, and it has been in continuous service to the community since it was established in 1905. It was established by the authority of Dr. John S. Frazier, who was then presiding elder of the Mobile District. The first pastor was the Rev. C.W. Northcutt.

Barlow leaders instrumental in its organization were Rev. H.B. Jones, a local deacon, and William Isham Brown and Edward W. Atchison, local laymen. The Rev. Mr. Jones gave the land on which the church was erected, gave land for the cemetery and kept the first church register. Other members of the community who became charter members were: Maggie Jones, Mary Etter Owens, Henry Grady Brown, Emory H. Brown, and C.A. Atchison.

Before the church was established, circuit riders came to the area and held services in the homes of the settlers. One of these preachers was the Rev. Hugh Barlow. After the church was organized, it was decided to name it Barlow Chapel after the Rev. Mr. Barlow.

The first church was a wood frame building which served the needs of its members; however the people of the community wanted to build a brick building, so a new church building was started in 1944.

Most of the lumber for the church was donated by the church members. The men of the church cut the logs and Devoid Scarbrough hauled them to the sawmill. The logs were first hauled to Lynn Lumber Company at Tibbie where they were cut into rough boards. Next the lumber was hauled to Ingram Day Lumber Company at Yarbo to be finished. Mr. Scarbrough did not charge for the hauling and Mr. Lynn and Mr. Day did not charge for the cutting and finishing work.

The church building was erected by both hired and volunteer workers. The Rev. W.M. Pickard planned and supervised construction of the edifice. The Rev. J.J. Smilie and the Rev. Ray Hudgens also served as ministers during the building of the Chapel. Rev. Robert Howard was minister at the time of its dedication.

The brick church was completed in 1947. A large beautiful church with a cathedral ceiling was dedicated by Bishop C.J. Harrell on March 20, 1947. This building is still in use and stands as a monument to those who gave so much of their money, time, and energy to see it completed.

Five members of the church have become Methodist ministers and have served churches in Alabama and West Florida. These ministers are: Emory Brown, Jake Brown, Lamar Brown, Zedoc Baxter, and James Isham Brown. Rev. Lamar Brown presently serves as a District Superintendent.

Bassett's Creek Baptist Church

The Bassett's Creek Baptist Church was organized in the early 1880s in St. Stephens, with the Rev. O. Lynes as the first pastor. The membership in 1888 was eighteen.

The church was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association. The delegates to the ninth session of the associational meeting, held in October 1888, with the Washington Baptist Church, were A.J. Easley, W.A. Easley and J.M. Porter.

The Rev. O. Lynes served the church as pastor until 1889, and was followed by D. Henson, 1890–91, and A.J. Easley, 1892–1898.

In 1890–92, the church clerk was G.W. Beech, followed by W.K. Stoker, 1893–94; J.M. Porter, 1895; M.M. Beech, 1896–1897; and Levi Anderson, 1898.

The charter members were the Beech, Stoker, Porter and Anderson families.

The church disbanded in 1899.

Berney Baptist Church

The Berney Baptist Church was located at Berney, which was between Yarbo and Shell's Landing, about four and one-half miles north of Chatom.

The church was a member of the Washington County Baptist Association during the years 1909–1919. Pastors were W.L. Brumbeloe (1909–1910), J.W. Baxter (1911–1914) and J. White Singley (1915–1919).

The church clerks were J. Lawrence Averett, G.S. Reynolds, Joe W. Philips and Jack Averett. The Sunday School Superintendents were J.M. Ferguson and J. Lawrence Averett.

The church disbanded sometime in the early 1920s.

Bethany Baptist Church
Vinegar Bend

The Bethany Baptist Church was located in Vinegar Bend near the Alabama and Mississippi line. The date of the church's founding is unknown, but from 1913 to 1917 it was in the Macedonia Baptist Association.

The clerks during that period were J.E. Williams and J.H. Grimes. Sunday School superintendents were Mr. Grimes and H.O. Williams.

In September 1917, at the thirty-eighth annual session of the Macedonia Missionary Baptist Association, the Bethany Baptist Church asked for a letter of dismissal from the Association. The letter was granted.

It is not known how long the church remained active or which association it joined. However, there are minutes of the church from 1937 to 1939, which indicate the congregation was then active. A.O. Wells, J.E. Albritton and Earl Brooks served as pastors during those years. The church clerk was Gracie Stevens.

Charter members of the Bethany Baptist Church included the Williams, Weldy, Rainwater, Holland, Alford, Everett, Turner, Welford, Stevens, Daily, Huggins, Walley, Mizell, Preston, Strickland, Grimes, Givens, Massey, Stenson, Touchstone and Landrum families.

Bethany Baptist Church

The Bethany Baptist Church was located at Wagar. It is not known when it was organized, but the church is listed in the Antioch Baptist Association for the years 1906–1909, with the Rev. J.V. Stringer of Jackson as the pastor.

In 1907, the church clerk and Sunday School superintendent was J.G. Sullivan of St. Stephens. The membership was thirty.

The Rev. Mr. Stringer was still the pastor in 1910, when Bethany Church entered the Washington County Baptist Association. The clerk was Gib Sullivan, Jr., of Wagar and the Sunday School superintendent was W.L. Richardson. The membership was forty-six.

The church remained active until 1933. Pastors included C.H. Morgan, H.T. Vaughn, C.B. Young and L.A. Weathers. Clerks included J. Chason, G. Ira Roney, T. Henry Lankford, G.W. Sullivan and Dr. Sullivan. The Sunday School superintendents included Ira Roney, E.D. Lankford and S.B. Lynes.

Bethel Baptist Church

The Bethel Baptist Church was located on the Millry/Copeland Road in the field in front of the old Riley Tate homeplace, near the Dearmon Fork Road.

The Bethel Church was a member of the Antioch Baptist Association from 1885 to 1902.

The pastor in 1885 was J.L. Causey. In 1886, J.W. Lane was the church clerk, the membership was twelve and the pastor was R.T. Sims. In 1887, J.L. Causey was pastor for a second time. From 1888 to 1892, the church was not represented in the Antioch Association. J.L. Causey was the pastor again, in 1893–1899, and M.E. Lane was church clerk. The membership grew to thirty-one.

By 1912, the church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association, with Robert Johnson serving as pastor and M.O. Mills as the church clerk. Delegates to the associational meeting of 1912 were T.E. Mills, M.A. Mills and George Dearmon.

H.A. Johnson was pastor and John Dearmon was the church clerk in 1913. In 1914, J.A.W. Lowry of Buccatunna, Mississippi, was the pastor and Nathan Mills of Copeland was the church clerk. Membership was twenty-six.

Charter members of the church were the Wood, Mills, Dearmon and Hartley families.

The church was reorganized in 1914 as New Bethel Baptist Church. It was in the Washington County Baptist Association from 1934 to 1939.

The pastor in 1934 was G.F. Robinson, and in 1935–1939 was Sam Patrick. The church clerk was Warren Dearmon. Messengers to the Washington County Associational meeting in 1934, from New Bethel, were George Dearmon, Warren Dearmon, John King, Belle Dearmon and Bettie Dearmon.

Bethel United Methodist Church

The Bethel United Methodist Church is located about one mile east of the Abb Richardson Road, north of Bilboa Creek. The church records indicated that the congregation was organized about 1880, but an oral tradition, related by older members, states that the church was established about 1832.

The first church structure was wooden and was located on the west side of the cemetery.

The second building, built in 1900, was on the site of the present church. A school was conducted in the church, and during the school term of 1932, the building was destroyed by fire. The school served the community from 1925 until the building burned.

The present building, the third, was constructed of wood in 1934. The church also has a concrete block structure which houses the recreational and educational function of the church. The present church building was constructed by Crosby Richardson, Hez Wheat, Joe Wheat and Lonzo Boroughs.

The first members of the church were Wiley and Abb Richardson; George Hilderbrand; Leik Nichols; George Daugherty; Charlie, Boyd and Frank Harris; Lonzo Boroughs; Higley and Armond Daugherty; Wash Sullivan; Chub Wheat; Bill Arnold; Mack Dunn and Herman and Sallie Knight.

Some of the early ministers were the Rev. Sol Roberts, the Rev. Mack Dunn, the Rev. Mr. Watson, the Rev. Mr. Jones, the Rev. Mr. Reed, the Rev. Mr. Smith, the Rev. Mr. Tillman, the Rev. Mr. Simmons, the Rev. Mr. Thrower, the Rev. Mr. Greenhill and the Rev. Ms. Gatewood. The present pastor is Keith Grantham.

The church organist in the early years was Lessie Harris.

In the early years of the church there was a meeting held yearly, called the Protracted Meeting. For the past 70 years this event has been called Homecoming.

Baptisms were done in the "swim hole" behind Joe Wheat's home.

The first piano was donated in 1935 by Laura Boykin, wife of Bob Boykin. The piano is now in the home of Joe Wheat.

George Daugherty was the first to be buried in the church cemetery.

The Sunday School began in 1922 with Mrs. Joe Wheat and Mrs. Una Jackson Daugherty as teachers. The children's class included eight to ten children. The adult group included Pearl Nichols, Oliver Sullivan, Julia Sullivan, Lillian Sullivan, Hiram Daugherty and Nona Daugherty.

—Joe Wheat

Bethlehem Baptist Church
Vinegar Bend

The Bethlehem Baptist Church was located near Vinegar Bend and was organized November 14, 1920 by the Rev. J.W. Lowery. The church was a member of the Washington County Baptist Association.

Delegates from the Bethlehem Baptist Church to the thirteenth session of the associational meeting held in 1921 with the Spring Bank Baptist Church were Jesse Lewis and Ennis Brewer.

Charter members were Mrs. Jesse Williams, Mrs. Sarah Causey, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Williams and Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Brewer.

The deacons were Jesse Lewis and Ellis Williams. The church clerk was Gary Williams.

Pastors were the Rev. J.M. Hall, J.A. Daugherty, W.E. McGahagin, R.L. Strickland, O.D. Mason, E.L. Knapp, Mack Jones, J.E. Albritton, O.B. Beverly, Lewis Wells, Alfred Jones, C.E. Arnold, E.G. Wright, Aubret White, Paul Grube, Ray Mayfield and Dr. Homer Roberson.

By the late 1950s membership had dwindled, due to the death of many members, while others had moved away. The church disbanded in 1957 and the few remaining members moved their membership to other churches.

The building now stands in ruins, a reminder of a time when it was also used as Morning Star School. Local residents who attended the school include Blanche Rowell, Voncile Reed, Burns Lewis, Willis Copeland and others.

Big John Baptist Church

The Big John Baptist Church, located on the Bates Lake Road at Malcolm, was organized in 1893. The land was donated by Deacon Amos Washington. The Rev. T.T. Thomas, the pastor, and the deacons built most of the church, working for a living by day and hauling lumber by night by ox wagon from Fairford to construct the church building.

A conch shell was used to call in the worshippers, because the church had no bell. Sunday School was held in the afternoon, with Alf Harris as superintendent.

The first deacons were Amos Washington, Jerry Lewis, Kelsaw, Alph Harris, Gilbert Berry and Minnie Bradford. Currently, the deacons are Ben Munnerlyn, John M. Robinson, Sylvester Williams, Freddie Bettis and Hughey Law, Jr.

A new church has been built beside the old one.

Bladon Springs Church

The Bladon Springs Church, established in 1871, is worshipped in and supported by Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian congregations.

The church was built by union subscription and completed in 1872. James Conner, a Presbyterian, and B.D. Turner, Sr., a Methodist, were the largest contributors. Others included B.D. Turner, Jr., W.A. Turner, Dr. McElrath, George Powe, George Hicks, Mrs. Sarah Herndon, Miss Mary Herndon, Mrs. Welch and Messrs. Long, Hearin, McKee and Tabb.

At the time the church was built, Bladon Springs was a celebrated summer resort with two large hotels. Church services were held in a large ballroom.

The Rev. Ira W. Powers, the Methodist pastor in Bladon Springs, led the effort to build the church.

The site was donated by James Conner and Mr. and Mrs. Gaius Whitfield. It was deeded to the Methodist Episcopal Church at Bladon Springs with the provision that the property could be used by other orthodox denominations when not in use by the Methodists.

The new church was presented with a large Bible for the pulpit, an organ, hymn books and a church bell. The bell was purchased, for $400, from a Mr. Otis of Mobile, who contributed $100 for the bell.

In 1882, the church was dedicated by the Methodist Bishop Keener, and the church deed was recorded in the courthouse at Butler.

In 1890, when the Rev. H.H. McNeil was the Methodist pastor, the Rev. Mr. Thompson was the Presbyterian pastor and the Rev. Mr. Barber was the Baptist pastor, the church was repaired, ceiled and painted inside and out. A new organ, some hymn books, two large chairs, some communion cloths, an altar cloth, some lamps and a heater were bought. The Senior Epworth League had the pews painted for $40.

In 1913, the Teacher Training Class at Bladon bought another organ and reroofed the church.

Since then, the church has been repainted, reroofed, and electrified, and has gained carpeting down the aisles, new steps, new window panes, and a concrete area in front of the church.

When the sawmill town of Service was abandoned, the Bladon Springs Church was presented a piano, Bible and blackboard by the Service church authorities.

When the Bladon Springs Church was built, the Presbyterians were the most numerous in the town. Later, the Methodist Church had the greatest number. The Baptists for many years have been the largest denomination. The church has had several Baptist and Presbyterian ministers, and more than thirty Methodist ministers.

There was a Baptist Church in Bladon Springs in 1854, when it was received into the Liberty Baptist Association. In 1872, the Rev. William Campbell had been the pastor for several years. It is not known when the Baptist Church was constituted or by whom, but the building had become delapidated by the time the Methodists and Presbyterians decided to build a union church, and the Baptists joined in the effort.

The Liberty Baptist Association met with the Bladon Springs Church in 1875. The Baptists subsequently joined the Antioch Baptist Association, and in 1918, joined the Choctaw County Association when it was organized.

In 1895, the Baptist church clerk was Dr. Sam Frisbie, and in 1898, it was S.P. Powe. Other Baptists who have held office at the Bladon Springs church were Messrs. Smith, Thornton, Taylor, Everette, Holcomb, and Downey. A gift of $1,400 was sent to the Baptist Children's Home by Thomas Taylor in 1968.

In 1918, the Rev. J.B. Jenkins was the Baptist pastor. Shortly afterward, the Baptists called the Rev. D.C. Mason, who has served as pastor at Bladon Springs for more than 60 years.

The congregations formerly had union services. This gave variety to the services and a large congregation for the ministers, who alternated Sundays.

The Rev. Robert Macon Hunter was born at Bladon Springs on 20 April 1852. He attended Howard College and the Baptist Seminary at Louisville. He was ordained on 31 December 1882, and served as pastor for more than fifty years at twenty-one churches.

Buck Hill Baptist Church

Buck Hill Church was organized in the early 1900s at a community called Buck Hill. The building was actually a schoolhouse and was used once a month for services.

Every August, a singing school was conducted by Harry Ezell and Joe Stokeley, preparatory to the protracted meeting (revival) which was held every September.

The Rev. Jim Baxter was the regular rotating preacher and the Rev. White Singley was the revival preacher.

Baptisms were performed in Pine Barn Creek or in a baptismal pool located near the present baseball diamond in Yarbo. The Buck Hill Church served the Yarbo and Ellisville communities.

Between 1917 and 1919, the Ingram Day Lumber Company moved to Yarbo, resulting in a shift of population. Buck Hill was no longer the center of the populated communities, and the church ceased to exist.

—Willie Ferguson

Burbank Community Church

In 1899, Robert Sanger donated land for the Burbank Cemetery.

There was no organized church. The German Lutherans and others of the community met in the Burbank School. The Methodists and Baptists alternated the church services, but there was no regular pastor.

Calvert Baptist Church

The first Baptist Church in Calvert was organized in 1913. The congregation met in the Methodist Church building until the Baptists built their own structure, about 1920. The first pastor in the new building was the Rev. S.D. Monroe.

Another Baptist Church was established in the Calvert area and existed for a short time. This was the Faith Baptist Church.

Calvert Church of the Nazarene

The Calvert Church of the Nazarene was organized in 1928. The Rev. R.S. Rushing, a native of Selma, Alabama, served as pastor. The church building had been built in 1927 by C.S. Taylor, and the parsonage was constructed shortly after 1927.

Mr. Taylor was the first Sunday School Superintendent.

Calvert Methodist Church

Calvert Methodist Church was organized in a community building that was used for school and many other purposes. The church was part of the Washington Circuit until 1895, when it became part of the Fairford Circuit. The church was served from the McIntosh base from 1889 until 1895, when a parsonage was built at Fairford.

The whole circuit was then known as the Fairford Circuit until the parsonage was built at Calvert around 1908. The parsonage property was deeded November 12, 1908, from Francis A. Webb and Edna Webb to R.E. Blount, C.E. Threadgill, R.D. Hooks, A.F. Hooks and F.A. Webb, Trustees of Calvert Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Fairford Circuit. The original parsonage still stands on the fine shady lot just north of the Webb Motel. On the same property stands a new three bedroom home for Calvert pastors.

The Woman's Society of the Calvert Church dates back to the early 1890s and was known then as Ladies Aid. The group was made up of women from all denominations, for there was no other church at Calvert until 1920, when the Baptist ladies organized their own group. On February 8, 1927, the name was changed from Ladies Aid to The Woman's Missionary Society. Mrs. H.G. Lowery was elected the first president of the new organization. The name was changed again, when on September 25, 1940, all Methodist women's groups were named The Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The Sunday School was organized in 1889 by Miss E. Hooks, Miss L. Hooks, Mr. John Oliver and Mr. Stewart McRae, but was disbanded later when Mr. Oliver and Miss E. Hooks were married and moved. A Mr. Cumberland re-organized the Sunday School on April 6, 1895. Mr. Charles Foote, on the anniversary of the re-organization in 1919, wrote, "I do not think that any Sunday School can show record like Calvert can . . . Many of the children learned to read and write in the Sunday School at Calvert, because they had no other school to attend."

Many remember Mr. Foote for his fine and accurate records, full reports and insistence on regular attendance. Mr. Foote was an elderly gentleman who wore a black cap or tam, and he seldom, if ever, missed Sunday School.

Mr. Clarence E. Kellam, Sr., became the Sunday School Superintendent in September 1926 and was reelected every year until 1949, when he said he could not serve any longer.

Cathedral of Praise
Sunflower

The Cathedral of Praise of Sunflower was organized on April 7, 1985.

Brother Leo Gartman, the first pastor, was joined by Donald Gartman, C.L. Parnell, Paul Gartman and Neil Gartman as Council members, to lead the church.

Soon after the organizational meeting, a church building was begun and was soon completed, through the work of members and friends, and services were held in the new building.

The congregation was saddened by the death of Chuck Carpenter on March 25, 1985. He is buried in the cemetery near the church.

Cedar Curve Church of God

The Cedar Curve Church of God was organized in 1943. The land was donated by Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Powell, Sr. Mrs. Ethel Bailey Guy is considered to be the founder of the church.

The church was built of logs, thirteen of which were donated by Franklin Guy, five by J.B. Sullivan and twenty-seven by Gibbie Sullivan. The logs were cut by Woodie Hudson, Franklin Guy, J.B. Sullivan and Rance Powell. G.L. Hayes, Sr., hauled the logs. Labor was done by Lige Sullivan, Dick Sullivan, Turner Hayes, Leroy Hayes, G.L. Hayes, Jr., Bud Lane, Ed Lankford, Woodie Hudson, Arthur Sullivan and many others.

The structure, which measured sixteen by twenty-eight feet, was dedicated on March 17, 1943.

In 1949–50, the building was torn down and the present church was built, when the Rev. Ralph C. Harley of Semmes, Alabama, became the pastor. There was $85.00 in the church treasury when the building project began. Mr. Joseph Faith donated the framing for the building; Mr. Dan Beach gave nails; M.W. Smith gave the flooring. Lawrence Hayes, Jr., donated money, time and labor, as did many others including the Rev. Mr. Harley, Harold Stoker, Carl Beech, Haywood Coxwell, James Robinson and F.S. Guy.

Pastors who served in the old church were Frank Stoker, G.L. Hayes, Sr., Leonard Glover, Arthur Sullivan, Ed Langford and John Dees.

Pastors of the new church were R.C. Harley, Haywood Coxwell, Hurlon Willard, James Lloyd, J.D. Long, Jamie Stoker, Susie Stoker, Chester Hurst, Paul Hayes, Bob Stafford, Floyd Beasley and David Dyss.

Charter members are Ethel Guy, Berter Lee Jackson, Jim Bailey, Kotsey Langley, Lula Sullivan, Haywood Coxwell and Cora Lee Coxwell.

The church, which is located on the Mobile cut-off road, was named for the cedar trees in the vicinity.

Center Ridge Baptist Church

The Center Ridge Baptist Church is located on the Beaver Dam Road at Chatom. The church was organized about 1920 and was in the Washington County Baptist Association.

J.A. Daugherty served the church in 1921–1922 as the first pastor. Other pastors were C.B. Young, 1923–1924, and R.L. Strickland, the last pastor to serve the church, 1925–1928. The church disbanded about 1930.

In 1921, the Center Ridge Baptist Church had fifteen baptisms and twelve letters for membership. Charter members were the Moss, Dees, Gilley and Reynolds families.

The church was inactive from 1930 to 1946. On July 21, 1946, W.B. Moss, Mrs. Susie Dees, Mrs. Joseph B. Everett, Ida Rose Everett, Mary Earline Dees, Leon Autry Everett, Joseph B. Everett, Jr., Lillie Strickland Powell and Mrs. Luther Temple met to organize a Missionary Baptist church, and named it the Center Ridge Missionary Baptist.

R.N. Durham as moderator and Bessie Carpenter as church clerk presided over the organizational meeting. The Rev. C.L. Howell was called as pastor and elected as moderator. Mrs. Joseph B. Everett was elected as church clerk. The pastor and members of the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church attended the meeting as visitors.

On November 16, 1947, Mrs. J.L. (Susie) Dees was elected as church clerk. On August 17, 1947, the congregation met at Tibbie in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S.M. Everett to organize a Sunday School. Brother S.M. Everett was appointed superintendent, and Ada Williams was elected as treasurer. On August 21, 1949, a band of children was organized for Bible study.

On July 16, 1950, the congregation elected the Rev. Hardy Prentiss as pastor. He was succeeded in 1951 by the Rev. Leonard Harvard and in 1953 by the Rev. Gilbert Howell. The present pastor is the Rev. Lawrence White of Citronelle.

The Craiger, Dunn, Cartwright and Baxter families have been added to the membership of Center Ridge.

Chalk Hill (Koenton) Baptist Church

The Chalk Hill Baptist Church was constituted in 1892 at Chalk Hill, a community about a mile north of the larger community of Koenton and west of the smaller community of Bashi. The church served those communities and the surrounding area.

Minutes of the Antioch Baptist Association in 1885 indicate the Rev. R.T. Shinn was pastor and M.T. Knight was clerk. There were twenty-seven members. The church grew to 149 members by 1908, but showed a loss of twenty members in 1909–10.

On April 16, 1910, a cyclone (tornado) wrecked the church, scattering lumber and furnishings over a two mile area. The floor was left unharmed and the organ undisturbed in its usual place.

The members decided to rebuild in the larger community of Koenton, where there was a post office, two or three stores, a doctor's office, a school, a Masonic Lodge and a steam mill where cotton was ginned, corn ground and lumber cut.

The mill owner donated lumber to build the church. Mr. Christy Koen and his wife, Susie Knight Koen, gave land on which to build.

The Washington County Baptist Association records indicate the Chalk Hill Church had no pastor in 1910, but the 129 members completed the church and called W.A. Darden as pastor. J.H. Blount continued as clerk, having been elected in 1896, when T.E. Tucker was pastor.

The Chalk Hill Baptist Church joined the Washington County Baptist Association in 1910. The fifth session of the Association was held at Chalk Hill Baptist Church in Koenton in October–November, 1913. The name of the church was changed to Koenton Baptist Church at the meeting.

On December 6, 1913, the first burial was made at Koenton Baptist Church, for Loda Koen Brown and infant daughter. She was the daughter of Christy and Susie Knight Koen and the wife of Arthur Brown. Several years later, the wife of Elistis Koen and her infant were buried there.

The old membership rolls was destroyed in the cyclone of 1910, but names probably on it included: Atchinson, Blount, Brown, Bridges, Callier, Carpenter, Granade, Koen, Knight, Long, McDowell, Napper, Palmer, Phillip, Smith, Shoemaker, Simpson, Strickland, Warren and Wilkins. These and other names are found in area cemeteries and in county records. Some are listed in Matte's History of Washington County.

In 1917 there were 143 members. The church is listed in a church directory in 1923 as having sixty-nine members and a church of wood, built in 1910, with a seating capacity of 300 and an assessed value of $1,000.

With the coming of the railroad through Millry, the consolidation and improvement of schools and motor transportation, Koenton lost many families to the Chatom and Millry areas, and church memberships were lost to churches in those communities.

The last pastor to serve Koenton Baptist Church was W.E. Cole, who served in 1927–1929. By 1929 there were not enough active members to carry on a church program, and the church disbanded. The church building was later converted into a dwelling which was destroyed by fire in the late 1930s. The two graves are the only sign of a church having been at Koenton.

Pastors at Chalk Hill Baptist Church included R.T. Shinn, 1885; W.H. DeWitt, 1886–1887; I.W. Martin, 1889; T.E. Tucker, 1890–1891 and 1893–1898; G.W. Fagan, 1892; H.M. Mason, 1899–1906, 1908–1909, 1913–1914 and 1926; J.F. Brock, 1907, W.A. Darden, 1911–1912; D.C. Mason, 1915–1920; R.L. Strickland, 1921; Earl Brooks, 1922; J.B. Jackson, 1924–1925; and W.E. Cole, 1927–1929.

Clerks at Chalk Hill included M.T. Knight, 1885–1886; A.J. Koen, 1889–1890; W.W. Shoemaker, 1891–1893; M.L. Smith, 1894; James P. Wilkins, 1895; J.H. Blount, 1896, 1899–1900, 1904–1913; Hilton Blount, 1897–1898, 1901–1903; Thomas Long, 1914–1915; J.P. Atchison, 1916–1921; Lee Strickland, 1922; C.L. Strickland, 1923–1926.

Chalker Memorial United Methodist Church

The Chalker Memorial Methodist Church was organized in 1894 under the name of Seaboard Chapel Methodist Church. The church was located about three miles southeast of Tibbie, off Highway 17, where the old cemetery is situated. The first pastor was the Rev. J.A. Seale.

About 1925–26, the congregation moved to a new building at Tibbie and was renamed the Tibbie Methodist Church. The pastor at that time was the Rev. B.F. Brown, who took an active part in building the church.

In 1961, the congregation moved to the present building near Seaboard, and renamed the church the Chalker Memorial Methodist Church, in honor of the Rev. I.W. Chalker. The Rev. A.B. Tanton was pastor at that time and participated in building the new church. The first service was held at Chalker Memorial on July 9, 1961.

The present pastor is the Rev. Isham Scarbrough.

Chapel Hill Baptist Church

The Chapel Hill Baptist Church was constituted in 1903, in the Aquilla community.

On October 2, 1903, the church was received into the Antioch Baptist Association. In the Associational minutes, the church is listed as Chapel Hill #2, because the Chapel Hill Baptist Church of Choctaw County was already a member.

Pastors serving the church during the early early years included W.E. Fail, 1903–1904; T.E. Tucker, 1905–1908; and H.M. Mason, 1909–1910. Clerks were W.J. Britton and Perry R. Hargar. Sunday School superintendents were Perry R. Hargar and H.A. Johnson.

Chapel Hill hosted the twenty-second session of the Antioch Baptist Associational meeting on October 7–9, 1904. The church remained in the Antioch Association until 1911.

There were fifty-three members on the roll when the church was constituted. In 1911, there were 162 members.

On November 9, 1911, the church was received into the Washington County Baptist Association. The pastor at the time was William A. Fail. Perry R. Hargar was clerk and Sunday School superintendent.

The Chapel Hill Church has remained active in the Washington County Baptist Association and the Southern Baptist Convention. The church has hosted several associational meetings, beginning with the ninth in September 1917.

Chatom Baptist Church

In August 1909, Chatom Baptist Church was organized in the old Washington County Courthouse. The charter members were Dr. John Chason, Mrs. Susie Chason, Thomas J. Dees, Mrs. Annie Dees, Mrs. Martha Dees, James N. Granade, Joe C. Granade, Mrs. Belle Moss, Madison L. Smith and Mrs. Willie Smith.

There was no pastor the first year, but in 1910 the Rev. T.E. Tucker of Healing Springs was called to the pastorate and continued to serve until his death in 1914.

Many members were added during the first years. Jessie Loper, Ina Chason, Lena Smith, Effie Jordan, Bessie Murphy, Ethel Schell, Beatrice Loper, Ada Hill, Melinda Hill and Emma Turner joined the church and were baptized on September 10, 1912. Gracie Williams, Ruby Williams, Vertie Williams, Bruce Williams, Mrs. Hattie Williams, Maude Schell, Helen Smith and John Jordan were baptized in 1914.

In June 1913, Dr. John Chason deeded the property, on which the church now stands, to the church. Records seem to indicate that the church was built during 1913–14, at a cost of $1500.00. Mr. and Mrs. James N. Granade donated the church bell in memory of their infant daughter, who died in 1912.

The first trustees were: M.L. Smith, Joe C. Granade, T.J. Dees, James N. Granade and C.M. Davis.

The Rev. Charles H. German of East Tallassee was called in August 1914 and continued as pastor until August 1916. He was followed by the Rev. Guy R. Hurlbutt (1916–1918), Chester Mason (1918–1919), J.W. Sheeler (1919–1921), R.L. Evans (1922–1923), J.E. Jackson (1923–1925), R.R. Brasher (1926–1928), T.C. Stamps (1928–1929), Mack H. Jones (1929–1939), Lee Gallman (1939–1943), C.E. Arnold (1943–1946), Mack H. Jones (1947–1975), Mack P. Jones (1975–1978), Charles Ball (1979–1981) and Larry Coates (1982–).

In 1953, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Schell and Mr. and

Mrs. W.P. Pruitt deeded land adjacent to the existing site for the building of a new church. A church building committee was appointed, which was composed of members of the Brotherhood and the Woman's Missionary Union. Members of the WMU on the committee were Mrs. Mack Jones, chairman, Mrs. Glendine Gordy, Mrs. Bernice Bell, Mrs. Mildred Ferguson, Mrs. Doris Brown, Mrs. Dorothy Laurie and Mrs. Vauncille Reed. Members of the Brotherhood on the committee were L.Q. Gunter, chairman, Lloyd Dickey, Fritz Schell, Willie B. Sheffield, Robert Perkins, W.P. Pruitt, Honor Strickland, G.W. Hurst, Sr., J.L. Bell, Dewitt Estes, Marvin Reed, Herman Johnson and Louis Ferguson. Helen Smith was corresponding secretary.

In 1954, a committee was appointed to dispose of the old church building: L.Q. Gunter, chairman, T.J. Schell and Lloyd Dickey.

In the same year, the church was incorporated under Alabama law, and Lucius Bell, Mrs. Tom Dickey, L.A. Ferguson and Fritz Schell were elected as the first trustees.

On September 8, 1954, the first service, which was the regular Prayer Meeting service, was held in the basement of the new building. The auditorium was completed and dedicated on April 10, 1955, which was the first Homecoming.

A tape ministry was begun in 1979. Tapes, which are kept in the church library, are used to minister to shut-ins and are also available for use by members, as well as providing a permanent record of church services.

In December 1979, a building fund committee was elected for an addition to the church building. Members were Davis Henson, Chuck Reynolds, Billy Thornton, David Sheffield and Lou Schell.

On March 29, 1981, dedication services were held for the new addition and remodeling of the old church building. Plans for the building and remodeling were drawn by Davis Henson, Jr., a civil engineer and a deacon of the church.

The church voted in 1983 to participate in the Wyoming-Nigeria Partnership. The Washington County Baptist Association adopted the First Baptist Chapel of Glenn Rock, Wyoming, as a sister church. Plans were made to send the Rev. Larry Coates, pastor of Chatom Baptist, to Nigeria during the Nigeria Crusades in February 1984.

Marty Townsend was hired as the first minister of music and youth director in September 1983.

Chatom Church of God

The Chatom Church of God was organized October 4, 1957. Previously, a Sunday School had been held in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Overstreet and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Averett.

The Overstreets had moved to Chatom from Baldwin County some years earlier, and had attended church in Millry and Yarbo. "Miss Ruth" Overstreet wanted a Church of God in Chatom and worked with others to form the present congregation.

In the early years, the congregation held services in a tent. The Rev. Bobby Brown, district pastor, from Barrytown, conducted services, assisted at times by Brother Hacker.

As the congregation grew, they purchased a sanctuary and Sunday School rooms. They moved into the building before it was completed and continued to work on it.

The first pastor in the new church was the Rev. Mr. Skelton. The present pastor is the Rev. Bob Young. The membership is small but very active. Homecoming is held on the first Sunday in June each year.

Chatom United Methodist Church

In November of 1921, the Rev. W.M. Pickard was appointed pastor of the Chatom Circuit. He and his family made temporary housing arrangements until the spring of 1923, when the parsonage was completed. The Woman's Missionary Society, which had been organized by Mrs. Pickard, furnished the parsonage.

The sum of $250, left from the building of the parsonage, in the care of Mrs. DeHass McClure, became a nucleus for a church building fund. Previously, the Baptists of Chatom had permitted the Methodists to use their sanctuary. With some effort, a few hundred dollars were added to the fund.

In the summer of 1924, the Rev. R.J. Haskew held a revival in the old high school auditorium. The size of the crowd made it clear that a church building was needed urgently.

The Rev. Mr. Haskew headed a subscription list with a substantial amount. Then followed three brethren with $1,000 each: J.R. Dickey, F.C. Turner and J.M. Pelham, Jr. Other liberal contributors, some of whom were members of the Baptist Church, included Dr. Chason, Hilton Blount, J.M. Pelham, Sr., Mrs. Wagar, Hannibal Harris and J.M. Granade. Almost everyone in the community made some contribution.

Lumber companies let the congregation have lumber at cost or greatly reduced price. They were the Headly Pine Company at Uniform, McClure Lumber Company at Wagar, Ingram-Day Lumber Company at Yarbo and Bolinger Lumber Company at Bolinger. The Board of Church Extension also contributed liberally.

Two lots, one for the parsonage and the other for the church, had been given by the Jordan heirs. Henry, Jesse, John, Mrs. Effie, Mamie and Minnie Jordan and other members of the Jordan family took part in selecting the lots.

The plan for the church was made by the pastor and the Board of Church Extension, Louisville, Ky. In the spring of 1925, work was begun. Carl Williamson of Gilbertown was the foreman. His principal helpers were Coleman Williamson and the Rev. Mr. Pickard. Turner Mosley of St. Stephens set the bricks. The pastor put on most of the flooring. No indebtedness was incurred. All materials were paid for as purchased. When there was no money, work was held up until funds were in hand.

In the fall of 1925, on the night preceding the opening of the annual conference, the pastor was so eager to report to the conference that the church was finished that, aided by a kerosene lamp, he hung the last door in the vestibule entrance to the Sunday School rooms.

On Thursday of the same week, Mrs. J.R. Dickey went to the pastor and asked, "What in the world will we do for seats?" The pastor asked Mrs. Dickey if she would do what she could to get the seats. Mrs. Dickey was surprised at the question, but answered enthusiastically that she would. The pastor then told her that three months previously, he had ordered pews made by a concern in Mobile and had made a payment of $50 on them. The two carloads of pews were at that moment in the Chatom depot, having been shipped with a bill of lading for $300. The pastor said he wanted the Woman's Missionary Society to go to the bank in Chatom and borrow the $300.

The pastor also had ordered a Williams & Sons concert piano, shipped on trial with the understanding that it might be returned with down payment refunded if it was not satisfactory. The piano was also in the depot with the pews. The matter of the purchase of the piano was brought up at Sunday School, and Judge F.C. Turner, "in his inimitable manner," accepted responsibility for payment of the purchase price.

"Thus, by God's help, the Methodists of Chatom had their own building in which to worship," a member said.

The Church of God Pentecostal, Inc. McIntosh

The Church of God Pentecostal of McIntosh was established in 1951. Worship services were held initially in a tent, situated on a lot donated by Brother John (Papa) West.

Construction of the church building began on the original site in 1953.

Elder Leroy Dunning helped establish the church and was the first pastor. Elder Willie McNeal, the second pastor, led the congregation for nearly seventeen years. Bishop E.D. Davis was pastor for about two years. Elder Herman Jackson pastored until 1977. The present and fifth pastor, Elder Jimmie L. Williams, was installed on August 27, 1977. Although not a pastor, Sister Dankie Bragg worked faithfully with the church for a period between the first two pastors.

In 1983, the sanctuary was enlarged and kitchen/dining area, offices, classrooms and additional bathrooms were added.

The Church of God Pentecostal, Inc. is an international organization with headquarters in Alabama.

Clearwater Assembly of God Church

The Clearwater Assembly of God Church was started in the old Clearwater Baptist Church, with the permission of some of the old members of that church.

A new church was subsequently built and the first service in the new church was held in November 1982. Land for the church was purchased from M.W. Smith, who conveyed it to the board members, Curtis Eugene Sullivan, Charles Randall Sullivan and Marvin Morris.

The first and present pastor is Curtis Lee Sullivan.

—The Rev. Curtis L. Sullivan

Clearwater Baptist Church

The Clearwater Baptist Church was established in the 1800s on Bassett Creak, near Wagarville.

The church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association in 1902–1904, with J. V. Stringer as pastor. The twenty-third session of the Macedonia Baptist Association met with the Clearwater Church on September 29, 1902. The messengers were W.G. Bailey, Ira E. Easley and G. W. Sullivan, Jr.

The building served as a one teacher school, as well as a church, through 1916. Mrs. Glendine Gordy, who lives in Chatom, taught the 1915 session of school. In 1916, the schools in Washington County was consolidated.

Early pastors included the Rev. Jim Morgan from Walker Springs, the Rev. Mr. Daugherty from Choctaw County and the Rev. C.B. Young from Fairford. Clerks included G.W. Sullivan. The membership was 29 persons in 1902.

The church is listed in the 1946 minutes of the Washington County Baptist Association. That is the last mention of the church in the associational minutes.

Cooper Lewis Memorial Christian Methodist Episcopal Church Chatom, Alabama

On September 28, 1935, Jesse L. Jordan and his wife, Minnie Lou, sold an acre of land to the Black Methodist Episcopal Church, for the building of a church.

The building was erected under the leadership of the Rev. E.D. Lewis; Jack Cooper, steward; and Jack Cooper, Hamp Turner, Ben F. Massey, and Walter Massey, trustees.

The church was named in memory of Jack Cooper and the Rev. Mr. Lewis.

Copeland Assembly of God

A group of people began having services in 1932 in the Pine Tree and Copeland communities. Later that year, W.A. Waters had a tent revival at Copeland. After the revival, services were held in the schoolhouse.

There was no pastor, and several ministers preached. They were: Bunyan Rigney, Alpheus Broadhead, W.A. Waters, W.A. Robinson, Lige Jordan, Roy Beech, Joe Waller, Henry McCoy, Mr. Harvey, Mr. Valdez, O.H. Parker, Oscar Overstreet, Mr. Nicholas and Shorty Hutto.

Because of doctrinal differences, the congregation split into two groups in 1934. The Rev. Hubert Loper was the first pastor of the group which became the Copeland Assembly of God. Both groups continued to hold services in the schoolhouse. The building belonged to Copeland Baptist Church, which had ceased having services. After a time, the remaining members of Copeland Baptist requested that the two groups no longer hold services in the building. As a result, the first Copeland Assembly of God Church was built.

Jim and Lena Stewart donated land on which to build. The first church was a one room building 30 feet by 40 feet, built by the pastor, Sam Breland, and men of the community. Lumber was donated and cypress shingles were hauled from Chickasawhay Swamp. The church ladies sold neckties to buy building supplies. During his second term as pastor, Hubert Loper finished the inside walls and ceiling.

From 1936 to 1939, the average Sunday School attendance was 30 to 40. From 1945 to 1948, the average was 60 to 70. The current average is 90.

During Lyman Broadhead's term as pastor, he built three Sunday School rooms. Woodrow Reynolds, W.E. Hill and Lassiter's Lumber Co. donated the framing, which was transported by Bee Beasley and Richard Miller. Ellis Jordan donated the rafters and joists. Many people donated bricks. The old building was later remodeled for use as a parsonage.

In 1967–68, the church built a three bedroom brick parsonage while Billy Wright was pastor.

From 1975 to the present, Jimmy Butts has served as pastor. He is married to the former Linda Hayes of Bigbee. They live at Frankville and have two children, Quinten and Christie. Linda is the postmistress at Frankville.

In 1975, an educational wing was added to the present building by Stan Rigney, Brother Butts and the men of the church. The addition contains five Sunday School rooms, a fellowship hall, kitchen and bathroom.

The sanctuary was completely remodeled in 1979–81. The original building was enlarged by 30 feet. The sanctuary was turned to face the street, with the entrance now through the fellowship hall. A baptistry, nursery, bathroom, pastor's study, and an additional Sunday School room were added. New carpeting, pews and other furniture were purchased. The sanctuary now seats 250. The church gave special thanks to Martin Schill for his contribution to this effort.

Among the first to attend services in 1932 were Lillie McRae, Lillie Miller, Mary Hartley, Allie McIlwain and Lena Stewart.

Copeland Church of God

This church was organized in the early 1930s under the leadership of the Rev. W.B. Rigney and the Rev. W.E. Hutto, with seventeen members.

The first church was a structure, measuring 24 by 36 feet, with beams of rived pine tree.

In 1954, a second church was built under the leadership of the Rev. Frank E. Bradley and the Rev. J.W. Welch.

The parsonage was built in 1954 under the leadership of the Rev. Stance Rigney. Also under his leadership, the church in 1960 began a remodeling project which was completed under the leadership of the Rev. M.B. Breland in 1961.

The fellowship hall/education wing was added in 1978 under the leadership of the Rev. L.R. Rasmussen.

The present sanctuary was dedicated Sunday, December 9, 1984, having been built under the leadership of the present pastor, the Rev. Charles Satterwhite. Dr. E.C. Thomas, general overseer, spoke for the morning dedication service and the Heirs of Salvation sang following dinner on the church grounds.

Copeland Methodist Church

In the early part of this century, when land was still available for homesteading, Mr. John Joseph Carter moved into the Copeland area of Washington County.

Mr. Carter was a Methodist, as was his family before him, and to have a Methodist church in his community was his desire.

In 1926, a Methodist evangelist, the Rev. Luther T. Horne, was engaged to conduct a tent revival. The tent was put on the spot which is now the cemetery. From the revival came the organization known as the Copeland Methodist Church.

One acre of land, located off County Road 11, in Copeland, was given by Mr. Carter, and he, along with members and other interested individuals, constructed the building. The interior of the building was never completed. Mr. Carter lived only a few years to worship in the church. He died in 1929 and was buried in the churchyard, which became the present cemetery.

The new church was added to the St. Stephens Charge, with the Rev. W. O. Calhoun as its first minister. Records, now at Millry United Methodist Church, list the first members on December 12, 1926 (no doubt this was the time of organization).

In 1932, the Chatom Charge was formed and Copeland was placed on that charge. In 1948, the Chatom Charge was divided, forming the Millry Charge, on which Copeland was placed. The Rev. Robert Howard was the pastor at the time.

At one time the church had 81 members, but due to dwindling membership, the church was described as a mission and was unorganized in 1956. In 1957, a revision of the membership roll indicated only nine members. About that time it was, no dought, discontinued as an active church. The building was later torn down and only the cemetey remains.

In 1969, the trustees of the Alabama-West Florida Conference of the United Methodist Church deeded the land for use as a cemetery. A Board of Trustees composed of John J.Carter, Sr., Johnny Carter, Jr., and J.S. Hartley received the deed. The cemetery is known as the Copeland Methodist Cemetery.

Members recalled by John J.Carter, Sr., include: John Joseph Carter, Isabella Hartley Carter, Johnny Carter, Nellie Bell Carter, Augustus Kumbler, Floria Kumbler, Annie Kumbler, Joseph Russell Kumbler, Ora Shelton, Mr.and Mrs. W. O. Shelton, Russell Hartley, Jake Hartley, Loise Odom, J. Simmie Hartley, Lawrence W. James, Estell James, Archie James, Lige James, Matt James and Lou Heathcock.

Mrs. Isabella Carter, wife of John Joseph Carter, was a charter member and remained a faithful member of the church during all the years of its existence. She now rests in the cemetery, next to her husband.

Cortelyou Baptist Church

The Cortelyou Baptist Church was located east of the railroad in Cortelyou. The church was established about 1910, and was in the Washington County Baptist Association from 1910 to 1940, with the following pastors: J. Walter Flemming as the first pastor, Charles H. German,H. T. Vaughn, J. W. Wheeler, C. B. Young and Mack Jones.

In 1916, the pastor was the Rev. Charles German of Vinegar Bend. F. E. Bumpers was the clerk and H. S. Lowder was the Sunday School Superintendent. The membership at the time was thirty-four.

On August 26, 1938, the Cortelyou Baptist Church hosted the thirtieth session of the Washington County Baptist Associational Meeting. The messengers were the Rev. Ben Lyons, F. E. Bumpers and Mrs. E. Floyd.

Clerks of the church included Forest E. Bumpers and Hillard Baxter. Sunday School superintendents were J. J. Ward, H. S. Lowder and Forest E. Bumpers.

Subsequently, the church became inactive. When a Baptist church was built at Wagarville about 1948, most of the former members of the Cortelyou church became members of the Wagarville Baptist Church. There are several people living in Wagarville who were members of the Cortelyou Baptist Church.

The building burned in 1969–70.

County Line Missionary Baptist Church

County Line Missionary Baptist Church began as a mission point. The church is located about a quarter of a mile north of the Washington-Mobile county line, on Highway 45.

Elder B. N. Driskell began having services in the home of Blake and Edith Richardson in September of 1969. From there the mission was moved to the old Harper house on the Dees Road. In 1971, the mission moved to Deer Park, where it was located in an old block building. On January 16, 1972, the mission was organized as the Mission Point Missionary Baptist Church.

Elder Driskell was elected the first pastor and Brother Joel E. Bullock was the first church clerk. Charter members were Joel E. Bullock, Lillie Mae Bullock, Dianne Bullock, Danny Cooley, Brenda Cooley, Yvonne Crochran, John O. Daszczuk, Catherine Daszczuck, Martha Dees, Donald Jones, Mildred Jones, Laura Lock, Edith Richardson, Carolyn Richardons, Wesley Richardson, Mary Tarver and Joan Weaver.

On March 7, 1972, the church name was changed to Deer Park Missionary Baptist Church. In August, 1972, John A. Jones, Sr., donated about two acres near the county line for a church and cemetery. A church was built on this site and dedicated on December 31, 1972. The name was then changed to County Line Missionary Baptist Church.

On September 30, 1972, the church joined the Macedonia Baptist Association, on May 15, 1973, the Macedonia State Baptist Association, and on March 12, 1974, the Interstate and Foreign Landmark Missionary Baptist Association of America.

The first wedding was that of Robert E. McNaughton and Carolyn Richardson, on May 5, 1973. The wedding was conducted by Elder Driskell.

The present pastor is Elder Skip Holland.

—John O. Daszczuk, Church Clerk

Deer Park Methodist Church

The town of Deer Park was established about 1882. Thomas Grabill, from Illinois, purchased the land from the M&O Railroad for 75 cents per acre. He donated a portion of land for a church, school and cemetery, to the community of Deer Park, after the Grabill family had settled there.

Families, mainly from the North, moved into the area. Some of their names were: Shanholsters, Will, Barthelomew, Leon, Ikenburger, Gerth, Lynch, Peters and Chapman. The Fisk, Odom and Turner families arrived around that time, too. The Smith family operated a hotel and boarding house. The Shanholsters owned and operated a saw mill and a general store. Other store owners were the Leon brothers, Richard Lynch and E. L. Russell. The Ikenburgers were truck farmers. Newton Fisk was a carpenter and cabinetmaker. Mr.Gerth was a blacksmith, Mr.Reed ran a flower farm and the Chapman family raised chickens and fruit trees. The Odoms and Turners were involved in naval stores. At one time Deer Park had two physicians, Dr. Blake and Dr. McKinnon.

The first church was non-denominational, but later became Methodist. Land for the church was deeded on December 16, 1889, by Mrs. George E. Chafin and R. S. Chafin, J. C. Weslimet and Abram Mevdelmont of Shebbyville, Illinois, for $1.00 paid by Miles Bailey, J. A. Brown, S. G. Nelson, George Nichols and Ellis Malone, Trustees for the Methodist Episcopal Church. The deed conveyed lots one, two, three, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen in block twenty four of Deer Park. The church was probably built by Charles Treyck, who was a building contractor and built many homes and stores and the school at Deer Park.

A Mr. Holland traveled by train to Chicago in the late 1890s to persuade Sears, Roebuck & Company to donate a bell for the church, and returned with the bell on the train. The bell can still be heard evey Lord's Day.

In 1923, the church was destroyed by fire. The fire started in the kitchen of Mrs. Hattie Leon and spread quickly to surrounding buildings, one of which was the church. Rebuilt after the fire, the church is a quaint little structure nestled among the pine and oak trees.

In the 1950s, an extensive remodeling was done, while the Rev. Bruce Calder was pastor. Two bathrooms, three Sunday School rooms and a reception room was added. The Whistler United Methodist Church donated the windows in the sanctuary. Ceilitex was installed in the sanctuary and the building was painting. The work was done with the help of Brother Calder and other volunteers.

One of the earliest pastors remembered by old Deer Park citizens was the Rev. Mr. Bilbo. Another pastor was the Rev. P. Johnson. In the early 1930s pastors included Brother Delibar, Brother Chalker, the Rev. Lawrence Blanchard, the Rev. Mr. Garner and the Rev. Mr. Hall. Other pastors included the Rev. Fred Toland, the Rev. Bruce Calder, the Rev. Alton B. Green, the Rev. L.A.Thornburg, the Rev. J. L. Heith, the Rev. William R. Sullivan, the Rev. M. E. Zerlott, the Rev. Fonda Brown, the Rev. H. Ladineer, the Rev. H. C. Hill, the Rev. D. A. Blankenship, the Rev. Carey E. Fredrick and the Rev. Milton Waite.

Mr. Wright, who owned the first automobile in Deer Park, was an early Sunday School Superintendent. Another was Mr. E. L. Russell, who worked faithfully for many years.

During the early period, the church was on the Citronelle Circuit and services were held once a month. In 1983, the church withdrew from the Fruitdale, Epworth Charge and is now a church on its own. The pastor is the Rev. Otis Guy of Georgetown.

Double Branch Assembly of God

The Double Branch Assembly of God Church was established at Frankville in 1957. The church site was purchased from Mrs. Laura R. Carlisle. The first church building was constructed of hardwood lumber and measured approximately 30 by 40 feet. It was built with donated labor, under the supervision of the Rev. T. C. Johnson, the first pastor.

Dedication services were held in October 1957. No formal records were kept, so there is no record of the charter members. The present active membership is sixteen.

Following Brother Johnson, pastors have been Mrs.

Bernice Richardson, the Rev. W. A. Todd, the Rev. I. H. Waller, the Rev. Lavoy Beech, the Rev. Leonard James, the Rev. Ray Finney, the Rev. Elige Nicholson, the Rev. David Mills, the Rev. James Green and the present pastor, the Rev. Tommy Cronier.

The first church building was replaced in 1969–70 by the present cement block building, which contained the auditorium and four Sunday School rooms and measured about 40 by 60 feet. Later a kitchen and two rest rooms and a porch were added.

The present church building was financed by free-will offerings and a loan from the Alabama Assemblies of God organization. It was built under the supervision of the Rev. Lavoy Beech.

The parsonage was financed through offerings and a loan from the Chatom State Bank. While the parsonage was being built, the Rev. Mr. Beech and his family lived in the Sunday School rooms which were converted to living quarters.

The church rest rooms were built as a result of the enterprise of the church ladies. One of the ladies, who was aware that the church needed rest rooms but could not afford them, had a pumpkin patch at home. One morning she called another sister of the church and the commenced paring pumpkins and making pumpkin bread. From the sale of the pumpkin bread the first $30 was made to start the rest room fund. This was followed by sales of different kinds by the church ladies. When they completed their project, they had paid for two bathrooms and furnished the kitchen as well. "This being not the faith of a mustard seed, but that of a pumpkin seed," a member said.

The addition of the rest rooms brought another problem. Water has always been hard to find in the Frankville area. Several wells were drilled but produced salt water. However, the church men took shovels and picks and began to dig a well. The ladies brought covered dishes to feed them while they worked. Just under 50 feet, they struck a small stream of pure water. The well was not a good producer, but had met the needs of the church. The church expects to be connected with the Frankville Public Water System in the near future

One oddity of the church's history is that the first two pastors who lived in the new parsonage were "abundantly blessed" with twin boys.

—Mrs. Lottie Richardson

Dunn's Chapel and Cemetery

Dunn's Chapel was in the vicinity of Wagarville. It was in existence, probably, in the 1840s and '50s.

There is a cemetery called Dunn Cemetery just southwest of the Ebenezer Methodist Church at Wagarville. It has grown up in trees and graves cannot be located.

This information, which was related by Mr. Billy Keith, a Civil War veteran, was published in the section of Wagarville Community in The History of Washington County.

Ebenezer United Methodist Church

There were Methodists in the Wagarville area in the early 1800s, after the Methodist evangelist Lorenzo Dow entered the Tombigbee Valley. Some of the settlers living in the area were Thomas Bassett, Edmund and George Gaines, John Hinson, Thomas and Eugene Sullivan, Joseph Thompson and Solomon Wheat. Descendants of these men are or have been members of the Ebenezer Church.

The Writers' Project papers state that there was a Methodist church inthe community in early years, but no records of it have been found. Mr. Billy Keith, a Civil War veteran, recalled that a Methodist church known as Dunn's Chapel existed in the 1850s and perhaps in the 1840s. It is believed to have been located near the old Dunn Cemetery, which is southwest of the present church site.

According to oral tradition, William Conerly was the founder of the church and Sunday School, and was the first Sunday School superintendent. It is believed he was followed, as Superintendent, by John Collins.

Services wee held originally in a schoolhouse located on property owned by the Shipp family. The Writers' Project papers state that the Ebenezer Methodist Church was erected in 1884 and dedicated the following year. It was a frame building, erected on the property on which the cemetery is located. The first pastor appointed to serve the church was the Rev. John Wesley Hammer.

The property was deeded to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, from Wagar Lumber Company in 1893.

Prior to the building of the first sanctuary, services were held in a log building on property owned by the Tom Shipp family. School classes were held in the building also.

W. P. Conerly, a Civil War veteran, organized the first Sunday School. He was followed by John Collins as superintendent. He was also a Civil War veteran. The church was on the Washington, Fairford, Calvert, St. Stephens and Pine Grove Ebenezer circuits prior to being assigned a full-time pastor. In 1984 the Bethel church was added to the charge.

The Rev. J. W., Henson, P. C., Fairford circuit, and pastor of the Ebenezer Church, sent the following report to the Mobile District Conference which met June 27, 1900: "Not able to be present on account of sickness in the family, a washout on the railroad, high water and a sick horse."

About 1934, under the direction of Pastor E. A. Howell, a new sanctuary was built across the road on property which had been obtained in 1913 from the Wagar Lumber Company.

There was not room for all the Sunday School classes in the church, so some met outside under the trees in good weather and in cars in bad weather. In 1963, the church purchased an adjacent dwelling for use as an educational building. In 1975, the present educational building was erected. It has classrooms, fellowship hall, kitchen and restrooms. The pastor at that time was the Rev. Thad Chesser.

In 1978 the church, which had been part of the Pine Grove Charge, received its first full-time pastor, the Rev. Robert Harrington. A parsonage was completed in 1980 and dedicated in the spring of 1981.

In September 1984 the Ebeneze church celebrated its 100th anniversary and also the 200th anniversary of the Methodist church. Rev. Leonard Howell, a former pastor, delivered the sermon and Wayne Dean, official Mobile District Bicentennial Circuit Rider, spoke also.

The Rev. David A. Murray was pastor from June 1981 until June 1985. The charge has been expanded with the addition of Bethel United Mehodist Church.

Rev. Keith Grantham is presently serving the church. He was appointed in June 1985.

The church takes its name "EBENEZER" from the Bible passage, I Sam 7:12 "hitherto hath the Lord helped me" (stone raised by Samuel in memory of defeat of the Philistines).

The first names of members recorded in the register of Ebenezer Methodist Church were: Alex Lane, Martha Lane, C. C. Sullivan, Walter Wheat, Fannie Sullivan Wheat, Mary E. Sullivan, Margaret Scarbrough, Elizabeth Stoker, Martha (Keith) Shipp, Martha Sullivan, Ellen Keith, Margaret McLendon, Melissa Roney, Kate Roney, Robert Lane, Ophelia Lane, Isaac Roney, George W. Epworth United Methodist Church

Epworth United Methodist Church was founded in 1900 by Tobias Baxter, Wash Berry, John Grimes, Elisha Courtney, James M. Courtney, Phillip Courtney, Dave Mizell and Phil Mizell.

The founders of the church had come to the community with their parents. They attended worship services in the Old Roundtop School, located on the Burbank Road, from 1891 to 1896, with J. A. Peterson as the first pastor.

When the young men grew up, married and started families, they saw a need for a church. They chose a site in the center of the community. The first acre of land and some of the lumber were donated by Noel (Ebb) Turner, owner, president and operator of the Vinegar Bend Lumber Company.

The church was built entirely by volunteer labor. Mr. Bypherd Courtney built the pulpit, altar, cross and candlesticks, and at his death the congregation placed a plaque in his memory.

The original one-room church stands as it did eighty-four years ago. Three Sunday School rooms have been added.Electric lights, a furnace and central air conditioning have been installed. New pews have been donated by families and founders of the church. Some hymnals have been given in memory of the founders, others purchased by members and friends. The bell in front of the church was given in memory of George Miller.

The cemetery is on the west side of the church. A member, known to her many friends as Grandma Berry, suggested this when the church was built. Ironically, she was the first to be buried in the cemetery. In early 1960, an additional acre was given to the church by Henry Meinhardt of Citronelle, to extend the cemetery grounds.

In front of the church are two magnolia trees which were set out in 1905 by James M. Courtney and his nephew, Fletcher D. Courtney. The grounds also have a sheltered barbecue pit and picnic tables. The Charge has a mobile home, for a parsonage, on the grounds.

Several Church School Superintendents have contributed to the life of Epworth Church. Jim Courtney, one of the founders, was the first Superintendent. A farmer, he is remembered as "a hard worker, a good Christian man, and a faithful founder and member of Epworth." William McNeil, the second Superintendent, was a lay minister. Mrs. Frances Bertram, the third, was a teacher from Iowa, who played piano and taught in the Church School. She is remembered as a helpful influence in the lives of many Epworth ministers.

Robert Still, a turpentine farmer, followed Mrs. Bertram as Superintendent. He is recalled as "a faithful worker and loyal member and friend." F. F. Rikard, who came from Mobile in 1949, was a farmer and grocer, taught Church School for many years and was the fifth Superintendent. George Miller, the sixth, was a surveyor and a "very loyal member of the Church." His widow, the former Myrtle Carpenter, is the adult Church School teacher. Their son Clarence Miller is Council-Board chairman. Bypherd Courtney, the seventh superintendent, was a retired railroad employee who is remembered as "a very loyal worker in the Church and community and a good friend."

Kirby Brown, the present Superintendent, is a truck driver who is very active in Church and community work. His wife, Annie Mae Brown, is a granddaughter of the first Superintendent.

The oldest living church member, Mr. Oscar Williams, is eighty-four years old. Mrs. Mamie Williams, until her death, had the longest time of membership. Three of the oldest members, in time of membership and age, are Annie Williams, Viola Wright and Gussie Scarbrough, who are among the most active members.

The first minister to serve Epworth Church was J. L. Grace. Others included J. R. McGlaren, H. S. Ellison, B. E. Fiagin, J. D. Hartzog, J. F. Bilbro, C. C. Garner, E. W. Roberts, F. O. Bell, George Kerlin, W. H. Venters, R. I. Lawrence, C. A. Williams, B. W. Ware, Conrad Myrick, Reese Farnell, Everette C. Barnes, S. H. Williams, F. M. Atchison, Fred Toland, Dallas Blanchard, H. C. Hill, Roy Thomas, Bill Sullivan, Corey Frederick, Mitchell Zirlott, A. B. Green, H. L. Heath, Herbert Ladiner, Bruce Calder, Fonda Brown, Carl Simpson, Milton Waite and Curtis R. Smith.

Escatawpa Baptist Church

Escatawpa is located in the western part of Washington County on the banks of the Escatawpa (Dog) River. It is on the G.M.&O. Railroad and five miles from the Mississippi line. The area was named by the Choctaw Indians who formerly occupied the section.

The oldest records of the Escatawpa Baptist Church date from 1862 since the original records were destroyed by fire. It is believed, according to oral tradition, that the church was organized about 1830.

The first church, a small log structure, was built on Lot No. 1 in Block No. 15. Finally on November 1, 1893, the lot was purchased from the Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company for $10.

The Escatawpa Baptist Church was a member of the Antioch Baptist Association during the years 1883–1887, with S. O. Y. Ray as pastor.

In 1911–1917, the church was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association, with the following as pastors: H. T. Vaughn, R. L. Aaron, J. A. W. Lowry and F. L. Thornhill. The thirty-eighth session of the Macedonia Baptist Association was held with the Escatawpa Baptist Church in September 20–21, 1917.

The Escatawpa Church was listed in the Washington County Baptist Association starting in 1911, although the church was also listed in the Macedonia Association 1911–1917. The church has remained active in the Washington County Baptist Association and the Southern Baptist Convention.

It is not known how old the Escatawpa Baptist Church's building was when, though it was built of heart pine lumber, it was necessary to replace it with a new building in 1912. The building then constructed was destroyed by fire on March 19, 1939.

After the fire, the Methodists invited the Baptists to share their house of worship.

When a meeting was called to discuss rebuilding, the pastor, the Rev. A. P. Wells, advised against it because he felt it was too great an undertaking for a small membership. However, he was happy to retract his statement when delivering the dedication message in the new sanctuary in April 1941.

The new church was built across the street from the old building site, on a lot that had been donated in 1936 for the church parking lot. The old church site was used to enlarge the cemetery. One grave marked in the cemetery is dated January 1872; however, the cemetery probably is older because some of the old graves are unmarked.

After the church auditorium was finished, Sunday School rooms were added, a new piano was purchased and a new oak pulpit and pews, made in the Grove Hill, Alabama, factory, were installed.

The church has two bells. The bell saved from the old church is in the belfry. Another large bell, moulded August 13, 1903, and originally in the Vinegar Bend Baptist Church, was installed on a concrete foundation, beside the church, at the request of Deacon S. L. Baxter, who was 33 years old at the time.

Deacons S. L. Baxter, E. G. McRae and A. Hougeson have passed on to their reward.

Fairhope Baptist Church

Fairhope Baptist Church, located on Highway 17 between Chatom and Tibbie, was organized in 1890 by the Rev. Francus Leroy (King) Moss.

Fairhope Baptist was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association from 1900 to 1917.

Pastors during the early years included: Dave Henson, 1900–1901; J. W. (Jim) Baxter, 1902–1907; D. G. Robinson, 1908; J. W. Baxter, 1909; D. G. Robinson, 1910; J. W. Baxter, 1911–1913; Edgar Wells, 1914; S. D. Taylor, 1916; and C. B. Young, 1917.

Clerks during that time were W. C. Moss, I. L. Baxter, J.T. Scarbrough, A. L. James, W. A. McIlwain and G. F. Baxter.

The thirty-second annual session of the Macedonia Baptist Association met with the Fairhope Baptist Church, September 23–25, 1911.

Fairhope Baptist Church became a member of the Washington County Baptist Association in 1921, the thirteenth session of the Association. Fairhope was represented by T. J. Baxter and I. L. Baxter as Messengers and the Rev. C. B. Young as Pastor.

Fairhope's first B.Y.P.U. was started in 1925 with G. F. Baxter as director. The first Vacation Bible School was held in 1948, with Mrs. Sally Baxter as principal. The first W.M.U. was organized in 1953 with Mrs. L. B. Godwin, Sr., as president.

In 1973, there were sixteen baptisms by the pastor, Brother Gene E. Force.

Fairhope Baptist Church has been represented by six generations of descendants of the founder, "King" Moss. His daughter Liza married T. J. Baxter. Their youngest descendants are twins Justin Burnell Godwin and Matthew Simon Godwin.

Faith Church of the Nazarene Calvert

Faith Church of the Nazarene was organized in 1956 by the Rev. Cora Dials. After the Baptist Church built a new sanctuary, Faith Church of the Nazarene took over the old building of the Baptists. When the building burned, members constructed a new sanctuary on the same site.

Four Points Baptist Church

In July of 1934, the Rev. Mack Jones held a revival at the Four Points Community, under the auspices of Mrs. Bell Dees Moss and the families of Houston Baxter, Charlie Brewer, Willie Carpenter, Tom Davidson, Matthew Thornton, Guy M. Turner, Mrs. Dan Williams, and Mr. Elish Gardner.

In 1935, an oyster supper was given to raise money for a building fund. Every Saturday ice cream was made and sold at Tom Davidson's store to add to the fund. Then a quilt top of embroidered names of each contributor of ten cents or more was made. The quilt top was won by Mrs. Mary G. Turner, who sold the most names. She donated it to Mary Ethel Baxter, who returned it to the church for use as a pretty girl contest prize. Mary Ethel won it back at a box supper given for the building fund. The quilt top is now on display in the Four Points Baptist Church.

The Rev. Emmett Knapp became the pastor in 1935 and after a year was replaced by the Rev. Raymond Schneider. During that period, application was made for a charter from the Washington County Baptist Association. A question arose about the density of churches in the area, but on learning the church had fifty-two active members, Mr. James N. Granade of the Association said, "In God's name let them in." The name Liberty Bell was offered, but because there was already a church by that name, the name Four Points Baptist Church was adopted.

The first deacons wee Mr. Tom Davidson, Mr. Jessie Lewis and Mr. Elish Gardner.

(Old) Four Points Baptist Church

(New) Four Points Baptist Church

Mr. Guy M. Turner donated land for a church and a building was started. Funds ran short and the Woodmen of the World agreed to finance the roof if they could add their hall above the church. The first church was completed with donations and work from the people of the area and the Woodmen of the World.

During the time that the Rev. Ray Crowder was pastor, the need for more educational room was realized. It was decided to build a block building with adequate classrooms. The building fund was started, and a chart showing the number of blocks needed, with each block representing twenty-five cents, was drawn. When the fund reached $1,000, ground was broken and the new church was started. The building was completed, new furniture was purchased and a piano was presented to the church by the Woman's Missionary Union.

A block pastorium was added to the church facilities in 1961.

On March 14, 1964, the church was completely detroyed by fire. With $7,000 in insurance money and the gifts of many people, a new church, with a central heating and cooling system, was completed. It was dedicated in February 1965.

In January of 1967, the church again burned. But instead of being disheartened, the members again made plans for building another church. After much work and many donations, the plans became a reality, and the present church was completed.

The church celebrated its 50th anniversary in February of 1985, with the Rev. Mack Jones giving the opening message.

Frankville (Union) Baptist Church

Union Baptist Church was located in Frankville and was organized in 1824. The church was in the Antioch Baptist Association from 1883 to 1904. The sixth session of the Associational meeting was held October 4, 1888, with the Union Baptist Church. The church also hosted the tenth session in 1892 and the seventeenth session in 1899.

Pastors who served the church included George M. Parker, 1883–1885; W. P. DeWitt, 1886–1887; W. A. Parker, 1888–1893, 1899–1903, and 1906–1909; S. A. Adams, 1894–1897; P. M. Caliway, 1898; J. M. Roden of Stratford, Ala., 1904; J. H. Riffe, 1905.

The associational minutes of 1905 list the church for the first time under the name, Frankville Baptist Church.

Frankville Baptist Church remained a member of the Antioch Baptist Association until 1909. The 26th annual session of the Association was held in 1908 with the Frankville Church, with the Rev. T. E. Tucker as moderator and H. M. Mason as clerk.

In 1909, Frankville was represented by a letter to the Antioch Baptist Associational meeting. In the November 5–7, 1909, first meeting of the Washington County Baptist Association, Frankville submitted credentials and was accepted as a member.

The Frankville Baptist Church is still active in the Washington County Baptist Association.

Friendship Baptist Church

The Friendship Baptist Church at Frankville was organized on October 27, 1907, with the Rev. W. A. Parker as pastor. The church committee included Mr. Sam Gibson as chairman, Mr. Henry Bass, secretary, the Rev. G. W. Fagan, moderator, and W. S. Pugh, clerk. Others who pledged their support included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gunn, Mr. A. O. Blount, Mr. Arthur Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Williams, Mr. Wesley Sanderson, Mr. W. E. Reeder and Mr. W. J. Long.

Santabogue, Rocky Ridge and Friendship were suggested as names for the church. Friendship received the most votes.

A building committee was appointed, consisting of the late Sam Moorer, A. O. Blount, Harry Bass, Asia Sanderson and Arthur Gunn.

An acre of land was bought from Mr. Frank Turner for $7.00. Mr. W. T. Creigh, who owned and operated a sawmill about a mile from the church site, sawed the lumber. Men of the community built the church.

On the fifth Sunday in May 1908, the church was dedicated. The congregation, led by Mr. G. A. Williams, marched from a nearby schoolhouse to the new church. The Rev. Morgan Mason preached the dedication sermon, using Matthew 16:18, "Upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." A collection raised $76.00, which was paid to Mr. Creigh for the lumber, thus paying off the church indebtedness.

Mr. Harry Bass, the clerk, wrote in the minutes, "There was a crowd on the ground . . . They went down to the dinner table and refreshed themselves to their hearts' content."

The first association to meet with the Friendship Baptist Church, on May 30–31, 1908, was the Antioch Baptist Association. In July 1917, Friendship and other churches sent delegates to Butler to organize the Choctaw and Washington County Baptist Association.

Pastors who served the church included W. A. Parker, who served twice; Morgan Mason, who served twice; O. W. Greer, who served a short time; Dan Everett, who served part of 1912 and 1913; Allia Taylor, who served on occasion while a student; W. A. Tharp, who served one and one-half years; J. B. Jackson, who served a short time; Chester Mason, who served 66 and one-half years, from 1914 to 1980; and Billy Beech, who served 1981–1983. The Rev. Edward Howard became the pastor in 1983.

Past deacons included A. O. Blount, Henry Gunn, the late Sam Moorer, John Daniels, W. C. Moorer, Pugh Smith, Lee Kohen, Mace Reeves and Audry Moorer. Present deacons are Sam Moorer, Jim Stout and Edward Cox.

Past clerks included Harry Bass, Dan Everett, Grover Reynolds, Sethare Reynolds, and Flossie Kohn. Minnie Lou Moorer is now clerk. The secretary is Mrs. Nellie Stewart. Past Sunday School superintendents included G. A. Williams, A. O. Blount, Henry Gunn, Wesley Sanderson, Joe Pippin and Mrs. Rosa Lee Granade. Sam Moorer is now superintendent.

The only charter member now living is Mrs. Mary Moorer Roberts at age 98.

Friendship Missionary Baptist Church
Leroy

The Friendship Baptist Church at Leroy was established in 1888 by the late Isaac Lewis.

The church was first located about three miles west of the Tombigbee River, near Carson. It was later moved about one mile southwest of its present location.

In February 1904, Brother Isham Jackson and Brother Dock Henley, trustees of the Friendship Baptist Church, purchased two acres of land in Carson and erected a wood structure about 1905–06. In 1955–56, the building underwent major repairs under the leadership of the Rev. Robert T. Johnson.

In 1970, the members of the Friendship Baptist agreed to erect a new building, under the leadership of the Rev. Oscar Reed. In 1974, ground was broken for a new building under the leadership of the Rev. Johnnie Cox.

In 1977, ground was rebroken in the same place by the late Rev. Willie Brown, under the leadership of the Rev. W. D. Merida. In the fall of 1977, excavation began. A full basement floor was poured by the late Mr. Sperrgon Pruitt. In early 1978, the walls began to rise, under the direction of Pastor Merida.

In 1982, under the leadership of the Rev. Charlie J. White, work resumed with a friend of the pastor, Deacon Dave Boxley of Mt. Vernon in charge of construction. Members and friends worked on the building for more than a year.

On July 31, 1983, under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. White, and with the late Rev. Peater Steavens of Mt. Vernon officiating, the members marched from the old building to the new building, in thanksgiving and dedication ceremonies.

Pastors of the church have included the Rev. Isaac Lewis, Luther Moore, David Dukes, Berry Barnes, C. S. English, John Gary, Matthew Johnson, A. Ferrel, Robert Johnson, and Thomas Davis. Deacons have included Boston Clark, Dock Henley, Walter Simon, Sr., Lewis Johnson, Mughe Harris, Bob McNeal, Joe Bush, Joseph Moore, Saul Savage, Ben Davis, Walter L. Simon, James Simon and Ruben Taylor, Sr. Sextons have been Brothers William Spencer, Walter E. Davis, J. C. Simon, Ruben Taylor and Jimmy Simon. Secretaries have been Sisters Alice Starks, Fannie M. Savage, Maggie P. White, Margaret S. Davis, Peggie T. Howell and Loreen M. Reed. Sisters Jennie Henley, Lucy T. Simon and Betty L. Davis have served as Mother of the Church.

Frog Stool Church and Cemetery

The Frog Stool Church and Cemetery were located about four miles east of Chatom, off Highway 56. The site is about eight miles down Dan Beech Road (County Road 28), in the vicinity of Easley Hill.

The church, which served a black congregation, existed in the early 1920s. There are unmarked graves in the cemetery.

Fruitdale Baptist Church

Fruitdale Baptist Church was organized on February 26, 1928. The church used the Union Chapel for a time. Charter members were Mrs. Sam E. Miller, Mrs. M. F. Cowan, Mrs. W. N. Mills, Miss Belle Robinson, Mr. & Mrs. G. A. Coleman and Mrs. M. M. Ragsdale. G. A. Coleman was elected church clerk, and Mrs. W. N. Mills, secretary and treasurer. The Rev. B. F. Brooks was the first pastor.

On February 22, 1942, the church organized its first Sunday School, assisted by Robert Reed and Honor Strickland. Thirty two persons were enrolled. Officers elected were: G. A. Coleman, superintendent; Mrs. Fanny Utsey, secretary; and Oscar Coaker, treasurer. Five teachers were elected: Mrs. Edna Mills, adult class; Mrs. Bessie Coaker, young people's class; Mrs. G. A. Coleman, intermediate class; Miss Hattie Williams, junior class; and Mrs. Roy Haag, beginners' and primary class.

The first Vacation Bible School was held in May 1947; the first midweek prayer meeting was organized on January 30, l947, with the Rev. E. Arnold as leader; the first BYPU was organized on October 29, 1947.

Brothers G. A. Coleman and F. S. Locklin were ordained as the first deacons on December 12, 1929. The ordination sermon was preached by the Rev. Mack Jones. The first Christmas program was held in December 1948. Bethlehem and Escatawpa Churches participated in the program.

A building committee was appointed on October 17, 1947, by the Rev. E. Arnold. Members were R. Lee Coaker, secretary, Seig Coaker, Floyd Wood, Claude Robbins, George Williams, Herman Williams, C. H. Hartley, Roy Haag, T. L. Williams, Howard Williams and E. C. Arnold, and V. R. Meadows, county missionary.

The Rev. Harry Kirkley of Birmingham was called as pastor on September 1, 1949.

Work began on the new building of the Fruitdale Baptist Church on Monday morning, May 6, 1951, under the supervision of Mr. Lynwood Fulton. The land for the church was donated by Mr. Robert Lee Coaker. The church was dedicated on August 18, 1951, in ceremonies in which Mr. R.Quiggle, Mr. Seig Coaker and Mr. Luther Hartley burned the notes, signifying the church was debt free.

The first trustees of the new church were Braxton Williams, five years; Richard Quiggle, three years; and Claude Robbins, two years.

The Men's Brotherhood was organized August 12, 1951, with Mr. Irby Little of Leroy in charge.

The church began full time services on April 7, 1957.

Fruitdale Church of the Brethren

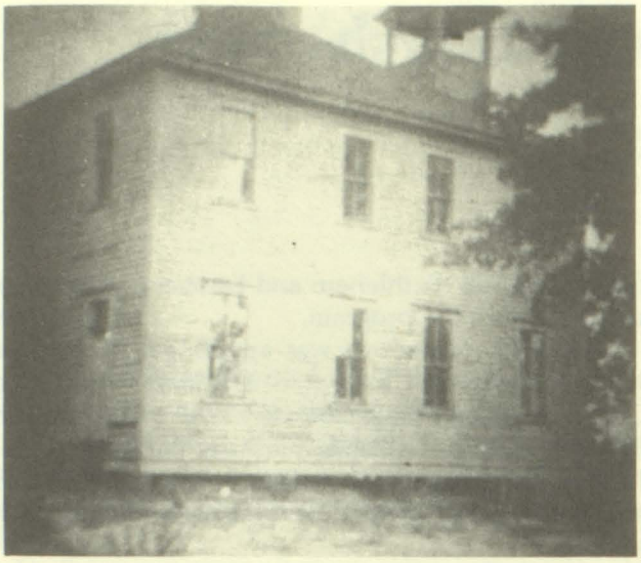

The first Church of the Brethren in Alabama was organized at Fruitdale on April 18, 1896. There were ten charter members, three of whom were ministers—James F. Neff, Daniel Hershey and N. R. Baker. Luther Bodell was the deacon.

Sunday School and church services were held in the North Side School until September 2, 1896, when services began to be held in the chapel of the Fruitdale Seminary.

By August 1899, there were fifty-six members of the Fruitdale Church, eight of whom lived in Citronelle.

In the early 1900s the Seminary closed due to financial problems and the school property changed hands. The church services were moved to the North Pine Street School, where they were held until 1905.

In the fall of 1904, the Brethren decided to build a church. Land for the church site was donated by Mrs. Madison Wine's family, the Shobes. Friends in the North sent gifts and a loan was obtained from the General Mission Board in Elgin, Illinois. Jacob Wine of French Broad, Tennessee, father of Madison Wine and a carpenter, supervised the construction.

Daniel Miller, Isaac Miller, Madison Wine, Silas and Eubert Carpenter and John Miller brought lumber from Yellow Pine by horse drawn wagons and assisted in the construction. Other workers were William Wine, Frank White, J. Z. Jordan, Billie Woodard and George Bilhiemev. Mr. Bilhiemev also donated a bell.

The church was completed on January 25, 1905 and was dedicated on February 26, 1905, with Elder Andrew Hutchinson and Daniel Hershey in charge.

From the early years of the church there was an interest in mission work and mission points were established, at which services were held once a month. In 1897, Elder M. M. Ennis had a mission point in Buckatunna, Miss., and one in Aquilla, Alabama. Others were established later in Chicora, Stone Wall and State Line, Miss., and at Yellow Pine. The eight members from Citronelle worked there and in the early 1900s a church was begun, which is now known as the Cedar Creek Church of the Brethren.

The membership of the Fruitdale church has continued to be small, but the congregation continues to make improvements.

In 1938–39, the church added four Sunday School rooms to the sanctuary, with Fred Burkepile, a member who was a carpenter, supervising the work. These rooms also provide space for the Bible School which is held each spring or summer.

In January 1962, Joe and Ethel Davis, from Paradise, Calif., came to Fruitdale for the winter. They encouraged the church members to build a recreation hall. Brother Joe Davis was a carpenter and helped the members get the building started. It was completed by Fred Burkepile. The hall has a kitchen and dining area.

The church began a minister's in-training program in 1980 in order to obtain a pastor. Martin Brown, from North Alabama, was the trainee, with four members training with him. Bible studies for the congregation were coordinated with the minister's training.

The Women's Fellowship meets monthly and sponsors a Senior Citizen's Day each month. In addition to the yearly Bible School, a community youth and children's camp is held in conjunction with other churches.

Fruitdale Methodist Church

In the fall of 1902, two men and three ladies filed a declaration to form themselves into a corporation known as the Fruitdale Union Chapel Association. By a deed dated November 14, 1902, the Association was given property by the Fruitdale Land Company, on which to build a chapel.

Ladies of the community, known as the Home Workers, sponsored many projects to raise money for the building. One project proposed by a visitor consisted of large cards, representing bricks, printed with smaller bricks. Each small brick sold for ten cents, and a half brick for five cents. A whole card was worth $5.50.

Materials were donated, and men of the town did much of the work. The chapel was completed and an Easter service was held in 1904.

Fruitdale Methodist Church was organized before the chapel was built. Services were held in the East Side School, across the street from the Ray Coaker home. After completion of the chapel, the Methodists and other religious organizations held worship services there.

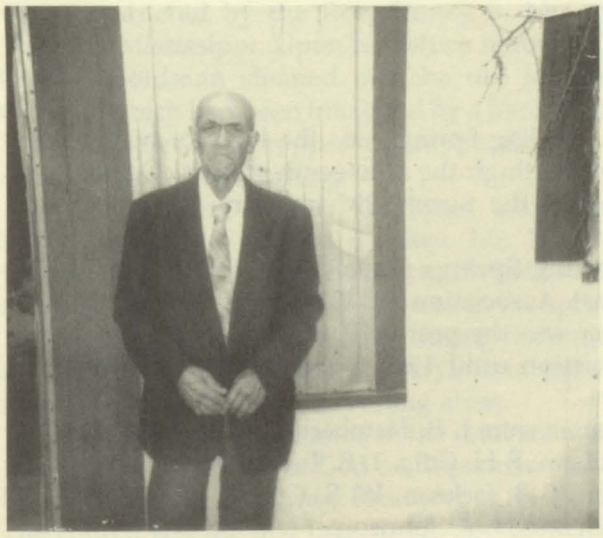

Fruitdale Methodist Sunday School was organized in 1948, with Miss Mamie Briggs as the first Superintendent. Others who served in that capacity were Russell Hendrix, Mrs. Alfred Lusk and Mrs. Enid Clague. Serving at present is Mrs. Esther Rainwater.

Only the Methodists use the chapel at the present time.

Healing Springs Baptist Church

According to the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes, the Healing Springs Baptist Church was organized about 1890. The congregation used the Healing Springs Industrial School for services and weddings until about 1910.

The first wedding was that of Miss Ida Lee Causey and Mr. Simmie Dees, in 1903, in the school auditorium.

The Rev. John B. Hamberlin was the first pastor. Early members included the Causey, Warrick, Knight, Pettis, Tucker, and Mackey families.

A building was constructed about 1910, when the Rev. T. E. Tucker was pastor.

The Healing Springs Church was in the Antioch Baptist Association from 1898 to 1909. During that time, Healing Springs was the host for two associational meetings: the nineteenth session, October 4–6, 1901 and the twenty-fifth session, November 1–3, 1907.

Healing Springs joined the Washington County Baptist Association in 1910, when the Rev. T. E. Tucker was the pastor. The church remained in the association until 1952 when the church closed its doors.

Pastors were J. B. Hamberlin, H. M. Mason, W. A. Windham, F. H. Culp, T. E. Tucker, R. A. Loftin, G. T. Griffin, J. B. Jackson, W. S. Coles, J. E. Cook, R. V. Jensen and H. A. Johnson.

Hill Springs Baptist Church

The Hill Springs Baptist Church was organized in 1935 to serve one of the Indian communities of Washington County. It is located west of McIntosh on the John Johnston Road (County Road No. 35).

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reed donated the land for the church and cemetery and are considered the founders of the church.

Mr. Reed was the son of Reuben and Emaline Weaver Reed and the nephew of George Reed, the founder of the Reeds Chapel Baptist Church.

The Rev. O. H. Parker was the first pastor and served for thirty-two years. The second pastor was the Rev. R. E. (Bo) Reed, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Reed. The Rev. J. C. Reed and Mrs. Emma Reed Lane, children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reed, and the Rev. Ellis Beech, served as interim pastors.

The Rev. Sid Steward served for fourteen years as pastor. The Rev. Mr. Beech returned for a year, then the Rev. Mr. Stewart again became pastor and is serving in that capacity at the present.

There was formerly a school, known as the Hill Springs School, which closed in 1967.

Hobson Assembly of God

In the fall of 1929, Forrest L. Anderson, Sr., while visiting his son Turner at Yarbo, attended revival services conducted by the Rev. Henry E. McCoy of Shubuta, Mississippi. Upon his return home, he and Charlie Goldman cleaned out the old Methodist Church, which had been inhabited by a herd of goats. They cut poles and propped up the building on one side to keep it from leaning.

Mr. Anderson, Charlie Goldman and Eugene Beech from Yarbo invited the Rev. Mr. McCoy to Hobson to preach in the old church. He held services in the fall of 1929 and revival services in the spring of 1930. Revival services continued during the summer and were attended by nearly everyone in the community and some from surrouding areas.

The revival services resulted in the establishment of the Hobson Assembly of God on September 4, 1930, by the Rev. D. P. Holloway, Presbyter of the Section. The church was the first organized Assembly of God church in Washington County.

The Rev. Mr. McCoy was the first pastor. Leroy Beech was the secretary and treasurer. Deacons were William Louis Anderson, Sr., Charlie Goldman and J. E. Easley.

There were seventeen charter members: William Louis Anderson, Sr., Cora Beech Anderson, Eliza Anderson, Solomon (Sol) Anderson, Willie Anderson, Lottie Richardson Anderson, Peter Anderson, Leroy (Roy) Beech, Ottie Stoker Beech, Lillie Bell (Tee) Beech Dearmon, J. E. (Dock) Easley, Ira Easley, Charlie Goldman, Wesley Covington, Susie Covington, Lawrence Hayes and Rachel Hayes.

Services continued in the old Methodist church for a short time, then the congregation began worshiping in the old Pine Level Baptist Church.

Sunday School was begun by David C. Howell, who was a teenager at the time.

For several years the Assembly of God was the only active church in the Hobson community. When the Baptist church resumed services, the two churches used the Pine Level church on alternate Sundays. This arrangement continued until the present Hobson Assembly of God Church was constructed.

The Methodist Conference Trustees had torn down the old church at Hobson and used the materials to construct the parsonage at St. Stephens. The Methodists deeded the church site and cemetery to the Hobson Assembly of God on May 16, 1944.

The congregation began at once to raise money to build. Donations wee given by church members, businesses in Chatom, the State Assemblies of God headquarters in Montgomery and by many individuals. The auditorium was built in 1944 by Leroy Beech, who was the pastor at the time. He was paid $4.00 per day to construct the building. He was helped by Johnnie Glen Anderson and several children of R. C. Thompson and Leona Thompson, who were Sunday School pupils. Johnnie Glen fixed "Dagwood" sandwiches and kept cool water for the workers.

Worship services were held in the new building in the fall of 1944. The education department and the parsonage were built in the 1950s by Leroy Beech when he was again pastor.

Members of the church have included Effie Beech, Agnes J. Beech, Pearl Roberts, Lila Goldman, Arpie Sullivan, Arilla and Webb Stoker, Laura Brown, Richard Chester Beech, Janie Beech, Glendine Howell Beech, David Howell, Thelma Howell, Mable Everett Beasley, Silas Everett, Ahas and Gertie Beech, Darrell Beech, Fannie B. and Johnnie Mosley, Bama Beech, Gloria B. Anderson, Jr., Gerald and Alice Everett, Emmett and Laurice Beech, Chris and Ruby Anderson, Rickey Anderson and Dianne B. Tarver.

Pastors who have served are: Henry E. McCoy (several times), Hubert H. Loper, Leroy Beech (several times), N. R. Kellum, Alton Kirkwood, Sime Morris, Jr., Roy Johnson, Robert Bowen, C. V. Barker, Dock Simms, Marvin Ledbetter, Frank Bradley, E. E. Welborn, Gerald Taylor, Ray Chapman, Ellis Beech, Leland Todd, C. J. Johnson, Charles Miniard and Gary Cronier.

Members who have become ministers include

Leroy Beech, Darrell Beech, Sol Anderson, John A Loper, Curtis Sullivan and Susie Covington Stoker. Missionaries Bobby and Gloria Beech Jackson served in West Africa for 16 years and later in Brussels, Belgium.

The church celebrated is 50th Anniversary September 7, 1980, in services attended by four charter members: William Louis Anderson, Sr., his wife Cora, Leroy Beech and Lillie Bell B. Dearmon.

Deacons presently serving are: Jimmy Wayne Roberts, James Ahas Beech and Richard Chester Beech. Jimmy W. Roberts also is the church secretary and pianist. Richard Chester Beech is the Sunday School superintendent and James Ahas Beech taught the Sunday School adult class for many years. Louis Anderson, Sr., was a deacon for many years and his wife Cora was secretary and a Sunday School teacher.

The Hobson Assembly of God is a full Gospel Pentecostal Church affiliated with the sectional, state and national organizations of the Assemblies of God.

Hobson Methodist Episcopal Church

Mr. R. C. Thompson and his wife, M. M. Thompson, deeded one acre of land on December 4, 1915, to T. C. Turner, J. F. Turner and T. H. Roberts, trustees of the St. Stephens Charge of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Alabama conference.

In 1916, Mr. Conn and others constructed a one room building on the land, and began worshipping there. The members included: R. C. (Conn) Thompson, M. M. Thompson, J. Z. Beech, Sarah Elizabeth Beech, Laura Brown, John Dickey, Willie Dickey, Fannie Stoker, Dollie Cotton. Services were held until the early 1920s.

The church building was torn down and the lumber was taken to St. Stephens for use in building the parsonage there. The Methodist Conference Trustees deeded the land to the Hobson Assembly of God Church on May 16, 1944.

Howardtown Baptist Church

The Howardtown Baptist Church was organized on January 14, 1966, under the name Howard Community Missionary Baptist Church. Later, the present name was adopted.

The charter members were Alice Howard, Alma Howard, Sandra Clark and Wanda Smith. Services were held initially in homes in the community.

From May to September, 1966, church services were held outdoors, across the street from the present building, which was under construction. On September 11, 1966, the first services were held in the new building. Forty-five were present.

The building first consisted of one large room. Now there are four classrooms, a large fellowship hall and the auditorium.

The pastors have been James Seibert, John Clark, Robert Sanders, Robert Bracewell, Paul Beck (interim), Roger Gilbert, Bill Harris, H. G. Martin, and Ernest Tucker, the present pastor.

James Chapel Baptist Church

James Chapel Baptist Church in St. Stephens was organized in 1879 by the Rev. R. W. Whitney, grandfather of the Rev. A. U. Elliott and the Rev. Ossie Elliott. The first deacons were Luther Moore (later the pastor) and Sam May, Sr. The first Mother of the Church was Rena May, the second was Cora McDay, the third was Eva McDay, the fourth was Victoria Walker.

Early pastors included J. E. Rains and Frank Rains. Early deacons included Sam May, II, Edd May, Sheppard May, Albert Thornton, and James (Monkey) Woodyard.

James Chapel was rebuilt in 1888 by the Rev. S. A. Johnson, with Deacon Jim Adam. It was rebuilt again in 1929 by the Rev. J. E. Carter, with Deacons J. E. Adson, Edd May, and S. M. May, and Secretary Johnnie Phillips. It was rebuilt again in 1960 by the Rev. W. M. May.

The present pastor is the Rev. James Curtis, Jr. Deacons are Jessie McDay, A. C. Howell, Samson Walker, James Abston, Jr. and L. J. Williams. Berthina Howell is the secretary.

Jesus Name Church of Charity Chapel

This church, organized c. 1886, is located on the John Johnston Road (County Road No. 35), in a small community in the south-central part of the county, near the Mobile County line.

The original name was Charity Chapel, and the community also became known by that name.

Seaborn Reed, a native of the area, gave land for the church and cemetery, and named the church.

According to the Rev. Abb Cole, pastor of the church, Mr. Reed laid the foundation. He and Nathaniel J. Smith shook hands at the foundation, asking God's blessing and agreeing to work together to build the church. Money and labor were provided by families of the area: Reeds, Smiths, Coles, and Lewises, Patricks and Ryans.

Luddie Smith (b. 1872, d. 1885), son of N.J. Smith, was the first to be buried in the cemetery.

The first church was built of rough lumber and was at the cemetery site. It was non-denominational and was pastored by Seaborn Reed and Nathaniel J. Smith.

Between 1907 and 1913, the church was used by the Methodists and Freewill Baptists. The Rev. Mack Dunn was the Methodist minister. The Rev. A.J.

Holder of Brooklyn, Miss., was the Freewill Baptist pastor. During that time a new church building was constructed about a half mile to the north and across the road from the cemetery.

In 1914, the church again became non-denominational and had several lay ministers as pastors. In 1925, the Rev. Abb Cole, a lay minister, was asked by the congregation to become their pastor.

A new church building was dedicated in 1944. The Rev. Mr. Cole was ordained at the dedication service. The building burned on July 3, 1985 and has been replaced by a brick sanctuary.

The name of the church was changed to the present name in 1956. The denomination is Free Holiness. The Rev. Mr. Cole remains the pastor, having served since 1925.

From this church, two other churches have been established in the community. They are the Full Gospel Tabernacle and the Assembly of God.

Jones Hill Baptist Church

The Jones Hill Baptisit Church was organized about 1914 and used the local school building. The church was a member of the Washington .County Baptist Association. The church's doors were open from 1914 to 1940.

The pastors were R.L. Strickland, J.W. Singley, Luther Upton, H.A. Johnson, T.G. Stamps and O.D. Mason.

Some say the name was changed to Copeland Baptist Church in the 1920s, although the Washington County Baptist Associational Minutes list the church as Jones Hill Baptist, during that time.

Charter members included members of the Jones, Williams, Hartley, Cooper, Wood, James, Dearmons, Singleton, Touchstone and McRae families.

Lang Chapel AME Zion Church

Lang Chapel AME Zion Church had its beginning about 1858 in Mr. Howard Douglas' field. Mr. Henry Lang and Mr. Richard Lang were the founders. The church remained in Mr. Douglas' field for many years, until he asked that it be moved.

Mr. Henry Lang deeded the church one acre of land, on which a church was built. However, the church was across a big branch from the homes of most of the members, who could not attend church when it rained. Because of that, the trustees decided to buy two acres of land at the present site of the church.

The Rev. B. Bell was the pastor when a wooden church was erected on the new site.

A block church was built in 1953. The building committee was composed of Van Watson, H.H. Wiggin, Westley Ferrell, William Hill, David Adams, Walker Arch, Mint Reed and Reef Thomas. Sister Orilla Adams was the secretary, and remained in that post until 1970. The Rev. E. Evans was the pastor.

Some former pastors were: the Rev. J. Rodgers, the Rev. E. Evans, the Rev. Marion F. Church, the Rev.

Robert Adams, and Mrs. Ann Presley. Two older members of Lang Chapel, McIntosh, Alabama.

T.C. Gills, the Rev. S.L. Pitts and the Rev. W.C. McCullum, the Rev. L.L. Griffin, and the Rev. Eddie Jones.

In 1973, under the leadership of the late Rev. L.L. Griffin, the present church as dedicated. The Rev. Mr. Griffin was the pastor for three years. In 1975, the Rev. Eddie Jones became pastor and remained until 1978.

In November 1978, the Rev. James L. Allen became pastor and is still serving. Mrs. Theresa Johnson is secretary; she succeeded Etoria A. Toole who was secretary from 1970 to 1984.

In 1981, the congregation of Land Chapel AME Zion burned its mortgage papers.

Laton Hill Baptist Church

The Laton Hill Baptist Church was organized in 1931 with the Rev. J.A. Dowdy as the first pastor, according to the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes.

The congregation borrowed money from the Chatom State Bank to build the church. Nearly every man in the community aided in the construction of the building which was completed in 1931. The church was named Laton Hill Baptist in honor of Cyrus Laton, one of the first settlers and the oldest man in the community. Cyrus and the other members of the congregation named the community Laton Hill, after the church.

Mr. Thomas J. Williams had the only horse and buggy and Mr. Lawrence Lathan owned the only automobile in the community. They were responsible for getting the pastor to the church. Two services were held, one on Saturday and one on Sunday night. When the preacher was not available, men of the church substituted for him so that services could be held.

From 1931 to 1941 the pastor was the Rev. H.A. Johnson, and from 1943 to 1948, the Rev. J.W. Singley.

Laton Hill Baptist Church hosted the annual Washington County Baptist Associational meeting in 1948, 1957, 1964 and 1979.

Leroy Baptist Church

Leroy, on the west bank of the Tombigbee River, is in one of the first areas to be settled in Alabama. Before 1800, pioneers received land grants from England, Spain and the United States. Before 1896, when the community was named on honor of a Confederate officer, Capt. Robert Leroy Bowling, the community was called New Canaan, Possum Corner and Dogwood Level.

Leroy residents, until the turn of the century, were predominantly Methodists. Then in 1897, Dr. and Mrs. R.D. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs.Dabney Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff McKee and Mr. Elbert Palmer and their families moved to Leroy from Wilcox County. Other Baptist families followed.

In early 1904, a fund raising campaign to build a Baptist Church began. Baptists and other residents in surrounding communities contributed generously, and by summer's end sufficient funds were collected. The building site was donated by Mr. Theodore Cheseborough Bowling, a Methodist. A black carpenter named London did most of the building, under the supervision of the Rev. S.A. Adams, who furnished the building plan and volunteered his time.

The building was completed in October, 1904, when the Rev. J.R. Riffe was pastor on a quarter-time basis. Members did not want to dedicate the building until it was debt free, so one man donated the balance and the building was dedicated the same month. A bell was donated by Mr. Dabney Palmer.

Charter members of the church were Miss Callie Glover, Miss Evie Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Little, Miss Annie Little, Miss Ida Little, Mr. and Mrs. W.H. McKee, Miss Bertha McKee, Mr. Dabney Palmer, Dr. and Mrs. R.D. Palmer and Mr. Elbert Palmer.

During the pastorate of the Rev. W.J. Parker in 1905, his son Douglas Parker was ordained and licensed to preach—the first from this church. Others called into the ministry include two sons of Mr. and Mrs. J.N. Granade—Charles Jackson Granade in 1932 and Sam A. Granade in 1937—and a son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Granade—Charles James Granade, in January 1946.

Leroy Baptist Church was admitted to the Choctaw Baptist Association soon after its formation, and became a charter member of the Washington County Baptist Association in 1909.

The original building was a large single room. In 1939, six classrooms were completed, and a pastorium was completed in 1946.

In 1949, the Brotherhood planted a ten-acre cotton patch to raise money for the building fund. The use of the land was donated by a Methodist neighbor, Mrs. Odell Hartley. The Brotherhood reciprocated by replanting the ten acres in a winter cover crop. The "Church cotton" of 1949 netted $1,600 for the building fund.

In 1950, a two story brick building was completed, containing seventeen classrooms, a large assembly room, a nursery, a kitchen, a pastor's study and two restrooms. Labor was contributed by the people of the community. Many materials were donated, and many gifts were received, some of which represented true sacrifice, including a tithe sent by a college student who was working his way through school.

A new sanctuary was begun in August 1952. The old one was moved aside for use until the new building was finished. It was sold in December for $500, and services were held in the assembly room of the educational building until the sanctuary was completed and dedicated in April 1953.

Leroy Baptist Church was was awarded a second place "Certificate of Recognition" for outstanding progress, by the Town and Country Church Development Program, promoted by Emory University and Sears Roebuck Foundation.

The church's pastor, the Rev. H.H. Harwell, was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree by the Atlanta Law School in 1960. He as listed in Who's Who in the South and Southwest and was the author of several monographs in the Southern Baptist Enclyclopedia. In 1963, Dr. Harwell was awarded a plaque by the Alabama Baptist State Convention for his 25 years service as chairman of the convention's press bureau.

Lewis Grove Missionary Baptist Church

The Lewis Grove Missionary Baptist Church is located in the community of Cortelyou, east of the railroad. The church was organized in December 1905.

After the mill closed at Wagar, members of the Mt. Hebron Missionary Baptist Church there began to move. Most moved to what is now Cortelyou. Others moved to present-day Wagarville, and founded the Union Baptist Church there.

Lewis Grove Church was organized in the home of Mrs. Mattie Williams. Members with her were Mr. and Mrs. Will Lott and Mr. and Mrs. John Brown. The Rev. John Hamilton was the first pastor.

The church was named for Mr. W.P. Lewis, a businessman and landowner in the area.

The first sanctuary was completed in 1906. It was rebuilt in 1910. The building has been remodeled several times, the latest in 1982.

The present pastor is the Rev. Bobby J. Johnson of Millry. There are more than 100 members, with a forty per cent attendance.

For more than seventy years the church met once a month. Now services are held every second and fourth Sunday.

Liberty Baptist Church
Fairford, Alabama

Liberty Baptist Church is a "family church" located in the small community of Fairford in southeast Washington County.

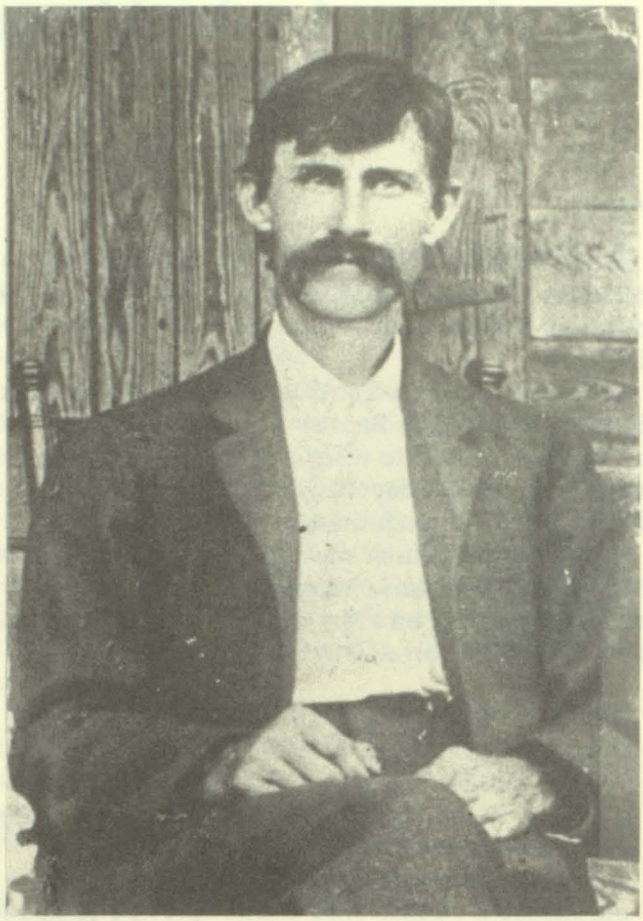

Virtually all its past and present members, and two former pastors, are descendants or close relatives of five couples who were instrumental in founding the church: George and Carolina (Knapp) Evans, George and Sarah (Cabaniss) Young, Allen and Elizabeth (Keith) Gartman, Alexander and Mary (Young) Evans, and John and Frances (Cabaniss) Jones.

In the late 1890s and early 1900s, white Baptists in Fairford traveled by foot or horseback to nearby communities such as Calvert, Citronelle and Red Bud (later renamed Malcolm) to attend church services. About 1905, "circuit riding" services were begun in which the aforementioned couples, on a rotating basis, held church services in their homes. The Rev. William E. Bradley traveled by buggy from his home in Oak Grove (near Georgetown, Mobile County), to conduct the monthly services.

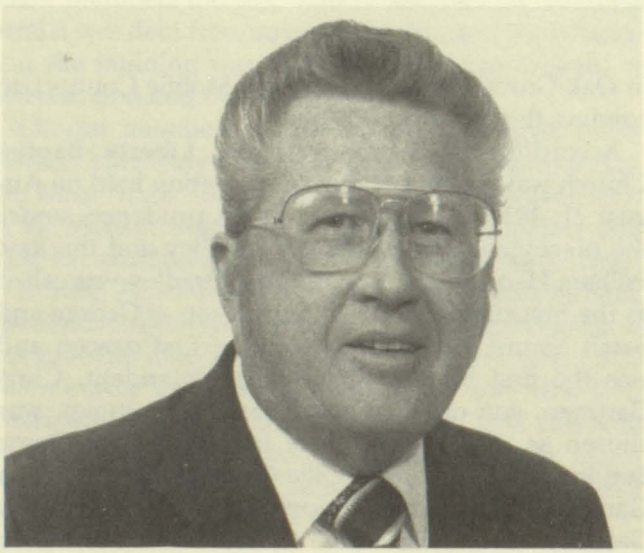

According to church records, Liberty Baptist Church was organized during a meeting held on August 21, 1910, at the John C. Jones residence, under the presbytery of the Rev. Mr. Bradley and the Rev. William Henry Cain. The Rev. Mr. Bradley was called as the first pastor. Berkley Young, son of George and Sarah Young, was ordained as the first deacon and was the first Sunday School superintendent. Chris Gartman, son of Allen and Elizabeth Gartman, was chosen as clerk. There were ten charter members: Berkley Young and wife Ollie Gartman Young, Chris Gartman, Steadman Knapp, Juddie Knapp, Elias Gardner and wife Alice Evans Gardner, Lula Gartman, Walter Young and Pritchett Young. Pritchett Young, who is more than 90 years old, is the only charter member still living.

The Rev. William E. Bradley, first Pastor of Liberty Baptist Church.

The Rev. William H. Cain of Lambert Grove, who assisted in the organization of Liberty Church.

The Rev. Graham C. Tucker has served as Pastor for 19 years.

Fourteen additional members joined the church by the end of 1910 and construction of the original sanctuary had already begun. The wood frame structure was located across the highway (in what is now Liberty Cemetery) from the church's current location.

It contained about twenty handmade pews and lighting was provided by brass lamps mounted over the six windows and by two hanging brass lamps. A wood heater was used during cold months and the congregation used palmetto or turkey wing fans during summer weather. A foot-pedal pump organ provided music for hymns such as "Where Jesus Is," and "Scattering Golden Grain."

John C. Jones was ordained as the second deacon on October 22, 1911, and Alexander Evans became the third deacon on September 5, l914. The Rev. Calvert B. Young was ordained as a minister of the Gospel on October 3, 1914. By the end of 1915, Liberty's membership had increased to 43. The church continued to grow at a gradual pace until there were 53 members in 1929. Membership has remained about the same since then.

In June, 1927, the Rev. Emmitt L. Knapp was called to be the pastor. Mr. Knapp, who developed his preaching style as a youngster by watching and listening to the Rev. Mr. Bradley, was often referred to as Liberty's "home grown preacher." In 1944, under his leadership, plans were completed for a new concrete block church. The church was dedicated at the first annual Homecoming service in August, 1947.

Some of the lumber from the original church as reused in the ceiling of the new sanctuary, which had electric lights, gas heaters and window fans (later replaced with window air conditioners). A new pump organ was donated by Mrs. Addie Pringle. It was played by Mrs. Annie Laura Young Tharp, who has served as the church musician for more than 55 years. Later, during the pastorate of the Rev. James Parker, the church purchased its first piano. The church contained the first choir loft and rooms for Sunday School and Training Union classes.

In August, 1958, the Rev. Lawrence Wayne Haselmaier, Jr., was ordained as a minister of the Gospel.

In April, 1967, the Rev. Graham C. Tucker was called as pastor. Mr. Tucker, who as "adopted" as a member of the church family, has been pastor for longer than any in the history of the church.

Under Mr. Tucker's leadership, a new brick sanctuary was constructed as an addition to the block building, and dedicated in April, 1976. An electric organ was purchased by the church and a piano and public address system were donated by John and Mae O'Neal Young. The new sanctuary also includes a baptistry, central heading and cooling system, carpeting, and stained glass windows. A brick pastorium was constructed adjacent to the church and dedicated on September 14, 1986.

Lilly Grove Baptist Church

The Lilly Grove Baptist Church was organized in 1913. The church was a wooden structure located east of the stoplight in Chatom, on a piece of land donated by the late Mr. Jesse Jordan. It was established under the leadership of the late Rev. Ross Whitley, who was its first pastor. A founder and one of the first deacons was the late Brother John C. Hayes.

The church was partially destroyed by a storm in 1929. The congregation, along with the late Brother Jack Cooper, father of Frank and Jake Cooper, purchased an acre of land from Mr. Jesse Jordan and the church was moved to its present site in 1929.

Two current members of the congregation helped to clear the land for the new building: Deacon Frank Cooper and Sister Julia Cooper. The new building was also a wooden structure. The pastor at the time was the late Rev. Matthew Johnson.

In the 1960s, the church was remodeled under the leadership of the late Rev. Porter McKenzie.

In 1970, a new brick structure with modern facilities was erected under the leadership of the Rev. W.L. Dixon. The Rev. Mr. Dixon resigned in 1973 and now resides in Meridian, Miss.

In April 1973, the present pastor, the Rev. G.L. Warr of Coffeeville, was called.

The church is currently being remodeled, with the addition of a new front, a covered walk and improvements to the fellowship building.

Members of Lilly Grove Baptist Church include the families of Frank Cooper, J.B. Bruton, Nathaniel Franks, Woodrow Holcombe, Perry Johnson, Cleophus Stephens, J.T. Thomas, John Traylor, Frank Rhodes, Arthur Threatt, and members of the Bishop, Donaldson, Lyle, Spencer, Cooper, and Woods families.

The original church building of the Lilly Grove Baptist Church was used for a time by the Baptists and Methodists on alternating Sundays.

Little Bethel Baptist Church

Little Bethel Baptist Church in Vinegar Bend was organized in 1883. The first church was a log building on the Burbank Road. Later the church moved to the Lamp Walker Fork, one-fourth mile west of Monson Corner.

Some years later, a Mr. Turner deeded the church 20 acres of land and donated lumber for a building, which stood across from the present church building, below the Masonic Hall.

Pastors included the Rev. Samuel Faulkner, the Rev. J.J. Jerdan, the Rev. T.H. Holts, the Rev. James Banks, the Rev. H.R. Dungy, the Rev. I.H. McDougle, the Rev. Roe Collins, the Rev. L. Moore, the Rev. George Curtis, and the Rev. Oliver McLemore. The present pastor is the Rev. Theodis McSwain.

Past deacons include Simon Moody, H.J. Simpson, Jim Collins and A.H. Grimes. Present deacons are John Gibbs, Michael Gibbs, Sr., Sylvesta Hendrieth and Walter Bailey. Willie Holloway is the secretary.

In April 1971, ground was broken for a new sanctuary. During the pastorate of the Rev. George Curtis, the church progressed from one pastorial Sunday to two a month, and many new members and auxiliaries were added.

—The Rev. Theodis McSwain and Willie Holloway

Little Sunflower Missionary Baptist Church

A group of citizens who lived in the Hanamock, Piney Woods and the creek area decided to build a church in July 1890. It was named the Little Sunflower Missionary Baptist Church. Before that time, it had been necessary to cross the Tombigbee River to attend church.

The first pastor was the Rev. H. Simmons. Deacons were Brother L. Mounger and S. Mounger.

Under the leadership of the Rev. R. Hopkins, the church was remodeled in 1922, with the assistance of Deacons D. Smith, A. Jackson and J. Darrington.

During 1953–54, the church was moved to a new location between the Southern Railroad and Mounger Creek. This made it possible for members to attend church even when the backwater was up. The Rev. H. Walker was then pastor. The Deacon Board included W. Mounger, chairman, G.A. Fields, treasurer, and B.F. Fields, J.H. Jones, E. Moore and E. Smith. Brothers J.A. Woodward and A. Campbell were trustees.

The present building was completed in 1973 under the leadership of the Rev. E. Jones. The board included Deacon Ben Fields, chairman, Deacon George Fields, treasurer, F. Smith and E. Moore. Joe S. Fields, secretary, Robert Nobles and J. Bettis were trustees and deacons; J.A. Woodward was trustee.

Other pastors have included the Rev. I. Louis, the Rev. L. Moore, the Rev. C.S. English, the Rev. Ford Man, the Rev. James Washington, the Rev. B. Lovett, the Rev. G.W. Shelly, the Rev. E. England and the Rev. I. Perkins.

Other deacons have included Armstead Jackson, E. Jackson, Lee Perkins and O. Perkins.

The Rev. E. Jones is presently the pastor.

—Lee Perkins and Ella F. Bettis

Little Sunflower Baptist Church No. 3

The Little Sunflower Baptist Church No. 3 was established in October 1958. The church branched from the Little Sunflower Baptist Church No. 2, which was later known as Little Sunflower Missionary Baptist Church.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. McKenzie, pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church of Pritchard. Sickness and death came before he could complete his mission.

The pastors of the church have included the Rev. W.T. Long, the Rev. N. Bracey and the Rev. E.E. Herd. The present pastor is the Rev. J.L. Longmire.

Macedonia Baptist Church

Macedonia Baptist Church was located in the Epworth Community about three miles north of the present Epworth Methodist Church.

The church was organized on February 11, 1876, when, according to the church minutes, a group of individuals, "being desirous of being constituted into a regular Baptist Church of Christ do covenant together . . . to keep house for the Lord, assemble ourselves together to bear each others' burdens, love and watch over each other for good and thus fulfill the law of Christ . . ." The minutes of constitution were signed by J.L. Touchstone and R.D. Bounds, as Presbytery, and Jonathan C. Williams, Vincent Williams, Dorcas Williams, Miss C.J. Williams and Jincy M. Williams. After being constituted into a church, the Brethren and Sisters went into conference, elected a clerk and chose a supply.

Articles of Faith (12 in number) and Rules of Decorum (17 in all) were adopted. Names of the charter members were Williams, Grimes, Smith, James, Lucas, Baxter, Hays, Elliot, Robertson, Mason, Strickland and Gardner.

The Macedonia Baptist Church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association through the years of its existence. The church was destroyed by fire about 1917, and never rebuilt.

The church had a cemetery which is still used by descendants of the charter members.

The Macedonia Baptist Church was the host of the 15th session of the Macedonia Baptist Association, October 13–15, 1948.

Pastors who have served the church include J.L. Touchstone, who was the first pastor and served for ten years, H.N. Smith, Berry Boyd, Dave Henson, W.R. Hawk, A.H. Moorman, C.E. Moorman, A.J. Easley, Edgar Wells and Sid Taylor.

Malcolm Baptist Church

The Malcolm Baptist Church is one of Washington County's oldest church buildings. It was built between 1883 and 1890.

The church roll and record book lists members who joined the church in 1883. The members were from Malcolm and from nearby communities.

The land of the church was donated by L. William Calvert to the trustees of the Baptist Church. The deed was recorded in 1887. When the church was organized, the community was called Red Bud. Lumber to build the church was delivered to the railroad crossing near the home of William and Margaret Cater, now the home of Lamar and Blanch Orso.

The church was built by Hubbard Kelley, with the help of men of the community. The elevation for the pulpit and choir was later added by J.B. Cater. As the need arose, four small rooms were added to the church for Sunday School classrooms. Labor was donated by Stanley Durham, who was pastor at the time, and by the members.

In the 1950s, an educational building, large enough to accommodate all church activities, was built.

The piano was donated by the Herman Jones family. The old church pews, pulpit and communion table have been replaced by new ones paid for by members, past members and friends of the church. The center aisle was carpeted in the 1950s.

Mrs. Maude Cater Stallworth served as organist during the early life of the church. Miss Mary Gunn served as organist some years later.

J.B. Cater, one of Malcolm's members, served on the rules committee of the Washington County Baptist Association when the association was organized in 1909. S.A. Adams was pastor at the time.

Malcolm, Alabama

Malcolm Methodist Church

Malcolm Methodist Church, established about 1912, was located on the Bate's Lake Road in the small community of Malcolm in southeast Washington County.

The church, built primarily by Jim Cater, George Killam, Parker Stallworth and Bender Dillon, existed until the early 1940s, when it was sold by the Methodist Conference and removed from Malcolm. Land for the church was donated by George D. Knapp.

People who attended the church included: Arthur Nichols, his wife Nellie and their children Raymond, Joe and Ola; Johnny Jones, his wife Erma and sons Clayton, Hudson and J.S.; Parker Stallworth, his wife Margaret and their children William, Margaret, Robert, Ellen, Sue and Iris; Joe Smith, his wife Beanie and children Willie, Jim, Amarella, Walter, Gregory and Melissa; John Orso, his wife Lillie, and daughter Reba; Jack Nichols, his wife Nancy, and children Robert, Katie, Edna, Eugene, Frank, Ruby, Andrew and Ruth; Zeno Orso and his wife Callie Young Orso; Tank Smith and wife Mollie George Killam and his wife Mittie Knapp Killam; and Edna Clark Knapp, who provided the music.

Pastors included the Rev. Messrs. Reed, Evans, Trotter, Abercrombie and Patilla.

—Donald L. Young, Raymond Nichols, William C. Stallworth and Mrs. Frances Killam Miller

McIntosh Baptist Church

The McIntosh Baptist Church started in 1951 on the front porch of the late Mrs. Tobe Henson. There were six charter members. The Rev. Jimmy Zachary helped to organized the church.

The church later moved to the old two room McIntosh Elementary School, with the permission of the principal, Mrs. Maggie Cater, until a church could be constructed.

A building was constructed by the congregation with the help of carpenters who were then working for Blow Knox Construction company, building the chemical plant at Olin. The carpenters donated their time.

The church now has a building with ample Sunday School rooms, and a pastorium. The church has also purchased land for a new building, at the north end of McIntosh on Highway 43, where the church cemetery is situated.

The present pastor is the Rev. Phillip Brown.

—Mrs. Christine McIntyre
McIntosh, Alabama

McIntosh United Methodist Church formerly Andrews Chapel Methodist

The meeting house at the Tombecbee Mission belonged to no organized congregation. It was built by pioneers at McIntosh Bluff, and the Methodist circuit rider, Lorenzo Dow, who began preaching in the area in 1803, was its minister. It is said, therefore, that "Alabama Methodism was born at McIntosh Bluff."

The first meeting house apparently was burned by Indians. A second building was built under the ministry of Matthew Parham Sturdivant, who was sent to the Tombigbee region in 1808 as the first regular Methodist missionary.

The Methodist Church at McIntosh had been consecutively under five annual conferences by 1832, when it participated in the organization of the Alabama Conference. The church was called Andrews Chapel, after Bishop Andrews of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

On May 14, 1860, John G. Rush and his wife, Glorvina E.J. Rush, presented a deed of gift for five acres of land, to James Sims, Robert Bowling, William Y. Boykin, Daniel James and John G. Rush as trustees for the church.

In 1860, a log church building was erected. On September 12, 1879, another deed was recorded in the Washington County Courthouse, conveying to the church a ten acre lot on which Andrews Chapel was situated. The Rev. James M. Glenn, pastor of Washington Circuit, 1889–90, in a letter, told of preaching in the old log church.

The log building served the congregation until 1952, when the present brick building was built. It was then that the name was changed to McIntosh United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Glenn's letter mentions Sunday School activities at other churches on his circuit, but not at McIntosh, although it can be assumed that Sunday School was taught there during his ministry. The most recently known history of the Sunday School consists of recollections by individuals who attended the Church and Sunday School in the 1920s and '30s.

At that time, the Methodist Church was the only church in the community and people of all denominations attended. Mr. Hooks, who was superintendent of Sunday School, was a distinguished looking gentleman with a long white beard, remembered as a very religious man. Mr. Tillman Lynes and Mr. Johnny Alsobrook were "chanters." Occasionally, Sunday music would be chanted by either of the two gentlemen.

Sunday School classes were held under the shade trees when weather permitted. During inclement weather, classes were either combined or grouped in the one-room church building. Teachers were mothers or young girls.

After Mr. Hooks, Mrs. Rebecca Steadham, the postmistress, was Superintendent for many years. Mrs. Pat Slade, the organist, taught the children songs and presented the Christmas programs. Her sister Mrs. Pender, taught the Junior Class and is remembered as a very faithful and well-prepared teacher. After Mrs. Steadham became disabled, Mr. George Hildebrand was Superintendant. He made dividers which could be pulled into place to separate the classes in the church. Mrs. Effie Harris, another postmistress, followed him as Superintendent and taught the adult class for many years.

Midway Assembly of God Church

A brush arbor revival which lasted for thirteen weeks was held in 1941 with Evangelists Quanita Brown and Lyda Mae Winterholm, in the Midway Community near St. Stephens.

The ground clearing for the original church building began in December 1941. It was originally a Free Pentecostal Holiness Church. However, services ceased to be held around 1944.

In 1947, the Rev. Leroy Beech held a revival and organized the Midway Assembly of God, along with the Rev. Hubert Loper, presbyter.

The deacons were Mac Grimes, Oscar Taylor and Herbert Atchison. Some charter members were Mac Grimes, Betty L. Grimes, Oscar Taylor, Lula Taylor, John Henry Moseley, Martha Moseley, Archie Johnson, Eugene Taylor, Arvinese Taylor and Reecy Palmer.

The Rev. Leroy Beech was elected as the first pastor, and continued serving until June 1948. During his term as pastor the Rev. Sime Morris, Jr., held a revival. He became the next pastor and served until June 1952. He was followed by the Rev. Hubert Loper, who pastored for four years; Mrs. Bertie M. Goodwin, for about three years; and the Rev. T.C. Johnson, for about a year. The Rev. Hubert Loper again became pastor and served until May 30, 1970.

The Rev. Milton Morris was pastor from 1970 to 1974, during which time the parsonage was built.

The Rev. James Irby was called to pastor February 3, 1974, and it was during his pastorate that a new church building was begun. The actual construction began in in 1977 and the first service in the new church was held in the spring of 1978. The church ladies made quilts to help raise money for the building; some worked while keeping grandchildren who were placed in playpens or played under the quilting frames.

The original church building was sold to a church group and moved to McIntosh.

The Rev. Billy Wright became the pastor on July 5, 1978. Within seven years under his ministry, the church had outgrown the new building and construction was begun on a larger one during the summer of 1985. The main construction work was done by James D. Beech, with the men of the church working on Saturdays. The church ladies prepared lunch every Saturday for the men, who were joined at lunch by the children of the church.

The first service was held in the new auditorium on November 3, 1985, with the Rev. Vaudie Lambert, District Superintendant of Alabama as the guest speaker. Also present at the dedication was the Rev. Leroy Beech, the first pastor, who spoke on the church's history Ministers who came from the church include Jimmy Butts, Ray Finney, Steve Foster, Sammy Taylor, Greg Morris, T.C. Johnson, James Stoker and Mitchell Deas.

—Louise M. Clark, the Rev. Leroy Beech, John Henry Moseley, Mrs. Lemmie Johnson, Mrs. Lula Taylor and Mrs. Betty Stoker

Midway United Methodist Church

Midway United Methodist Church was organized in July of 1923. Services were held in the old Baptist Church building approximately one half mile northwest of the present location. The first pastor was the Rev. R.J. Coxwell.

The first Sunday School was organized by Mrs. Eugene Slaughter of St. Stephens, and Mr. Tom Atchison was the first Superintendent.

A drive was begun immediately to raise funds to build a church. In the summer of 1925, construction was begun on a wood frame building at the present location. The building was lighted with kerosene lamps and lanterns, and later with Aladdin lamps, before the Clarke-Washington Electric Membership Corporation installed a power line through the area in 1948, when the church was wired for electric lights. The church building was heated with a wood burning heater. The building was dedicated about three months after construction began, while the Rev. R.W. Judkins was pastor.

The site was chosen because it was mid-way in the community as it existed at that time, and for the same reason the name Midway Methodist Church was chosen.

The church building was also used for public school classes for several years.

When Midway Church was organized, it was placed on the St. Stephens Circuit with four other churches: St. Stephens, New Hope, Pine Grove and Ebenezer. The latter two now operate as station churches.

The present building of cement block masonry construction was begun in November, 1956, and the first worship service was held in the new building on May 26, 1957, with the pastor, the Rev. Percy Norton, in charge.

The Midway Church has a membership of approximately thirty, of whom Mrs. Florence Loper is the oldest living member, and her great-grandson, Danny Mosley, is the youngest.

Millry Assembly of God

The Rev. Maudie Cooper, in 1968, began with her husband, the Rev. Hershel Cooper, the difficult task of forming an Assembly of God Church in the Millry area.

The possibility arose that the old Nazarene church building could be purchased, but there were three others who had first claim to the building. The Coopers fasted and prayed, and the other buyers withdrew, leaving the way clear for the purchase of the building. The Coopers purchased it and received permission to leave it on the same location.

The Alabama District of the Assemblies of God donated $1,100.00 to buy pews, chairs and a pulpit, and in March 1969, the superintendent of the Alabama District of the Assemblies of God, and other church officials, dedicated the Millry Assembly of God.

The Coopers held the first service the following Sunday with only three members attending. By September 1971, the last Sunday of the Coopers' pastorate, twenty-six attended.

At that time, the Coopers felt other callings and relinquished the pastorship to the Rev. Johnny Carter, Jr.

There are nearly 100 persons who attend the Millry Assembly of God, with a new church building.

—David Carpenter.

Millry Baptist Church

The Millry Baptist Church was organized on April 30, 1922, when 29 individuals met in the Millry School auditorium under the leadership of the Rev. H. Morgan Mason.

The twenty-nine charter members were: Mr. and Mrs. W.S. Blount, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Copeland, Mrs. Annie Coaker Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hendry, Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Kimbrough, Dr. W.S. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Knight, Mr. and Mrs. J.K. Mackey, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Moss, Mr. John Moss, Mrs. Mae Moss Armstrong, Mrs. Eleanor Moss Warren, Mr. Henry T. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Roney, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stokes, Mrs. Lillie May Stokes Moody, Mrs. Aleze Tucker Stringer, Dr. and Mrs. A.J. Wood and Mrs. Perry Wood.

Five of the charter members, who had been deacons in their former churches, were accepted as the first deacons of Millry Baptist Church. They were: W.S. Blount, J.W. Moss, Dr. A.J. Wood, J.G. Kimbrough and J.K. Mackey.

The church has been in the Washington County Baptist Association since its founding in 1922.

John T. Cochran, then president of the AT&N Railroad, donated some lots adjoining the railroad as the church site. Materials were gathered "by every honest and honorable means" and the members furnished the labor for the erection of a wooden church building.

The Rev. Mr. Mason guided the church on a quarter-time basis for eight years. He was succeeded in 1930 by his son, the Rev. O. D. Mason, who served on a quarter-time basis for thirteen years. The pastor's salary for the first twenty-one years was $20 per month. During that period, seven Sunday School rooms were added to the back of the church, new and more comfortable pews were installed and Judge Joe M. Pelham of Chatom deeded some lots between the church and the street. The lots became the parking area.

The church called the Rev. W. Leslie Ezell on a half time basis at a salary of $40.00 per month in 1943. Brother Ezell introduced the weekly envelope system. He was succeeded in 1947 by the Rev. Carl Seepe. Brother Seepe's pastorage saw the erection of a two bedroom frame pastorium (later enlarged with a third bedroom) which served until 1970. Brother Ezell returned for a second pastorage in 1948 and served until failing health forced him to resign in 1952. During that period the auditorium was receiled, the pulpit and choir rearranged and a baptistry added, the first such facility in the Washington County Baptist Association. A building fund was started for a new sanctuary.

The Rev. Frank Morrison was called in 1952 and served for six years, during which time the church's efforts were concentrated on enlarging the building fund. In 1957, the Rev. W. Doyle Combs was called as the first pastor on a full time basis. By that time the building fund was sufficiently large to allow construction of a much needed education building. Plans were obtained from the Sunday School Board and in 1958–59 a two story steel, concrete block and brick structure, with thirteen classrooms, an assembly room, two nurseries, a Pastor's study, kitchen, library and rest rooms, was completed.

As the education building neared completion in early 1959, the church decided to borrow $50,000 to built a sanctuary with a seating capacity of 400, including the balcony, with new pews, pulpit furniture, organ, piano and all-weather air conditioning. The building was completed and dedicated June 12, 1960, with Brother Ezell bringing the dedication message. Brother Combs had overseen the construction work and had done much of it himself.

The Rev. William Nutt was pastor from 1964 to 1967, followed by the Rev. Albert Dykeman, 1967–68. The Rev. H.A. Seals was pastor from 1969 to 1970, during which time a new four-bedroom, all electric, brick veneer pastorium was completed at a cost of $32,000. Dr. John Thomas, professor of religion at Mobile College, was interim pastor from September to December 1970, when the Rev. Ernest Y. Clegg was called. He was followed by the Rev. Ferrell Mills (1973–1975), the Rev. Mike Shaw (1976–1979) and the Rev. Frank Tribble (1980–).

Brother James R. Blakeney, Jr., was chosen as the first paid minister of music to live on the field, in 1971. Previously, Bobby Martin had come, during the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Dykeman, to serve as choir director.

Deacons of Millry Baptist Church have included Dr. W.J. Blount, Lewis F. Koen, J. Sam Wood, Curtis Long, Robert J. Blount, W.E. Hill, Jr., Leslie Nobles, C.J. Sullivan, Elmus Wilkins, A.L. Rawls, W.H. Stokley, Cecil Taylor, J.W. Griffith, Harold Hartley, James W. Reed, Herman Carpenter, Joe M. Hill, Ed Williams, Willie Frank Herron, Leon Moorer, Jim Doggett, Jerry Loper, John Hendry Armstrong, Mike Whigham and Tim Grable.

The people of Millry Baptist Church have always been mission minded. In 1926, the church paid $100 to the Southern Baptist Convention Cooperative Program, and over the years a substantial percentage of its gifts have gone to the Cooperative Program and to the Washington County Baptist Association. Each summer the church has had a well-attended Vacation Bible School. A strong arm of the church through the years also has been the Woman's Missionary Union and its auxiliaries.

Millry United Methodist Church

The Millry Methodist Church was organized in 1910, in a school building in Healing Springs. As nearly as can be determined from available records, the following were charter members or joined during the first year: A.J. Anderson, Mrs. A.J. Anderson, Ben Armstrong, Mrs. Fannie Armstrong, Lee Armstrong, Sallie Armstrong, Sidney Armstrong, F.E. Brown, C. F. Carpenter, Clark M. Carpenter, Guy F. Carpenter, Mrs. Guy F. Carpenter, James C. Carpenter, Mrs. Mamie Carpenter, Mrs. Lena Smith Caten, Mrs. Josephine Causey, Maggie L. Causey, Will Hoffman, Mrs. Will Hoffman, Mrs. Hattie Holston, Ira Holston, Ruby Holston, Sam Holston, Mrs. Annie Johnson, Mrs. Mary Herring Jones, Mrs.

Rossie Carpenter Loper, Elvira Moss, Mrs. Bessie Carpenter Phillips, Mrs. Lola Smith Reed, Mrs. Alice Williamson Scott, August Siebert, Mrs. Julia Holston Siebert, J.T. Smith, Mrs. J.T. Smith, Fred Ware, J.A. Whitsett, Mrs. J.A. Whitsett, Mrs. Daisy Anderson Wiggins, F.B. Williamson, Mrs. F.B. Williamson, F.M. Williamson, Vashti Williamson.

Immediately after organization, efforts were begun to get a building erected. R.B. Donovan donated the land on which to build. Mr. Charles F. Carpenter, a Millry merchant, solicited funds for the project, receiving one contribution of $75 from a railroad man whose job brought him frequently to the community. Mr. Carpenter advanced enough money to start construction. Within twelve months the building was not only erected but was all paid for.

This first structure was located approximately where the present building stands, but faced south. It was a one-room house of worship. As it was the only church building in the community at the time, it was used for a while by the Baptist congregation as well as by the Methodists.

Millry became one of the preaching appointments of the St. Stephens Charge, with E.E. Stafford serving as the first pastor. The church was placed on the Chatom Charge in 1932. In 1948, the Millry Charge was formed, as part of the Mobile District. The first pastor to be domiciled in Millry was the Rev. Robert Howard.

Classrooms were added to the original church structure in 1935. Some twenty years later, the need was felt for a new and more comprehensive building. As a result, the present structure was completed in 1959, during the pastorate of the Rev. Mitchell E. Zirlott. It was dedicated within the next five years, while the Rev. H.T. Grayson was pastor.

One of the most faithful and effective laymen during those years of expansion and construction was A.V. Norton. He served on the Building Committee and supervised much of the construction, as well as serving many years as treasurer. He is still active (1985) and serves as Church Lay Leader.

Officers at the time of the church's dedication were: Superintendent of Sunday School: S.B. Simpson; President of MYF: Tommy Carpenter; President of WSCS: Mrs. W.S. Knight; Trustees: Joe D. Blount, Clarke M. Carpenter, Will Hoffman; members of the Official Board: Cecil Carpenter, Clarke Carpenter, Charles Crawford, Will Hoffman, A.V. Norton, S.B. Simpson, Johnny Smith and Frank Taylor.

Windows in the new building were contributed as memorials to: Joe D. Blount, Guy and Florence W. Carpenter, Hortense Vann Carpenter, W.E. Hill, Sr., Will and Cora Mae Hoffman; in honor of Belle and A.V. Norton; and in honor of the ministers.

Pews were placed as memorials to: D.C. Anderson, Fincher Anderson, Joe D. Blount, Charles F. and Alice Carpenter, Jim and Mamie Carpenter, W.E. Hill, Sr., Cindy Holston, Ann and Sam Martin, Annie Laura Norton, David Murray Norton, Charles A. Schultz, David Anderson, and deceased members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The organ was given as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Lee Armstrong, Joe D. Blount, W.E. Hill, Sr., Ira Holston, Paul Jenne, Mrs. W.S. Knight, Frank Taylor and Mrs. Emma Winslow.

It is not certain when the Woman's Missionary Soceity was organized, but it was thriving as early as 1923. It remained strong until about 1978.

Those who served through the years as organists and pianists have been: Brenda Anderson, Sheryl Anderson, Carolyn Carpenter, Pat Crawford, Rebecca Dumas, Mrs. Ethel Grayson, Edie Hendry, Earline Lindsey, Ann Martin, Emogene Norton, Mrs. Thelma Sirmon, Vivian Warren, and Vashti Williamson.

Pastors who have served the church include: E.E. Stafford, J.E. Harrison, H.E. Wilson, Sr., M.T. Moore, J.C. Weston, J.B. Trotter, J.C. Martin, B.F. Brown, C.G. Vickers, Robert Irving Lawrence (1932–35), J.C. Vickers (1936), E.B. Paul, C.W. Bradley, J.J. Smylie, J.R. Hudgens (1947), Robert Howard (1948–49), Karl Richards (1949–50), Karl D. Stringfellow (1950–54), A.B. Clausen, Jr. (1954), T.J. Shepherd (1955–56), Mitchell E. Zirlott (1957–59), Glen S. Sirmon (1960–61), Henry Tate Grayson (1962–65), J.D. Renfroe (1966–70), Woodrow Wilson (1971), Thomas A. Bingham (1972–73), Glen Greenhill (1974–76), Floyd Dyal (1977–78), Charles Wimberly (1979), Danny Barfield (1980), Jeffrey Dolbare (1981–83), and J.A. Lindsey (1984–).

Minerva Memorial United Methodist Church

Minerva Memorial United Methodist Church was organized on May 21, 1947, in the home of Mrs. Emma Causey. Ten members joined initially.

On July 7, 1947, after services, a business meeting was held to discuss the building of a church. Letters were sent, asking for contributions. One was sent to the Rev. E.O. Bradley at Lower Peach Tree. He replied with an offer of considerable financial help and a suggestion that the church be named in honor of his mother, Mrs. Minerva Patterson Bradley.

Miss Jessie Mae Norton gave the first $5.00 to the building fund. Mrs. Emma Causey donated the acre of land.

Mr. C.R. Loper, Commissioner of District 3, had the land leveled, and the next day, July 21, 1947, the foundation was laid by Agnew Bradley, G.H. Utsey, Alfred Guy and Lewis Dunn. Most of the labor was donated. Eight days later, on July 29, services were held in the church.

The church was named in memory of Mr. Minerva Patterson Bradley, mother of E.O. Bradley and Agnew Bradley. The first pastor was the Rev. J.R. Hudgens. The first Sunday School Superintendent was Mrs. Ola Bradley. The first baby dedicated was James Barkley Bradley, grandson of Minerva Patterson Bradley.

On June 19, 1979, lightning struck the original building and it burned. On June 29, 1980, open house was held in the new church building which was constructed on the site of the first building.

Mt. Bethel Baptist Church Frankville

In 1880, members of the community gathered to organize a church. They met in the home of Sister Katie and Brother Dan Robinson. The first members were Brother Dan Gilbert, Brother Nathan Bethany, the son-in-law of Sister Katie Robinson, and Laura Bethany his wife. The first Sexton was Brother Nathan Bethany.

Other members were: Sisters Ann Howell, Mandy Koen, Flora Holcombe, Morning Duff, Cherry Coleman, Laura Granade, Cynthia Sashinger, Lettie Jordan, Vina Washington, Mary Scott and Delsa Butler, and Brothers Edmon Howell, King Koen, Tony Whitley, and Frank Washington.

From the Robinson home they moved to a brush arbor. Members were added: Sisters Rhodie Donaldson, Susie Bumpers, Lennis Donaldson and Lina Perkins, the Rev. Edd Elliott and Brother Doss Perkins. They gave the church a name, Bethel, after Brother Nathan Bethany.

The church moved to a second brush arbor, under the supervision of Brothers Ples Coleman and Tony Whitley. After a time, the congregation moved to Lisa Creek, to a log hut, under the supervision of Brother Tony Whitley and Ross Whitley, gaining members.

In 1887, the present site was chosen. Mr. Turner Johnson, a white settler, gave the black people of Frankville a plot of land for worship and education. Trustees were Brother Henry Donaldson, Sr., Jim Donaldson, Sr. and Edmond Howell. Members were added: Sisters Cotner, Pelmira Holmes, Julia Manuel, Celia Scott, Percilla Carlisle, Mahalia Holcombe, Jennie Boyd, Luvenia Boyd, and Missouri Boykin, and Brothers Bonnie Holmes, Jim Duff, Carter Manuel, Marhell Johnson, Webb Scott, Jack Carlisle, Charlie Turner and Phill Holcombe.

The congregation built a church and named it Mt. Bethel. Brother Doss Perkins was appointed as sexton and the Rev. Ross Whitley served as the first pastor.

Pastors of the church have included: the Rev. Mr. Reed, Bob Lewis, the Rev. Ross Whitley, the Rev. Charlie Long, the Rev. Isaac Lewis, the Rev. C.C. Yates, the Rev. Rufus Beckham, the Rev. Luther Moore, the Rev. Johnnie Raine, the Rev. William Henry, the Rev. George McAllister, Frank Raine, the Rev. Matthew Johnson, the Rev. Walter Turner, the Rev. J.E. Megginson and the present pastor, the Rev. W.T. Land. All but the Rev. Mr. Lang "have been called from labor to reward."

Ordained deacons have included: Henry Donaldson, Sr., Jim Donaldson, Edmon Howell, Willie Donaldson, W.H. Elliott, Henry Donaldson, Jr., Isaiah Jordan, Lewis Howell, Major Williams, Sr., Ross Holmes, Howard Houze, James Bumpers, George Boykin, Surrie Donaldson, Jr., James Craig, Charlie Dixon, William D. Merida, Sam Coker, Willie Dixon, Willie D. Williams and Dock Grimes. The present deacons are: George Boykin, James Craig, Charlie Dixon, Theodore Scruggs, Sr., and William D. Merida. Deacon Merida went into the ministry.

Mount Carmel United Methodist Church

Several years prior to 1886, a small one room building was erected on the site of the present church. It served as a church and school. There was one service each month. The first pastor's name is unknown. The pews were split logs with peg legs. There was a large rock which served as steps; the rock is still on the grounds. The only water supply was a spring that still flows. The Mount Carmel cemetery was started in 1889.

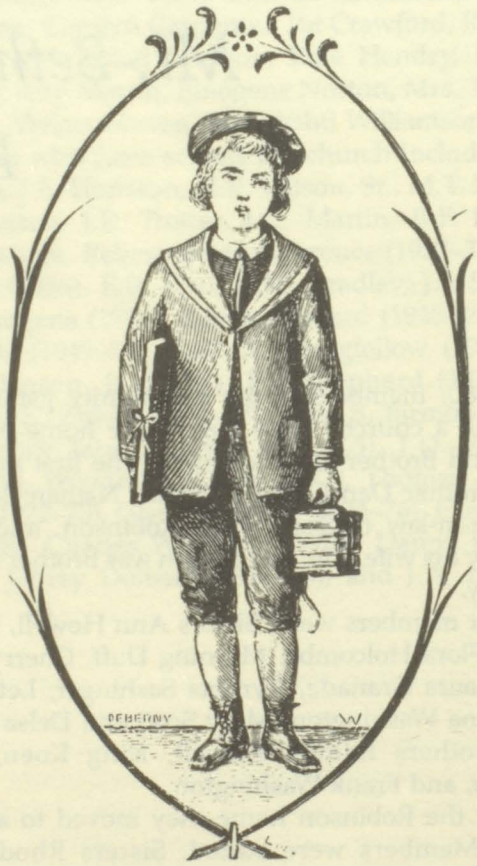

The second church building was erected in 1886. The building had glass windows and slat pews with backs to make them more comfortable for sitting through the long sermons. The first pastor of the second church was the Rev. O.S. Perry. That building served until 1939.

Plans were made in 1938 for a larger and more modern building. The building was begun July 10, 1938. The pastor was the Rev. E.B. Paul. In February, 1939, the first service was conducted by Dr. John Frazier. The sermon text was "On This Rock I'll Build My Church." The first song was "Rescue the Perishing." The church was dedicated July 30, 1939.

The first to respond to the Altar Call was Mrs. Linda Brown Blount. The first members were L.I. (Bud) Clements and Buford Simpson.

The first acre of land was donated by Thomas and Mary Long. Two more acres werer donated in 1959 by Sam and Mary Blount.

Mt. Moriah Baptist Church
Fairford, Ala.

When Mt. Moriah Baptist Church was organized in November 1921, there were few members. Three were baptized on November 8: Lillie A. Weaver, Ruth Weaver and Emily Weaver. Some of the members transferred by letter from another church. The first pastor was the Rev. Mr. Alexander. The first church clerk was Sallie Chestang.

In 1924, L.A. Weathers was pastor and there were about 41 members. The records show that his salary was $1.25 per week.

The first deacons were Van Johnston and Trave Johnston.

R.M. Averitt, O.C. Day, Clayton Jones, Jerald Blackman, Eugene Lawley and Robert Bracewell were pastors of the church.

In 1959, the Rev. Leon D. Neese came to Mt. Moriah Baptist Church from Bethel Chapel Baptist Church in LaGrange, Georgia, with his wife Flossie and children Alfred, Alton, Norman and Barbara.

Mt. Moriah Baptist Church now has a membership of 82, including some of the original members, and a board of five deacons.

Mt. Nebo Baptist Church
later
Mt. Nebo Free Holiness Church of God

The Mt. Nebo Baptist Church was erected in 1895 near Dyke's Lake, near St. Stephens. It was built largely due to the efforts of William K. Stoker.

The Mt. Nebo Baptist Church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association during the years, 1895–1899, when H.N. Smith and A.J. Easley served as pastors. Other pastors who are known to have served the church were the Rev. Henry Young, a Rev. Mr. Martin and a Rev. Mr. Jackson.

A school was also held in the Mt. Nebo Church. Students attending the school included: Mrs. Ella Stoker Howell, Ada Dykes, Lee Stoker, Lena Stoker, Lillie Stoker, Amzie Stoker, Ottie Stoker, Fran Kelly, Bud Kelly, Little Jim Kelly, Mattie Kelly, Lucile Kelly and Mary Kelly. Glozia Atchison was the teacher.

The church was torn down sometime between 1910 and 1915 and the materials used to build a second church, which became known as the Mt. Nebo Free Holiness Church of God. It was built near Stoker Road, on property now owned by Joe L. Faith. It continued to be used as a school and church. For a time, Hannibal and Carrie Stoker and their daughter, Ophelia, lived in the building.

The building was torn down a second time in the early 1940s and rebuilt on the present location on the St. Stephens/Hobson Road, about one mile from Rattlesnake Forks. It remained a Free Holiness Church.

Long-time members included Hannibal and Carrie Stoker, Georgia Richardson, and Matt and Mamie Carpenter.

The Mt. Nebo Free Holiness Church of God is now inactive.

Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church

The Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church began in 1923, when George Washington Fields and his wife Daisy conducted prayer with their children: Frank, Mariah, Emma Pearl, George Guy, Lula Mae, Hundove, Spencer, Izola, Lora and William, in their home.

The prayer meetings grew as the children married and started their own families. Membership was limited to family members because few people lived in Topton at the time. Transportation was mostly by horseback.

After several years, Mrs. Daisy Fields decided a building was needed. An old building at the "Pat Place," about a half mile from the Fields home, was used as a Sunday School and for occasional Sunday services by a minister. The family decided a better building, more centrally located, was needed. In 1933, a building was purchased from the Hudford Quarters and moved to the Fields land on the Topton road.

The first pastor was the Rev. R.M. Averitt, who served as missionary to the Indian communities from 1932 to 1949. He was followed by the Rev. John L. Isaacs and the Rev. E.R. Isbell.

The Rev. Bennett W. Weaver was ordained and called as pastor in 1954 and has continued to serve for more than 30 years. The Home Misson Board continued for some years to provide a supplement for the pastor. The Rev. Mr. Weaver also taught at the Reeds Chapel School.

Deacons of the church have included Guy Fields, Dorsey L. Weaver and William A. Reed. Others who have served include Spencer Fields and Lawrence E. Reed, as Sunday School superintendents; George Guy Fields as secretary of Sunday School; Lora Fields Christian, Timothy L. Holm, Lillie Nell Hodge, Katrian Fields and R.M. Averitt as Sunday School teachers; Lucile R. Weaver as president of the Woman's Missionary Union (WMU); Ethel Snow, Lula Mae Weaver, Emma P. Weaver, Arline Reed, Leola Isbell and Hundove Reed, as WMU workers; Norma Weaver Holm and April Hodge, musicians; Nola Copland and Renetta Fields, Young People's directors; Shawn F. Weaver, Bible School teacher; and Mabel Malone, Home Mission Board representative and Bible School teacher.

The Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church now has a sanctuary and education building of block. The old wooden building was sold in 1966. The church has an annual Homecoming, attended by some 300 persons. The membership is about 60, with an average attendance of about 35.

For many years the Indian churches—Reeds Chapel, Mt. Pleasant, Oak Hill, Mt. Moriah, Rivers, Averitt Memorial and Lambert Grove—had an Indian Association of Churches, but many have joined the Washington County Baptist Association recently.

Mount Sinai Baptist Church

Mount Sinai Baptist Church was organized by the Rev. William Norris in the early 1900s. It was located in the Calvert community, according to Matte's History of Washington County.

Mt. Stoney AME Zion Church

The Mt. Stoney AME Zion Church of Leroy was established in 1900. The church was built on a half acre of land donated by Dabney Palmer.

Elizabeth Yeldon Richardson, a successful insurance agent, and James C. Johnson are active members of the church.

New Bethel Baptist Church
Copeland

The New Bethel Baptist Church was located in Copeland and was in the Washington County Baptist Association from 1934 to 1939. The Associational Minutes state the church was organized in 1914.

The pastors were G.F. Robinson in 1934 and Sam Patrick from 1935 to 1939. The church clerk was Warren Dearmon. The messengers to the 1934 session of Associational meeting were George Dearmon, Warren Dearmon, John King, and Belle and Betty Dearmon.

This church was probably the re-organization of the Bethel Baptist Church which was active from 1885 to 1914.

New Bethel Holiness Church
Millry

The New Bethel Holiness Church was established in December, 1950, on land donated by Robert and Laura Dearmon.

The present building was erected in 1969.

The New Bethel Cemetery was established in 1966, on land donated by Silas and Vera Jones.

New Haven Baptist Church

The New Haven Baptist Church was organized in 1938. It is located between the Laton Hill and Copeland communities.

The church was an active member of the Washington County Baptist Association from 1939 to 1944. In 1939, the Rev. Sam Patrick, the pastor, represented the church at the Associational meeting. The church was not represented in 1940–42, but in 1943, Elmer and Henry Dunn were representatives.

The Rev. Mr. Patrick was the pastor until 1941. In 1943–44, the Rev. Rufin L. Strickland was pastor.

Rosetta Dunn was responsible for the church's name: New Haven Missionary Baptist Church. John Dunn furnished the logs for the construction of the church and Ernest Scarbrough sawed them. Elmer Dunn as a young boy helped to haul the logs by ox-driven wagon. The first building was built with free labor, except for Collie Strickland, the head carpenter, who was paid $1.50 a day.

The first Sunday School superintendent was Henry Dunn. The church clerks have been Henry Dunn, Houston Givens, Glynn Stewart and Elmer Dunn, the present clerk.

Deacons of the church have included William Hennis, J.E. Craiger, Sid Scarbrough, Wheeler Philips, Henry Loper and Wyman Bradley, who is presently deacon.

Pastors serving the church since 1944 have been R.N. Durham (missionary), F.H. Cochran (missionary), James Lock, Paul Ruberts, Willie Mitchell, Vernon Carmon, Otis McRamy, Luke Rabourn, Curtis Childs, Thomas Barbour, Elmer Scarbrough, Frank Dickens, Jimmy Long, Jan Mathanie, William Beard, Bud Hicks and the present pastor, B.N. Driskell.

Ministers ordained in the New Haven Baptist Church were Henry Loper in 1971 and Randy Philips in 1972.

The membership is now fifty-eight. The church is in the Macedonia Baptist Association.

Chatom, Alabama

New Hope United Methodist Church
Frankville

New Hope Church is located two miles east of Frankville. In 1871, Church School and Worship Services began to be held in a school building of log construction near what was to become Peavy's Landing. The Washington Mission, as it was called, was supported as a mission undertaking by the St. Stephens Methodist Church and its pastor, Brother Perdue.

In 1874, the mission was renamed the New Hope Church.

The land was deeded to the church by Mrs. Euphenia Blount Richardson, October 27, 1879. Later a wooden frame building replaced the log building. A third building was completed in 1963 and dedicated in 1964. Mr. Dock Dearmon of Bladon Springs gave an acre of land for the cemetery.

Many dedicated ministers have served the New Hope Church. The Rev. John A. Green, born March 6, 1849, died while serving the church and was buried October 17, 1881, in the church cemetery. The church has been on the Bladon Springs and Chatom charges, and is now on the St. Stephens Charge. The Rev. Tommy Stringer is the present pastor.

—Mrs. Ruth E. Carpenter

New Light Baptist Church
Burbank, Ala.

New Light Baptist Church was founded May 8, 1889, by the Rev. F.L. Carlton. It progressed slowly and there were financial problems, as there usually are in constructing a building.

After the Rev. Mr. Carlton, the Rev. Benson Young became pastor. In 18 years under his leadership, the church grew from a very small membership to a large one.

The church was rebuilt in 1913 under the leadership of the Rev. Matthew Johnson. Through the years the membership has grown.

Mothers of the Church have included Sisters Mollie Carter, Frances Allen, Brisilla Woods, Viola Turner, and Jessie M. Turner. Sister Rosie Hayes is the present Mother of the Church.

Past deacons have included Louis Malachi, Levi Campbell, John Boykins, W.C. Carter, Earl Carter, Charlie Milton, Albert Turner, Lee McDonald, Nathan Milton, Troy Milton, D.V. Turner, Mann Mickles and Curry Washington. Present deacons are William Hayes, A.C. Bivens, Earl Woods, Franklin D. Turner, Douglas Woods, Sip Bivens and Floyd Bivens.

Pastors of the church have included the Rev. F.L. Carlton, the Rev. Benson Young, the Rev. G. Marsh, the Rev. L.W. Norris, the Rev. T.T. West, the Rev. Matthew Johnson, the Rev. C.A. Jackson, the Rev. G.W. Lovett, the Rev. A.W. Jackson, the Rev. H. Hinton, the Rev. S.A. Miles, the Rev. James Washington, the Rev. H.H. Simmons, the Rev. T.J. Davis, and the Rev. John Gary.

The church was rebuilt in 1976 under the leadership of our present pastor, the Rev. Dr. T.A. Pace.

New True Light Baptist Church
Koenton

The New True Light Baptist Church was organized in 1926. The congregation worshipped in a school building until a church was built near the school. The Rev. Mr. Yates was the first pastor.

The first deacons were Riley Mitchell, Charlie Traylor and Amos Craig. Julius Mitchell was the first church clerk and Mrs. Annie Lee Traylor was the first Sunday School superintendent.

Mrs. Mrs. Jane Mitchell was the first convert to be baptized into the church.

The Rev. Mr. Creighten was the second pastor, and the Rev. A.U. Elliott was the third. During Mr. Elliott's pastorate, the present church building was begun near the cemetery and additional land was purchased to expand the cemetery.

The church building was completed during the term of the fourth pastor, the Rev. Mr. Eavens. He found the church building too small and encouraged the membership to add two small rooms in the front, with folding doors which could be opened to accommodate overflowing crowds.

The Rev. C.H. Ruffin was the fifth pastor. During his pastorate new pews and pulpit furniture were installed, the walls were paneled and the floor carpeted.

The Rev. W.C. McNeil, the sixth pastor, organized and trained the choir. During his pastorate, the fellowship hall was expanded, a kitchen and rest rooms added and the entire building was re-roofed.

The seventh pastor is the Rev. John Robinson. Deacons are C.D. Stallworth, S.H. Washington, Pleas Leverett and Jimmy Hicks. Past deacons have included Shortie Fox, Sam May, Robert Hicks, Sr., Earnest Lee Johnson, Joel White and Walter White, Sr. Other officers are: Mrs. Mary J. McCarter, Sunday School superintendent; Gwendolyn Johnson, secretary; Pearlie Hicks and Lillian Mitchell, ward leaders; Louise White, clerk; and Yvonne Webb, financial secretary. Ushers are Pearlie Hicks, Drucie Holcombe, Dora Rogers and Rosetta Hicks. Regie White is the musician and Shirley Hicks is the choir directress.

North Oak Grove Baptist Church

North Oak Grove Baptist Church was organized about 1912. The church became a member of the Washington County Baptist Association in 1913, with W.A. Johnson as pastor.

Other pastors included J.W. Singley, O.D. Mason, H.A. Johnson, Robert M. McIlwain, A.H. White, Ralph Lee, James Morgan, Alvin E. Tucker, Norman Hester, Arthur Collum, Jerry D. Estes, Floyd Tharpe, John Hill, H.G. Martin, Bennie Aikens, J.R. Lightsey, Scotty Hogan, Jeff Golden and Wesly Nichols.

The above information was taken from the Minutes of the Washington County Baptist Association. No further information was obtained on this church.

Oak Hill Baptist Church

The Oak Hill Baptist Church, near Calvert, was organized by the Rev. and Mrs. John Isaacs, Southern Baptist Home Mission workers. It was started at the close of a Bible School and revival. The Rev. Pat Brock of Carrollton assisted. The Lockler Memorial Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon sponsored the church for a time.

Subsequently, the Rev. Vaughan Parden became pastor, followed by Gregg George, a student at Mobile College. The Rev. E.R. Isbell, a Baptist Home Mission Board worker, has assisted the church.

The building was dedicated in January, 1957.

Omega Baptist Mission

The Omega Community is located near the Kirkland Community, toward Red Creek, between the Chambliss Bridge and the Kirkland Store. A little schoolhouse stood in this small community and was used as a church for two or three years, from about 1949 to about 1951. The Rev. W.L. Ezelle, pastor of the Millry Baptist Church, was responsible for organizing this small church.

During the summer of 1950, Brother A.J. Scarborough of Chatom helped with a Vacation Bible School at this mission church under the Rev. Mr. Ezelle, the Bible School principal. His wife, Mrs. Georgia Scarborough, and Lula Bell Williams also assisted in the Bible School. All were members of the Laton Hill Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mack H. Jones, a retired pastor of the Chatom Baptist Church, who occasionally attended the little mission church services, recalls the faithful work of the Scarbroughs in the Bible School. He said Mrs. Scarbrough taught her class with her baby in a high chair by her side, and had three other small children. He said that "there weren't many mothers who would sacrifice to do a service for the Lord and a small community."

Brother A.J. Scarbrough was asked by the Rev. Mr. Ezelle to preach a revival at night during the Vacation Bible School week, and he accepted the honor.

The Omega Mission no longer thrives, but many who attended are working in the churches which they subsequently joined.

—Mrs. Barbara Rawlings Waddell, oldest stepdaughter of Brother A.J. Scarbrough

Pine Grove United Methodist Church
Leroy

It is not known when Pine Grove Methodist Church was organized but it is assumed to have been an organized church with a cemetery prior to 1860. The earliest grave in the cemetery is that of John J. Barnett, infant son of Irvin and Elizabeth J. Barnett, who was born January 27, 1862, and died February 6, 1862.

The 1863 minutes of the Methodist Church of St. Stephens, Alabama Conference, states that the Rev. Ezekiel T. Nabors was appointed to the St. Stephens Circuit in 1862 and never missed an appointment until August, 1863. Then feeling a premonition of his approaching end he "set his house in order and at his post sweetly fell asleep in Jesus" at the home of Mr. Robert J. Bowling. Mr. Bowling lived in a two story log home between Carson and Prestwick. The Rev. Mr. Nabors is buried in an unmarked grave in Pine Grove Cemetery; the exact place is not known. Many graves in the cemetery date to the early 1860s.

Pine Grove was the only church in the community and all denominations worshipped there until 1904, when the Leroy Baptist Church was organized.

Older members of the church recall that the present building is the third building. The first was a log building that was followed by a wooden frame structure. The wooden structure was torn down about 1906 and the present church was built, with Mr. T.H. Roberts as contractor.

Pine Level Baptist Church

The oldest record found of the Pine Level Baptist Church states that it was organized in 1886 at what was known as Frog Stool. No building was constructed there. The church was later located where the graveyard presently is situated. Another building was erected in 1911.

One of the oldest living members recalls that lumber was bought from a mill in Chatom, and hauled in an ox wagon by Forrest Anderson. Men of the community—Con Thompson, Josh T. Jones, Toe Humphrey, Fletcher Beech, "Little Jim" Beech and Dan Stoker—did the carpentry.

Brother Francis Leroy (King) Moss was the first to preach in the church and the Rev. Andrew Jackson Easley was the first called pastor. Charter members included Forrest and Eliza Anderson, Toe and Lillie Humphrey, Fletcher and Annie Beech, Dave and Ellen Thompson, "Little Jim" and Lena Beech, and Mrs. Ann Jones, whose husband remained Methodist.

Pine Level joined the Washington County Baptist Association in 1911, with Turner Anderson as a delegate. I.E. Easley was Sunday School Superintendent for most of the period until 1929. The membership was 30 in 1910 and gradually increased to 128 in 1927.

School was often taught in the building for five months of the year. The building also had a Farmers' Union room upstairs, which was used for some time. The church felt the effects of the Depression in the 1930s and was inactive until 1943.

The Rev. C.B. Young then became pastor and several new members were added. In 1944, the old frame building was demolished and a block building constructed, with a sanctuary and three Sunday School rooms. By 1953, three extra rooms were added.

The first deacons in the new structure were J.R. Howell and J.E. Jordan. Brother Young was followed as pastor by a New Orleans seminary student, Stanley Durham. In 1950 he became the first Associational Missionary.

Pine Level is now housed in a modern structure with ten Sunday School rooms, central heating and cooling, and modern conveniences.

Pine Tree Holiness Church

Florrie and Clayton Tate.

The Pine Tree Holiness Church was begun with the Rev. Lydge Jordan conducting services under two pear trees in the yard of Daniel Grimes in 1932.

Mrs. Daniel Grimes played the organ. Myrtle Dearmon recalls that around 100 people from neighboring communities attended the services.

After several services, the group moved to another location near the present home of Nolan Tate. There was no money to build a church, so benches, made of boards placed on posts in the ground, were devised. The benches were located under huge pine trees, therefore the church was called Pine Tree. It was initially called Pine Tree Assembly of God, and the present name was adopted later.

Kerosene lamps were hung from the trees for night services. Most of the people walked to church, because few had wagons. Myrtle Dearmon recalls walking to church through ice, and icicles hanging from the pines. Services were long and sometimes lasted until 2 a.m. Grove meetings were a common worship in which men and women faced in opposite directions, kneeling, their voices blending in prayer.

Later a tabernacle with sides and roof, but no floor, was built. The families sold chickens, syrup, potatoes and other produce to build the tabernacle. Worship services continued in the tabernacle until 1940, by which time there was a drop in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Tate deeded an acre of land in 1940 for the building of a church on the present site.

The Rev. Elton K. Davis was the pastor for a short time. Louise Ford recalls that there was no place for Brother Davis and his family to live, so he put cardboard around a frame, and his family lived in the "cardboard house." Brother Davis was famous for his divine healing prayer lines.

The Rev. Gay Johnson came to the church in 1943 and was the pastor for about sixteen years.

In 1962, the community built another church on the same site. Later, new benches were installed and Sunday School rooms and a fellowship hall were added. The altar was rebuilt using the same wood. "Many tears have been shed, and many prayers have been prayed on this altar," a member said.

One of the pear tree stumps remains in the place where the church was founded more than a half century before. The land is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Tate.

Pleasant Hill Baptist Church

In the early years of this century, several people constituted a Sunday School in the old Irby School house. Brother Jerry Carpenter, 83 years of age and an active deacon, recalls how it struggled for survival.

In 1908, a one room building was erected. The church clerk was Mrs. Hattie Loper. The name of the minister is not remembered.

In 1919, Pleasant Hill Baptist Church was constituted and became a member of the Southern Baptist Convention and the Washington County Baptist Association. The first printed record of the church is in the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes of 1921. The pastor was the Rev. R.L. Strickland of Koenton. The clerk was Mrs. Lillie Irby. Membership was eighteen and regular preaching services were held on fourth Sundays.

In 1925, the pastor was the Rev. J.L. Bozeman of Toxey. In that year, the Sunday School had an enrollment of forty-two, with an average attendance of twenty-four. The superintendent was W.E. Purvis of Koenton.

From 1938 to 1943, the church was inactive. In 1943, the Rev. Nathan Durham revived it. Pleasant Hill became a member of the Landmark Missionary Baptists in the 1940s. However, in 1950 the congregation voted to return to the Southern Baptist Convention.

In the late 1940s the old church was moved to the present location and rebuilt. In 1951, when the Rev. H.A. Johnson was pastor, the church gained a Training Union.

The church began full time services in 1954, when the Rev. Robert E. McIlwain was called as pastor. In 1958, when the Rev. Mr. McIlwain was pastor, a W.M.U. was organized with four members.

The Pleasant Hill Baptist Church has grown from eighteen members to 105 members.

Providence United Methodist Church

The area in which Providence United Methodist Church is located began to be settled about 1813. The first land holdings were from land grants. In 1823, the Washington Country Courthouse was moved to a site two miles east of the present church site on the road which for many years was known as the Bladon Springs Road.

Anson West's History of Methodism in Alabama Conference refers to the existence in 1824 of the Providence Methodist Society. William Gregory, a member of the Society, is named as one of several trustees to whom a deed was made after the purchase of a lot upon which to build a house of worship for the Methodist Episcopal Church in Mobile, on May 10, 1824. West also refers to Providence as a Society on the Chickasawhay Circuit to which the Rev. Job Foster was appointed by the Mississippi Conference in 1832, and states that the Providence Society was situated in Washington County, Alabama. The Society probably was organized by one of the early ministers appointed to the Tombecbee Circuit, which was formed by the Methodist Episcopal Circuit in 1808. It is evident that Providence was first organized as a "society" of people who assembled for worship, and later organized as a church.

No records are known to exist regarding the date of the first church building. Oral tradition, however, indicates that four buildings have served the congregation. The first was a log building on the hill northeast of the present building, near the cemetery. By the late 1850s a second and larger building had been constructed near the present building.

The second building "fell" during a worship service about 1862. It is not known whether the building fell off its blocks or whether the walls collapsed causing more extensive damage. Mrs. Huldah Whitsett Holston, who was born in 1852, recalled the incident which occurred when she was a child. "Miss Huldah," as she was affectionately known, recalled that it was a day on which all the surrounding families had gathered in the church, and the overcrowding caused the building's collapse. When the building began falling the minister promptly jumped out a window. Miss Huldah saw the floor slanting and promptly followed the minister's example.

Mr. Cleston Whigham, Sr., recalled that his father Willie Whigham, who was born in 1862, was a babe in arms at the time and was tossed out a window by his mother to his father, Thomas Whigham, who happened to be outside the building. There are no stories of injuries resulting from the falling of the building.

There is a family story about Dr. John Wesley Wood (grandfather of Mrs. Edmund O. Bradley), who moved into the area in 1856. A large slave owner, a Mr. White, secured his services to treat his slaves among whom a epidemic of smallpox raged. Dr. Wood, who lived about three miles northwest of the church, had to pass the church on his way to White's plantation which was east of the church and near the Washington Country Courthouse. For fear of carrying the infection to his own family, he changed clothing in the church, presumably leaving the contaminated clothing in the church upon each visit.

No one recalls when the third building replaced the fallen one. The fourth and present building was constructed in 1954.

For the past 65 or more years a Sunday School has been held. Previously, the church program was limited to worship services. The church as always been on a charge or circuit. In 1900 the church was on the St. Stephens circuit with services held at 11 a.m. on fourth Sundays. Mrs. Maggie Lea Causey Kerr, presently the oldest member, remembers attending services with her family shortly after 1900. Later it became part of the Isney circuit.

Activities carried on in conjunction with the community included box suppers, an annual barbecue and Children's Day. Throngs of people attended the barbecue which featured a free dinner and a "stand" where ice cream, lemonade (in big zinc tubs) and other "goodies" not readily available to country folks were for sale. Members recall that the barbeques "gave the politicians a fertile field in which to work." These events occurred mainly in the 1920s.

Children's Day was held each summer, with a prepared program and dinner on the grounds. Mrs. Ella Bishop Wood (Mrs. Edmung O. Bradley's mother) directed the events.

For several years during the 1920s, the church was visited by the Ku Klux Klan on the last night of the annual protracted meeting (revival). A dozen or more Klansmen in full regalia would march down the church aisle and stand around the chancel, speaking not a word as they presented an offering. After the minister thanked them for the offering, they left immediately.

In 1934, a large tree being cut by a crew of loggers fell on the church building. The building needed extensive repairs. Local workers responded, taking about two years to complete the task.

Old records are lost but it is recalled that early members included J.N. Daniel, Thomas Whitsett, R.N. Whigham, Thomas Whigham, D.M. Williamson (who is said to have helped build the first three buildings), John Smith and members of the Dunbar, Worsham, Holloman, Conner, Causey, Clement, Shaw and Simpson families. Almost all present members are descendants of early members. Recently an eighth generation descendant of an original member attended a service.

Land on which the church is situated was deeded in 1909 by John W. and Mary Williamson Wood, although it had been in use for many years.

Two members who entered the ministry were John A. (Jack) Whitsett, who grew up in the church and Edmund O. Bradley, who was converted and received the call to ministry while attending Providence Church. Both served to retirement in the Alabama and Alabama-West Florida Conference.

—Mrs. Edmund O. Bradley

Red Bank Baptist Church

Red Bank Baptist Church, located about 11 miles west of Chatom on Highway 56, was organized between 1875 and 1880, with J.L. Touchstone as leader and pastor.

The church was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association, 1880–1889, under the name, Red Bank Baptist. J.M. Warrick was pastor in 1885–1887, and H.N. Smith was pastor in 1888–1889.

During 1890–1895, the church was called New Hope Baptist and was still in the Macedonia Baptist Association with pastors D. Henson in 1890, F.L. (King) Moss in 1891–1892, A.J. Easley in 1893–1894, and D. Henson in 1895.

Still in the Macedonia Baptist Association, the church was renamed the Red Bank Baptist in 1896–1912, with D.G. Robertson as pastor.

A windstorm destroyed the church about 1912, and in 1913 the church was rebuilt with J.A.W. Lowry as pastor. The church was renamed again: Seven Oaks Baptist Church, because of a circle of seven oak trees surrounding the building. In 1914, the pastor was A. Martin. W.H. Garland was pastor from 1915 to 1917, when the church doors were closed.

Charter members were the Givens and Scarbrough families.

The Red Bank Baptist Church cemetery is located on the first church site. It is still being used by the families of the church founders.

—Barbara Waddell

Red Bud Baptist Church

The Red Bud Baptist Church was located at Nannaliubba, Calvert's Station, in Washington County. It was one of several churches in Washington and Choctaw which in 1883 formed the Antioch Baptist Association, meeting with the Isney Baptist Church in Choctaw County.

The Red Bud Baptist Church had no pastor in 1883, and was represented by letter in the new Association. In 1885, the church was represented by letter in the hand of J.W. Cabaniss and did not have a regular pastor, but the membership was twenty-five.

In 1887, the Red Bud Church was represented by W.H. DeWitt, who was the pastor, E.R. Vaughn, who was the clerk, and W.T. Smith. That year there were fourteen baptisms, and the membership was thirty-six.

E.R. Vaughn, as the pastor, R.L. Jones and Robert L. Johnson represented the church in the 1888 Associational meeting. The clerk was W.T. Smith. The membership had increased to forty.

The minutes of the seventh session of Antioch Baptist Association stated that Red Bud Church was not represented for 1889. That was the last mention of the church in the Associational minutes. The church probably disbanded or may have consolidated with another church.

Reeds Chapel Baptist Church

George W. Reed, Sr., as a youth of 14, became concerned about his fellow Indians who were being dispersed from the Kushak Community (later known as "Coon Shack"). He felt the need for a church to keep his people together. In 1830 he led in the establishment of the first Indian church in the present-day Mowa Community, which became known as Reeds Chapel Baptist Church.

The first church was a brush arbor. Later a log church was built, and around 1850 another log church was erected. Between 1850 and 1900, few records were kept and much of the history of the church was lost.

On May 2, 1903, Mr. Reed passed away, but his children and grandchildren provided the "backbone" to keep the community alive and growing.

Early ministers included the Rev. J.W. Rounds, who was called in 1900, George R. Weaver, in 1916, Charlie Stevenson, in 1917, Earley Reed, Sr., in 1922, Earley Reed, II, in 1924, and Clifford Reed, in 1931.

In 1922, a school was established in the chapel, with Martha Waldon as the school teacher. Blanche McCay became the teacher in 1927.

In 1932, the Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Averitt came to the Indian field missions to minister and teach the children. Brother Averitt and his wife stayed in the field until 1949.

In 1948, a block building was constructed, but in 1957 the building burned. The people of the community immediately channeled their money and time into completing the present brick building in 1959. It is one of the largest churches in the Indian community. It has a sanctuary, Sunday School room, kitchen and fellowship hall.

Reeds Chapel is known as the "Mother Church" of the Indian community. Homecoming is held each year. The church as three services weekly.

Pastors after Brother Averitt have been: John Isaacs (1950–1957), E.R. Isbell (1957–1962), Earl Walker (1963–1964), Boyd Stanford (1965–1967), Leon Harris (four months in 1968), F.E. Parker (1969–1978), I.C. Snow (1978–1985), and Wenfred Easley (1985–).

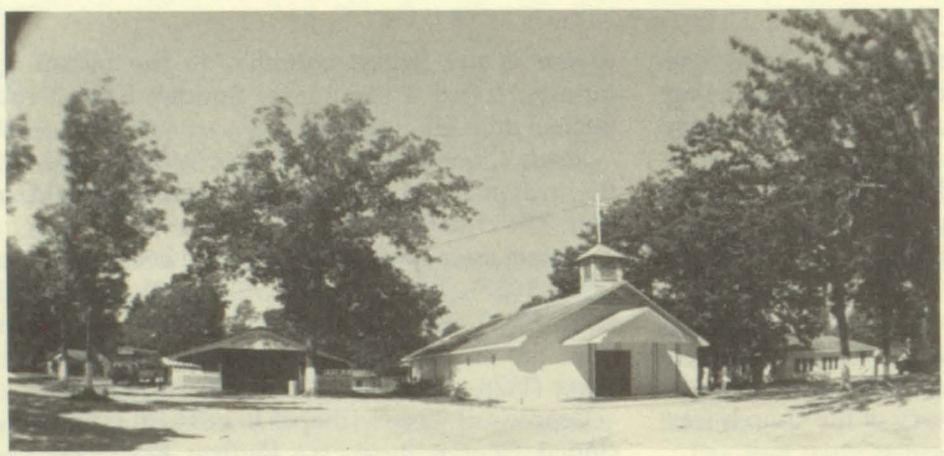

Deacons of Reeds Chapel Baptist Church have included George Reed, Jr., Reuben Reed, Pat Lane, William "Coon" Weaver, Pat Reed, Shomo Weaver, Melton Weaver, Leon Taylor, I.V. Orso and Denny Weaver.

Reynolds Holiness Church

In 1931, Hughie Reynolds told residents of the community that one day while hunting cows, he had seen a vision of an angel riding a horse and a vision of a church building on the hilltop where he saw the angel. The residents decided to build a church there.

Mr. Reynolds donated logs which were cut free of charge at a nearby sawmill. Residents of the community donated nails and other supplies, as well as their labor. A rough lumber building with board shutters for the windows and a board roof was erected. The building was remodeled several times and in 1972 was moved so that a new church could be built.

Reynolds Holiness Church.

After the new church was built in 1974 and dedicated in April 1975, the old church building was used as a dormitory for camp meetings until it was struck by lightening and burned, June 1, 1979.

Those who helped construct the original church included the families of Hughie Reynolds, Melton Mott, Simmie Reynolds, Dempsey Dees, Lee Gilley, Lizzie Powell and Jim Reynolds.

Today a number of buildings stand on the hilltop, which to some is known as "Glory Hill."

Camp meetings were started in 1950 under a rented tent by the pastor at that time, the Rev. Gay Johnson of Millry. The wooden Tabernacle was built in 1953, when the Rev. Mr. Pate was pastor. It is used mainly for camp meetings. It has been enlarged and remodeled.

The church's first kitchen was a tent stretched on the back of the old church, for use during camp meetings. Several years later a small wooden kitchen was built and in 1967 a concrete block building for a kitchen and dining room was built. In 1980, the building was remodeled and is equipped with a ten burner stove with two large ovens, a freezer and a refrigerator.

Restrooms and a bath were built in June–July 1979.

The church has a concession stand which was enlarged and remodeled in 1978 to be used during camp meetings. Food and soft drinks are sold after services and the proceeds go into the buildings and grounds fund.

In 1968, six concrete block cabins were built to house visitors for the camp meetings. The cabins have half baths and are air conditioned. In 1982 the church received a gift of $10,000 from Mrs. Ina Cruitt, with which four new cabins were built.

In the early 1950s the church purchased one of the old Alabama Village houses in Mobile and moved it to the church grounds. It was remodeled for use as the pastorium, and was renovated in 1984.

The church cemetery was placed into use in 1954. In 1978, a chain link fence replaced a wire fence around the cemetery.

Three have been called into the ministry from Reynolds Holiness Church: the Rev. Cecil Dees, the Rev. Terry Mosely and the Rev. Wilson Reynolds.

The church had less than ten members when it started in 1931 and now has forty members.

Rivers Baptist Church

The Rivers Baptist Church is nestled in the wooden area of southern Washington County, near Sims Chapel. The church is often referred to as "the little church with the big heart."

Rivers Baptist Church grew out of home Bible studies and some open-air, brush arbor revival meetings in the Clifford Rivers community. This area is located about two miles southeast of the Sims Chapel Post Office.

Charter members of the Rivers Baptist Church were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rivers and their family, Mr. Jim Rivers, Mrs. Katie Back, Mrs. Francis Rivers and the Bigee Rivers family.

The first organized ministry started in 1937 with the Rev. Mr. Potella, who had earlier started a Methodist ministry among the Choctaw Indians of Mobile County. Due to doctrinal conflict (many of the people of the area had been oriented to the Southern Baptist doctrine), Brother Potella found it difficult to get started an effective ministry. After a few months, he turned the work over to Southern Baptist missionaries who were already working with the Indians of Washington County.

The early ministry included a native minister, the Rev. Clifford Reed, who served from the early 1940s to 1950. The Rev. Early Reed took over the ministry at that time and remained until 1961. The Rev. Gallasneed Weaver began his ministry in 1961 and is still the pastor.

The ministry at Rivers Baptist Church has taken place under the auspices of the Southern Baptist Home Missions program. The church is part of the Indian Baptist Association of Washington County and in 1982 joined the Washington County Baptist Association.

The Rivers Baptist Church is located on a two acre lot which contains the sanctuary, educational building and a cemetery.

Roberts Chapel

Roberts Chapel is a splinter group from Lang Chapel. This church was organized in 1915. Some of the pastors were, Rev. J.T. Jackson, Rev. Pennington and Rev. Joseph Williams.

Rocky Ridge Baptist Church

A Baptist church was established by the Rev. T.E. Tucker and the Rev. J.L. Causey in 1892. Later a log church and a school was built on a rocky hill about one-half mile east of the present Highway 17, north of Chatom. The cemetery remains and is known as Rocky Ridge Cemetery.

Residents of the area included the Loper, Moss Schell, Coaker, O'Neal and Armstrong families.

The church and the school were moved from their original site in 1917. The church was placed across the road and railroad north of the present road to Barlow and a small one-room school was constructed nearby.

The Rocky Ridge Church was a member of the Antioch Baptist Association from 1892 to 1909. Pastors during that period included: G.E. Mize, 1892; J.L. Causey, 1893–1894; H.M. Mason, 1899–1902; W.E. Fail, 1903–1904; E.M. Chace, 1905–1906; and J.H. Mackey, 1907–1909.

Rocky Ridge was the host church in 1909 for the organizational session of the Washington County Baptist Association. It remained in the Association until the church was disbanded in 1925. Pastors during that time included: J.H. Mackey, 1909–1910; W.A. Darden, 1911–1912; H.M. Mason, 1913; D. Chester Mason, 1914–1920; R.L. Stickland, 1921; G.L. Griffin, 1922; and F.M. Matthews, 1923.

Rutan Baptist Church

The Rutan Baptist Church began one Sunday afternoon in 1947, when the Rev. Mack Jones preached to a group of Rutan community residents. Later services were held in a tent on an old airport.

In 1948, Mr. John A. Richardson, owner of the Chatom Ice Plant and a farmer, proposed to build a church. Mr. Ellis Jordan and Mrs. Annie Jordan gave land for a church, on the Abb Richardson Road. Mr. John Richardson hired labor, bought materials and directed the construction of the building. In 1950 the building was completed and dedicated by the Rev. Mack Jones and the Rev. Mr. Durham.

Early church members were Lloyd Richardson, John Richardson, Chuck Scaff, Abb Richardson, Joe Richardson, Jim Flint, Dick Elms, Richard Elms, Junior Wheeler, Hardy Loper, Robert Flint, Will Dykes, Tom Brown and Herman Dumas, and their families.

The first pastor of the Rutan Baptist Church was the Rev. Aubrey White.

In 1955, Sunday School rooms were needed. In 1955–56, the building was lengthened and four large rooms were added. Materials were solicited from area lumber mills by Mr. Abb Richardson. The church also paid for some materials and hired carpenters, but the church men and boys, from the Rutan and Howardtown communities, also gave their labor. Subsequently, rest rooms were added.

Pastors who have served the church include the Rev. Coody Golf, the Rev. White Singley, the Rev. Gordon Payne, the Rev. Larry Blount, the Rev. Russell Wray, the Rev. Emmett Knapp and the Rev. Hugh Judge.

Deacons have included Richard Elms, Hardy Loper, Charles Scaff, Herman Dumas, Joseph Richardson, Alton Wheeler, Jr., John Thomas Brown and Prentice Flint.

The Rev. William I. Hutto, Jr., is currently the pastor.

—Mrs. Jewell Flint

Sand Ridge Baptist Church

The first church in the Aquilla community was the Sand Ridge Baptist Church, which was built in 1879. The church had a cemetery beside it and was located a half-mile south of the William Cupp homestead.

In 1897, Mr. Lewis Barry, as trustee, bought forty acres of land from the Farmers Loan and Trust Company. The church was located in the northwest corner of the tract.

As population shifted northward, the Sand Ridge Baptist Church lost membership, and a new church was started in 1903. The new church was located about three miles north of the Sand Ridge Baptist Church and was called the Chapel Hill Baptist Church. The Sand Ridge church was abandoned, became dilapidated and was torn down.

In 1933, the Sand Ridge Church of God was erected on the site.

—The Rev. Larry Daugherty, pastor of Sand Ridge Church of God

Sand Ridge Church of God

In June 1932, the young evangelist Pittman Taylor came into the Red Creek-Aquilla area preaching the Pentecostal message. Brother Taylor had been saved under the ministry of the evangelist D.A. Waters from Gilbertown. Brother Taylor was described as an "old fashioned, Hell-fire and brimstone preacher." He was a tall, thin man, almost blind from an accident he suffered while dynamiting stumps in his early 20s. He is credited with starting the Pentecostal movement in the Red Creek-Aquilla area. His ministry continued in the area until he died of double pneumonia in his late 20s.

The first service Brother Taylor held was under some oak trees beside the road, about one-quarter mile south of the present Sand Ridge church. He also held services at several other locations, including the Canaz Old Field Schoolhouse, and various brush arbors.

The revival services resulted in several converts who began to hold services in their homes. In the early part of 1933, the first Sand Ridge Church of God was erected.

Some converts suggested that the church be built in the Beasley Settlement. However, Frank Bradley, a young evangelist, along with others, suggested the site on which the Sand Ridge Baptist Church had been located. It was more centrally located and a cemetery was there.

Men who help build the first church building were: the Rev. Frank Bradley, Lloyd Beasley, Haywood Coxwell, Thomas Hartley, Alvin Guy, Buddy Beasley and Vidney Odom.

Ladies in the church made quilts and did other projects to help defray the building expenses. They included Mrs. Catherine Odom, Mrs. Julie Hartley, Mrs. Jimmie Hollinghead, Mrs. Leonna Beasley, Mrs. Evelyn Beasley, Mrs. Betty Hollinghead and Mrs. Velma Bradley.

The church was originally named the Aquilla Church of God but the cemetery beside the church kept the name, Sand Ridge Cemetery. Gradually, the church came to be called Sand Ridge Church of God.

The first building was a small, wood-framed structure raised on wood blocks. It was heated with an old oil drum, with a door cut from its center, in which wood was burned. Two white gas lanterns hung over the pulpit. Often during services someone would have to get up and add wood to the fire or pump up the lanterns. Electricity did not come into the rural community until the late 1940s. The common modes of transportation were horse or horse-drawn wagon. Horses were tied to oak trees on the grounds.

Commonly, during revivals, the little building was full and many stood outside, looking in through the windows. At times, the offering was taken outside as well as inside.

In 1941, T.S. and Ruth Boykin deeded an acre of land to the church for $1.00.

From 1933 to 1948 the Sand Ridge Church of God was a member of a small organization called the Gilbertown Church of God. In 1948, several churches and clergymen of the Gilbertown Church of God merged with the Cleveland, Tennessee, Church of God. The Sand Ridge Church chose to become independent, which it remains.

Some years after its erection, the original building became too small for the congregation. A larger cement block building was erected next to it, and the old building was torn down.

A revival held in the block building in 1953 by the evangelist Sister Money-Arch lasted six weeks and added thirty converts to the church.

Under the leadership of the Rev. Jimmy Lloyd, a new auditorium, with seating for 150, was added to the block building. After the new auditorium was completed in 1976, the block church was renovated into a fellowship hall and Sunday School rooms.

In 1979, a double-wide mobile home was purchased for use as a parsonage. It is located on the south side of the church.

The church celebrated its 50th anniversary in 1983.

Pastors of the Sand Ridge Church of God have included: the Rev. Frank Bradley, Bill and Claudia West, Alma Barker, Stance Rigney, Carl Beach, A.D. Hale, Herlon Willard, Ronnie Baker, Murphy Breland, Willie E. Hutto, Joe Bronson, T.E. Long, Nathan Henderson, Therman Morrison, Milton Morris, Jimmie McDuffie, Comer Breland, J.C. Long, Bunyon Rigney, Bob Stafford, Adam West, Johnny Walley, Jimmy Lloyd and Larry Daugherty.

Seven Oaks Baptist Church

The Seven Oaks Baptist Church was organized in the early 1900's by members of the Red Bank Baptist Church which was destroyed by windstorm.

The church was located about twelve miles west of Chatom on Highway 56, near the home of Ernest Scarbrough. Seven large oak trees which shaded the church were the inspiration for the name.

The Seven Oaks Baptist Church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association during the years of its existence, 1913–1917. In 1913 the pastor was J.A.W. Lowry and the membership was thirty-seven. In 1914 the pastor was A. Martin, and in 1915, W.H. Garland. In 1916–1917, the church was not represented, nor was a pastor named in the associational minutes. The church clerk was H.G. Dunn, from 1913 to 1915. The Sunday School superintendent was Jim Givens from 1913 to 1914 and in 1915 was E.E. Heibner. The secretary was Grant O'Connor.

The church disbanded in 1917. Mr. and Mrs. Silas Scarbrough, who were married in 1918, lived in the abandoned church for a few years.

Early members of the church were the James Givens and Silas Scarbrough families and the Dunn and O'Connor families.

After being inactive for more than forty years, the Seven Oaks Baptist Church was reorganized on June 2, 1961. The charter members were descendants of charter members of the earlier church.

The church is still in the Macedonia Baptist Association and today is called Seven Oaks Missionary Baptist Church.

Seventh Day Adventist Church

The Seventh Day Adventist Church was established about 1880 and used until about 1900. The preacher was Jesse M. Elliott of Bladon Springs.

The church was located on the road leading to Charlie Jordan's home. Tom Jordan built his home next to the church. The two homes are still standing, but the church building is not.

The church was a small one room log structure.

Shady Grove Baptist Church

The Shady Grove Baptist Church is located in the Shady Grove Community, on the Millry/Bucatunna Road, about four miles west of Millry. It was organized in 1865, according to the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes.

Shady Grove has been a member of three Baptist Associations. It is not known when Shady Grove joined the Macedonia Baptist Association, as records of the Association, from its organization in 1880 to 1884, have been lost. The 1885 Associational minutes indicate the pastor was Reuben Thomas Shinn, and the membership was twenty-two persons. The pastor in 1888 was J.L. Causey, with thirty-three members.

In 1888, Shady Grove was accepted into the Antioch Baptist Association, with J.L. Causey, the pastor, and J.H. Tate, the clerk, as delegates. The church remained in the Antioch Association until 1909. Pastors who served the church in the Antioch Association were George W. Fagen, 1889–1890; J.L. Causey, 1891–1892; W. West, 1893; H.M. Mason, 1894–1896; William F. Winslett, 1897; C.S. Ray, 1898; J.L. Causey, 1899–1900; J.B. Hamberlin, 1901; W.E. Fail, 1902–1904; J.F. Brock, 1907; J.H. Mackey, 1908, and Elijah Tucker, 1909. Clerks during that time were J.W. Lane, W.M. Kenny and H.C. Causey.

The eighth annual session of the Antioch Baptist Association was held with the Shady Grove Baptist Church, October 9–12, 1890.

William F. Winslett was ordained and licensed to preach in 1896 by the Shady Grove Church.

The building that now stands in the fourth. The first building stood near the southwest corner of the present graveyard. It served as a house of worship, a school and a civic center. Shady Grove served a considerably large area, in which most of the inhabitants were Baptists. Family names in the membership were Atchison, Causey, Crane, Dearmon, Dixon, Fail, Felt, Ford, Grandquest, Hargar, Harris, Humphrey, Hendry, Jenkins, Kenny, Knight, Loper, Mills, Norton, Smith, Sullivan, Thompson, Waites and Yelverton.

When the second building was built, local patrons of the school built school desks, patterned roughly after the "store bought" ones of the day. It is said there were no windows on the east side of the building, perhaps to block the view of the graveyard. Pews were made of sturdy pine. The second structure, built just west of the first one and in line with the old building, was quite near the road, which at that time was very near its present location.

Special events held at the church included meetings of the Farmers' Grange and the community Christmas tree—a big tree with a gift for everyone.

After the dug baptismal pool proved inadequate, new members were baptized in the Causey Mill Pond, located about three-quarters of a mile from the church. The mill pond was also the community swimming hole.

James H. Tate was a deacon of Shady Grove Baptist Church for many years until his death in 1914. Hartsfield Causey was clerk of the church for many years until he resigned for health reasons in 1930, and died in 1931. These two gentlemen were brothers-in-law and good friends, but they had disagreements, including one concerning the placing of a musical instrument in the church. About 1909, an organ was installed in the church.

According to the oldest living member of the community, the Shady Grove congregation steadfastly upheld and enforced the church vows. On one occasion, a group of members of both sexes attended a Saturday night dance or "frolic" in a home in the community. The congregation decided to "church" them. The accused were seated on a long pew, and given a chastising and a chance to repent. All except one individual acted affirmatively and were forgiven and granted continued membership. One individual insisted he had done "nothing wrong" and the congregation "churched" him out of the membership.

At the third annual session of the Washington County Baptist Association, held November 9–11, 1911, the Shady Grove Church became a member of the Association, with W.A. Darden as pastor, H.C. Causey as church clerk and B.L. Hendry as Sunday School superintendent. The membership at the time was forty-seven.

In the early 1950s the present building was erected.

Shiloh Baptist Church

The Shiloh community is four and one-half miles off Highway 45, on County Road 8. The church was organized in January 1906, and when a building was completed the next year it was named Shiloh Baptist Church. The area took its name from the church. Early settlers were Prines, Currys, Wilks, Baxters, Windles, Turners and Hollands. The nearest town is Deer Park.

The church used the school building for awhile, then erected its own building. The Rev. J.D. Wilks served as supply pastor for about a year. The next pastor was the Rev. Mr. Chase, who was there for two years. Services were conducted once a month. The first deacon was D.W. Prine; the church clerk was E.O. Langner. Other early pastors were A.J. Easley, W.E. Lockler, R.L. Aaron, J.A.W. Lowry, Earl Brooks and J.M. Hall.

In 1921, the church was moved to the present site, and rebuilt by Walter Dees, Toulmin Cooley and Thad Holland. Pastors of the church included the Rev. Mr. Wells, C.B. Young, Bob Barker and Glenn W. Savell.

During the pastorate of the Rev. Jimmy Leitch, 1943–44, a new church was built by Joe Cowart. By 1949, it was too small and under the leadership of the Rev. Lester Dennis, the present church was designed and built by Mr. Ervin Turner, with the assistance of Mr. Clinton Prine.

In 1954, the Rev. Paul Grube was called as pastor and a full church program was begun. He resigned on April 30, 1967. Pastors since then have been the Rev. Ted Yarbrough, the Rev. Howard Quinley, the Rev. Ralph Lee Aaron, the Rev. Terry Blair, the Rev. Norman Brockway and the Rev. James Young. The Rev. David Albritton has been pastor since 1981.

In 1971, the church was brick veneered. In 1974, a chain link fence was installed around the cemetery. In 1978, an addition to the pastorium was built. In the same year, work was done on the recreational building, including new cabinets, tables, and curtains. The ladies of the church donated new tablecloths, Recently, the young people of the church bought bookshelves for the church library.

The Shiloh Baptist Church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association in its early years, then came into the Washington County Baptist Association, with which it remains.

Sims Chapel United Methodist Church

In 1850, Mr. James Sims and his slaves built a log chapel near the site of the present Sims Chapel Methodist Church building. The chapel is shown in Map Book A in the Washington County Courthouse. In 1892, the log building was torn down and a new one built. The land for the new church was conveyed to the Trustees of Washington Circuit, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by Virginia and W.G. Pringle in a deed dated May 28, 1892. The Trustees at that time were Zeno Orso, W.M. Dunn, H.M. Posey, B.F. Porter, J.A. Orso, F.M. Pringle and F.A. Webb.

In 1907, the second building was destroyed by a tornado. The congregation rebuilt in 1908. The third building was a one room white frame building with a bell that could be heard all over the community. There were no Sunday School rooms, so classes were held outside when the weather permitted. There were only two weddings held in this church building. The first was the marriage of Texas Bates Pringle and Dr. Edgar Burroughs; the other was that of Ruby Johnston and Earl Smith on January 2, 1949. The third building served the congregation until 1949 when the present frame church was built. It was built by Dan Smith of Calvert and Fred Wiley.

An unusual feature of the present building is its hardwood floor. It is made of short pieces of wood, set in a decorative pattern. John Johnston, chairman of the Board of Stewards at the time, said the small pieces were used because they were cheaper than regular hardwood flooring. Women and children of the church helped put the floor down. "They had sore knees and backs from the long hours of work, but were very proud of the floor," a member said. Much of the labor and lumber for the building was donated.

The first worship service was held in the present church building on December 10, 1949. The trustees at the time were John Johnston, E.M. Odom and W.R. Odom. The first wedding in the building was held on January 4, 1953, when Audrey Johnston and Davis M. Henson, Jr., were married.

In the mid-1970s, Mrs. Addie C. Pringle gave some land directly behind the present building to the church for a fellowship/educational building. A house that was to be moved to make way for the four laning of Highway 43 through McIntosh was purchased, moved to the site, and converted into a fellowship/educational building.

At one time the church was on the Calvert Charge with the pastor serving the Calvert, McIntosh and Sims Chapel churches. It is now on the Sunflower Charge. The pastor served the Bethel, Sims Chapel and Sunflower churches for many years, and now serves only Sims Chapel and Sunflower. The Rev. David Pierce is the present pastor. The parsonage is located in Sunflower.

Some of the former pastors include: A.W. Jones, William Hargrove Morris, S.H. Cox, W.W. Dawson, James McCloud, A.J. Lamar, J.A. Green, J.W. Hammer, A.J. Coleman, James Glenn, J.A. Seale, J.W. Henson, D.P. Slaughter, C.C. Wilkerson, C.T. Reid, W.R. Evans, K.K. Rushing, R.J. Coxwell, H. Tate, R.I. Lawrence, W.P. Pateilco, J.C. Weston, G.O. Hughin, B.J. Brown, H.W. Bryne, I.W. Chalker, L.F. Faust, E.E. Stockdale, O.O. Rascoe, P.A. Lynch, A.B. Green, O.M. McCrory, P.B. Daniels, J.J. Smith, H.M. Conner, L.E. Powell, Arnold Tillman, Michael Simmons, Dan Thrower, E.E. Greenhill, Kathryn Gatewood, Richard Whitley, James Perry, Benjamin Clark and Lester Mitchell.

Family names on the current church roll are Bailey, Dickinson, Goldman, Jackson, Johnston, Little, Nichols, Odom, Orso, Parnell, Robinson and Shipp.

Records are not available on members of Sims Chapel who have become pastors, but the Rev. Alvin Sullivan, who has been pastor of Bethany Baptist Church in Whistler, Alabama for many years, attended the church and taught Sunday School as a very young man.

Methodist Camp Meetings at Sims Chapel

Mrs. Cora Barnett of Citronelle, who is in her 90s, remembers her mother, Mrs. Emma Stella Hester, telling about her family traveling from Citronelle by wagon to attend Methodist camp meetings at Sims Chapel, around 1879. The location was near the present Sims Chapel Methodist Church. The site is owned by the Pringle family.

Mrs. Selma Bowling Pearson, born in 1874, also went to camp meeting at Sims Chapel by wagon and team from Leroy. Her father, the Rev. Theodore C. Bowling, was the Methodist pastor on the Escatawpa Circuit, about 1882.

It is believed that the camp meetings began to be held at Sims Chapel in the mid-19th century and continued into the early 20th century.

Many people traveled to Grandfield or Sims Chapel by train from Mobile, for the camp meetings. The stopping place for the train was a giant magnolia tree abut one-fourth mile from the campsite.

The campsite at Sims Chapel was chosen, probably, because it was centrally located. People came form Citronelle, Mobile, Eight Mile, Indian Springs, Mount Vernon, Satsuma, Calvert, Deer Park, Fruitdale, Yellow Pine and many other areas.

The concept of the camp meeting came from the "old country," where the farmers banded together after the harvest for fall festivals. They stayed for days, eating, dancing, visiting and having thanksgiving services. Many of those who attended the Sims Chapel camp meetings had brought this tradition south from Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.

The Sims Chapel area was a farming section, in which corn, cotton, velvet beans, sugar cane, potatoes, vegetables, sheep, hogs, cattle, pecans and fruit were raised.

At the start of the camp meetings, several acres were cleared out and a big "brush arbor" was built, of poles covered branches and leaves. Apparently, no permanent buildings were erected. Visitors spent nights with nearby families. They dug fire pits and suspended the cooking pots on poles which were supported at each end by forked stakes. They also used iron skillets which had legs and handled covers. Hot coals were placed under the skillets and on the covers, for baking bread. Frying was done in uncovered pans. Some made ovens of clay.

The camp meetings sometimes lasted for two weeks. People brought flour, meal, cakes, preserves, jellies, jams and fruits. Meats, such as pork, beef, mutton, sausage, ham and chicken, were preserved in buckets of lard. Corn for animal food was brought. One family brought their own milk cow.

Outhouses were set up over excavated holes, on one side of the camp for women and on the other side for men.

Many slept in their wagons on blankets or quilts. Others slept on the ground, on cowhides, bearskins and piles of staw. Saddles made pillows. Women gained privacy by hanging blankets around their sleeping places.

Wash water was brought from a nearby spring and wooden tubs cut from lard barrels were used for bathing. Bates Creek and a branch nearby were used for bathing, swimming and stock watering.

Fiddles and guitars provided music for singing and dancing on a hard earthen floor. Games also were played, and sweethearts and beaus paired off to talk.

Worship services were held each morning and evening. The regular preacher was sometimes joined by an itinerant preacher. Sometimes the itinerant preachers had bottles of tonic to sell.

Sims Chapel is named for Daniel and James Sims who homesteaded in the vicinity in 1848. Sims Chapel is shown on a map, believed to be ca. 1870, in the courthouse.

South Oak Grove Baptist Church

The Oak Grove Baptist Church now is called the South Oak Grove Baptist Church. The church is located near Fruitdale and was organized in the early 1880s.

From 1885 to 1917, the church was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association. The Oak Grove Baptist Church hosted the seventh session of the associational meeting in October 1886, the sixteenth session in October 1895, the twenty-fifth session in October 22–24, 1904 and the thirty-fourth session in September 1913.

During the years, 1885 to 1917, the pastors were J.L. Causey, Dave Henson, R. Brewer, J.V. Stringer, W.E. Fail, H.M. Mason, A.H. Moorman, J.H. Mackey, R.L. Aaron, T.F. O'Gwynn, H.A. Johnson and J. W. Singley.

Clerks serving the church during that time were George Lee, J.W. Coaker, J.W. Baxter and J.H. Williams.

In 1919, the South Oak Grove Baptist Church entered the Washington County Baptist Association, with J.W. Singley as pastor. The church has hosted several meetings of the Association.

Later pastors have been H.A. Johnson (serving a second time), J.W. Singley (serving a second time), Jack Walker, H.L. Barnes, Herman Clark, Kenny Garner, David Albritton, Robert Sones, Martin Viers, Danny Graham, Ronny Skipper, Bob Bars, and presently, Bob Brown.

Spring Bank Baptist Church

Spring Bank Baptist Church, located about four miles west of Chatom on Highway 56, was organized in the early 1800s. A tradition in the Moss family states that Francis Robert Moss, who was born in England, was responsible for the organization of the church. He, his wife Nancy, and a child are buried in the church cemetery, inside a rock enclosure.

The church was first known as The Baptist Church of Christ of Spring Bank, according to the early church minutes. In the 1940s, it became the Spring Bank Baptist Church.

Services were first held in a brush arbor and then in the homes of members. A one-room log church was erected in the mid-1800s, just inside the gate of the present cemetery in front of the Francis R. Moss family graves.

The church was listed in 1883 as a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association, with J.M. Warrick as pastor. In 1886, the association minutes listed J.L. Causey as pastor. In 1889, Spring Bank requested and was granted dismissal from the Macedonia Baptist Association.

The Church joined the Antioch Baptist Association in 1888, with J. L. Causey as pastor. He served the church until 1890, followed by David Henson in 1891, J.L. Causey again in 1892, and E.R. Vaughn in 1894. No pastor was listed in 1893. In 1895, the church left the Antioch Association and rejoined the Macedonia Association. From 1895 to 1900, David Henson was the pastor. In 1901, the church again left the Macedonia Association.

The second church was built about 1895 as a one room structure. Mrs. Callie Moss Mills was on the committee to raise money for the doors and windows. Mrs. Mollie Powell (wife of Jimpsey Powell) helped to get clapboards from Beaver Dam Swamp. Mr. William (Bill) Moss hewed blocks for the church from pine logs, and Mr. Alex Williams helped to hew the 10 × 10 sills.

There were two entrances, one for women and one for men. The "Men's Corner" is recalled by older members as being occupied by Uncle Taylor Hill, Tom Lathan and Bew Baxter.

Clerks of the church have included Hayden W. McIlwain, James F. Reynolds, J.J. Loper, John A. McMillan, Thomas J. Dees, Ada Hill, J.E. Craiger, Gaston Moss, Sr., Mrs. Zackie Carpenter, Edgar Williams, Mrs. Vivian Caten Vann (serving twice), Mrs. Lena Loper and presently, Mrs. Sylvia Moss.

In 1901, the church rejoined the Antioch Association, with H.M. Mason as pastor. When the Washington County Baptist Association was organized in 1909, Spring Bank joined it. W.L. Brumbeloe was pastor at the time. Spring Bank was the host for the third session of the Washington County Baptist Association, November 9–11, when W.A. Darden was pastor.

In the early 1930s, Sunday School and BYPU were organized and growing membership led in 1940 to the addition of four rooms and a porch to the church.

In 1940, preaching was held two Sundays each month. The most important period in the church's history was August, 1940, when thirty-four members were received for Baptism.

In 1950, the church was wired for electricity and window fans were installed.

In May, 1954, full time services began, when Brother I.V. Couch was pastor. In the same month, the M.V. Loper heirs gave the church a deed for the land on which the church and cemetery were located. The church later pruchased three additional acres.

A pastorium was built in 1956, and Brother Robert H. (Bobby) Smith was the first pastor to live there.

May 3, 1961, was the "kick-off" day for a campaign to build a new church building. An educational building, with an assembly room, office, two nurseries, classrooms, baths and a kitchen, was completed in October 1964. In 1968–69, a sanctuary, which seats three hundred and is centrally heated and cooled, was added to the educational building. The pastor at the time was Brother Harlis G. Marint, who came in 1967. The steeple was added to the church in September 1977.

Several young men have been called into the ministry from the Spring Bank Church: Douglas Turner, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Bruce Turner of the community; William K. (Bill) Richardson, a later member of the church; and Mack Williamson, a later member. Jim and Karon (Lathan) O'Neal have answered the call for mission work.

Pastors who have served the church since 1901 are: H.M. Mason, A.J. Thames, J.L. Causey, W.E. Fail, J.F.

Flynt, Stanley Durham, Harry Kirkley, Davis H. Thompson, J. F. Fulbright, I.V. Couch, Robert H. Smith, Charles Long, Jimmy Rogers, Ted Yarbrough, H.G. Martin, Warren Haney, Don Miller, Ben Melton, Roger Gilbert, David Moree, and presently, Dale Norris.

Pastors and their wives who have gone into foreign mission work were Brother and Mrs. Davis Thompson (deceased), Brother and Mrs. Ted E.

Yarbrough, and Brother and Mrs. Charles Long.

Deacons in the 1920s and '30s included Zackery Taylor Hill, George M. Carpenter, Roland Baxter, William T. (Will) Lathan, Jimpsey S. Powell and J.W. Carpenter. Later deacons were A.J. McMillan, Gaston Moss, Sr., R.A. Davis, James Willard Moss, Wilson Palmer, Thomas Williams and Larry Turner.

Spring Hill Baptist Church

According to the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes, the Spring Hill Baptist Church was organized in 1926. A site was chosen just east of the cemetery and in 1927 Mr. Wes Herrin built a structure 24 feet wide by 50 feet long. The church was named Spring Hill because of the natural overflow spring located just behind the church. Through a wooden trough the spring supplied a baptismal pool, 150 feet north of the church.

The Spring Hill Baptist Church is listed in the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes starting in 1927, when J. Lafate Bozeman was pastor.

The church was lighted by coal oil lamps and the pews were homemade benches. Mrs. Lelia Redding played an old portable foot pedal organ.

In 1928, when the Rev. Mr. Bozeman resigned, the church was closed and remained so for ten years.

Mrs. Huldah Strickland felt burdened because the doors of the church were not open for services. Mrs. Strickland said, "If the Lord needs anything done you might as well go ahead and do it." She was at the time a member of the First Baptist Church in Chatom, to which the Rev. Lee Gauldman was pastor. She received encouragement and help from Brother Gauldman.

On the first Sunday in October, 1938, Brother Gauldman went home with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Strickland and after dinner held church services in the home of Mr. Turner Anderson. This was the first step toward reviving Spring Hill Baptist Church.

The old church building was being used as a residence, so the new congregation had to wait until it was vacated. They met initially in members' homes, then held services in an old hewn log house. The men sawed blocks to make benches. When it rained the benches were moved around to avoid the water pouring though the roof. In cold weather a fire was built in the fireplace, though the chimney had a hole in the back of it.

Finally, the church moved to the original building and services were held once a month. Improvements were made including the replacement of the coal oil lamps with carbide lights. After Brother Gauldman, pastors included the Rev. E.C. Arnold, Warren Rogers, Robert McIlwain, Carl Seepe and the revival preacher Ola D. Mason, whose father, the Rev. H. Morgan Mason, had baptized Mrs. Strickland when she was twelve years old.

In 1948, the membership decided it was time to build a new church. The membership had declined due to the closing of the Ingram Day Lumber Company and the abandoning of the community of Ellisville. There were seventeen members and $149.00 in the treasury. However, said Mrs. Strickland, "You just don't know what the Lord will do until you try him." The members brought a load of blocks from Mobile and started building on a site donated by Mr. W.T. Flint. A year later the new church was dedicated and debt free. The old church was sold for $75.00.

The Rev. Aubrey White was the new church's first pastor. He began preaching once a month, a short time later twice a month and then full time. He was followed by the Rev. Ferrell Mills, Robert Cassibry, Eugene Hendrix, Jimmy Chris, William H. Ponder (1960–1962), Bobby Smith (1963–1965), Elige Steadham (1965–1966), and Ferrell Mills (1967–1971).

In 1967, work began on the present educational wing, and the building of the present sanctuary began in 1968. The steeple was added in 1978.

each case cited.

Brother Bobby Martin was music director from 1976 to 1979. The Rev. Al Rawls came as the minister of music in 1980 and remained until 1983. Bruce Hovan was music director (1985–1985) followed by Lawrence Beech (1985–).

Brother Mills was the first pastor to live in the pastorium when it was located across the road from the fire tower. During his second pastorate, the pastorium was moved to its present location. A groundbreaking service was held on May 26, 1985, for a new pastorium across from the Jordan Fire Tower.

St. James AME Zion Church

The sanctuary of the St. James AME Zion Church at Calvert was destroyed by a tornado in April of 1980. The church had been remodeled in 1915 by the Rev. Mr. Skinner. Members of the church plan to rebuild.

St. Paul Baptist Church

St. Paul Baptist Church at McIntosh was organized in 1881. The church was remodeled in 1910 under the leadership of the Rev. B.D. Beton.

The church was rebuilt in 1949 under the leadership of the Rev. H. Reed and dedicated in 1954. At the time of the dedication, the pastor was the Rev. E.V. Barnes.

In 1974, the church was rebuilt under the leadership of the Rev. W. Griffin.

St. Stephens Baptist Church

It is difficult to determine when the St. Stephens Baptist Church had its beginning, but Riley, in his book on Alabama Baptists, reported that a new house of worship was built at St. Stephens in 1882.

On November 2, 1883, delegates from several church met at Isney Church, Choctaw County, Alabama, to constitute the new Antioch Baptist Association. The sermon was delivered by Elder George M.

Parker, pastor at St. Stephens and Bladon Springs. Messengers representing St. Stephens Baptist were Nathan Bryan, Joseph Gresham, Sr. and Joseph Gresham, Jr.

The property on which the church was built was deeded by Elijah H. Gordy, "for and in consideration of the love and affection I bear for Christ and his church," to Joseph Gresham and Elijah H. Gordy, Deacons of the St. Stephens Baptist Church. The deed, recorded on March 14, 1885, was for a lot in the town of St. Stephens, containing 54/100 of an acre.

The St. Stephens Church, along with eight others, withdrew from the Antioch Association and on November 5, 1909, organized the Washington County Baptist Association, at Rocky Ridge Baptist Church in Loper. The fourth session of the new association was held at St. Stephens Church, November 1–3, 1912. Since then, St. Stephens has hosted the 58th (1966), 63rd (1971) and 64th (1972) annual meetings of the Washington County Baptist Association.

The St. Stepehns Church remained constant in membership and finances during the early part of the century. At the time, it had a Sunday School and a missions organization, and some years contributed up to half its budget to missions.

By 1933, however, the church had become inactive and remained so for 15 years. The loss of members who died or moved away, the Depression and financial considerations had contributed to the decline. An attempt was made to revive the church in 1939 or '40, but it was unsuccessful.

The reorganization of the church took place in late 1948. In October, 1948, a group met at the old building to clean it up. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Atchison, Mrs. Lula Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ethridge, Mr. and Mrs. M.J. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Moseley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Faith, Miss Margie Atchison, Mr. Estil Atchison and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith.

A member recalled the building at that time: "As the cleaning commenced, the single large room was filled with dust. There was a row of benches along each side of the building and in the center. The center section has a wooden rail down the middle. I'm told that in the old days women sat on one side of that rail and men on the other. Two long benches parallel with the long sides of the building faced the pulpit. A faded and much worn green carpet traced the aisles . . . An aged organ sat near the front on the left side . . . Two things I remember clearly. Those steps going up to the belfry were an irrestible thing. They were just made for climbing, and all the children, myself included, engaged heavily therein. I remember the door under those stairs, behind which all kinds of papers and records were found wrapped in dust and spider webs. Especially eye catching were the two ancient volumes of the Bible used by those earlier pastors.

"The building itself was in ill repair. Windows were broken out, the porch and steps were rotted, the roof was rusty. Goats had even been kept in the old building. One local individual is said to have made moonshine in the belfry, the church being an unlikely place to look for such."

The Rev. Jewel Golmon, the Baptist missionary at Chatom, was invited to St. Stephens. On October 20, 1948, the first service was held by Brother Golmon, with an attendance of 44. The formal reorganization took place on Sunday, November 7, 1948. The first budget was $40 a month: $15 for the pastor's salary, $20 for missions and $5 for building upkeep. All received above $40 was added to the pastor's salary. Brother Golman continued six months regular work at St. Stephens. A brother Albert White was called as the first regular pastor of the reorganized church.

A new piano was bought with donations from citizens and businesses in Clarke and Washington counties. Leroy Baptist Church donated hymnals in 1949. An educational wing of five rooms was added to the building.

In the winter, there would be two small clusters of people, one around the heater in the back and one around the heater in the front of the building. In summer, the windows were raised and small hand fans were used. "The fans were used about as much to swat at the numerous red wasps as they were to cool the people," a member recalled.

On two pieces of land, acquired in 1954 and 1956, a pastorium was constructed in 1957. Another piece of land was acquired in 1959, when plans were made for new church building. Groundbreaking services were held in 1964. In 1965, the new auditorium, two adult classrooms, a nursery and pastor's study were completed at a cost of $15,000. In 1970, the building space was doubled with the addition of a new educational unit containing classrooms, a fellowship hall, rest rooms and storage areas.

Pastors of St. Stephens Church have included George M. Parker, 1883; J.M. Phillips, 1885; W.H. DeWitt, 1886–1887; E.F. Baber, 1891; G.F. Mize, 1892; W.A. Parker, 1899–1903 and 1906–1909; J.M. Rogers, 1950–1954; James Reeves, 1955; Ed Griffin, 1956; Eugene Hendricks, 1957–1958; W.E. Wolf, 1959–1962; William Harris, 1963–1965; Bobby Rone, 1967; Darnell Archie, 1969–1970; Ralph Luker, 1972–1974; and Ed Hale, 1976.

St. Stephens United Methodist Church

Methodist services were held in the town and area of St. Stephens beginning in the early 1800s, when Matthew Sturdivant was the missionary sent by Bishop Francis Asbury of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Howerer, there was no central place for worship.

Land for the building of a church was given by Levin Jefferson Wilson and his wife Elizabeth. A contract for the building of the church was awarded to L.J. Wilson, for $500, on April 7, 1857, according to articles of agreement between Wilson and J.G. Rush, James White and S.D. Hooks, filed in the Judge of Probate office of Washington County. According to Dubose's History, there was a general financial panic at the time, but the church was built.

St. Stephens was a part of the Tombecbee Mission and later of the St. Stephens Circuit. It has received appointments continuously from 1832 and has been part of five annual conferences and three districts.

The first report concerning the Sunday School at St. Stephens was in the General Minutes of Conference in 1871. The minutes imply that the Sunday School was well established at that time. According to oral tradition, probably the Sunday School has been established at that time. According to oral tradition, probably the Sunday School has been established as long as the church. Church records with many references to the Church School are intact, beginning in 1895.

The main sanctuary at St. Stephens is the original structure. Classrooms have been added to the sides and rear. In 1972, construction was begun on an education building, containing five classrooms, fellowship hall, kitchen and restrooms. The new building was paid for in less than two years and was dedicated, in honor of Cecil J. and Lucile Faith Alston, in July 1977.

St. Union Baptist Church

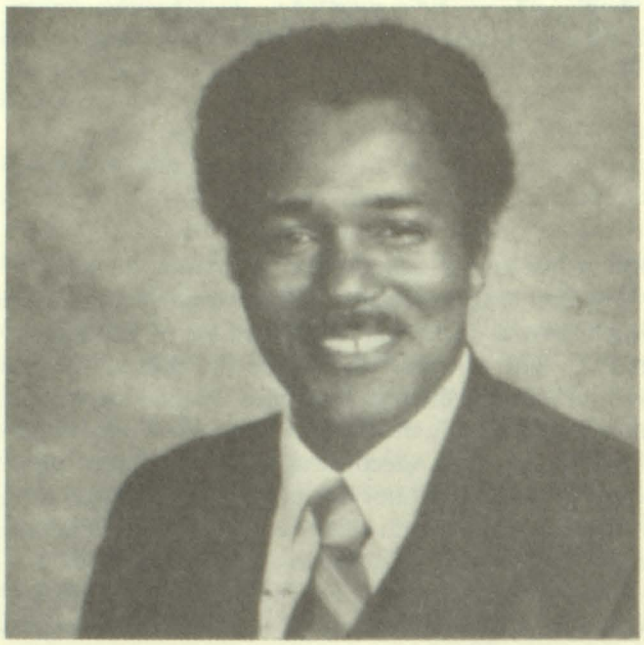

The St. Union Baptist Church, at Leroy, was organized under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. Monroe in 1904. It was originally called Monroe Chapel. Services were first held under a brush arbor and later in the Alf Robertson home.

In 1906, the Rev. William Simon of Carson was called as pastor. A log church was built about one-fourth mile from the present church. Several years later the church and land were sold and the land, on which the present church is located, was purchased. A small building was then built on the property. As the membership grew, the small building was replaced by a larger one.

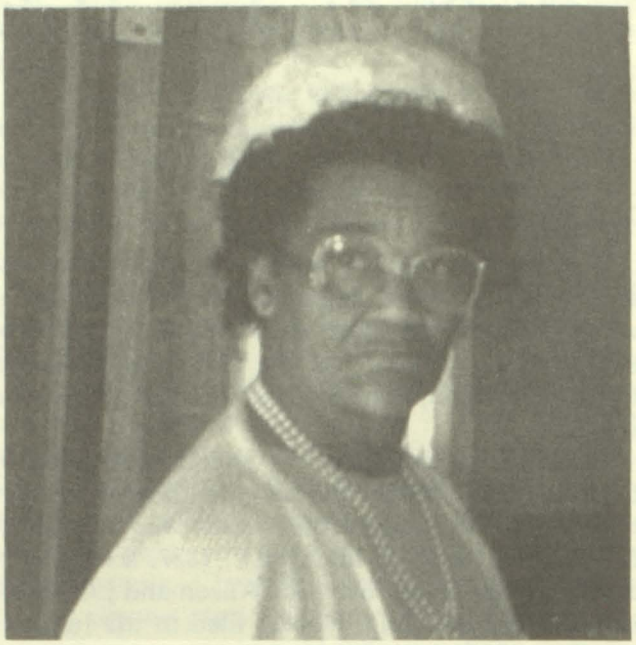

The Rev. Blind Johnson succeeded the Rev. Mr. Simon as pastor. Other ministers included the Rev. John Monlyn, the Rev. Luther Moore and the Rev. F.M. Rain. During the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Rain, the church was enlarged, a choir stand was added and a concrete baptismal pool was constructed on the church lawn. An organ was purchased and the pastor's wife became the first organist.

In 1951, plans were made for a new building. The Rev. W.E. Teague of Pritchard was the minister, and he urged the members to tithe to raise money for the new church. Men, women and children tithed, and by the end of 1951 there was enough money to begin building.

service was held. Most of the construction was done by members between sundown and 9 p.m. In June 1952, the first service was held in the new church.

Friends, black and white, of the church, helped to finance the new building.

A cotton project was undertaken in 1954 to help with the building debt. An agreement was made with Mr. C.E. McClinton to cultivate four acres of his land on shares. An average of four bales of cotton each year was realized from the project. Many of the church families helped to work the cotton plot.

Active deacons are Elliott Chaney, Jack Davis, Luther Wright and Edd Knox. The present pastor is the Rev. E.V. Barnes.

Sunflower Holiness Church

The Sunflower Holiness Church was built by Archie Gartman in the 1930s as a garage, but later became a church. It remained a place of worship until the late 1940s, when the members consolidated with Victory Grove Church at Wagarville.

The building was remodeled as a dwelling and is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Bulger.

Sunflower, Alabama

Sunflower Methodist Episcopal Church

In 1909, residents of Sunflower formed a congregation, and having no building at their disposal, met for worship services out in the open or under an arbor.

Within a short time, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harris Williams, Sr., presented to the trustees of the newly organized congregation the plot of ground now occupied by the present building. The deed was recorded in 1910. Mr. Williams employed Mr. Marion T. Marshall to construct the first frame building, which served the people of this community for some 50 years or more. Ministers were supplied by the Alabama Conference.

During the late 1950s or early '60s, after many years of ice cream suppers, oyster suppers and other activities employed for fund raising, the congregation was able to build an assembly room and class rooms at the rear of the sanctuary.

In the Spring of 1971, action was taken to build a new sanctuary. "Through the very loyal attitudes and faithful work of the members, the effective guidance of the leaders and financial aid from individuals and from the Alabama Conference, a goal has been reached. It is the prayerful hope of this community that this beautiful house of God will long continue to inspire and comfort all who enter its doors," a member said.

Tauler Creek Baptist Church

The Tauler Creek Baptist Church was located north of St. Stephens in the Midway community on property owned by Darrell and Martha Jo Deas.

The church was in the Antioch Baptist Association in 1908–1909, with William A. Parker as the pastor, Arthur Mosley as clerk and J.M. Brewer as the Sunday School superintendent. There were nineteen members.

In 1910, the church entered the Washington County Baptist Association with the Rev. Mr. Parker as pastor, and H.P. Everett as clerk and Sunday School superintendent.

Other pastors included C.H. Morgan, 1911; A.D. Everett, 1912–1914; L.N. Richardson, 1915–1916; R.L. Strickland, 1918–1924; J.L. Bozeman, 1926. The Rev. Mr. Strickland was pastor again in 1940.

The church disbanded after 1940.

'Three Forks Baptist Church

On December 9, 1936, land was donated by W.N. Reynolds and his wife Minnie for the purpose of building a church. On December 24, 1936, a group of people met in a vacant dwelling to organize the church, which became known as the Three Forks Baptist Church. The Rev. Mack Jones of Chatom, Al. acted as moderator of the meeting.

The first church service in the new building and dedication services were held on Sunday, May 23, 1937, by the Rev. Mack Jones.

The charter members were Mrs. E.E. Grimes, Mrs. Poley Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. J.N. Johnson, Mrs. Elmer Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Reynolds, Mrs. Sam Reynolds and Mrs. George A. Reynolds.

Tibbie (Bilboa) Baptist Church

In 1895, a Baptist Church was organized on Bilboa Creek near the present Lockwood Bluegrass Park. It was first called Bilboa Baptist Church.

The Rev. Francis Leroy (King) Moss was the first pastor, serving the church from 1895 to 1897. Other pastors were A.J. Easley, Dave Henson and J.W. Baxter.

The Bilboa Baptist Church was active from 1895 to 1904 as a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association. Charter members included the Howard, Sellors, E.B. Miles and Tom Davidson families.

The church was destroyed by fire in 1905. The cemetery remains, with seven markers and several graves marked with lightered posts.

Miles, (Eliza's husband); Mrs. Hougsen; School teacher, Mable Graybill; Norris Hansen; Lillie Hougsen; Andrew Hongsen (husband and daughter of Mrs. Hougsen); Ed Richie holding son Columbus, Mrs. Ed Richie; David Richie.

Sometime after the Bilboa Church burned, another church was built west of Tibbie, behind Roy Patrick's house. It was known as the Pine Barn church. The church was moved to the present location, just off Highway 17 South, about 1911.

In 1911, two acres of land were deeded to the State for a school by A.J. James and his wife, Lena Williams James. The land was later brought by the Baptist church. The land was to be used for a school.

From 1911 to 1917, when the Rev. R.L. Aaron was pastor, the church was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Association under the name, Tibbie Baptist Church.

Charter members of the Tibbie Church included the Richard Howard, Joe Mott. E.B. Miles, Azzie McIlwain and W.W. Kirkland families, and Alf and Ed James.

Tibbie Baptist Church joined the Washington County Baptist Association in 1919, with Luther Upton as pastor. Other pastors have included: J.M. Hall, R.L. Strickland, J. White Singley, E.L. Knapp, O.C. Day, A.C. Weaver, Lewis Wells, R.E. McDonald, W.L. Ezelle, C.E. Arnold, Robert M. McIlwain, Billy W. Henson, A.E. Tucker, Robbie Howard, Lazelle Byrd, Ralph Jones, Ronald Finch, Howard Gaston and John Morgan.

True Light Baptist Church

True Light Baptist Church was started by freed slaves on the land of Jackson Koen, for whom they worked for monthly pay. The members built a "brush arbor" near the well. The first two preachers were Lugene, a Methodist, and Banks, a Baptist. Then Lige and Nath Causey came to preach. The church was moved to Dry Creek, where another brush arbor was built and remained in use for three years.

Then the Rev. R.W. Whitney came into the community, organized the True Light Baptist Church and stayed three years, organizing churches in several communities, including St. Stephens.

The members built a church of log poles, fourteen by sixteen feet, like a "crib." The pulpit was built of dirt. No seats were available, so the people stood.

The Rev. Mr. Whitney organized the Bladon Springs Baptist Association. The council met every three months. Antioch at Bladon Springs was the first church. Whitney's oldest child, Isaiah Whitney, built a school in Plateau and later went to Tuskegee.

Ministers who have served True Light Baptist Church since 1877 include: Elliott Reids, R.W. Whitney, Rome Brown McIntosh, Marshall Cleveland, Charlie Raine, W.M. Sanford, J.E. Raine, Joe Carter, Hildry Williams, P.D. Dixon, A.D. Fox, J.H. Johnson, A.U. Elliott, J.T. Turner, John A. Wimbley, Albert Ridgeway, J.C. Summer, and Nathaniel Martin.

Rich Holcombe was the first True Light Deacon. Others have been Rufus White, G.W. Mitchell, H.C. Washington, Lessie Hayes, John Holcombe, Willie Traylor, Fate Craige, Alonza J. May, Edgar Mitchell, Frank Washington, Mose Holcombe, and Ceasar Washington, Sr. Coleman Washington has been a Deacon in True Light Church since 1917. He married Martha Johnson and had twelve children.

Uniform Baptist Church

Little is known about the Uniform Baptist Church, which was in existence for about eight years. The date of its organization is unknown and names of the charter members are unknown. The late Mr. George Day said that the pastor was the Rev. Emmett Knapp of Fairford. The church was destroyed by a storm.

Union Baptist Church

The Union Baptist Church is located in Fairford, Alabama. The church was organized in 1865 under the leadership of the Rev. Ike Jones.

The oldest members of the church are: Sisters Archena Johnson and Golena Williams, and Deacons Frank Dennis and Monroe Johnson.

The pastors have been the Rev. Ike Jones, the Rev. Mr. Scale, the Rev. John Wheeler, the Rev. Joe Carter, the Rev. Russell July, the Rev. J.R. Roberson, the Rev A.V. Elliott and the Rev. Thomas Bolden. The present pastor is the Rev. J.C.S. Dial.

The church has been in the same place since it was organized. The cemetery is just outside the churchyard.

The church got its name, Union Baptist Church, because several denominations worshipped in the building.

Three men went into the ministry from the church: Tom Lewis, Ruban Dennis and Alex Walker.

Activities of the church include Church School every Sunday at 9:30 a.m., training programs at 10:45 a.m. and preaching at 11:30 a.m. The first Sunday in each month is set aside for singing with Mrs. Mattie Gertrude Mitchell, the musician. Annual programs are held at different times during the year. A weekly missionary meeting is held on Tuesday afternoons. Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners are served at the church each year. The president of these fellowship meetings is Mrs. Janie Dennis.

Union Baptist Church
McIntosh

Union Baptist Church is probably the oldest black church in McIntosh, Ala. It was organized some time before 1900. The members worship in their third building. The land for the church was set aside by Capt. Fletcher Hooks, who fought in the Civil War. His descendants still own the land surrounding the church. This church has been 50 and 75 members. The present pastor is Rev. Levett. A former pastor was Rev. Skinner. No cemetery, burials made in St. Paul Baptist Cemetery.

Union Baptist Church
Wagarville

When people of the black community of Wagarville decided to establish a church arbor served them until the members purchased land. By 1930, the members had constructed a wooden building on land they had purchased. They named the building Union Baptist Church.

The first pastor was the Rev. Major Woods, who served for about two years. Brothers Will Hall and Watson Charles were deacons during that time. Sister Martha Gragg was clerk and Ola Mae Horn was church secretary.

The second pastor was the Rev. Author David York. He was pastor for more than ten years. He organized the Sunday School, the Baptist Training Union and the choir. Matthew Gragg served as superintendent, and Sister Ardie Gragg served as Mother of the church.

The Rev. A.C. Pickett, the fourth pastor, served for about seven years. Brothers George Hall and Willie Hood were ordained deacons during that time. The Rev. Albert Fair was the fifth pastor.

The sixth pastor was the Rev. Ernie Barnes, from 1955 to 1978.

The present pastor is the Rev. S.L. Calhoun. Deacons are Brothers Calvin Griffin, Bob McNeal and Raymond Haynes. Other officers are: Sister Willie McCrary, church clerk; Sister Ethel Grayson, president of the choir; Brother Early Reed, president of the Baptist Training Union; Brother Bob McNeal, Sunday School superintendent; Sister Lucille Reed, president of the junior choir; Sister Dorothy Griffin, secretary of the Sunday School, senior choir and Home Missions; Sister Lou Hall, Mother of the church and treasurer of Home Missions; and Sister Katie Hood, president of Home Missions.

The church is located at the intersection of the Tarver Road and the Ebenezer Church Road.

Victory Grove Jesus Name Church
Wagerville

The Victory Grove Jesus Name Church was constructed in 1949. The construction work was done by members including the Rev. Arthur Sullivan, Brother A.F. (Buster) Tarver, the Rev. Leslie Tarver, Johnnie Ray Beech, James Phillips, Enoch Sullivan and many others who gave their time and financial support.

Much of the interior, including the ceiling, flooring and woodwork, was donated by sawmill operators. The land was deeded for a church site by Mr. and Mrs. A.F. Tarver (Buster and Ruby).

Sister Hazel Chain Meyers dedicated the first block used in the construction of the church.

Pastors who have served include the Rev. P.B. McVay, D.L. Hudson, James Bishop, Leo Gartman, Margie Sullivan, Leslie Tarver, Theo Wilson, D.B. Kennon, Tommy Pitman and Arthur Glenn Sullivan. The present pastor is the Rev. Arthur Glenn Sullivan, son of the late Rev. Arthur Glenn Sullivan, former pastor.

The church attendance at one time could not all be seated in the church, but some have moved away and some have passed away. Presently the attendance averages 40 to 50 members.

Easter Sunday has always been observed as "Homecoming" for Victory Grove. People come from far and near and there is singing, preaching and dinner on the grounds.

Victory Grove is the home church of the well-known "Sullivan Family Blue Grass Band," the musicians, Enoch and Margie Sullivan, being former members. Enoch is the son of the Rev. Arthur Glenn Sullivan and Margie was a close friend of the late Sister Hazel Chain Meyers.

Vinegar Bend Baptist Church

According to the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes the Vinegar Bend Baptist Church was organized in 1892.

The church is listed in the Associational minutes from 1909 to 1937. The sixth session of the Association met with the Vinegar Bend Church on September 25–27, 1914.

Pastors serving the church included B.A. Sellers, 1909; H.T. Vaughn, 1910–1911; George W. McRae, 1912–1914; Charles H. German, 1915–1918; William H. Evans, 1921; and M.S. Varnado, 1934–1935.

Church clerks have included A.R. Turner, T.M. Ferrell, Dr. William A. Thompson and Miss Ora Dearing. Sunday School superintendents have included J.D. Flournoy, A.R. Turner and W.M. Baxter.

The church had 100 members in 1909. By 1935, the membership had dropped to thirty-four.

Vinegar Bend Methodist Church

According to The History of Washington County, the Vinegar Bend Methodist Church was organized and built in 1907, under the direction of Mr. Nathan Rockwell and the Rev. T.W. Chalker, a visiting evangelist.

The church burned in 1920.

Wagar Baptist Church

The Washington County Baptist Association minutes state the Wagar Baptist Church was organized in 1896. The Rev. Mr. C.B. Young was pastor in 1922.

On December 24, 1926 the church building was converted into a dwelling due to a fire destroying the hotel.

Services were held in the theater. The Rev. Mr. S.A. Adams of Mobile, Al. was pastor at this time. He traveled to Wagar on the train arriving at 8 A.M. and departing on the 6 P.M. train.

A new church building was erected. This building served the entire town. There were Presbyterians and Methodist as well as Baptist. A Presbyterian minister lived in Wagar. He conducted services part of the time. He also taught Bible classes to the young people. The Baptist minister serving in the new building was the Rev. Mr. R.W. Jordan of Mt. Vernon, Al. He also traveled on the train at times.

This new church was known as a Wagar Church. The people held membership in neighboring churches.

No records have been found to tell what happened to the membership fo the Wagar Baptist Church.

Wagarville Baptist Church

The first concerted effort to establish a church at Wagarville began in 1946, when the Rev. V.R. Meadows, the Washington County Baptist Associational missionary, erected a tent at the crossroads and conducted a revival. Simultaneously a student summer missionary conducted a Vacation Bible School in the elementary school.

A Baptist Committee was formed on October 2, 1946. Mr. F. E. Bumpers was elected chairman of the committee, with Mrs. Percy Roney as treasurer, Mrs. Gibbie Sullivan as secretary and Mrs. Ernie Shipp as chairman of the entertainment committee. A building committee was elected, with Mr. Jake Bailey as chairman. Mr. S.B. Lynes, Mr. Levi Sullivan and Mr. Gib Sullivan were members of the building committee. The Rev. J.W. Singley was elected chairman of the soliciting committee.

In the summer of 1947, the Rev. Mr. Meadows led another revival and a summer missionary held a concurrent Vacation Bible School.

On July 12, 1947, the Wagerville Baptist Church was organized and called the Rev. Mr. Meadows as interim pastor, to serve every other Sunday.

The church held its first baptismal service shortly after the tent rivival at Middle Ford on Bassetts Creek. H.M. Bumpers, Mrs. D.K. Sullivan, Rita Scoggins, Anna Leigh Sullivan, Jake Bailey and Jack Allen Bailey were baptized.

Plans were made for a church building. In the meantime, services were held in the Wagarville School Auditorium. Mr. White Smith donated three acres of land and two acres were purchased from the County School Board. Construction of a concrete block building with Sunday School rooms was agreed upon and plans were secured from the Southern Baptist Convention Sunday School Board.

In October 1948, the Rev. W.E. Keown was called as pastor. He accepted the call to serve half-time but within a few weeks he challenged the church to go full time, offering to render his additional services without pay. Since that challenge the church has always been "full time."

Although it was not completed, the church began using the new building a little more than a year after the organizational meeting. The building was completed in 1952. Afterwards, additional educational space, a fellowship hall, kitchens and bathrooms were constructed. A pastorium was constructed by 1960. After 1965, additional Sunday School rooms and an assembly room were completed on the second floor of the church building. Between 1976 and 1979, a new building for a fellowship room and kitchen was constructed.

The Rev. Mr. Keown resigned due to ill health in November 1949. He was succeeded by the Rev. Joe Jolly (1949–1950), the Rev. Harold Wilder (1950–1951), the Rev. J.E. Zachery (1951–1952), the Rev. Charles E. Graham (1952–1958), the Rev. Luther Dorr (1958–1960), the Rev. Cecil O. Brown (1960–1961), the Rev. James King (1961–1963), the Rev. William G. Cummings (1963–1965), the Rev. James Cohorn (1965–1969), the Rev. Curtis Williams (1969–1972), the Rev. Bruce Sasser (1972–1974), the Rev. W.H. Cates (1974–1976), the Rev. Gary Brinkley (1976–1979), and the Rev. Jack Roberts (1980–).

Mr. Reggie Masters of Mobile College joined the church staff as director of music in the 1960s.

Mrs. D.K. Sullivan was the first president of the Woman's Missionary Union of Wagarville Baptist Church. Other WMU presidents have been Mrs. Jake Bailey, Mrs. Fred Scoggins, Mrs. Hazel Bumpers, Mrs. Jamie Steele, Mrs. Dale Henley and Mrs. Dorothy Buroughs. Mrs. Scoggins also served three years as the Washington County Baptist Associational WMU president, three years as Associational Mission Study director, three years as Associational Sunbeam Director, two years as Associational G.A. Director and five years as Seventh District Treasurer.

—Mrs. Fred Scoggins, Mrs. Lillie Smith and Rita Smith

Wagarville Holiness Church

The Wagarville Holiness Church first held services under a brush arbor in front of James Johnson's house, about where the voting house is now, in 1926 or 1927.

The early preachers were Henry Thomas (a fiddle player), Tots Willard, a Mr. Brewer, Lloyd and Eve Hutchinson and Preacher Davis.

The first building was constructed several years later by Ed Lankford, Bruce Lynes and Woodie Hudson. The building was a little white wooden church. John McDuffy and Luther Lane were preachers in the church.

The charter members were Woodie and Bell Hudson, Lonnie and Aunt Dick Padgett, Ed Lankford, Lloyd and Eve Hutchinson, Bruce Lynes and their children—Effie, Bennie and Wilbert, the Holcomb family from Leroy, and Frank and Mattie Stoker.

Washington Baptist Church

The Washington Baptist Church at Hawthorn was organized on the fourth Sunday in June, 1883, with five charter members: Clem Henson, Sarah Frances Henson, Augustus Kirkland, Sara Frances (Sally) Lynes, and Obadiah Lynes, who was the first pastor.

Some of the first members other than the charter members were Middletons, Thomases, Lamberts, Sellers, Cooleys, Parnells, Lanes, Downeys, Carltons, Howards, Gartmans and Harrises.

The first building was built by men of the community. It was built of hand hewn logs. A second building replaced the log building about 1900. It was a frame building of rough lumber. A third building, also of frame construction, was completed in 1916.

Pastors of the old church included the Rev. Obediah Lynes, the Rev. Mr. Stringer, the Rev. Mr. Robertson, the Rev. R.L. Aaron, the Rev. J.M. Hall, the Rev. R.W. Jordan, the Rev. J.D. Wilkes, the Rev. C.B. Young, the Rev. J.W. Singley, the Rev. R.M. McIlwain, the Rev. Larry Blount, the Rev. Jimmy Zackery and the Rev. Clayton Jones and Dave Henson.

Deacons serving the old church included: J.W. Henson, C.C. Middleton, G.C. Middleton, P.B. Patrick, J.C. Henson, Alfred Young and L.T. Henson.

On the first Sunday in May 1983, the One Hundredth Anniversary of Washington Baptist Church was celebrated at the old church in Hawthorn, Alabama. A monument was erected in honor of the charter members: Clem and Sarah Henson, Augustus Kirkland, Obadiah and Sally Lynes and the first Pastor, Obadiah Lynes, at the cost of $2,877.68.

Shifts in population left the church isolated from its members, and it became inactive in December 1957.

However, members held reorganizational services on July 27, 1958, with the Associational Missionary, the Rev. Mr. Blaine, acting as moderator. In September 1958, the church extended a call to the Rev. A.L. Courtney, who served as pastor until March, 1963. Initially, services were held in makeshift places, such as a store building and a tent.

A new educational building was built on the Tibbie Road, one block west of Highway 43, and the members met for the first service there on January 17, 1960. It was the fourth building in the history of the church. On February 28, 1965, a note burning ceremony was held, signifying the paying off of the debt on the new church property.

In 1961, a house was purchased, moved to a lot which was donated at the same time, remodeled and officially dedicated as the pastorium.

In 1966, the church held its first two week Vacation Bible School. A mission Vacation Bible School was conducted at Howardtown in July, 1967.

Groundbreaking for the present auditorium was held in June, 1967. The new sanctuary was dedicated on Sunday, May 26, 1968. The first baptismal services saw Tom Henson, Jr., and Charlie Evans baptized on September 8, 1968.

On September 26, 1971, a note burning ceremony was conducted to recognize the new sanctuary as debt free. A similar ceremony was conducted to burn the note for the pastorium remodeling on March 23, 1975.

The church has licensed and ordained as ministers the Rev. Herbert Johnson and the Rev. David Henson; the latter a direct descandant of Clem Henson, one of the charter members.

Pastors who have served the new church have been: the Rev. A.L. Courtney, the Rev. John Merk, the Rev. Clarence Denny, the Rev. Charles Davis, the Rev. Clyde Pound, the Rev. Lawton Searcy, the Rev. Donald Fry and the Rev. Tim Duke, the Rev. Henry S. Creel. Present pastor the Rev. Tony Hendrix.

Deacons have included D.J. Henson, Carol Patrick, Powell Dean Waite, Bernard Patrick, Henry Howard, Herbert Johnson, Charles Burns, Fred Champion Malcolm Waite, and Rusty Pace.

Wesley Chapel Holiness Church

The Wesley Chapel Holiness Church was established about 1973. The first pastor was Brother Chester Hurst. The second and present pastor is Brother Clifford Moore. The church has ten members.

Wesley Chapel Methodist Church Bigbee

The Wesley Chapel Methodist Church was established in the early 1900s. It was built in 1908, according to a charter member. T.W. Thompson and LaFavor Waddell, both from Harris County, Georgia, built the church with material furnished by the Tauler Creek Lumber Company.

Thompson came to Alabama in 1904 and moved to the Bigbee area in 1906. He remained in Bigbee after the church was finished, but Wadell returned to Harris County, Georgia, where he had a family. Waddell constructed church buildings in several places.

Frank Atchison, a preacher and a teacher, helped to organize the church. He was teaching at the Lucyville School, near Bigbee, at the time.

A Mr. Jansen was the first Superintendent of the Sunday School.

Families who attended the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church included the families of John Grimes, Dan Grimes, Henry Dumas, John and Jake Napper, John Robinson, Arthur Rogers, Dan and Robie Thompson, and Jim Thornton, and members of the Williams, Wright and Atchison families.

The early pastors were the Rev. Frank Atchison, the Rev. Mr. Wilson, the Rev. Mr. Metcalf and the Rev. Mr. Jefferies.

The building was torn down and its lumber was taken to St. Stephens to build a parsonage. The year that this occurred cannot be recalled by the older members.

Yarbo Assembly of God Church

In late 1928 home services began to be held with Ada Kelly, leading to the establishment of the Yarbo Assembly of God. In 1929, an old school building, on the west side of Beaver, Dam Road, near the railroad, was made available.

The founding families included those of Will Moss, Carlie Palmer, Jean Beech, Gorden Strickland and Emitt Averett.

In the late 1930s, the building burned and the congregation held services in homes and brush arbors.

In June of 1941, Brother Alpheus Broadhead of Needham, Alabama, came to Yarbo and joined the congregation on January 20, 1942, as pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Loper donated a plot of land for a church site. Brother W.A. Robinson came from Needham with materials to build the church. Materials and labor were donated and a building was soon erected. The church was formally organized on October 9, 1943,, and named Yarbo Assembly of God. The new building was on the east side of the railroad, across from the first building.

A pastorium was built during Brother Broadhead's pastorate.

Pastors who followed Brother Broadhead included the Rev. Hubert Loper, Ray Beech, Sime Morris, Jr. and Lelan Todd.

Brother Todd was pastor when in 1962 the congregation decided to build a new church. Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Jordan donated a plot of ground on Highway 17 as the site of the present church. The church and pastorium are block structures. The church has a fellowship hall, Sunday School rooms, bath, carpeting, public address system, piano, organ and a lighted sign in front. On the church grounds is a barbecue grill.

Other pastors have been Brother Curtis Morris, Ronnie Broadhead, Mike Conley and the present pastor, Larry Willoughby.

—Mrs. Idell Loper

Yarbo Baptist Church

The Yarbo Baptist Church was constituted in 1908, according to the Washington County Baptist Associational minutes. The congregation met initially in the old theatre at Yarbo, where the Methodists also met. The congregations would alternate Sundays.

Yarbo Baptist Church entered the Washington County Baptist Association in 1920, when the pastor was the Rev. J.A.W. Lowry of Yarbo. In 1922–1923, the pastor was R.L. Strickland of Millry.

The Rev. H.M. Mason of Isney was listed as the pastor in the associational minutes of 1931, 1934 and 1935, and as Sunday School superintendent in the minutes of 1932 and 1933, indicating perhaps that there were no preaching services during the latter years.

In 1940 summary report of the Washington County Baptist Associational meeting stated that Yarbo was the arm of the Chatom Baptist Church and its statistics were included in Chatom's annual report. Probably that is when the Yarbo Church disbanded.

The Sunday School teachers at Yarbo included Mrs. Jim Duncan, Miss Betty Lou Waite, Mrs. Minnie B. McCutcheon and Mrs. Russell A. Davis.

Charter members included the Loper, Duncan, Davis and Waite families.

Yarbo Church of God

The Yarbo Church of God was organized in the early 1930s and was in existence until sometime in the 1940s.

The church was located in the Yarbo Community. It stood in the corner of a tract now owned by Mrs. Mabry Ferguson.

Members included the Powell, Harvison, Reynolds and Davis families.

L.C. Davis was ordained as a lay preacher on May 15, 1938 in the Yarbo Church of God. The ordination certificate was signed by Huey Reynolds and L.C. Powell, deacons; Maudie Powell, the clerk; and Jim Reynolds, a layman.

The Rev. Mr. Davis preached in this little church after his ordination as a lay minister.

—Barbara Waddell, Mr. Willie Ferguson of Yarbo and Mrs. Flora V. Davis of Chatom, Alabama

Yellow Pine Baptist Church

Yellow Pine Baptist Church was organized in 1892. The church entered the Antioch Baptist Association in 1893, with James M. Hall as pastor and H.M. Sullivan as the church clerk. The membership was fifteen persons. The church was named in the Antioch Association for only one year.

Yellow Pine Baptist became a member of the Washington County Baptist Association in 1949, with Willie Carpenter as the pastor, and forty-four members. Perry R. Milstead, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Walker and Archie Givens were Messengers to the Associational meeting in 1949. The church is still active in the Washington County Baptist Association.

Yellow Pine Church of God

The Yellow Pine Church of God had its beginning in the winter of 1947, when the Rev. Gerald L. Phillips and the Rev. Valton Howard came to Yellow Pine at the request of Thomas and Julia Hartley.

The two ministers put up a gospel tent in the forks of Highway 45 and the road that goes by the Dorothy Wood place. They ran a 13-week revival and organized the present church.

Mrs. Rosie Deese donated a piece of land with the stipulation that if the church ceased to exist or moved, the property would revert to her, and she would buy the building which was on the property. The property was located on the road from Yellow Pine to Chatom, which went by the Cecil Milstead place.

An old barn was bought, torn down and moved to the property as material for construction of the church. Sweety Givens gave the church two loads of logs which were hauled by Carlie Hare to Joe Allen's sawmill, where they were sawn into lumber.

Services were held in the newly constructed church in March, 1948, with the Rev. Valton Howard as pastor.

The church affiliated with the Cleveland, Tennessee, Church of God in February, 1950.

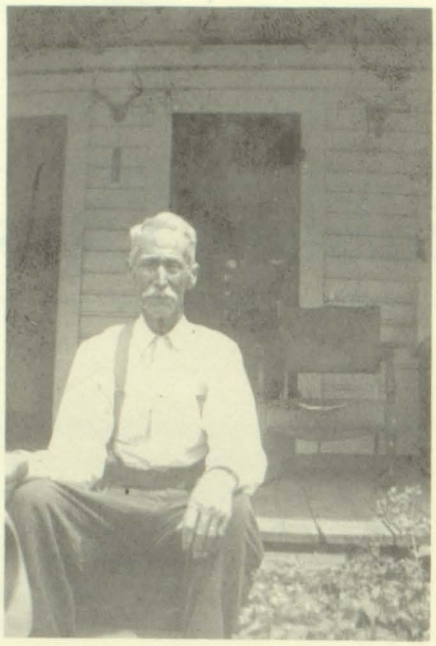

The first church building had wooden slats for benches and was heated by a fire in a 55-gallon drum. It has been replaced by a block building with carpeting, central heat and air and running water.

The pastor is the Rev. James Cooper.

PART IV

Sketches of Ministers' Lives

The Rev. James Wiley Baxter

James Wiley Baxter

The Rev. James Wiley (Jim) Baxter, a Baptist minister for many years in Washington County, was born June 16, 1866 to Israel and Gincy Williams Baxter.

He married Henrietta (Retta) Williams, a daughter of William Edward and Maranda Rainwater Williams. She was born December 8, 1873. They had nine children: Flossie Alma, Hannis Taylor, Lloyd, Nonie Golda, Floy Gible, Glova, Bessie and James Hilton. Their home was in Tibbie.

The Rev. Mr. Baxter was the pastor of Bilboa Baptist, Fairhope Baptist, Pine Level Baptist and Pleasant Hill Baptist churches, all in Washington County, and Johnson Creek Baptist Church in Greene County, Mississippi; all were in the Macedonia Baptist Association. He also was pastor of a church in the Washington County Baptist Association: Berney Baptist Church.

Mr. Baxter rode horseback from church to church, with his Bible and a change of clothes in his saddlebags, in case he had to spend the night somewhere. There was no set pay for his preaching, but he received a "free will" offering.

The Rev. Mr. Baxter died December 21, 1947. His wife died February 7, 1939. They are buried in Fairhope Baptist Church Cemetery.

The Rev. Leroy Beech

The Rev. Leroy Beech, an Assemblies of God minister, was born February 16, 1908, five miles east of Chatom, a son of Ira and Lillie Bell Stoker Beech.

The Beech family moved many times, following the father's employment as a turpentime distiller, and the education of the children was interrupted frequently. When in school, young Roy, as he was called, was an avid student who advanced through the curriculum of more than one grade during an academic year, in the one-room schools he attended. Sometimes, however, there was no school, and eventually the boys' education had to be abandoned. The older boys joined their father in turpentine distilling. For a time Roy drove a truck, hauling turpentine products to Mobile. Later, he operated a grading machine on Washington County's dirt roads.

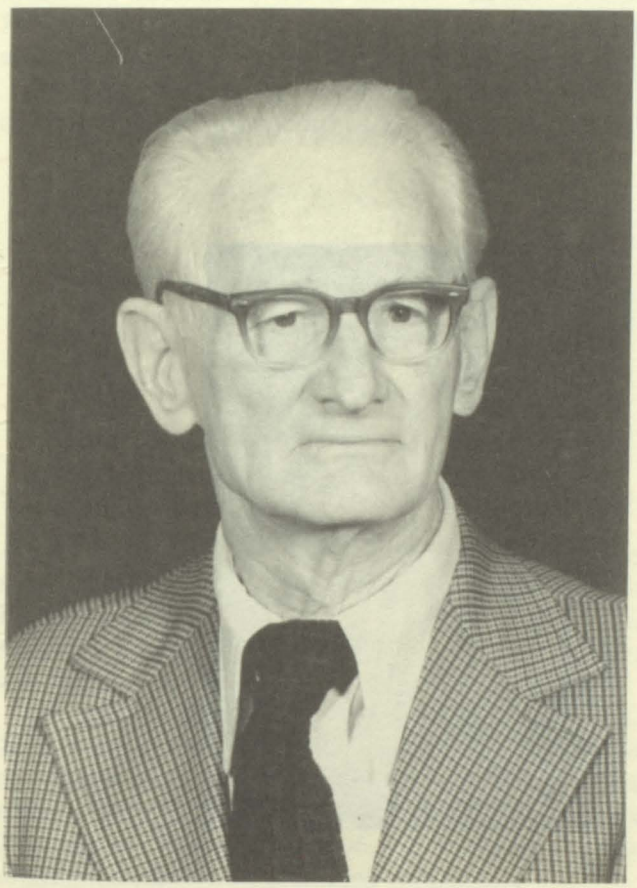

When he was fourteen, the boy's mother died. With her family gathered around her deathbed, she calmly said, "Children, Jesus is coming to take me home with him. I want you to promise to meet me there." Roy spoke, "Mother, I'll meet you." Afterwards, he would remember this pledge, telling himself, "I promised to meet her, but I don't know how."

In August, 1930, the Rev. H.E. McCoy of Shubuta, Mississippi, was conducting revival services in Hobson, where the Beech family then resided. Roy Beech came because he was curious. But he left having committed his life to Christ. Now that he had found his mother's savior, he knew he would meet her again, he afterwards wrote. The experience changed his life.

He began to study the Bible at night after work, by firelight and kerosene lamp. Later, he would become well known for his ability to quote the Scriptures from memory.

On September 7, 1930, he stood in church to speak of his love of Christ. His testimony became a sermon. He and all those present recognized that he had a call to the ministry. He at first protested that he did not have the education to preach, but this was overcome by his desire to make known the message of Christ.

The Rev. Mr. McCoy continued to preach at Hobson two Sundays a month. When he was absent, Mr. Beech would be in charge of services. Writing of his early ministry, he recalled, "During the early 1930s, we were invited to preach in brush arbors, schools, private homes and many churches where services were no longer being held." During that period, the Great Depression, he averaged ten cents an hour, and that amount usually not in money but in groceries and clothing. "But," he wrote, "they were very exciting times spiritually. People came from many miles to the services. The house was usually filled with people and with the presence of the Lord."

In 1932, Mr. Beech became affiliated with the Assemblies of God, and was ordained on August 1, 1935, at Pritchard, Alabama. During the mid-1930s, he and the Rev. Thomas (Tom) Donald preached in Choctaw County, starting a church in the Lusk community, and traveled to Mississippi and Louisiana.

In April, 1941, he married Glendine Howell, daughter of James R. (Jim) Howell and Ella Stoker Howell of Hobson. They had two daughters: Janice Faith, who resides in St. Stephens, and Gloria Jackson, who resides in Brussels, Belgium, after sixteen years as a missionary in Africa.

In 1944, Brother Beech began constructing the present building of the Hobson Assembly of God. He was pastor of the church several times. He was also pastor of the Copeland Assembly of God and was the founding pastor of the Midway Assembly of God. He pastored at Yarbo and at Happy Gospel Field near McIntosh. In Choctaw County, he pastored at Lusk, Needham, Toxey and Chapel Hill.

Brother Beech, in 1971, went to Africa to visit his daughter, for the birth of his grandson. During the trip he preached in several cities, towns and villages in Benin and Togo.

After a period of semi-retirement, the Beeches moved to Century, Florida, where the Rev. Mr. Beech pastored the Beulah Chapel Assembly of God from 1973 to 1980. He was semi-retired, preaching occasionally, from 1980 until his death on November 4, 1985. For three months in the spring of 1985, he again served as interim minister at Hobson.

On the day before his death, he attended the dedication of the new church facilities of the Midway Assembly of God. During the service the choir sang, "Going Home." He was deeply moved, wept profusely, and wrote on a piece of paper which he tucked into his Bible, "Going Home. Thank God. Made it easy." On the following evening he had a heart attack and died.

The Rev. Edmund Odell Bradley

The Rev. Edmund Odell Bradley, a Methodist minister, was born August 22, 1911, in the Aquilla community of Washington County, the ninth child in a family of ten. Daniel Howell Bradley and Minerva Patterson Bradley were his parents.

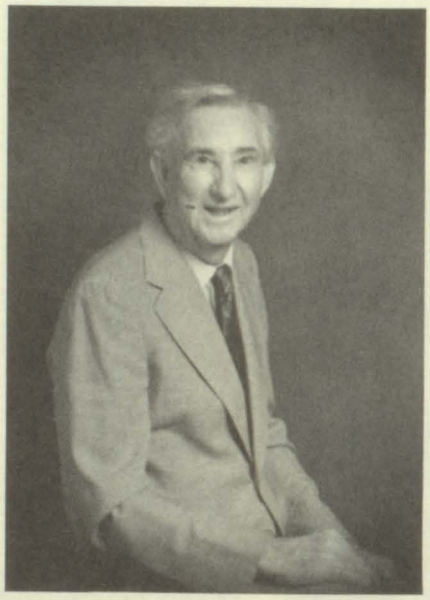

After attending Washington County schools, he was graduated from an agricultural high school in Clara, Mississippi. He prepared for a teaching career, which provided employment in several neighboring counties of Alabama.

In 1945, he accepted the call into the pastoral ministry of the Methodist Church, in which he served until his retirement in 1976. His appointments were Lower Peach Tree, Era Charge, of the North Texas Conference; St. Andrew in Panama City, Florida; Thomasville; Port Saint Joe, Florida; Spring Hill Avenue, Mobile; and Greensboro.

In 1938, he was married to Ida Lee Wood. To them were born a son, Marc Edmund, and a daughter, Mary Frances.

He died on October 11, 1986. A fitting epitaph, the writer suggests, is "Let his own works praise him (paraphrasing Proverbs 31:31, in which it is spoken of a good woman)."

—Mrs. Ida Lee Wood Bradley
(widow of the Rev. Mr. Bradley)

The Rev. Josiah L. Causey

The Rev. Josiah Lodge (Joe) Causey, a Baptist minister, was born in Barber County, Alabama, on November 22, 1850. He was the son of Levellin G. and Mahulda Bass Causey from Edgecomb County, North Carolina. When he was about five years old, his family moved from Barber County to Washington County.

On October 22, 1873, he married Sarah Ann Dearmon, daughter of Solomon and Caroline Moss Dearmon. They were the parents of eight children: Mary Elizabeth, Zachariah, Oscar Bowen, Ida Lee, Hulda, Hattie, Lina D.V., and Virgie. He was a farmer as well as a minister.

The Rev. Mr. Causey was ordained in the summer of 1876 in Washington County. He served as pastor of churches in the Antioch and Macedonia Baptist Associations. The churches in the Antioch Association were Bethel Baptist at Healing Springs, in 1885, 1887 and 1893–1899; Spring Bank Baptist Church, 1888–1890, 1892 and 1903; Shady Grove Baptist Church, 1891–1892 and 1899–1900; Rocky Ridge Baptist Church, 1893–1894; and Black Creek, Center Ridge, Corinth and Hickory Grove Baptist churches, all in Choctaw County, in 1898. Churches in the Macedonia Association, at which he was pastor, were Shady Grove Baptist, 1888; Antioch Baptist, 1895; and Sand Ridge, 1903.

The Rev. Mr. Causey died at Healing Springs, September 8, 1904, and is buried in the Shady Grove Baptist Church Cemetery.

Dr. Isaac Watts Chalker

Dr. Isaac Watts Chalker, for whom Chalker Memorial Methodist Church was named, was born in Henry County, Alabama, in 1872 and was reared in Escambia County, Florida, as the son of an itinerant school teacher.

He entered Hiwassee Junior College, Hiwassee, Tennessee, at the age of 17, completed the two years of college work offered there, then completed his college degree at the old Southern University at Greensboro, Alabama in 1895. At Southern, he distinguished himself in oratorical contests.

While attending college, he obtained a license to preach, and was admitted on trial into the Alabama Conference in 1897. Showing early promise as an evangelist, he held revivals in widely scattered churches. At Salem Methodist Church in Lee County, he met his future bride, Hattie Marshall Phelps. They were married during the Christmas season of 1901.

He took his bride to their first parsonage home at Notasulga, where their first son, John, was born in 1902. Three other children followed: Tom, Robert and Anne (Bergen).

Dr. Chalker was a circuit rider who rode a horse on his first two appointments. Appointments served in the Alabama Conference (now known as the Alabama-West Florida Conference) by Dr. Chalker included, Notasulga; Smith's Station, Lee County; Broad Street, Mobile; Perry Street (now St. Mark's), Montgomery (two times); Abbeville; Jackson; Linden; Clanton; Demopolis; First Church, Pensacola, Florida; Eufaula; Andalusia; Enterprise; Forst Avenue, Montgomery; Ozark; Panama City, Florida; and Marianna, Florida. Mr. Chalker built new churches at Broad Street, Mobile; Linden; and Andalusia.

During his entire ministry, Dr. Chalker kept his interest in revival preaching, and served briefly as a full time Conference evangelist. An estimated 3,600 persons were received into the Methodist Church as a result of his ministry.

After his retirement in 1944, from an active ministry of 47 years, he served as pastor of seven churches in southwest Alabama, including Chatom, Tibbie, Deer Park, Elizabeth Chapel, McIntosh, Sims Chapel and Creola. For five years he was pastor of the Chatom-Tibbie Charge. Before her death in 1958, Mrs. Chalker drove the pastor, in a Model A coupe, on pastoral visits to churches and congregational members throughout Washington and Mobile counties.

In 1961, when Tibbie Church build a new sanctuary, the congregation named it Chalker Memorial Methodist Church, in honor of their 89-year-old former pastor, and his 68 years of ministry. He delivered the first sermon in the new sanctuary.

Dr. William Donald Clague

Dr. William Donald Clague, a Church of the Brethren minister and an educator, was born in Mobile, November 29, 1920, the oldest son of Allen and Pearl White Clague.

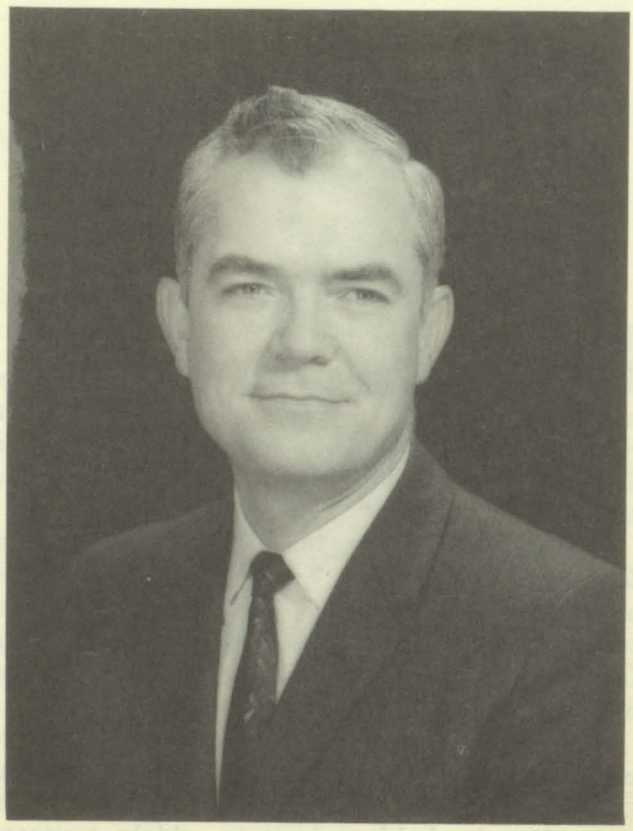

He was graduated from Fruitdale High School in 1937. He received a B.A. degree from Bridgewater College in 1941, and M.Ed. and Ed.D. degrees from the University of Virginia, in 1954 and 1960, respectively. He has done additional graduate work at Columbia University, the University of Michigan and the University of La Verne, in La Verne, California.

Born into a family of dedicated teachers and preachers, Dr. Clague began his teaching career in math and science at Baker High School in Mobile. He then taught at Bridgewater College in Virginia. In 1948, he became Dean of Students at Bridgewater. In 1966, he moved to the University of La Verne as the Dean of Graduate and Professional Studies. He was Vice President of Academic Affairs at La Verne from 1975 to 1983. He has been Executive Vice President of the University of La Verne since 1983.

Dr. Clague was called to the ministry at Fruitdale, and continues his home ties there. He was recently the Homecoming speaker at the Fruitdale Church of the Brethren. He has served as interim pastor of several churches, as district moderator and board chairman and as a member of the General Board.

Dr. Clague has held many offices in professional associations. He was President and Secretary of the Educational Section of the Virginia Academy of Science. He served as president of two Rotary Clubs and was a school board member. He was Vice President of the California Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and has served on committees of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. He was president of the La Verne, California, Chamber of Commerce.

He has received many honors and is listed in Who's

Dr. William Donald Clague, Executive Vice President, University of LaVerne. He was a former resident of Fruitdale.

Who in the South and Southwest, American Men of Science and Who's Who in American Education.

Dr. Clague has contributed research in several fields: chemistry, education, personnel administration, psychology and the peaceful use of atomic energy.

His grandfather, William E. White, was involved with the Fruitdale Education Company, which brought higher education to South Alabama, and taught many teachers in the Citronelle College and the Fruitdale Seminary. Dr. Clague's mother, Pearl M. White, was one of the early teachers.

Dr. Clague is married to the former Betty Scrogum, and they are the parents of William Donald Clague, Jr., and Gayle Annettee Clague Graef. They live in Southern California.

—Mrs. Viola Harper

The Rev. Abb Cole

At more than 90 years of age, the Rev. Abb Cole, pastor of Jesus Name Church of Charity Chapel, is the oldest full-time pastor in Washington County.

He is a native of Charity Chapel and was the son of the late Frank and Barbara Smith Cole. He is married to the former Ole Mae Sanderson, daughter of the late William Alfred and Grace Ola Dailey Sanderson of Chicora, Mississippi.

The Rev. Mr. Cole and his wife are the parents of seven children and have fourteen grandchildren.

Mr. Cole served in World War I and was trained as a detective after the war. He became blind in 1922. He was converted as a young man and became a lay minister after losing his sight. He said that his mother, a midwife, was very active in the Charity Chapel Church and was a great help to his ministry until she died in 1941.

For many years, the Rev. Mr. Cole played a guitar and led hymns for the church. He has also been active as an evangelist. He preaches at the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ in Semmes, Alabama, every Thursday night. He has held revival services in Lucedale, Leakeville, Chicora and Jayess, Mississippi; Beaumont, Texas; New Orleans, Louisiana, and Theodore, Alabama.

Mrs. Cole said that the Rev. Mr. Cole baptized her when he was holding a revival in Chicora. She was sixteen years old at the time. They were married when she was twenty-one. He also baptised Mrs. Cole's mother, and each of his children.

"The Rev. Cole is very active and an inspiration to those who know him," a member of his congregation stated.

The Rev. James W. Cooper

The Rev. James W. Cooper came to Yellow Pine in May of 1983 to pastor the Yellow Pine Church of God.

The Rev. Mr. Cooper and his wife, Carnell, were married September 20, 1951. She had traveled with her sisters as the Daniel Sisters' Trio. After Brother and Sister Cooper married, they evangelized together. Brother Cooper played guitar and Sister Cooper played accordion, in their revivals.

Brother and Sister Cooper have pastored in many churches. Their six children also are active in the church.

"The Rev. James Cooper was a great inspiration to Jerry Thomas Hartley in the last few months of his life," a member of the church said. "He has meant a lot to many persons in the community."

The Rev. J.A. Daugherty

The Rev. J.A. Daugherty, a Baptist minister, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harrell Daugherty. His mother was the former Margaret Singley. The Rev. Mr. Daugherty was born in Melvin, Alabama, on March 15, 1883. He had five sisters.

The Rev. Mr. Daughterty's second marriage was to Lola Lee Allen. They had nine children—three girls and six boys.

Mr. Daugherty was ordained to preach in 1912 at Hurricane Baptist Church, Choctaw County, where he also preached his first sermon. He preached his last sermon at Lusk Baptist Church, Choctaw County, where he was serving at the time of his death on April 5, 1957.

After his death, one of his sons by his first marriage, Ray Daugherty, served as supply pastor at Lusk Baptist Church, and still is a lay speaker.

The Rev. Mr. Daugherty often rode horseback or walked to church. On many Sundays he received goods as pay, instead of money.

Churches which he pastored included Antioch, Spring Bank, Bethelhem (Deer Park), Center Ridge, Shady Grove and Laton Hill Baptist churches, all in Washington County; Hurricane, Tallawampa, Lusk and Silas First Baptist, all in Choctaw County; Cheperal, Pleasant Grove, Denim, Zion Rest and Coytt Baptist churches, all in Wayne County, Mississippi; and Antioch Baptist Church in Clarke County, Mississippi.

The Rev. Lyman Curtis Davis

The Rev. Lyman Curtis Davis, a lay minister in the Church of God, was born July 12, 1880, in the State of Ohio, but lived most of his early life in and around Boons Camp, Kentucky. He was employed with his father in sawmilling and coal mining.

The Rev. Mr. Davis married Mary Perry, a native of Boons Camp. Seven children were born to the union, five of whom lived to adulthood and moved with their parents to Yellow Pine, in Washington County, in 1919. There the family engaged in truck farming, until crop failures caused Mr. Davis and his four sons to seek employment with the Ingram Day Lumber Company in Yarbo, where they worked for a number of years.

During that time "Mr. Lyman," as he was popularly known, was ordained as a lay minister in the Church of God.

He united several of his co-workers in marriage, including the Rev. Albert Ridgeway and his wife, Catherine, who now reside in Chatom.

He was active in a small Church of God in Yarbo until he retired and moved back to his home in Yellow Pine. There he died, July 29, 1959.

A graduate of Old Southern University, the Rev. Mr. Glenn was admitted to the Conference at St. Francis Street Church in Mobile, on December 12, 1888. He left Mobile by train January 1, 1889, for McIntosh.

From his home base at McIntosh, Mr. Glenn, with the help of Dr. Frank Webb, established the Calvert Church. He later served the Calvert Church from Mt. Vernon, where he had gone to help organize the Methodist Church there. He also help organize the Methodist Church at Fairford.

The Rev. Mr. Glenn and his wife made their home in Midway after his retirement.

The Rev. J.B. Hamberlin

The Rev. J.B. Hamberlin, a Baptist minister and educator, was born in Franklin County, Mississippi, on November 21, 1830. He was graduated from Mississippi College in 1856, and from Rochester Theological Seminary in 1858, and was ordained to the ministry a short while afterward, in Clinton, Mississippi.

He was the pastor of a number of prominent churches in Mississippi and Alabama. In Washington County, he was pastor of Healing Springs Baptist Church in 1898–1900, and of Shady Grove Baptist Church in 1901. Both were in the Antioch Baptist Association.

The Rev. Mr. Hamberlin also served as Moderator of the Antioch Baptist Associational Meetings in 1891–1895, and in 1905. His wife was also active in the Association, serving as Vice President of the Woman's Missionary Union.

Brother Hamberlin was the founder of the Healing Springs Baptist Industrial Institute in 1904. The property, consisting of sixty acres of pine land and a two story frame building, was turned over to the State Board of Missions, which employed teachers and opened the school on September 7, 1904. Seventy-six students enrolled. Brother Hamberlin and his wife also deeded an additional forty acres to the Convention.

Brother Hamberlin died in Healing Springs on October 26, 1906. He had been married three times and had two sons.

The Rev. John Wesley Hamner

The Rev. John Wesley Hamner was the first pastor of Ebenezer Methodist Episcopal Church in Washington County, according to the Writers Project Administration papers.

He was born March 16, 1856, in Pike County, Alabama.

According to Lazenby's History of Methodism in Alabama and West Florida,

> J.W. Hamner was gifted with a fine native intelligence, and was a reader of great books. He became a thoughtful preacher. Large of frame, big of soul, he never trimmed, never truckled to any man. As O.V. Calhoun said of him, "He never crooked the pregnant hinges of his knee that thrift might following fawning." Those who knew him best could say, "There was a man."

The Rev. Mr. Hamner joined the Methodist Conference in 1883 and superannuated in 1917, having given 34 years to the ministry. His first charge was the Washington Circuit.

The Rev. Mr. Hamner died July 20, 1941, at Phenix City, Alabama, and was buried at Smith's Station, Alabama.

—Nannette Richardson Bumpers

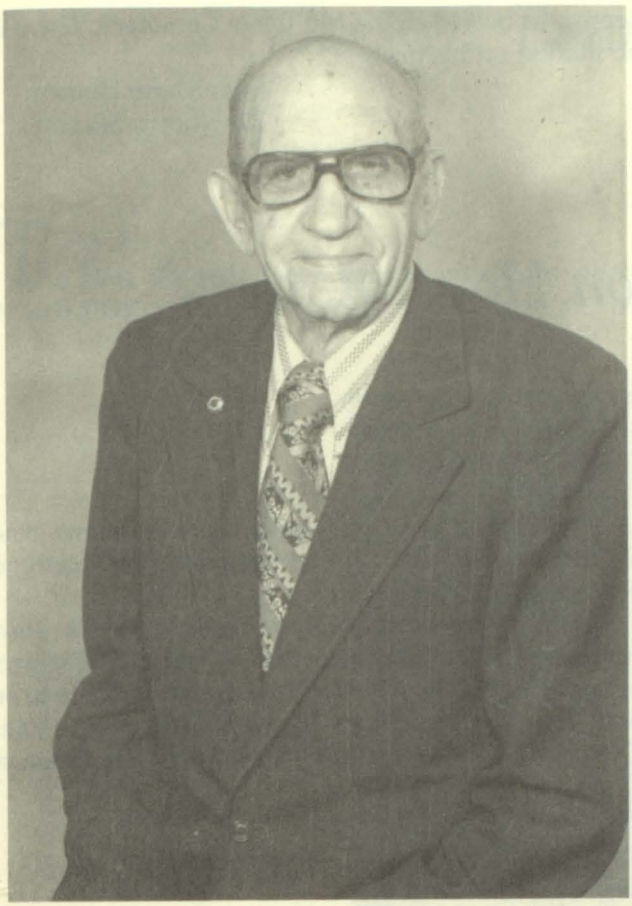

Dr. Hoyt Horace Harwell

Dr. Hoyt Horace Harwell, who died in April of 1986, was an active Baptist pastor in Washington County until his retirement, after which he continued to be busy in Mobile County for many years.

He was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Leroy from 1956 until 1967, when he retired. During his retirement years he regularly visited hospitals and nursing homes, wrote articles and conducted weddings and funerals.

Dr. Harwell was a native of Winder, Georgia, and a graduate of Mercer University in Macon, Georgia. He sang with the Mercer Quartet. He held an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from the Atlanta Law School.

He served churches in Georgia, Florida and Alabama, including West End Baptist in Mobile, where he was pastor for nineteen years before going to Leroy. During that time he also served the Smithtown and Gulfcrest churches, preaching on Saturday nights.

He served on numerous boards and committees of his denomination at county and state levels. He was public relations director of the Alabama Baptist State Convention for twenty-five years, and was an editorial writer for the Call-News Dispatch for twenty-five years.

First Baptist of Mobile, where he was a member and Sunday School teacher, recognized him for completing 50 years in the gospel ministry.

His wife, the late Minnie Eleanor Upchurch Harwell, was a church organist and pianist and was active in all phases of church work. After her family was grown, she became a public school teacher.

The Harwells had six children, three of whom are journalists, and eleven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Dr. H.H. Harwell, May, 1979.

The Rev. David Henson

The Rev. David (Dave) Henson, who was active as a Baptist minister in Washington County in the 1890s, was born in 1848 to James and Ellindor Robertson Henson of Choctaw County, Alabama. The family resided near Butler. He was one of four children born to his parents. He also had half brothers and sisters, as his father was married three times.

The Rev. Mr. Henson married three times. Two children were born to the first wife, whose name is unknown. The second wife, Jane Hammond, had four children. The third wife was Catherine Ferguson, who had no children.

In 1890, Mr. Henson was granted 160 acres of homestead land in the Hawthorn community of Washington County.

He was pastor of several churches in the Macedonia Baptist Association in Washington County and in adjacent counties in Mississippi. He was pastor at Oak Grove Baptist Church (now known as South Oak Grove), 1888–1896; Antioch Baptist Church, 1890–1892; Bassett Creek Baptist, 1890; Cedar Creek Baptist, 1890–1894; New Hope Baptist, 1890 and 1895; County Line Baptist Church, Wayne County, Mississippi, 1892–1898; Magnolia Baptist, Wayne County, Mississippi, 1892–1894; Macedonia Baptist, 1893–1894; Spring Bank Baptist, 1895–1900; Washington Baptist, 1895; Johnson Creek Baptist Church, Greene County, Mississippi, 1899; Bilboa Baptist and Fair-hope Baptist, both in 1900.

Later he moved to Jones County, Mississippi, where he was pastor of several churches. He spent his last years in Mt. Olive, Mississippi, and upon his death was buried in the Mt. Olive Cemetery. There is no marker on his grave.

Hawthorn, Alabama

The Rev. Valton Howard

The Rev. Valton Howard began his ministry at the Millertown Church of God, now known as the Lott Road Church of God.

The Rev. Mr. Howard was approximately forty years old when he began his ministry. He was set forth and licensed by the Millertown Church during the pastorate of the Rev. Gerald L. Phillips.

The Rev. Mr. Howard, his wife Rosie, and daughters Barbara and Betty, moved to Yellow Pine in 1948, when he became the first pastor of the Yellow Pine Church of God. He pastored there until his death on February 5, 1950.

A member of the church stated, "The Rev. Howard's ministry was short, but it had a great impact on many a person. The Rev. Howard went home to be with the Lord, but his works are still following him. Our dear beloved Brother Howard was a great man of God."

The Rev. Mack H. Jones

The Rev. Mack H. Jones began his pastorate of the Chatom Baptist Church in 1929. At the time, he was also pastor of the First Baptist Church in Citronelle, where he and his family lived until 1934, when they moved to Chatom.

The Rev. Mr. Jones was born in Wesson, Mississippi, but grew up in Shreveport, Louisiana. He married the former Lou Hurst of Laurel and Lucedale, Mississippi. They had four children: Martha Lou, Mack, Ray and Ben. Mrs. Jones has always played an active part in Brother Jones' ministry, and the Jones family has befriended not only their church members, but many people of the community and Washington County as well.

Brother Jones attended Pineville Baptist College and New Orleans Seminary and furthered his studies in theology in Cleveland, Ohio. Before moving to Chatom, he pastored churches in Lucedale and DeKalb, Mississippi.

Under his leadership, the Chatom Baptist Church grew, and he helped to establish other churches in the area. These included the Three Fork, Rutan and Spring Hill Baptist churches. He also served on the Baptist State Boards in Mississippi and Alabama, and held offices in the Alabama State Convention.

In 1938, Brother Jones moved to Collins, Mississippi, to become pastor of the First Baptist Church there. After eight years, he returned as pastor of the Chatom Baptist Church.

During his second pastorate, the present church structure was built, and a parsonage was completed.

Brother Jones continued to pastor the church until his retirement in 1976. During the last years of his ministry, he had to have his arm amputated, but did not let that interfere with his service to the church.

After retirement, he frequently was a "fill-in" preacher, and became interim pastor in 1978, serving for a year. He has continued to "answer the call" when needed.

The Rev. Emmett Leroy Knapp

The Rev. Emmett Leroy Knapp was born on 19 March 1899, at Plateau in Mobile County. He was the youngest of three children of George H. Knapp, a native of Connecticut, and Effie Leona Young Knapp (b. 28 February 1873, m. 13 November 1892, d. 8 August 1899), a native of Nanafalia, Marengo County.

Emmett and Mae, with daughter Clara, celebrate their 50th Wedding Anniversary.

When Emmett's mother died from typhoid fever in August, 1899, her three children, Thelma, Jemison (Pat) and infant Emmett Knapp were taken to live in Fairford with her parents, George and Sallie Cabaniss Young. Emmett lived with his grandparents through his teenage years and his upbringing there influenced his later life as a Baptist minister. His grandmother taught him much about the Bible and often recited Biblical stories which enlivened the Scriptures which she read to him.

As a youngster, Emmett learned much about preaching by observing the Rev. William E. Bradley, who conducted "circuit-riding" church services in several Fairford homes. He frequently mimicked the Rev. Mr. Bradley by "preaching" from stump tops to other youngsters and even adults. At the close of his "sermons," Emmett would invite his listeners to "recognize Jesus as their Savoir," and "join the Church." This was followed by simulated "baptisms." His "services" were said to be "impressive."

When Emmett was born, his mother is said to have proclaimed, "This is my little preacher man."

Although Emmett never received formal seminary training or a college education, he became one of the most popular Baptist ministers in Washington and Clarke counties. Despite his popularity, he always felt he could have been a much better minister if he had been afforded the opportunity to attend a seminary.

His close friend, the Rev. Mack Jones of Chatom, recalls that Emmett once told him that "he was touched . . . and became a better preacher," after having observed a Jones sermon at Escatawpa in the early 1930s. He had been impressed by Jones' recitation, during the sermon, of an excerpt from Robert Burns' poem, "Cotter, Saturday Night." Thereafter, he became skillful at using personal anecdotes, stanzas from familiar hymns, and other supporting materials, to enhance his messages.

The Rev. Mr. Knapp received additional encouragement in his ministry when he married Mae Carpenter of the Spring Bank community near Chatom. Mae Belle Carpenter was born 15 March 1905, a daughter of George Matthew Carpenter (b. 25 September 1872, m. 21 October 1895, d. 23 May 1964) and Georgia Loper Carpenter (b. 7 May 1879, d. 27 November 1926).

The Knapps had two daughters:

1. Clara Mae Knapp, b. 29 March 1936, m. Joe Cecil Council, 16 August 1952. Children:
   a. Terry Joe Council.
   b. Steven Morris Council.
   c. Carl Cecil Council.
   d. Tommy Wayne Council.
2. Wilda Bernice Knapp, b. 10 September 1942, d. 1 January 1970. M. Arthur Floyd Walker, May 1960.
   Child:
   a. Carla Jean Walker.

Two sons died as infants and are buried at Spring Bank Cemetery and Liberty Cemetery in Washington County.

On 26 September 1925, Emmett Knapp was ordained as a deacon in the Liberty Baptist Church at Fairford. He first pastored at the Liberty Church from 1927 to 1932, after having been ordained as a minister in the Spring Bank Baptist Church. He always referred to Liberty as his "home church," and during his later years often returned to conduct annual homecoming services.

During his more than fifty years as a minister, he also pastored at Spring Bank (1930–1934, 1937), Tibbie (1934), Pleasant Hill (1928–1935), Bethlehem (1932), Liberty (1927–1932, 1935, 1938–1945), Fairhope (1928–1931, 1935–1936, 1938–1943) and Rutan (1952), all in Washington County, and at Bassett's Creek, Mount Vernon, Peniel, New Prospect, Center Point, Asbury, Evergreen and Good Hope Baptist churches in Clarke County.

Before Mae Carpenter Knapp died in 1977, she and Emmett celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

In the years before his death, though retired, Emmett conducted a number of funerals, weddings, and special occasions such as the ground-breaking ceremony for the new brick sanctuary at Liberty Baptist Church. He died on 8 March 1981 and was buried beside his wife in the Good Hope Cemetery, near Good Hope Baptist Church in Clarke, the last church which he pastored.

The Rev. Hubert H. Loper, Sr.

The Rev. Hubert Horry Loper, Sr., an Assemblies of God minister, was born June 17, 1903, near Millry in Washington County. He was the sixth child of Henry Horry and Martha Lazina Dees Loper. His father was sheriff of Washington County from 1910 until his death in 1912.

After Sheriff Loper's death, Mrs. Loper took five of the children—Beatrice, Hubert, Luther, Lincoln and Bill—to live in the Masonic Home in Montgomery, Alabama. Mrs. Loper later returned to Washington County. Hubert followed when he was 14 years of age. He found work at odd jobs, then went to Kansas, where he harvested wheat for two years, and again returned to Washington County.

In May, 1926, he married the former Alice Scarbrough, daughter of Joseph B. and Pearlee Givens Scarbrough of Washington County. To this union seven children were born: Hubert Horry, Jr., Martha Leigh, J.C., George Allen, Cecil Lamar, Betty Ann, and Barbara Ann (died as an infant).

Mr. Loper attended a revival in Yarbo, where the Rev. Alpheus Broadhead was preaching under a brush arbor. He was converted on June 5, 1932. Shortly afterward, he preached his first sermon at Charity Chapel. His first revival was held at Tibbie. He became affiliated with the Assemblies of God in 1933 and was ordained at Pritchard, Alabama, on August 1, 1935.

During the early years of his ministry, he traveled on foot, and later rode a mule. He carried his Bible in a paper bag until a woman asked him if he was ashamed of his Bible. He never put it in a bag again. He sometimes was gone from home, conducting revivals, for so long that his children would not recognize him.

The Rev. Mr. Loper traveled in Mississippi and Alabama as an evangelist and served as pastor of churches in Copeland, Hobson, Midway, Yarbo, Birmingham and Robertsdale, Alabama, and Progress and Waynesboro, Mississippi, and in other places. He was Section Presbyter of the Assemblies of God for several years, a member of the Alabama District Council of the Assemblies of God and of the General Council of the Assemblies of God, and was an official of the Alabama District.

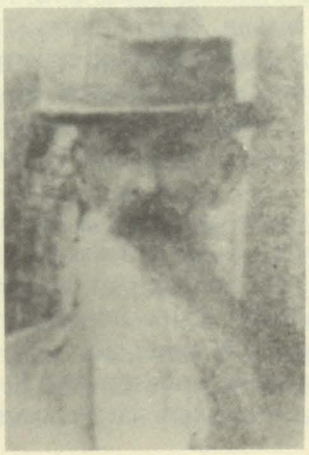

Brother Loper died of bone cancer on July 9, 1982.

The Rev. Hubert H. Loper

The Rev. Dr. Obadiah Lynes

The Rev. Dr. Obadiah Lynes, a Baptist minister and physician, was the son of Thomas Lem Lynes and Mary Watters. He was born October 29, 1841, and died April 21, 1915. He was born and educated in Jones County, Mississippi.

Obadiah Lynes

He studied and practiced medicine before entering the Confederate Army. He was captured at the Battle of Lookout Mountain and served as a nurse in the Union hospital there. He received much training in his profession while doing that service.

Before entering the army, Dr. Lynes was married to Sarah Frances Pitts, who was also from Jones County, Mississippi. They had a daughter, born in 1861.

After his army service, Dr. Lynes returned to Jones County and later moved to Washington County, Alabama, in a covered wagon.

In 1883, he and his wife moved their church letters from Mt. Moriah Baptist Church in Ovette, Mississippi, to the Washington Baptist Church in Hawthorn, Alabama. They were charter members of the Washington Baptist Church and Dr. Lynes served as the first pastor. He was pastor from 1883 to 1888, when the church was in the Antioch Baptist Association, and in 1888–1894, 1896–1897, and 1899–1903, when the church was in the Macedonia Baptist Association. He was also pastor of the Bassetts' Creek Baptist Church, 1888–1889.

Dr. and Mrs. Lynes were the parents of eight children, five of whom lived to adulthood. They were Marjorie, who married Augustus Kirkland; Henry Tillman, who married Ellen Henson; Marcella, who married Charles Middleton; Marzie Jane, who married Jack Williams; and Simpson Bruce, who married Molly Oliver.

Dr. and Mrs. Lynes are buried in the Washington Baptist Church Cemetery.

The Rev. J.M. Mackey

The Rev. J.M. Mackey, a Baptist minister, was born in Mississippi about 1847.

His wife, Nancy J. Mackey, was born in Alabama about 1846. They had several children, all born in Alabama: Medora, 1866; Robert J., 1867; M. Frances, 1869; John H., 1871; Sarah J., 1874; Ida B., 1876; and Mary E., 1879; They are listed in the 1880 census of Washington County.

Brother Mackey pastored several churches, including Oak Grove, 1905–1910, and Antioch, 1906–1910, both of which were in the Macedonia Baptist Association; Rocky Ridge, 1907–1909, Zions Rest (Wayne County, Mississippi), 1907, Center Ridge (Choctaw County), 1909–1910, and Redemption, 1910, all in the Antioch Baptist Association; and Rocky Ridge, 1909–1910, Spring Bank, 1910, and Millry, 1910, all in the Washington County Baptist Association.

The Rev. David Chester Mason, Sr.

The Rev. David Chester Mason, Sr., has been referred to as the "Abraham of Choctaw County," but his ministry has been important to Washington County Baptists as well.

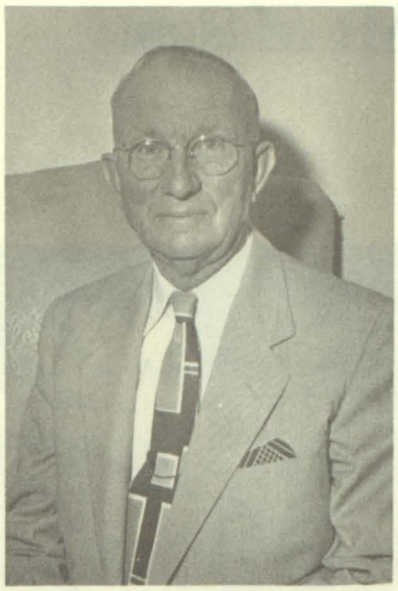

Known familiarly as "Brother Mason" and "Mr. Chester," he was born in Isney, Choctaw County, on May 11, 1890, a son of the Rev. Henry Morgan Mason and Mrs. Callie Fagan Mason, both of Choctaw County. His father, known as "Brother Morgan Mason," was a well-known Baptist minister.

At age 28, on January 30, 1918, the Rev. Mr. Mason was married to Annie L. Ware, who was then a Methodist, but later joined her husband's faith. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.B. Ware of Cullumburg, Alabama. Two sons were born to them, D.C. Mason, Jr., and Thomas Ware Mason, both of Isney.

The Rev. Mr. Mason preached his first sermon at the age of 14, on Mother's Day, 1904, at the Isney Methodist Church. His religious leadership spanned more than 75 years, six associations and 18 churches in two states.

His second sermon was preached at Friendship Baptist Church, when he was 15, at the request of his father, who was pastor of Friendship at the time. He was ordained as a minister at his home church at Isney in 1915, when he was 25 years old.

During most of his pastoral ministry, the Rev. Mr. Mason served as pastor of five churches simultaneously. In the beginning, his main transportation was by horse and buggy. He would leave home on Saturdays to travel to his churches, where he would preach on Saturday night, Sunday morning, Sunday afternoon and Sunday night.

Mr. Mason said his formal education began "by the fireplace," under his own direction and that of his parents. He took the state certification examination and was licensed to teach. He taught school for five years, at Fordtown, Isney, Emory and Silas, serving as both teacher and principal in most schools.

Later, he was graduated from Livingston State Normal School in Livingston, Alabama, and continued his education at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky. While he was attending the Seminary, he did field mission work at the Indiana State Penitentiary. Later he attended Howard College in Birmingham for refresher courses in theology and pastoral work.

The Rev. Mr. Mason attended the annual meeting of the Antioch Baptist Association in 1914, when he was pastor of the Cullumburg Church and two other churches in the Association. He delivered the Report on Aged Ministers and gave the report on Woman's Work for Mrs. H.H. Mason.

The Rev. Mr. Mason was selected in 1917 by the Antioch Association to draft plans for the formation of the Choctaw Baptist Association, and he was the first Moderator of the new Association at its first meeting in 1918. Subsequently, Mr. Mason served for more than 25 years as Moderator of the Choctaw Association, four years as Vice Moderator, several years as delegate to the Southern Baptist Convention and the Alabama State Baptist Convention and as a member of the Alabama Baptist State Executive Board.

The Rev. Mr. Mason began his pastoral ministry as pastor of the Friendship Baptist Church in Washington County in 1914, and continued in that post for more than 65 years. Another early ministry was that of the Cullumburg Baptist Church in Choctaw County, 1914–1916 and 1934. He was pastor at Spring Bank and Black Creek churches from 1917 until his "semi-retirement" in 1959. He was pastor of the Butler Church in 1918. He began pastoring at Bladon Springs Church in 1919, and continued that pastorate for more than 60 years. He served the Gilbertown Church from 1919 to 1924, when his father returned there as pastor. He served Gilbertown as interim pastor from 1935 to 1940. In 1940, he began pastoring Hurricane Church, and continued for 33 years, until 1973. During his pastorate at the Hurricane Church, he built a new sanctuary and made other improvements.

In addition to his work with churches in the Antioch and Choctaw Baptist Associations, the Rev. Mr. Mason was active in the Washington County Baptist Association. The Friendship Church was his longest pastorate. He also pastored the Rocky Ridge Church from 1914 to 1920, the Koenton Church from 1915 to 1920, and the Chatom Church in 1918.

Other Washington County Churches at which he was pastor included Bethelhem (Deer Park), Escatawpa, Chapel Hill, Frankville, Millry and North Oak Grove.

The Rev. Mr. Mason also participated in the Wayne, Clarke and Liberty Baptists associations in Mississippi. He was Moderator of the Wayne Association in 1940 and pastored three churches in the Association, with one pastorate, Bucatunna, lasting more than 20 years, from 1923 to 1943. For eleven years he pastored the largest church in the Clarke Baptist Association, the Pine Grove Church, 1935–1946. In the Liberty Baptist Association, he was pastor of the Rock Springs Church in 1916–1917.

Mr. Mason never ran for public office, but he was active in civic affairs in Choctaw County, working to bring rural electrification, telephone service and other amenities to the area. He was also a successful businessman, operating a sawmill, a bus line and a farm as well as an extensive land management program.

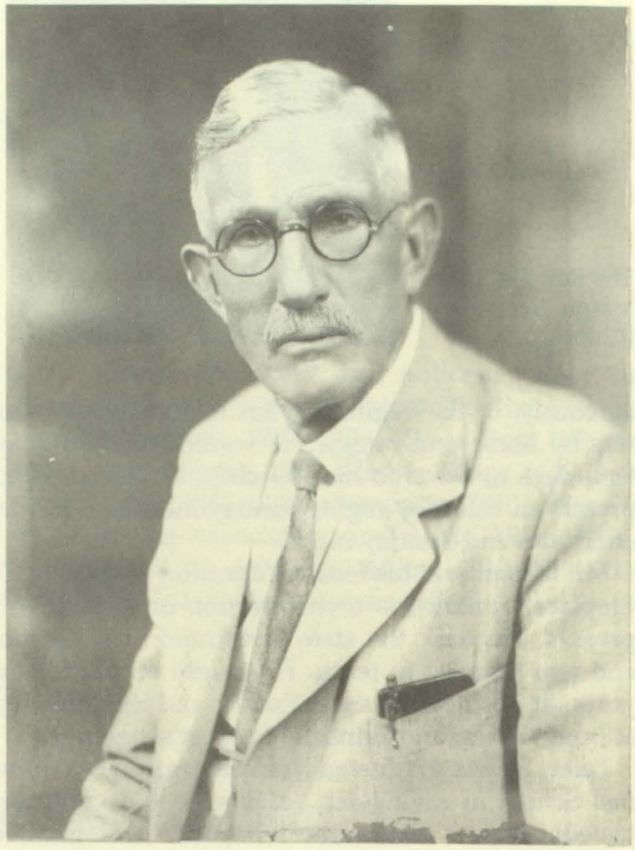

The Rev. H.M. Mason

A well known Baptist minister in Washington and Choctaw counties, the Rev. H.M. Mason was the pastor of the Chapel Hill, Chalk Hill (Koenton), Friendship, Healing Springs, Rocky Ridge, Shady Grove and Spring Bank churches in the Antioch Baptist Association.

He was also pastor of the Oak Grove (now South Oak Grove) Church in the Macedonia Baptist Association, and the Chapel Hill, Frankville, Friendship, Healing Springs, Koenton, Millry and Rocky Ridge churches in the Washington County Baptist Association.

In addition, he worked for more than fifty years in the Choctaw County Baptist Association, serving as clerk for most of that time. According to W.J. Dansby, in a memorial address to the Choctaw County Association, in 1939, the Rev. Mr. Mason "built more Baptist churches than any man in this section."

Both the Rev. Mr. Mason and his wife, the former Callie Fagan, were from Choctaw County.

The Rev. Henry Morgan Mason

The Rev. Henry E. McCoy

The Rev.Henry E. McCoy was the first Assemblies of God minister to come into Washington County, about 1929.

He preached in Yarbo and Hobson communities and established the Hobson Assembly of God Church in 1930, serving at its first pastor. He served three times as pastor there. He also preached in Choctaw County.

The Rev. Mr. McCoy lived with his wife, Sally, in the Clear Creek community, approximately five miles from Shubuta, Mississippi. They were the parents of Elroy (Shem) and Pauline McCoy.

The Rev. Francis Leroy Moss

The Rev. Francis Leroy (Brother King) Moss, a Baptist pastor, was the fifth child of the Rev. Francis Robert Moss and Nancy Weights Moss. His father was also a preacher and helped to organize the Baptist church at Spring Bank by holding Bible studies and preaching in homes of the community.

Affectionately known as "Brother King," the Rev. Mr. Moss was born in February, 1832, and died in November, 1906. He served in the Confederate military during the Civil War.

He married Minerva Ann (Nan) Anderson, daughter of Solomon and Eliza Booth Anderson, Jr. There were eight children of the union.

The Rev. Mr. Moss was ordained to the ministry on October 6, 1889, at the Tenth Annual Session of the Macedonia Baptist Associational meeting, held with the Center Ridge Baptist Church in Wayne County, Mississippi. Elder Dave Henson was then Moderator and Elder J. Shade Bridges (half brother of Mr. Moss) was clerk and treasurer of the Association. Following his ordination, the Rev. Mr. Moss preached the afternoon sermon.

The Rev. Mr. Moss helped to organize the Pine Level Baptist Church, which was first known as Frog Stool Baptist, in 1886. He was the first preacher at the little church, but was never the pastor. He also helped organize the Fairhope Baptist Church in 1890.

Churches which he pastored included the New Hope Baptist Church in 1891 and the Bilboa Baptist Church in 1895–1897. Both were in the Macedonia Baptist Association.

The Rev. Mr. Moss's great-grandson, the Rev. Tommy Ray Moss, and his great-great grandson, the Rev. David Moss, both are ministers.

—Barbara Waddell

The Rev. Tommy Ray Moss

The Rev. Tommy Ray Moss, a Congregational minister, is the son of Lula Mae Price Moss and the late Victor W. Moss. He attended Mobile College in 1970–1971, and started preaching at the age of 30.

He pastored the Yellow Pine Church of God and the Chatom Church of God. He did evangelistic work for six years in five states: Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana.

He is pastor of the Congregational Church at Livingston, Sumter County, Alabama, which he established and built.

The Rev. Mr. Moss is married to Emma Rene Dixon of Millry and they have two sons and two daughters: Steven Ray, Charlene, Renee and Victor.

He is the great-great-great-grandson of Francis Robert Moss, founder of the Spring Bank community and of the Baptist church there. His great-great-grandfather, the Rev. Francis Leroy (King) Moss, also did evangelistic work in the county.

The Rev. James Allen Pelham

The Rev. James Allen Pelham, a Methodist preacher, was born in Alabama on December 11, 1825, and died on March 3, 1909. He was a riverboat helper in his early adulthood but later became a merchant and minister in St. Stephens. He was also postmaster of St. Stephens for 30 years, from 1874 to 1904.

The Rev. Mr. Pelham's parents were William and Lydia Pelham of Lower Peach Tree in Wilcox County, Alabama. During the Civil War he served in Company N of the 15th Alabama Regiment.

He and Mary Elizabeth Jordan were married March 11, 1851. She was born in Washington County on May 15, 1833, and died on September 17, 1885. They are buried in the St. Stephens Methodist Cemetery. The parents of Mrs. Pelham were Henry G. Jordan and Margaret M. Brantley, who were married on April 25, 1832. Margaret Brantley was the daughter of Robert and Mary Ann Wilkins Brantly and was born in North Carolina. Robert Brantley was the son of Louis and Patty Waller Brantley of Halifax County, North Carolina.

The Rev. and Mrs. Pelham were parents of nine children, all of whom were born and reared at St. Stephens. They were:

I. Georgia A. Pelham, born in 1854; married Lafayette Sigler on July 24, 1872; moved to Mobile and raised a large family.

II. James Henry Pelham, born April 10, 1856, died July 15, 1930 and was buried in Pine Grove Methodist Church Cemetery. He and Fannie Sivil Bowling (born July 25, 1860) were married April 14, 1880. They had six children:
1. James Bowling Pelham, born March 6, 1881, never married;
2. Mary Sivil Pelham, born January 5, 1883, married Thomas John Campbell, July 13, 1904 (children: Benny, Samuel and Gladys, born in Carson, Alabama, and T.J., Jr., and Frances, born in Atlanta);
3. Daisy Edith Pelham, born August 27, 1885, died July 30, 1963, married Jack Fleming Turner, June 3, 1903 (children: Marie, Emma, Lena, Jack, Daisy, Frank, Billy, and Lauren, all born and raised in St. Stephens);
4. Percy Lee Pelham, born March 27, 1888, died February 10, 1964, married Sophie Bowling, February 1916;
5. Salome Coats Pelham, born October 29, 1890, died May 8, 1938, married George Washington Huggins, October 14, 1913;
6. Katie Bassett Pelham, born September 25, 1894, died December 3, 1975, married Secil Earnest Wall, February 25, 1914.

III. William Pelham, born in 1860, died in childhood.

IV. Charles E. Pelham, born in 1862.

V. Robert A. Pelham, born in 1864.

VI. Edmond Lee Pelham, born in 1866.

VII. Malcolm Pelham, born in 1868, married Minnie _____, died in Tampa, Florida.

VIII. Minnie E. Pelham, born March, 1870, died November, 1959, married Sim T. Darnell and lived in Anniston, Alabama.

IX. Lena Estell Pelham, born July 3, 1874, died October 21, 1940.

For a time, the Rev. Mr. Pelham was the guardian of the minor children of his brother, Jephtha V. Pelham. The children were Joseph, James, John, Laura and Jephtha Pelham.

The descendants of the two brothers have been prominent in the life of Washington County for more than 140 yeears.

The Rev. Glen William Petcher

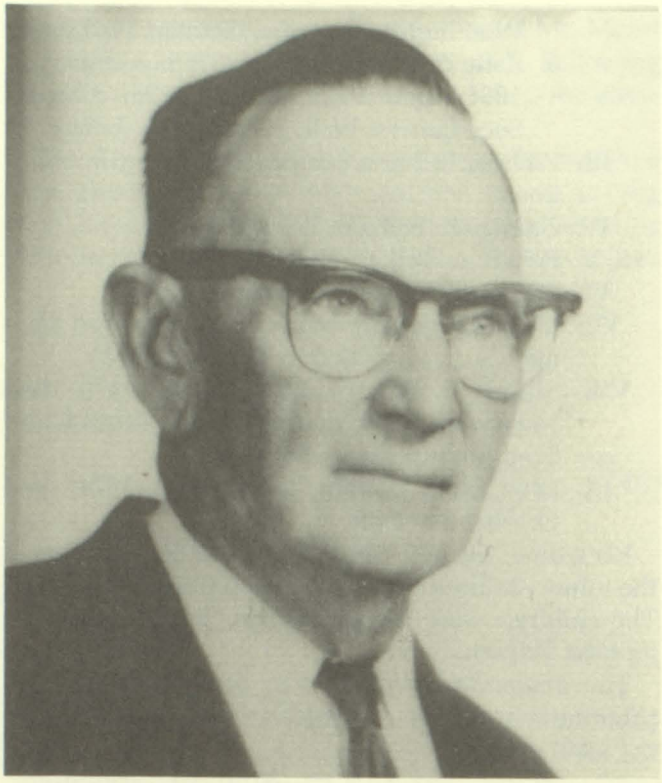

The Rev. Glen William Petcher, a Church of the Brethren minister, was born in Plymouth, Indiana, on April 5, 1888. He was the oldest child of John Frank Petcher, a photographer, and Ida Huff Petcher. During his teenage years, the family moved to Winamac, Indiana, where the Petcher children met those of Edward White. The Petchers had lived in Arkansas, and the Whites in Alabama, and both families had gone north for educational advantages.

The Petcher and White families desired to return to the South, and learned from relatives in Fruitdale, Alabama, that state teacher's examinations were given annually in Montgomery. In 1909, the Petcher family moved south by covered wagon and the White family by train. Glen Petcher, his sister Marie, and three members of the White family took the teacher certification examination and were given positions in Alabama schools.

Glen Petcher joined the Church of the Brethren at Fruitdale and became pastor of that congregation in 1910. He continued in that position for more than 45 years. The church sent young ministers on home missions in the surrounding communities, to hold services every Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Petcher was active in the program, preaching at State Line, Yellow Pine, and Stonewall, Mississippi, as well as in the Fruitdale Church.

In 1910, Mr. Petcher married Edith Faye White, daughter of the Rev. William Edward White. They had seven children: Rhett, Helen, Dorothy, Paul, Harold and Joyce.

He continued teaching in the Washington County schools and was the first teacher in the Howardtown community, now known as Tibbie. Other positions included Vinegar Bend (where he was principal in 1910–11), Yellow Pine and the Normal School at Fruitdale.

The Rev. Mr. Petcher moved to Mobile County, where he taught at Cedar Creek, near Citronelle, in a one room school, until the area schools were consolidated. After additional study and more advanced examinations, he was issued a lifetime teacher's certificate by the State of Alabama and was appointed as principal of the Wilmer School. Shortly afterwards, he went into business, realizing that a teacher's salary was insufficient for raising a family.

The Rev. Mr. Petcher continued his commitment to the Church of the Brethren. In 1916, he helped organize the Cedar Creek Church of the Brethren near Citronelle, while continuing to preach at Fruitdale and other churches. All of his ministry was spent in Alabama, with the exception of 1954–55, when he was pastor of the French Broad Church of the Brethren in White Pine, Tennessee.

The Petcher family's love of music led to the organization of the Church of the Brethren Radio Choir, made up of members of the Fruitdale and Cedar Creek churches. The choir sang in churches in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, and for several years had a weekly radio program on WALA. The choir also was asked to present programs on radio stations in Biloxi, Meridian and Hattiesburg, Mississippi. Some of the programs were "test programs" which were aired at 2 a.m. and heard nationwide. The Rev. Mr. Petcher's musical ability contributed to his ministry, as he could sing solo and direct the choir, as well as deliver the sermon.

A major goal in Mr. Petcher's life was to give his children a good education. "An education is for life and none can take it away," he said. All seven of his children finished college and continued to graduate school in medicine, religion, pharmacy and education.

The Tennessee and Alabama District of the Church of the Brethren elected the Rev. Mr. Petcher as their Moderator several times. He represented the District as its trustee to Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Virginia. He was also Director of Ministerial Affairs for the District, and a member of the Southeastern Regional Board for Establishment of Homes for the Aging.

The Rev. Mr. Petcher was an outstanding Bible scholar, and wrote a weekly column for the Citronelle-Mt. Vernon Call. He also wrote for the "Gospel Messenger."

He died in 1963.

Dr. Paul Walter Petcher and Esther Wilson Petcher

Dr. Paul Walter Petcher and his wife, Esther Wilson Petcher, have been workers in the Church of the Brethren in Washington County since 1960.

Dr. Petcher is a physician and an ordained minister and elder in the Church of the Brethren. He and Mrs. Petcher, an educator, spent many years as medical and educational missionaries in Africa.

They went to Nigeria in 1951. In the first tour, Dr. Petcher was in charge of the Ruth Royer Kulp Memorial Hospital and the Garkida Leprosarium. On the second tour, he was in charge of the Lassa Hospital, serving an area of 250,000 people. He performed about 500 major operations a year and supervised the delivery of about 250 babies a year. He supervised the treatment of about 1,000 leprosy patients.

While in Nigeria, he was the elder in charge of several churches varying in size from 25 to 500 members. On one Sunday, he participated in the baptism of 80 persons. At one time he was the elder of the Leprosarium Church, where all members had leprosy.

Esther Wilson Petcher was at one time headmistress of the Garkida Junior Primary School. The missionaries trained teachers and started new schools, so that in five years she was teaching under a Nigerian headmaster, an indication of progrss. The church grew in the same way.

Esther Wilson Petcher grew up in Maryland, near Taneytown (home of Francis Scott Key).

Both Dr. and Mrs. Petcher were graduated from Bridgewater College at Bridgewater, Virginia. Dr. Petcher has served on the college's board of trustees for twenty years and received its Distinguished Alumnus Award in 1971.

Dr. Petcher attended the Medical School at the University of Alabama for two years, then transferred to the University of Pennsylvania, where he received his M.D. degree in 1948. He interned at the Jefferson-Hillman Hospital in Birmingham, Alabama. He had a two-year surgical residency at the Mobile General Hospital, Mobile, in 1949–1951. He was chief resident at the hospital, 1950–1951.

The Petchers, with their four children, moved to Chatom in 1960. Dr. Petcher is on the active staff of the Washington County Hospital and the courtesy staff of the Providence and University of South Alabama Hospital. He is a member of the American Medical Association, the Alabama Hospital Association, and the American Academy of Family Physicians. He is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Family Practice at the University of South Alabama, where he has taught medical students for many years.

Dr. Paul and Esther (Pat) Wilson Petcher.

Dr. Petcher has served as Moderator of the Church of the Brethren in the Southeastern District of the United States. He has been Moderator of the Cedar Creek Church of the Brethren, Citronelle, and active on the church board.

Mrs. Petcher has been active in Washington County community affairs as a 4-H leader (1964–1966), P.T.A. president (1963–1965), garden club president (1975–1977), and Chatom Community Improvement leader (1965–1967). She was presented a County Leadership Award by the State of Alabama in 1967.

From 1968 to 1971, she taught in the black school to help integrate the local school system, which was completely integrated after two years.

Mrs. Petcher has served the Church of the Brethren as youth director, camp director, women's leader, Sunday School teacher, song leader and board chairman. She has served for more than a decade on the Southeastern District Board. She represents the local church and the district on the national level and was elected in 1984 to a five year term on the General Board of Trustees.

The Rev. Rhett R. Petcher

The Rev. Rhett R. Petcher, a Church of the Brethren minister, was born December 5, 1915, a son of the Rev. Glen W. Petcher and Edith Faye White Petcher.

The family moved to Cedar Creek, a community about four miles east of Citronelle, the year following his birth. He was graduated from Citronelle High School, and received his B.A. degree from Bridgewater College and his B.D. and M.D. degrees from Bethany Seminary.

The Rev. Mr. Petcher was called to the ministry by the Cedar Creek Church of the Brethren. During his high school years, he was involved in the mission work of the church. Some of his first sermons were preached at Tibbie, and at the Lambert and Frazier communities in Mobile county. The mission work was extended to include services at Edith, Mississippi.

While at Bridgewater College, he was a member of the Student Volunteers, Clericus, and the College Choir. He also sang in the male quartet which toured the northeastern United States. The group provided worship services for many churches, with Mr. Petcher preaching the sermon and singing in the quartet.

While attending Bethany Seminary in Chicago, he met Leona Beery, who became his wife. During that time, he served as a student pastor in Rice Lake, Wisconsin, and after graduation, he became the pastor there.

After six years in Wisconsin and three years at Argus, Indiana, the Rev. Mr. Petcher and his wife moved back to Fruitdale, where he served as pastor for three years.

During the last year at Fruitdale, he was hired as the District Secretary for the Tennessee and Alabama District of the Church of the Brethren, and moved to

The Rev. Rhett R. Petcher, August 1970.

Kingsport, Tennessee, where he also served as pastor. His next move was to Virginia, where he was pastor of churches in the Roanoke area until his retirement.

Mr. Petcher is the father of five children, all of whom are graduates of Bridgewater College, and grandfather of ten. He is now married to Univa Burkepile Petcher and lives in Semmes. He continues to serve as a free minister. Much of his time is spent in Tennessee, Virginia and the Carolinas, preaching for short periods at churches which have no pastor. He has also worked in the Church as a speaker on weekly radio, youth leader, camp director, counselor and music director.

The Rev. William H. Ponder

The Rev. William H. (Bill) Ponder, for twenty-two years Missions Director for the Washington County Baptist Association, was born in Bay Springs, Mississippi, and was graduated from Weogufka High School.

His father owned a sawmill, and he worked there until he joined the Army. He was wounded while serving his country on New Georgia Island in the South Pacific. He returned home and was married, but his first wife and child both died. He later married his present wife, the former Mary Geneva Ponder of Jasper County, Mississippi.

Mr. Ponder was licensed to preach in 1945. "I began preaching in earnest in 1948," he said. From then until 1954, he held interim pastorates and did some supply preaching.

He was graduated from William Carey College in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, in 1959, when he received a B.A. degree in history and religion. He has taken several seminary extension courses.

His secular work experience included working for a wholesale hardware company in Laurel, Mississippi, working as an automobile salesman, and working at the Alabama Ordinance Works in Sylacauga.

Mr. Ponder came to Washington County as pastor of the Spring Hill Baptist Church, where he served from 1960 to 1962. On August 1, 1962, he became the missionary of the Washington County Baptist Association. The title later was changed to Missions Director. He retired in 1984.

Mr. Ponder, his wife and their two adopted sons were guests of honor at a reception held July 31, 1977, at the Chatom Baptist Church.

"He has proven himself to be a capable leader and administrator, a friend of pastors and a solver of problems which nearly every church has," a friend said of the Rev. Mr. Ponder.

The Rev. S.O.Y. Ray

The Rev. S.O.Y. Ray, a Baptist minister and leader, was born October 1, 1847, in Wilcox County, Alabama, one of seventeen children and the youngest of eight sons, all of whom served in the Confederacy.

On December 15, 1869, he married Miss Josephine Tait, who was the mother of his twelve children.

He was baptized by the Rev. Elijah Bell into the fellowship of Mt. Hope Baptist Church in Wilcox County, in July, 1867. On December 25, 1875, he was ordained. In 1888, he sold his farm and devoted the remainder of his life to mission work in Mississippi and Alabama.

The Rev. Mr. Ray served churches in the Chickasawhay Baptist Association in Mississippi, and in the Mobile and Antioch Baptist Associations in Alabama. The churches which he served in the Antioch Association were Escatawpa Baptist in Washington County and Isney Baptist in Choctaw County, both in 1883.

He was an active leader in the Antioch Baptist Association and in the Alabama Baptist State Convention. He helped to plan many of the programs of the Antioch Association and corresponded closely with the State Convention.

In May, 1917, he died in Tuscaloosa, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fleetwood Rice, and was buried in that city.

The Rev. Walter Ray Replogle

The Rev. Walter Ray Replogle, a minister of the Church of the Brethren, was born July 22, 1894, near Lafayette, Indiana, the fourth child in a family of five born to Horatio Replogle and Mary Spidle Replogle.

The youth was baptized in a small stream near the Piermont, Indiana, Church of the Brethren, at the age of twelve. His parents chose their home in Flora, Indiana because it was within walking distance of the Church of the Brethren there.

After graduating from Flora High School, he attended Manchester College. He was installed in the ministry at Flora in 1916 and there preached his first sermon. Shortly thereafter, he came to Fruitdale, Alabama, where he preached and participated in the religious life of the community.

In 1919, Brother Replogle returned to Anderson, Indiana, where he met Linna Swoveland. They were united in marriage by the Rev. D.W. Bowman of that city. Following their marriage, the couple lived, worked and studied for five years at Bethany Theological Seminary in Chicago.

The Rev. Mr. Replogle was graduated from Bethany in 1925 and began a ministry with various Churches of the Brethren—Summitville and Rossville, Indiana, and Stony Creek near Bellefontaine, Ohio. They moved to Fruitdale in August, 1940, to serve the Brethren churches in Fruitdale and Cedar Creek, near Citronelle.

In 1951, the Rev. and Mrs. Replogle accepted the pastorate of the Church of the Brethren in Bartlesville, Oklahoma, and in 1954 moved to Okeechobee, Florida, to serve a pastorate there.

In 1957, the Replogles returned to their home in Fruitdale, the mission of their first choice. He served as presiding elder and pastor of the Fruitdale church until his death on October 10, 1971. Mrs. Replogle served as music and religious instructor until her death on May 8, 1982.

The Rev. Alex Joseph Scarbrough

The Rev. Alex Joseph Scarbrough, a Baptist minister, was born April 25, 1913, to Joseph Brown and Pearlee Givens Scarbrough. "A.J.," as he was called, was ordained by his pastor, the Rev. J.W. Singley, of Wagar, Al. on December 26, 1948.

Mr. Scarbrough joined the United States military on January 8, 1938. During World War II, he was injured, on June 7, 1944. He was hospitalized until February 1, 1946, after which he came home.

On November 6, 1948, he married Mrs. Georgia Mae Enlow Rawlings, a widow with three small children—Barbara, Elizabeth and Kenneth. He helped raise the children and on August 16, 1949 a daughter, Patricia, was born to them, and on May 5, 1953 another daughter, Christine, was born.

The Scarbrough family had helped to construct the Laton Hill Baptist Church in 1931. Mr. Scarbrough was a member of that church until he and his wife, Georgia, and three of their children moved their membership to the Spring Bank Baptist Church in the early 1950s.

The churches in which he filled the pulpit included Laton Hill, Spring Bank, Wagarville, Fairhope, South Oak Grove and Shady Grove. At the time he preached at Shady Grove, the church had just been built. The floors were dirt, covered with hay, and the seats were homemade wooden benches.

He held a week-long revival in a little mission church called Omega, near Copeland, during the summer of 1950. Many rededicated their lives and some were baptized. He and his wife also conducted vacation Bible school that week. The Rev. Mr. Scarbrough also preached in Erett, Mississippi, and probably in other churches in Mississippi and Alabama.

Brother "A.J." Scarbrough died at his home, September 17, 1963, and was survived by his wife and five children.

The Rev. Reuben Thomas Shinn

The Rev. Reuben Thomas (Brother Tom) Shinn, a Baptist minister, was a son of Thomas Shinn (born in 1820 in North Carolina, died in 1894 in Texas) and his first wife Eliza Ann Develin. The elder Shinn came from North Carolina and settled first in Coosa County, and then in Washington County, Alabama.

The Rev. R. Thomas Shinn and his twin brother, Nathaniel Green Shinn, were born June 11, 1851, in Washington County. They had a sister, Mary, who married B.F. Porter, a justice of the peace in Washington County. Tom's mother died when he was small and by 1858 his father had married Lucinda Praytor, by whom he had six children: John, Benkamin Franklin, William Harris Coleman, Henrietta, Pink (a girl), and Jack.

On December 14, 1872, R. Thomas Shinn and Sarah Elizabeth (Lizzie) Long, daughter of John and Mary Long, were wed in Washington County. They had fourteen children, three of whom died in infancy and eleven of whom lived to adulthood. The children were: R.T., Jr.; Mary E. (Liza); Harris Busby, born in 1877 in Alabama, died in 1947 in Texas; twins Alice and John; William T. (Powe), born in 1882 in Alabama, died in 1961 in Texas; Lucinda E. (Lizzie), born in 1884 in Alabama; died in 1982 in Texas; Mollie A., born in 1886 in Alabama; Henrietta, born in 1892 in Texas; Fannie, born in 1895 in Texas; and Lester, born in 1900 in Texas.

The Rev. Reuben Thomas Shinn

The Rev. Mr. Shinn moved to Texas with his family in 1886 or 1887. His son, Harris Busby Shinn, who was nine or ten years old when the family left Alabama, recalled walking beside the wagon for most of the trip. The family settled in the area of Cream Level community of Van Zandt County, Texas. The Rev. Mr. Shinn rode circuit and held meetings all over the part of East Texas and was instrumental in establishing several churches in the area, including Little Hope Baptist Church, near Canton, Texas, which he considered his church home.

Sarah Elizabeth Long Shinn died on September 26, 1919. Subsequently, the Rev. Mr. Shinn married Mrs. Leona Koen Strong, widow of Thomas Edward Strong. There were no children of that marriage.

On August 3, 1933, the Rev. Mr. Shinn died. Funeral services, at Little Hope Baptist Church, were held on the lawn to accommodate the crowd. He was buried beside his first wife at Carter Cemetery in Van Zandt County, Texas. He was survived by eleven children, fifty-five grandchildren and thirty-seven great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Mr. Shinn had been a Methodist, but converted the the Baptist faith. Josiah Shinn in his History of the Shinn Family in Europe and America cited him as a Methodist preacher of considerable power." In addition to preaching and farming, Mr. Shinn worked as a nurse to the seriously ill.

The churches which the Rev. Mr. Shinn served in Washington County, Alabama, were Chalk Hill Baptist, Koenton, in 1885, and Bethel Baptist Church, Healing Springs, in 1886, when those churches were part of the Antioch Baptist Association; and Shady Grove Baptist Church in 1885, and Antioch Baptist Church in 1886, when those churches were in the Macedonia Baptist Association.

(Great-granddaughter of the Rev. Mr. Shinn)

The Rev. John White Singley

The Rev. John White Singley, a Baptist minister, was born November 10, 1893, to John and Mary Singley.

He married Lizzie Stokley and they had five daughters; Mrs. Allie Mae Doggett of Bollinger, Mrs. Vera Roney of Wagerville, Mrs. Glendine Brown of Florida, Mrs. Machie McGewarin of Saraland and Mrs. Norma Vernon of Reno, Nevada.

He was ordained in 1914 at the North Oak Grove Baptist Church. He served churches in three associations. They included the Coytt Baptist Church in Coytt, Mississippi, 1914, in the Antioch Baptist Association. He served at Berney, 1915–1919; Fairhope, 1932–1934 and 1959–1960; Jones Hill, 1916–1918, 1921–1928, and 1931–1938; Laton Hill, 1943–1948; North Oak Grove, 1915–1928 and 1944; Pine Level, 1934; Rutan, 1950–51; South Oak Grove, 1919–1921; Shady Grove, 1919–1921; Tibbie, 1923–1933; and Washington Baptist, 1922–1924 and 1939–1946; all in the Washington County Baptist Association. He also was pastor at North Oak Grove Baptist Church, 1916–1917, in the Macedonia Baptist Association.

Brother Singley died March 9, 1971, and his wife died December 7, 1972. Both are buried in the North Oak Grove Baptist Church Cemetery, located at Millry in northern Washington County.

The Rev. James Larkin Touchstone

The Rev. James Larkin Touchstone was born about 1839 in Mississippi, a son of Daniel Touchstone. He was a Baptist evangelistic minister, preaching in churches of Washington County when needed to fill the gap as a supply pastor.

He preached at many of the associational meetings held in the churches of the country. He worked in Washington County from about 1870 to 1890.

His wife was Nancy Touchstone, born about 1839 in Alabama. The U.S. Census records of 1870 and 1880 list their children as Theodosia, Elizabeth, William, Daniel E., John P., Nancy, Darilee, Jesse and Wilson.

The Touchstones made their home in the Red Creek Community, in the northern part of Washington County. He died about 1900.

The Rev. T. Eli Tucker

The Rev. T. Eli Tucker, a Baptist minister, was born in Black's Bend, Wilcox County, Alabama, on September 13, 1842.

He was converted at State Line, Mississipi, in 1874 and was ordained to the ministry in June, 1879. His ministerial life was spent mostly in Washington and Choctaw counties.

He was married to Miss L.V. Shoemaker on February 28, 1866, and they had eleven children.

The churches he pastored in Washington County were Chalk Hill Baptist, 1890–1891 and 1893–1898; Chapel Hill Baptist, 1905–1908; Healing Springs Baptist, 1908–1911; and Chatom Baptist, 1910–1913. Baptist Churches in Choctaw County, at which he was the pastor, were Black Creek, 1883; Spring Bank, 1885 and 1899–1912; Isney, 1886–1894 and 1901–1904; Womack Hill, 1886, 1895–1897 and 1900–1903; and Mt. Pisgah, 1898–1901.

The Rev. Emmett R. Vaughn

The Rev. Emmett R. Vaughn, a Baptist minister, was born in 1840 in Washington County, the eldest child of Richard H. Vaughn (born in 1811 in Virginia) and Anna B. Rain Vaughn (born in 1817 in Alabama).

His siblings were: Clifford P. Vaughn, born in 1844, married Jennie Hunter, March 27, 1873; R. Vivian Vaughn, born in 1845, married L.N. _____; Liona E. Vaughn, born in 1848; Ida M. Vaughn, born in 1851; Adella (Della) Vaughn, born in 1853, married Robert Burgess in Washington County, January 9, 1870; Richard P. Vaughn, born in 1853; and Eugene R. Vaughn, born in 1860, married Lula M. Sullivan.

The Rev. Mr. Vaughn married Mary Sanxey (Sasney). They had seven children: Effie Nora Vaughn, born March 1875, died June, 1915, married David R. Clarke; Willie Vaughn, married first, Mary Sanxy Vaughan, wife of the Rev. Emmett R. Vaughn, Mother of Nora Vaughan, Grandmother of Warren S. Clarke, Great-grandmother of Bennie E. Clarke. The story told by family members is that the Rev. Vaughn would not let anyone take his picture—"because it is wrong."

_____ Webb, second, Georgia Ward; Marion Vaughn; Frank Vaughn; James Vaughn, married Emma Johnston in Washington County, June 5, 1906; Lonnie Vaughn, married Josephine Taylor in Washington County, Alabama, January 1, 1896; and Louie Vaughn.

A grandson, the Rev. Emmett Vaughn, son of James Vaughn and Emma Johnston, was also a Baptist minister in Mobile County. His mother, Emma, was a daughter of Powell Bates Johnston and Mrs. Anna Cornelia Young Stribling.

The Rev. Mr. Vaughn was the pastor of several churches in Washington and Mobile counties. In 1894, he was the pastor of Spring Bank Baptist Church in the Antioch Baptist Association.

The Rev. James Madison Warrick, Sr.

The Rev. James Madison Warrick, Sr., was born April 16, 1813, in Sampson County, North Carolina, the third son of Dempsey and Mary Warrick. He was married twice: first to Sarah Farrior, daughter of Bryant and Sarah Farrior, and second to Luella Elizabeth Williams, daughter of James Star Williams. There were eleven children by each wife.

He was a Baptist minister, a physician, a saddle maker and a landowner. He owned a grist mill in Washington County. He was a Mason and a Woodsman of the World. He was a private in the Creek Indian War and served in the Atlanta Mounted Police before moving to Pike County, Alabama, in 1836.

He lived in Pike County until 1856, at Healing Springs in Washington County from 1856 to 1865, and at Fail, in Choctaw County, from 1865 to 1894. He owned land in both Washington and Choctaw counties.

Two churches at which he was the pastor in 1885 were in the Macedonia Baptist Association. They were the Red Bank Baptist Church, which was located about ten miles west of Chatom on Highway 56, and is no longer in existence, and the Spring Bank Baptist Church, which is located about four miles west of Chatom on Highway 56, and is still active.

The Rev. Mr. Warrick died January 6, 1894, in Healing Springs. His daughter, Martha Ann Judson Warrick, owned a grocery store in Healing Springs.

Dr. Ralph E. White

Dr. Ralph E. White, a minister of the Church of the Brethren, educator and civil judge, was born in Pulaski, Indiana, July 22, 1896, and died December 19, 1969.

He received his education in Indiana schools and came south in 1909 with his father, W.E. White, and family, to teach in the Fruitdale area schools. He took examinations in Montgomery to receive a teaching certificate. He taught in the Fruitdale Academy and several rural schools before returning north. He obtained a degree from Manchester College in 1917.

He was called to the ministry with the Church of the Brethren and attended Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago. After pastorates in Piney Flats and Johnson City, Tennessee, he went to Northwestern University for an M.E. degree in religious education.

Ralph and Matie White

He was pastor of the Naperville Church of the Brethren for seven and one-half years.

In 1937, he became the field secretary for Bridgewater College. He built new church buildings at each of his pastorates which included First Church, Roanoke, Virginia, and the Frederick, Maryland, Church of the Brethren. During World War II, he was active in establishing conscientious objector camps for public service.

After pastoring for many years, he retired, but three months later accepted a church at Beaver Dam. He was twice elected Judge of the Orphan Court at Frederick, Maryland.

Dr. White was married to Matie Hill on August 19, 1917. They had a son, Lowell Edward White, born October 2, 1920, and an adopted daughter, Eva Lee (Mrs. Frederick Sencindiver, Jr., of Falls Church, Virginia).

A letter from his dying father, dated June 6, 1944, sums up the spirit of the White family:

> You could not have cheered me more than your news of D.D. I have tried to encourage you older ones to set a high example for the younger. You have do so, now is it being passed on to where? Where will the end be? My sun is setting, but you younger ones are just at your zenith. May it shine on—

William Edward White, Sr.

William Edward (Ed) White, Sr., and educator and missionary of the Church of the Brethren, was born in Battle Ground, Carroll County, Indiana, on September 27, 1867, and died in May, 1945. His parents were Alexander White and Mary Ann Cogan Carpenter White, formerly of Wetumpka, Alabama. His father had a saddle and harness shop and his mother was a teacher. They moved to Indiana to obtain better quality education for their children, the oldest of whom attended Northwestern University.

Brother White was educated at Mount Morris College, Manchester College and Bethany Seminary. He became affiliated with the Church of the Brethren in Delphi, Indiana, in 1881.

He began his teaching career in a school west of Mount Morris, Indiana. He became interested in the Brethren's mission work, carried on by his college classmates N.R. Baker and B.B. Baker and his former college professor James N. Neff (1862–1912), with whom he corresponded. The Brethren School Company, organized by Neff and others, established three schools—the Fruitdale Academy, the Fruitdale Seminary and Citronelle College, in 1892. Brother White was their northern agent before he came south.

After the death of two of his children and his father, he followed his brothers, James and Frank, to Alabama, and took a teaching assignment at the Fruitdale Academy. Their mother also returned to Alabama, where she died and is buried in the family plot at Fruitdale Cemetery.

Brother White was active in Brethren educational mission work, opening his home and the Seminary for classes to prepare teachers to take certification examinations. He obtained teaching positions for his two older children and for other young teachers in rural schools of Southern Alabama.

In the early 1900s, concern for rural schools helped stimulate the creation of the Southern Education Board, a group of educators and philanthropists. With the help of the Peabody Fund and other resources, several educators were appointed as supervisors of rural schools. N.R. Baker, White's classmate from Mount Morris, was named Rural School Superintendent in Alabama and was associated with the Alabama Department of Education.

Brother White, in 1911, participated in a study of Southern rural schools with the goal of developing a "more scientific direction" in rural education. Consolidated schools, school legislation and more funding for schools resulted from the rural school movement.

As principal of the Vinegar Bend School in 1910–11 he led the school in becoming the first accredited rural school in Alabama. He also became State Secretary of Rural Schools in Alabama.

Brother White set up workshops and training schools for teachers and taught to normal schools at Montevallo and Daphne. He was principal of Carson High School at Leroy and was principal of the Charity Chapel School at the time of his death in 1945.

In addition to his education work, Brother White was active in the work of the church of the Brethren, opening missions at Lambert Station, Tibbie, Brewton, and other small communities, commuting to them by train, car, horseback and wagon. He opened night schools and religious education sessions in homes and churches. He took his teachers to professional associational meetings, once traveling by flatcar on a train.

Brother White and Nancy Yost White were the parents of eight children: Pearl, who married Allen Clague; Edith, who married G.W. Petcher; Ralph, who married Matie Hill; Owen and Ruth, who died early; Roy, who married Ruth Wine; Ina, who married Louis Shirkey; and Ruby, who married John E. Moore.

Nancy Yost White died April 27, 1920. Brother White married Flora Crook, daughter of Benjamin and Kate Godwin Crook of Brewton, July 28, 1921. They were the parents of W.E. White, Jr., who married Ruth Wine; Viola, who married W.R. Harper; Norma Irene, who died early; Alton D., who married Ouida Jordan; Earl R., who married Milly _____; and Robert A. White, who married Irene Duncan.

The mission, church and educational endeavors begun by Brother White have been continued by his sons, Robert A. White and Roy White and by his grandsons Robert A. White, II, Dr. Paul Petcher, and other descendants.

The Rev. Roy Irvin White, Sr.

The Rev. Roy Irvin White, Sr., a minister in the Church of the Brethren, was born in Winamac, Indiana, Novbember 23, 1901. He accompanied his parents, William Edward White and Nancy Yost White, to Fruitdale, where his father was principal of the Fruitdale Academy in 1909–1910. His early life in the Fruitdale area is described in his book, Venturing South, published by Brethren Press.

He attended schools in Fruitdale and Vinegar Bend, and Carson High School in Leroy, when his father was principal there. He received his B.A. degree from Manchester College in 1927 and his M.A. degree from Northwestern University in 1933.

He received his B.D. degree from Bethany Biblical

Roy Irvin White

Seminary, Chicago, in 1929. While residing in Chicago, he was a mission worker and Sunday School superintendent at the Hastings Street Mission for ten years. He was pastor of the Douglas Park Church of the Brethren in Chicago from 1936 to 1946. After leaving the Chicago area, he held pastorates at Spindale, N.C., Bristol, Tenn., and Frostburg, Md.

In 1922, the Rev. Mr. White was married to Ruth E. Wine, daughter of the Rev. Madison Wine and May Stover Wine. Their children are Roy Irvin White, Jr., and James Mitchell White. Mrs. White died November 14, 1985.

Since his retirement to Citronelle, he has contributed to the religious and educational endeavors of the area as an elder of the Cedar Creek Church of the Brethren and as a free lance writer. He has a regular column in the Call-News Dispatch and writes for Newsday.

He was president of the Citronelle Kiwanis Club in 1969 and 1970, during which time the planning and building of the Senior Citizens' Nursing Home was begun.

Brother White, who is popularly known as "Uncle Roy," is also an avid gardener, planting trees and unusual plants "for future generations."

Elder Madison Wine

Madison Wine, a minister and elder in the Church of the Brethren, was born December 19, 1873, a son of Jacob and Elizabeth Bowman Wine of Dandridge, Tennessee. He was the sixth of ten children. His father was a preacher in the Church of the Brethren.

Madison was a graduate in 1896 of the Emerson Institute, Dandridge, Tennessee, where he received a gold medal for scholarship.

He moved to Fruitdale, Alabama, upon graduation, having heard that Fruitdale was a promising fruit growing community and that a seminary, high school and church were being organized by members of the Church of the Brethren.

He taught grammar school for five or six years at Fruitdale, Deer Park, Escatawpa and Oak Grove (near Fruitdale).

He was ordained as a minister in the Church of the Brethren on November 18, 1898, at Fruitdale.

In 1900, he was married to Julia Mae Stover, who had just completed a year at the junior college at Citronelle. A few years after the marriage he bought 40 acres of unimproved land from the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. The property was two and one-half miles northeast of the town of Fruitdale. He built a house and barn and started to farm. He and his wife raised five children.

He was active in the growth of the Fruitdale Church of the Brethren and often traveled to mission points at Waynesboro, Buckatunna and Chicor, Mississippi. He also preached frequently at the Church of the Brethren in Citronelle.

During World War I, he went to Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Mississippi, to hold services for recruits.

In his later years he became an Elder in his church. He continued to preach until the mid-1920s, when his health started to fail. He died March 11, 1933, and was buried in the Fruitdale Cemetery.

The Rev. Calvert Bruce Young

The Rev. Calvert Bruce Young, a Baptist minister, was born to Steven Columbus Young and Charlotte Starr Gibson Young on October 12, 1881, in Nanafolia, Marengo County, Alabama.

On January 4, 1900, he was married to Eugenia Parnell, daughter of Jesse C. and Rebecca Ann Johnson Parnell. To this union were born seven children: Beatrice (Mrs. C.D. Schwarzauer) of Mobile; Vernon (deceased); C.B. Young, Jr., of Mobile; Esther (Mrs. S.A. Hovell) of Calvert; Alice (Mrs. O.H. Shurden) of Calvert; Adelle (Mrs. E.D. Stoudenmier) of Chickasaw; and Marie (Mrs. J. M. Floyd) of Calvert.

The Rev. Mr. Young was converted in 1902, in the Nanafalia Baptist Church, and afterwards felt the call to preach. In 1912, he and his family moved to Fairford in Washington County. He began pastoring churches in Washington and Mobile counties, while working at a mill in Fairford. These were usually "quarter-time" churches, at which he would preach on Saturday night and Sunday morning.

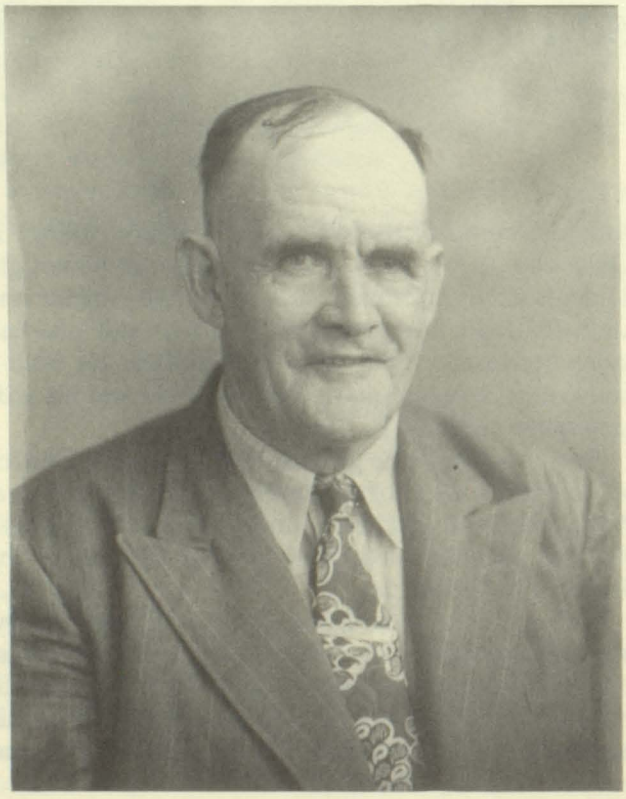

Mr. Young was pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church in West Citronelle, Mobile County, for twenty years—1918–1921 and 1924-1941. He was also pastor of the Fellowship Church in Gulfcrest, Mobile County.

Churches he served in Washington County were: Fairhope Baptist, below Chatom; Shiloh Baptist, near Deer Park; Pine Level Baptist in Hobson; Washington Baptist, near Deer Head; Cortelyou Baptist; and Liberty Baptist, where he was serving when he died in 1948.

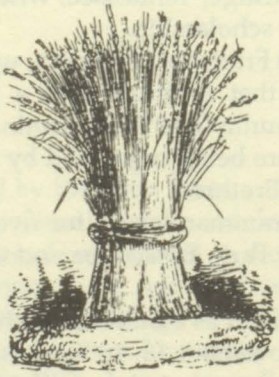

While serving the Bethel Church in 1918–1921, he would walk from Fairford to the church, a distance of at least twenty miles, on Saturday and return on Sunday afternoon. While at Fairhope, he would ride the train on Saturday and return Sunday afternoon. In 1924, he bought a Model T Ford, which made his work easier.

The Young family moved to Calvert in 1927, and he died there. "There were not many people in Washington County that he could not call by their name. He loved people and counted everyone he met a friend," a member of his family recalled.

Odds and Ends

Toinette

The once thriving mill-railroad town of Toinette, established in the early 1900s, is now gone except for the Hooks house and a few other small residences.

Toinette was located on the Southern Railroad, near Lewis Creek, a few miles north of McIntosh. It was on the railroad, some distance from the main road from Jackson to Mobile. To get to the main road, one travelled by horse and buggy to Sunflower. The roads were then dirt and in rainy seasons full of deep, muddy ruts.

The first mill in Toinette was the Washington Lumber Company, which was later operated as the Cochran Lumber Company, which employed fifty or more workers. Later a Mr. McGowin (maybe W.G. McGowin) took over the mill. There was also a mill operated by the Laubenthal family near Sunflower.

The mill employees occupied bungalows in Toinette. There was also a boarding house, operated by Mrs. Lizzie Scott. Dr. Gaines Cuthbert McCrary had a physician's office there.

Between Slaughter Bend and Gopher Hill (Old St. Stephens)

December 7, 1941. It seemed like any ordinary Sunday morning. We had got up early that Sunday morning and, as usual, my mother said grace and we said our Bible verse, then we ate breakfast. Then we went off to Sunday school and church that morning and later we visited some friends and finally that evening we went home and ate supper. After a few games of checkers with some friends who came to visit us, it was time for us to feed the hogs. While we were feeding the hogs I heard my father come to the door and say "You all come here, quick." (I had heard my Dad talk about World War I, for he was a veteran. He would tell us how many days it took him to go from America to France on a ship back in 1918, and how the German soldiers placed booby trapped knives and watches on the ground, and how he almost picked one up, but another soldier hollered at him just in time to save his life.) When we got to the door, he told us the bad news. "You all listen," he said, "The radio just said that the Japanese have bombed Pearl Harbor. Lord! I hope we are not in another world war." But it had happened. As old folks used to say, "Hell had broken loose." The next morning, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Congress declared war on Japan.

War is a terrible thing. Men were being drafted into the armed forces and a lot of young men would lose their lives fighting for our country. People were on the move and our little town seemed to be falling apart. There was very little food in the small stores in St. Stephens and you had to have rationing stamps to buy that. People held prayer services for the safe return of our servicemen and women. I can remember Deacon Sire Harris saying that prayer changes things, so just about every Wednesday night the people would meet at the church and sing and pray for the war to come to an end. I can remember Aunt Hattie Alston and her sister Ollie Rose and Mrs. Eldora Howell used to sing a particular song every Sunday. Mrs. Howell was the president of our choir department and one of the best choir organizers I have ever known. She most certainly knew how to handle people and, at the same time, keep cool and keep smiling, and somehow get the job done.

Then, finally, the war was over. Our soldiers and sailors were returning home. Now came adjustment time. Some of these brave men's minds had gone through some terrible experiences. I have seen men come home from this terrible thing called war and make a complete change in their lifestyle. Some became alcoholics, some drug addicts, some were shell shocked. But others were able to adjust. Some of the men came home and went into business, such as the mercantile business. Some were farmers, like Mr. Edward Faith, who was a farmer and cattleman whose home was near the old capital site. I remember the servicemen, as soon as they got home and settled down, would then hurry to the Post Office, where they would sit and talk to people. I don't know whether they were going to the Post Office to get their mail or to talk to Mr. Lonnie Stabler. He was the postmaster at the time and was also a veteran of World War I.

The Post Office was located in the old Arthur Smith store building, which was one of the oldest stores in the community. The building was later purchased by another prominent citizen, Mr. Cecil J. Alston, who was also a World War II veteran and postmaster. He also ran a grocery store and was credited with starting the first free delivery service for groceries. Before that you had to carry them in a sack on your back, unless you had a horse or a mule, or unless you could get Mr. Smitty Smith to deliver them for you. He ran the mattress and upholstery shop, and he would delivery your groceries, provided that you promised him that you were going to buy or have made a mattress. I know Mr. Smitty got a whole lot of promises. He knew people were not going to buy any mattresses, but he would help you just the same. He was what we used to call a person with a "high temper." He would "raise sand" with you in the morning, and before night he would beg your pardon and be ready to help you again.

There is an old saying that our parents used to use in our little town that goes like this: "You don't miss your water until your well is dry." Everybody misses Mr. Smitty and his family, including his mother, whom we used call "Grand Ma Stadium." She had a pet possum and everywhere she went, she carried that possum with her. If you wanted to get into some bad trouble, you just bothered that possum, for it did not take her long to get "hot" about her pet.

We shall never forget men like old Uncle Lum Mixon, whose motto was, "Hold your head high and keep a smile on your face, for God still loves you."

In this place, St. Stephens, the first county seat of Washington County, we are proud of and grateful for our heritage and culture, which our forefathers, from all races of mankind, have contributed to making a relatively peaceful and prosperous climate to live in.

We can proudly boast of some of the finest Christian men and women in the world.

There were people like Leo Perkins, who ran the family butcher shop. It was just amazing to stand and watch Mr. Perkins at work. While it would take the average man two hours to dress and butcher a beef, he could do it in half the time.

There were men like A. Caesar Howell, who was a professional timber appraiser by trade. He could go to a 40-acre tract of timber and tell you exactly how many thousand feet of logs it had or how much money you should pay for the tract.

We should always remember men like Andrew Bozeman, whom we used to Uncle Dooley. His brothers, Will and Henry, ran a logging firm that provided jobs for our little community.

There were men like Jerry Bassett and Uncle Jim Cleveland. Uncle Jim was a 102-year-old freed slave who stood 6 feet, 6 inches tall. I can remember every Saturday and Sunday morning people from miles around, both black and white, would gather at his house and listen to him tell stories about things that happened back in slavery time. Some perhaps were false, some were true.

Now, as we travel from Jim Cleveland Spring and across the Bayou Bridge, we come into sight of Nigh Four Acre Cut. It was so-called after Elijah Tarleton. Everybody knew Tarleton. They used to tease him by asking him how much land he was going to farm that year. Instead of saying, "nearly four acres" or "about four acres," he would say, "nigh four acres."

He was also the brother of John Tarleton, a prominent citizen in our community. He owned the little family blacksmith shop. He could make any kind of tools you needed, like logging tongs or farming plows or equipment.

There is another old saying that, "God takes care of old folks, babies and fools." I don't know which of those categories you would place us in, when we were boys, for we would try almost anything when we got out of our parents' eyesight.

I can remember when we would try swimming in any mudhole or water we found, not only in the river, but also in the Roseine Pond. The pond was named after Roseine Woodyard Phillips. It was the place where everybody would water their horses and mules, and it was full of all kinds and sizes of alligators. If you would be quiet and slip in without any noise, you could see them lying everywhere. But we swam in the pond "in spite of the devil."

As a boy, I remember quite well that Dr. Willie Kimbrough used to treat just about everybody in Washington County, including people in St. Stephens. I can remember when my brother and I were in bed with the measles, and my mother sent for Dr. Kimbrough. When he got to our house that evening, I remember hearing him say to my parents, "Howdy, Clara. Howdy, Howard. What's wrong with them boys?" Mama said, " I don't know, Dr. Kimbrough. I think they've got the measles." Dr. Kimbrough came over to our bed, looked at us and said, "You boys get up out of that bed." We were so scared that we jumped clear out of bed and nearly ran over him. You could hear him laugh for at least one-quarter mile away. After seeing how scared we were, he said, "Boys, I was just playing with you all. Go get back in that bed." He gave Mama some pills and told her to make some sassafras tea to speed up the breaking out, and that way we would be cured of the measles. He was a great doctor and citizen in our community, as was his father, the first Dr. William Kimbrough.

I remember hearing my mother and some of the older people talking about the terrible influenza epidemic that hit St. Stephens back in 1917–18. They said that someone died every day for about 35 days and that about 40 people lost their lives in the epidemic. Theys said that if it had not been for old Dr. Kimbrough, the whole community could have been wiped out. But Dr. Kimbrough worked day and night trying to save people's lives.

There are many more people in this community of St. Stephens who have contributed their time and effort and money to our town. There were men like Mr. Joseph Faith and Mr. Woodie Goldman, who ran the sawmill and provided jobs for our people. There were men like Mr. Shelly Moseley, who was a farmer and Mr. Zeb Beech, who was what our parents used to call, "the Counselor," for when anyone had a problem and could not solve it, they would go to Mr. Zeb Beech and somehow he would give them an answer.

We thank God for the many Christian hearted people who have tried to make our town a better place to live. Most people call this place, "Old St. Stephens," but we call it "God's country."

The Vinegar Bend School

In 1913, when William E. White was its principal, the Vinegar Bend School was the first and only school in the state to receive a "Superior" rating. The school was awarded a "diploma" by the State Department of Education.

According to Dr. N.R. Baker, state supervisor of rural schools, any school that scored appropriately high on educational requirements, building equipment, administration and "vitalizing activities," could receive a "Standard" or "Superior" rating.

The Vinegar Bend School, as the first to receive a "Superior" rating, thus served as an example to others. The ratings were part of an effort on the part of the Alabama Department of Education to improve rural schools.

In addition to Principal White, teachers at the school were Miss Indez Van Airsdale, assistant principal; Miss Marie Petcher, grammar department; and Mrs. Nancy E. White, primer department. Trustees were A.R. Turner, chairman; W.S. Pearce, county superintendent; N.R. Rockwell; and H.J. Cravey.

The school had pupils in prime and first through nineth grades. Students in their nineth year were Clarence Rockwell, Aileen Grayson, Margie Pullen and Dora Busbee.

BASSETT FAMILY CEMETERY

The cemetery is located approximately two miles east of the railroad crossing at Prestwick, Al. and near the site of the original Bassett homestead.

Francis Stringer Bassett
4-5-1813 - 10-5-1851
(Mr. D.K. Sullivan states that Francis died from being thrown from his horse and a hunting horn pierced his side.)

Elwina V. Bassett dau of Walter & Mary Woodyard, Sr.
9-28-1815 - 3-17-1852

Also supposedly located near these graves are the graves of:

Barbara Bassett Bowling; sister of Francis S. Bassett
died about 1841

Robert Bowling; husband of Barbara Bassett
died about 1831

Thomas Bassett, father of Francis S. Bassett
died about 1816

Sarah Bassett, wife of Thomas Bassett
died about 1841

Lucy Bassett, mother of Thomas Bassett date of death unknown

William Bowling, older brother of Robert Bowling died sometime after 1818

A short distance east of the Bassett graves is a large black graveyard, but only one gravestone is located there. This stone marks the grave of Rev. Isaac Lewis who was born in slavery time and was the property of Eli Y. Bowling. The inscription is not legible and the estimated time of birth and death are 1860 - 1938.

The Bassett cemetery was compiled by: Frank W. Bassett, Jr. (IV) on Oct. 25, 1979.

The data on the black cemetery is from Mr. T. B. Pearson.

BATLEY - BROWN FAMILY CEMETERY

This cemetery is located on the Stallworth property in the Four Points community. The area which contains these graves is called "Batley Level."

Inside a little iron fence are these graves:

Infant son of J.A. & S.E. Brown
12-13-1896 - 12-13-1896

Son of J.A. & S.E. Brown
11-20-1888 - 7-1-1899

Outside the fence is this grave:

Katie, daughter of G.W. & S.A. Batley
11-15-1872 - 11-28-1873

BATES CREEK CEMETERY

The cemetery is small, but old, surrounded by a brick wall about 1.5 feet high. It is located near Bate's Creek between the new highway 43 and the old Malcolm-Wagarville road. The cemetery contains about six or eight graves inside the wall that have been excavated by grave robbers several times. Apparently there are also a number of unmarked graves outside the wall. This cemetery, heavily covered by vegetation, contains only one tombstone.

Lud W. Harris (native of S.C.)
8-1799 - 7-29-1837

Some of the other persons buried there are:

Mr. Bates and wife
Mrs. Charlie Miller (?)
Female Jones (Bob Jones sister)

THE BOWLING FAMILY GRAVE YARD
(A brief history)

The Bowling Family Grave Yard is located in Leroy, Ala. on the south side of the Carson and St. Stephens public road, one mile west of the Leroy School and near the old Leroy Post Office.

The Bowling Family Grave Yard had its beginning with the burial of Lillian Bowling (11-10-1862 - 1-17-1863), infant daughter of Capt. R. L. Bowling and his wife, Sarah Maria Chesebrough Bowling.

The baby died while Capt. Bowling was in a Confederate Military hospital due to severe wounds received in the Battle of Murphreeboro, Tennessee on December 31, 1862. It is quite possible that Capt. Bowling never saw this child.

It is said that Mrs. Bowling had the child buried in her flower garden so that the little grave could be properly cared for. The second interment was that of 9 year old William Wallace Bowling who died 7-17-1869 and was buried beside his little sister. This was the beginning of the grave yard that has been the last resting place for many members of the Bowling family since that time. It is rather unusual that Capt. Bowling, his wife and all nine of their children are buried in this grave yard.

The only non-family members interred here are Mrs. Annie Creight Lloyd and her little daughter Hallie Fannie Lloyd. The child died 10-1-1870 and Mrs. Lloyd asked permission to bury her little girl near the graves of the little Bowling children and permission was granted. When Mrs. Lloyd died 3 years later, she was buried beside her little daughter. Tombstones for the Lloyd graves were placed more than 50 years later by a Major Lloyd who came to Leroy in search of the graves of his mother and little sister. The location of the graves was shown to him by my mother, Mrs. Selma Bowling Pearson.

There are a number of public officials buried here; Capt. R. L. Bowling served as Sheriff of Washington County as did his son, Robert Leroy Bowling, Jr. Another son, Theodore Cheseborough Bowling served as County Treasurer and was Washington County's County Superintendent of Education. Also he was the first Postmaster of Leroy which was established in 1896 and was named for Capt. Bowling. Robert Shaw Bowling represented Washington County in the State Legislature.

Harry Lee Glover was a State Senator as was his son, Ben Glover.

Richard G. Pearson served as a County Commissioner, also as a member of the County Board of Education and was Leroy's Postmaster at the time of his death. Frank W. Bassett, a son-in-law of Capt. Bowling, also served as Sheriff of Washington County. Mrs. Virginia W. Bowling served as Leroy Postmaster and Mrs. Selma Bowling Pearson served in this capacity for many years.

Mrs. Caroline Shaw Bowling served for many years as Postmaster of St. Stephens.

The above history of the Bowling Family Grave Yard was written by Theodore Bowling Pearson on June 15, 1982.

The list of grave stones and inscriptions were recorded by Mrs. Vivian Powell Dyer, who's grandmother was Mrs. Sallie Bowling Powell. The list was brought up to November 4, 1986 by Theodore Bowling Pearson.

DESERTER'S BEND
By: Rev. Leroy Beech

Deserter's Bend is located in the Dearmon Fork's area, near Millry, Al. The reason for calling it Deserter's Bend is because several Civil War Veterans deserted the war and came there. All of them got away when the soldiers came to capture them, except for one - Joseph "Joe" Beech. Joe was the son of a John Beech. Joe was born about 1823 in Alabama according to the 1850 Washington County census and married Feb. 25, 1847 in Washington County, Al. to Sarah Parker born about 1830 in Mississippi. The Civil War was during the early 1860's. So probably Joe was killed about the year 1863 or '64.

PINE TREE HOLINESS CHURCH CEMETERY

Pine Tree Church used other cemeteries and mainly the Shady Grove cemetery for many years. In 1980 Mr. J. W. Ford, an employee of Scotch Plywood Co. of Waynesboro, Mississippi contacted Mr. J. W. Griffith and Mr. Earl Patton, two employees of American Can Co. about some land for a church cemetery. The land joining the church is property of American Can, the company donated two acres of land to the church for a cemetery on April 19, 1981. When the deed was recorded the church members had plenty of work to do in clearing this land and this was done by Mr. Ford in contacting the Pitts Construction of Waynesboro, Ms. Mr. W. C. Pitts sent Mr. Louie Freeman, an employee, over with his dozier and the clearing of the land was donated. Also thanks to Raymond Smith and others who had a helping hand in this project.

The Lord has richly blessed the people of Pine Tree Church in every effort the people have undertaken. They thank the American Can, Mr. W. C. Pitts Company, and J. W. Ford. Trustees of the cemetery are J. W. Ford, Lincoln Tate and Ollie Koen.

SALLE' GRAVEYARD
Leroy, Al.
By: Mr. T. B. Pearson

The Salle' Graveyard has been destroyed. It was located in a field 1.3 of a mile due north of the old Leroy Post Office. It only contained two graves.

George F. Salle' (b. Chesterfield Co., Va.)
6-4-1781 - 1-28-1873

Julia Brewer Salle'
7-19-1805 - 1-3-1883

George F. Salle' was one of the lawyers in Old St. Stephens and leter in Mobile.

The grave stone of George F. Salle' was found beside a little country road by T. B. Pearson and for preservation was carried by him to a corner of the nearby Bowling Family Graveyard. No tombstone was ever erected of his wife - Julia Brewer Salle'. The above dates of her birth and death copied from the Salle' family Bible.

Ellen (or Ellea) Bell
7-22-1880 - 9-22-1903

This was at one time a fair sized cemetery, fenced in with quite a few grave markers, but now there is one remaining marked grave.
This cemetery was close to a church which has long since disintergrated due to people leaving the area and a way of life vanishing, or fading out. Mrs. Eugene Harrell says she thinks this cemetery is on Adams property.

WEBB-SIMS CEMETERY

This small cemetery is located about two miles southeast of Calvert. The first person to be buried in this cemetery was Hattie Dickins Simms. Col. Earl Van Dorn, no doubt, had something to do with the land as his daughter, Lillie was buried there, and Col. Dorn was buried there, too. But he was moved to some other place when the cemetery was fenced and Lillie's grave was left on the outside of the fence.

Jim Coker born in the 1800's and died in the 1940's is buried inside the fenced area on the property of the International Paper Company at the Woodland Equipment Shed, two miles from Rattlesnake Forks on the St. Stephens and Hobson Road. His wife was Annie Dykes Coker. They did not have any children.

A member of the Kelly family is buried near Baker's Fork on land which belongs to International Paper Company. Her grave has a marker. (This family is related to the Dykes - Mrs. Kelly was a Dykes.)

The graves of William "Bill" Stoker, his wife Amzie Richardson Stoker, two infants of William K. & Tildie Reeder Stoker, James S. "Jim" Stoker, and Mr. R. J. Dearmon, are located on land now owned by Choctaw Land Co., T6N - R1W - Section 3, a short distance through woods from William Stoker cemetery. Bill Stoker died in 1894, married Amzie Richardson, was parents of William Ketchum, Daniel Jeames and James "Jim" Stoker. The Mr. Dearmon was the first husband of Mariah Stoker (Bill and James Stokers sister). These graves have been destroyed by International Paper Company. Pine seedlings were planted on them.

Frank D. Davis
1868 - 7-13-1945
First wife was Minnie Augusta Sullivan. Their children were Katie Davis Dubose (born 2-27-1909) and Lula Davis Faith (born 12-21-1911). Second wife was Martha Elizabeth Dunn and they had one child Jephtha Dunn Davis.
This grave is located in front of Joseph E. Faith home in St. Stephens near Hwy. 34 and Hobson Road.

Information relayed from Mr. L. M. (Matt) Faith to Edward Davis Faith on the Crowe (or Crow) family was that they operated a water mill on Tauler Creek (north of St. Stephens). Several members of this family were buried on Horn Hill. This property belongs to Choctaw Land Company now and no cemetery remains.

UNKNOWN CEMETERY ON PEAVY'S LANDING

Taken from NEWSDAY, Citronelle, Al. dated December 1985, record of this cemetery was turned in to NEWSDAY by Leon Harris of Frankville, Al.

Alone and forgotten on the top of a hillside near Peavy's Landing but on the Tombigbee River lie two graves. The dates on the beautifully carved stone are from the past century.

On the larger of the two is the name Larkin Evans with the inscription "Born January 30, 1809 - Died October 25, 1873." The smaller stone bears only the initials L. E.

Much conjecture about how the graves came to be located in such an isolated spot has been made. Among the theories are that there had been a steamboat accident just upriver and the graves are those of its victims. Another legend that has been heard is of an epidemic of cholera or plague which broke out on one of the steamboats which made regular stops at Peavy's Landing and that the bodies were hurriedly buried there to prevent the spread of the disease.

As the stones are so intricately cut and of such a fine workmanship and they bear the name of a monument company in Mobile, Al., it is hardly likely that the residents of the hillside were merely buried and forgotten. Perhaps some of you may have family histories which would lay these legends to rest.

The smaller stone also appears to have had another plate imbedded in it which has been lost during this past 112 years.

WASHINGTON COUNTY, ALABAMA TOMBSTONE INSCRIPTION

Contributed by: Mr. & Mrs. James C. Armistead

NOTE: Mr. Armistead asked some of his friends to copy the tombstone inscription when they were discussing about it being in such an out-of-way place. It was copied April 25, 1969 by Capt. C. K. Joiner and Pilot James Elmore of the Tugboat "Bigbee" of Demopolis, Al. They discovered this cemetery at Pevies Landing on the Tombigbee River in Washington County. The cemetery is located on a bluff and grown up in trees. This is the only tombstone remaining in what once was a fairly large cemetery. This marker itself is now down, but is very impressive in size and markings. On it is a design of a "rare" tree with furit being ears of corn. The marker was manufactured by McDonald, March & Co., Mobile, Al.

The marker is for:

Larkin Evans
1-30-1809 - 10-25-1873

ANOTHER UNNAMED CEMETERY

Located north of Armstrong Creek in Wagarville, Al. west of Hwy. 43, NW quarter of Section 1, Township 5N, Range 1W.

Lige Parnell and one sister

Infants Woodie and Bell Hudson

Other graves are unknown

The Scarbrough family lived near there on the road that General Jackson cut.

Known graves in "Turner Pine pasture," now owned by Gulf Pine Co. Township Five North in southwest Washington County Ala. Kirkland (child) - no other information available. Parents of Stephen Tarver, who was Civil War Veteran. Stephen is buried in Ebenezer Methodist Cemetery. No first names or dates available on parents of Stephen. Possibly others buried on property. Graves possibly not visible now, as much logging has been done in area.

Sources; Enoch Furr Jr., Douglas Tarver, Billy Richardson, Robert Henson.

Dunn Cemetery - known to have existed - unable to locate at present. Located in southwest corner of E.E. Shipp's pasture, which is also southwest of Ebenezer United Methodist Church in Wagarville. Only person known to be buried there, at present, is Solomon Roberts. No other names known, at present.

Oral tradition states there was a church called Dunn's Chapel in the middle 1800's in the same area. No records available.

Sources: Enoch Furr Jr., E.E. Shipp, David Blankenship, Ida M. Bumpers.

ADDITIONS:

BATES CREEK CEMETERY
Malcolm, Alabama

The cemetery is small, but old, and is surrounded by a brick wall about 1.5 feet high. It is located near Bates Creek, between the new Highway 43 and the old Malcolm-Wagarville Road.

The cemetery contains about six or eight graves inside the wall. They have been excavated by grave robbers several times. Apparently there are also a number of unmarked graves outside the wal. The cemetery is heavily covered by vegetation. It contains only one tombstone, which reads:

Lud W. Harris
Native of South Carolina
Born: August 1799
Died: July 29, 1837

Others known to be buried there include a Mr. Bates, for whom Bates Creek was named; a Mrs. Knapp and several children; and Mrs. Charlie Miller.

-- Donald L. Young and Mrs. Frances Killam Miller

THE COLLIER HILL GRAVE, LEROY

The low marker of the Collier Hill grave is a footstone marked "S.L.R. - 1819." The headstone, inscribed to a person named Ripley, was located at the foot of a large oak and was completely buried when a storm some 50 years ago felled the oak.

The grave is therefore that of S.L. Ripley. Whether the individual was male or female is unknown.

Collier Hill is a short distance up the Tombigbee River from the Joe C. McCorquodale Bridge, and is on land owned by Vivian G. Johnston, Jr.

-- Theodore B. Pearson, Leroy, Alabama

GRAVE OF COL. JOSEPH CARSON, ST. STEPHENS

A desecrated and vandalized grave, said to be that of Col. Joseph Carson, is located in a heavily wooded area approximately two miles east of St. Stephens.

Col. Carson was in command of U.S. troops at St. Stephens during the Creek War of 1813. He was elected to serve in the Territorial Legislature of Alabama, but died before the first session was held at St. Stephens in January 1818.

-- Theodore B. Pearson, Leroy, Alabama

NEW LIGHT CEMETERY, DEER PARK

The New Light Cemetery is the burial ground of the New Light Baptist Church, a black congregation, in Deer Park.

The cemetery contains graves of the following families; Howze, Carter, Malachi, Turner, Campbell, Boykin, Woods, Milton, McKeller, Smith, Land, Nickles, Smallwood, White, Allen, King, Fennell, Patton, Bivens, Clay, Henderson, Hayes, Taylor, Hurd, Thomas, Polk, Arso, Hines, Cook, Palmer, Keyes, Lucious, Shumake, Brown, McNeil, Red and Washington.
